Board To Meet In Marin City Hot Spot

Marin County Supervisors will go to the scene Monday to seek an answer to the problem of violence in Marin City.

After long discussion yesterday of a proposal by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos to put eight more deputies in four more cars into Marin City, the supervisors decided to meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the Marin City Lounge. They issued an invitation for all Marin City residents to attend.

"The eight more deputies, declared Rev. Samuel L. Banks of the Village Baptist Church of Marin City, would "just give the hard core eight more to shoot at."

"Marin City should not go martial law," Rev. Banks told the supervisors. "We should give jobs."

The minister also criticized the courts "who take these things too lightly." He said "the courts do us an injustice by taking lightly the throwing of rocks."

"Before the unskilled and unqualified kill all of us, let's have more cooperation from the courts," he begged.

Rocks, bullets and insults have been hurled at sheriff's patrol cars in recent weeks in the shadow of the new apartments and private homes constructed to redevelop Marin City, a World War II shipbuilding community of "temporary" housing.

The violence climaxed Sunday night in a fire which gutted the Marin City sheriff's sub-station. Investigators have called it arson.

Rev. Bank's urging for jobs for the "hard core" youth who are blamed for the trouble got endorsement from Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, and from Walter Bremond, county community relations director whose work is largely with Marin City people.

Leydecker also urged Supervisors Chairman Peter H. Behr to talk with judges, asking them to mete out sterner justice to offenders against officers of the law.

Bremond endorsed adding more sheriff's deputies, but said, "The key issue is finding jobs for these people."

"No matter how deprived people are, it doesn't give them a hunting license," snapped Behr.

Reds Riddle Crack South Viet Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A strong Viet Cong force encircled and virtually destroyed an elite South Vietnamese ranger battalion today near the coastal town of Tam Ky, 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

The attack broke a to-day lull in the ground action and came after a Viet Cong offer to call off the war for 12 hours starting Christmas Eve "to allow people on the other side to celebrate Christmas in peace."

A Vietnamese battalion usually numbers about 500 men.

U.S. air attacks continued unabated over North and South Viet Nam. Bridges and roads around Dien Bien Phu were attacked.

A U.S. Marine F-4 Phantom jet with to men aboard was reported downed on an escort mission over North Viet Nam. The fate of the pilot and his observer was not known.

Some 20 F-105 Thunderchief jets hit Communist supply lines near Dien Bien Phu, scene of the great French defeat 11 years ago. In the South, other planes drove off an unknown number of black pajama-clad Viet Cong harassing a government outpost 15 miles northwest of Rach Gia, a town in southwest Viet Nam. Three guerrillas were reported killed.

U.S. military headquarters reported another decline in weekly American casualties with 19 Americans killed, 161 wounded and two missing in action in the seven-day period that ended last Saturday. The figures included the terrorist attack on an enlisted men's billet in Saigon Saturday but not the big battle involving the U.S. 1st Division Sunday.

Marin Banks Feel Impact Of Federal Interest Hike

First increases in interest rates resulting from Federal Reserve Board action were reported today by three Marin County banks.

Crocker-Citizens National Bank, Bank of America and Wells Fargo Bank all said slight increases have been put into effect on interest paid on certificates of deposit.

Crocker-Citizens, which previously paid a maximum of 4 and one-fourth per cent on certificates, has raised to 4 and one-half per cent of certificates of $5,000 or more maturing in one year.

Bank of America and Wells Fargo have gone up to 4 and five-eighths per cent on certificates of $100,000 or more maturing in six months or longer. Bank of America also pays 4 and one-half per cent on large certificates maturing in 90 days.

Officers of all three banks said commercial loan rates in some instances are likely to move up by one-half of one per cent.

Bank of Marin, Redwood National Bank, Tiburon National Bank and United California Bank reported no change.

Massive Moscow Marches Protest War In Viet Nam

Red Police, Troops Protect U.S. Embassy From Crowds

MOSCOW (UPI — Crowds of Russians, officially estimated at 250,000 persons, demonstrated in the streets of Moscow today against American policies in Viet Nam. Strong police precautions barred a march on the U.S. Embassy although a score of persons tried unsuccessfully to deliver a petition to the embassy.

Western newsmen saw tens of thousands of demonstrators at several rallies in various Moscow squares and streets. But by early evening the official Tass news agency reported the number had swelled to 250,000.

The manifestations were part of an increasing nationwide movement against the United States taking the form of organized mass meetings, newspaper editorials and hundreds of petitions delivered to the embassy.

The stepped up drive coincided with Premier Alexei Kosygin's bitterest attack yet on American foreign policy, made in an interview with the New York Times. He said U.S. policies had forced Russia to increase its military spending 5 per cent and accused American soldiers of killing women and children in Viet Nam.

Another official denunciation of American policy came today in a draft message to Britain as co-chairman with Russia of the 1954 Geneva conference which ended the Indochina war. The draft message accusing the United States of aggression said both Britain and Russia noted the moves with "deep anxiety." Britain is not expected to agree to the joint message.

Hundreds of placard-carrying Russians from clubs, factories and offices gathered in streets near the embassy but apparently the organizers changed their plans in the middle of the march and went instead to the huge square fronting the nearby Kiev Railway Station.

As dusk gathered in Moscow it still was not entirely clear whether the demonstrators would resume their march on the embassy or try another day. Security precautions were enforced and plain clothesmen and uniformed policemen hovered in the embassy neighborhood.

In Karachi, Pakistan, a mob of Pakistani students demonstrated and shouted insults in the faces of nine U.S. congressmen when they visited the city of Mirpur to see a Kashmiri refugee camp, the leader of the American delegation said today.

"We were practically mobbed as we walked back to our cars," said Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis. "The situation

Pentagon Boss Scraps Most U.S. Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today actions that will reduce the U.S. long-range bomber force to about a third of its present strength, but hinted that a new advanced plane may be built.

McNamara also disclosed planned cutbacks in the Continental Air Defense and Early Warning Systems because of what he called "the reduced Soviet bomber threat."

These developments were formally disclosed in the announcement of details of a planned elimination or reduction of 149 military bases in the United States and overseas at a claimed saving of $410 million a year. (See story, page 3).

The moves with respect to the Air Force had been reported in advance, in outline, and had drawn formidable opposition in Congress.

McNamara said "the basic bomber force and the base structure of the Strategic Air Command will be adjusted while maintaining the required strategic nuclear capability."

He added that "this will be accomplished by phasing out of the inventory the older models of the B-52 mombers and all B-58 bombers."

The defense secretary did not spell out the number of bombers, but analysis of the base actions, including SAC's withdrawal from six bases, showed that the present force of 680 long range bombers—600 B-52s and all 80 supersonic B-58s—will be reduced by 1971 to the 255 later models of the eight-jet B-52s.

Deadline for the first installment of Marin County property taxes is 5 p.m. Friday.

The treasurer-tax collector's office at the Civic Center will be open until 9 p.m. today and tomorrow, but will close at 5 p.m. Friday.

Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez said any returns mailed Friday will be accepted without the 6 per cent penalty for late payment.

State Capitol Has Tall Tree

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A 27-foot Christmas tree stood today in the Capitol rotunda.

The white fir, donated by the Division of Forestry, measured 10 inches at its base. It was cut down near Baxter.

About 4,000 ornaments and 600 lights were being placed on the tree.

Ruins Of Fire Said To Yield Gasoline Smell

Charred debris smelling of "some petroleum product" may give clue to origin of flames which swept through the sheriff's substation at Marin City Sunday.

Earl Guisness, investigator for National Board of Fire Underwriters, disclosed today he had detected the smell, which might be of paint thinner or gasoline, among debris at the fire. He plans to deliver the materials to California Criminal Investigation and Identification laboratories in Sacramento, probably tomorrow.

Guisness, who joined the investigation at request of the sheriff's office, said he and sheriff's Inspector Harold V. Sleezer finished sifting charred ruins in the station last evening. He earlier had advanced a theory that someone broke a window for entry, then perhaps ignited some material already within the station.

He said it now appears more likely the glass pane in an outside door was broken to enter a hallway, and the main portion of the substation reached through an unbolted door.

Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson yesterday had expressed belief that all doors had been locked by officers before they left the building on patrol several hours before the fire.

The $10,000 blaze climaxed weeks of harrassment of sheriff's officers in Marin City through rock-throwing, B-B gun and pellet firings, and three gunfire assaults.

Dave Townsel Jr., 19, of 211 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was scheduled to plead this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon in the firing of a shot which hit a sheriff's car last Thursday.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos has asked the county board of supervisors for eight additional deputies and four more patrol cars to beef up Marin City law law enforcement.

One Bouquet For Marine Wife

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Marine Staff Sgt. David G. Benavente wrote to a San Diego florist from Viet Nam asking that a dozen roses be sent to his wife every month on the date of their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Maria Benavente received only one bouquet.

It arrived one week after a telegram saying her husband had been killed Nov. 23 fighting near Chu Lai in Viet Nam.

Funeral services were held yesterday for Benavente, 29, father of three girls ages 3, 4 and 5.

Bridge Director Urges Combined Bus, Ferry Plan

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

A marriage between buses and ferries for Marin-San Francisco commuters was proposed yesterday by Thomas D. Hardcastle, a director of the Golden Gate Bridge District and longtime resident of Novato.

Speaking at a public hearing in San Francisco on the proposal to re-establish ferry service across the bay, Hardcastle said he believed using ferries to carry buses could solve one traffic problem on the Golden Gate Bridge.

He suggested commuters could board buses at points in Marin, and on arrival at Sausalito, the buses would go aboard ferries and be conveyed across to San Francisco.

"The commuter would arrive in the city without leaving his seat and traffic across the Golden Gate Bridge would be eased," Hardcastle said.

He was sure commuters would never buy the idea of leaving their cars and walking to a ferry.

The hearing was held by a San Francisco Supervisors' committee which endorsed the proposal for a further study into the feasibility of re-establishing a ferry service. The full San Francisco board will consider it Monday.

PLAN ENDORSED

Studies to bring back the boats have already been endorsed by Marin County Board of Supervisor, and Marin Supervisor Thomas T. Storer was on hand at the San Francisco City Hall to lend support.

So was San Francisco Planning Commissioner O. W. Willard, who urged a $25,000 study of the ferry idea which, he felt, would not solve every facet of the traffic problem but could help.

James L. McCarthy, San Francisco director of planning, said the public response to re-establishing the ferry service "has been extensive and widespread."

LOSING MONEY?

The ferries which plied between Marin and San Francisco ceased running the day the Golden Gate Bridge was opened in 1937, but McCarthy said he did not know whether Southern Pacific Co. was losing money on the ferry service at that time?

George C. Nickum, a naval architect from Seattle, said modern ferryboats built for Washington had cost $5,725,000, of which the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency had paid 50 per cent.

For a service to be effective, he said, there would have to be three boats running a half-hour schedule during peak hours.

He estimated a run between Market Street, San Francisco, and Mainship, Sausalito, would take 21 minutes plus loading and unloading time. Fare over a comparable Washington route is 65 cents.

"I was told by a friend," said

Gemini Shines Aloft; All Well At Cape, Too

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI —The Gemini 7 spacecraft, brilliantly visible among the stars at night, performing flawlessly, today swept past the 1.5 million-mile mark, nearly a third of the way through its 14-day orbital voyage in space.

Gemini astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell worked and slept in the greatest degree of creature comfort ever attained on a spaceship. Beethoven symphonies and Chopin etudes were beamed to them through the silence of space.

Gemini 7 entered its 58th orbit at 6:36 a.m. PST. It had traveled 1.5 million miles since its launch Saturday and would cover millions more if its mission went to the full planned 14 days. The prospects for that could not have looked better.

At the cape, the simulated flight of Gemini 6, one of the critical preparations for launching, was moved up to 9 p.m. PST from 2 p.m. by telescoping

McGEORGE BUNDY
To quit White House

Bundy Quits For Ford Foundation

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—The Texas White House announced today the resignation of McGeorge Bundy as President Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs. The future of the job was left cloudy.

Bundy, 46, will leave the White House staff Feb. 28 to become president of the Ford Foundation at a reported salary of $75,000 a year. His present salary is $28,500 a year.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers in announcing Bundy's forthcoming departure, said Johnson wrote Bundy a handwritten note today accepting the resignation "with genuine regret."

Moyers emphasized that Johnson has nearly three months in which to decide what to do with the position Bundy filled. The job became a potent force in government when the former Harvard College dean was named to it in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy.

There has been speculation that Johnson may leave the post unfilled, and rely more directly on the State Department.

LOSING MONEY?

The ferries which plied between Marin and San Francisco ceased running the day the Golden Gate Bridge was opened in 1937, but McCarthy said he did not know whether Southern Pacific Co. was losing money on the ferry service at that time?

George C. Nickum, a naval architect from Seattle, said modern ferryboats built for Washington had cost $5,725,000, of which the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency had paid 50 per cent.

For a service to be effective, he said, there would have to be three boats running a half-hour schedule during peak hours.

He estimated a run between Market Street, San Francisco, and Mainship, Sausalito, would take 21 minutes plus loading and unloading time. Fare over a comparable Washington route is 65 cents.

"I was told by a friend," said

Gemini Shines Aloft; All Well At Cape, Too

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI —The Gemini 7 spacecraft, brilliantly visible among the stars at night, performing flawlessly, today swept past the 1.5 million-mile mark, nearly a third of the way through its 14-day orbital voyage in space.

Gemini astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell worked and slept in the greatest degree of creature comfort ever attained on a spaceship. Beethoven symphonies and Chopin etudes were beamed to them through the silence of space.

Gemini 7 entered its 58th orbit at 6:36 a.m. PST. It had traveled 1.5 million miles since its launch Saturday and would cover millions more if its mission went to the full planned 14 days. The prospects for that could not have looked better.

At the cape, the simulated flight of Gemini 6, one of the critical preparations for launching, was moved up to 9 p.m. PST from 2 p.m. by telescoping

To quit White House

Bundy Quits For Ford Foundation

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—The Texas White House announced today the resignation of McGeorge Bundy as President Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs. The future of the job was left cloudy.

Bundy, 46, will leave the White House staff Feb. 28 to become president of the Ford Foundation at a reported salary of $75,000 a year. His present salary is $28,500 a year.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers in announcing Bundy's forthcoming departure, said Johnson wrote Bundy a handwritten note today accepting the resignation "with genuine regret."

Moyers emphasized that Johnson has nearly three months in which to decide what to do with the position Bundy filled. The job became a potent force in government when the former Harvard College dean was named to it in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy.

There has been speculation that Johnson may leave the post unfilled, and rely more directly on the State Department.

Pope Ends Great Council, Hopes It Will Benefit The Entire World

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI formally closed the Vatican Ecumenical Council today and said he hoped its work would bring renewal to all the world, not to the Roman Catholic Church alone.

His final words closing the three-year council were "Ite in pace"—Go in peace.

More than 100,000 Romans and pilgrims thronged St. Peter's Square for the outdoor ceremonies ending the council which Pope John XXIII had opened on Oct. 11, 1962.

Princes, government heads, foreign ministers and other dignitaries from nearly 100 nations watched as the 2,300 bishops moved in procession from the Apostolic Palace across the square to the steps of St. Peter's Basilica.

After them came Pope Paul on his portable throne.

The Pope in an address during a special Mass said he hoped the council would bring about a renewal for the world, not the Church alone. Describing his speech as a greeting to the peoples of the world, he said he hoped the assembly "would be able to work in the Church and the world that renewal of thought, activity, customs and moral force and joy and hope that was the very scope" of the council.

Obviously speaking to persons in Communist lands, he said he was especially addressing "all unjustly held in silence, in oppression and in deprivation of legitimate and sacred rights, owed to every honest man, and especially to you, brothers, who are none other than doers of good, piety and peace."

Unusual details marked the ceremony, with Pope Paul giving $90,000 in checks for charities in five nations as "a symbol of the charity of the entire Church, united around the Pope in the persons of his bishops."

The checks will mean $30,000 for a hospital in Bethlehem, Jordan; $20,000 for community projects by a religious order in Argentina; $15,000 each for agricultural training in southern India and for Catholic Welfare work in Pakistan, and $10,000 for Catholic welfare in Cambodia.

The Pope also wrote special messages addressed to government leaders, intellectuals, artists, women, workers, the poor and the sick, and youth.

The first stone of a new church in Rome to commemorate the Ecumenical Council was put near the papal throne in front of the basilica for the pontiff's blessing. The new church will be called "Our Lady, Mother of the Church" after a title that Paul VI declared for the Virgin Mary as the 1964 phase of the council was completed.

The council's ending came on a major holy day honoring the mother of Christ, the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

Non-Catholics Voice Praise For Vatican

NEW YORK (AP) — Non-Catholic American religious leaders in general lauded the work of the Vatican Ecumenical Council and said today it opens the way for a new era of collaboration among churches.

Many said the council went farther in modifying Roman Catholic policy of long standing that any outsider had thought possible.

Dr. Edwin Tuller, secretary of the American Baptist Convention, said the council "opened opportunities for communication beteen the Roman Church and the Protestant Church that were never there before."

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, clerk of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., said "the ecumenical movement has been greatly strengthened and we look forward to ever-increasing unity and cooperation."

Evangelist Billy Graham commented: "The council brought out a new understanding and spirit among all Christians, the debates provided a new understanding on the part of Protestants of what the Church of Rome believes, and it provided for a new reformation — or freedom — within the Church of Rome."

LABOR SETS FIGHT OVER UNION SHOP

AFL-CIO Leaders Seek White House Pledge For Early Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Section

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Despite assurances from President Johnson, organized labor leaders say they are running scared in their drive in Congress to wipe out state laws that ban union-shop contracts.

Top AFL-CIO officers publicly voice no doubts that Johnson will live up to his pledge to push for repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

But privately they are worried that lukewarm administration support may mean defeat of the repeal fight for the forseeable future.

Section 14B permits the states to outlaw union-shop contracts under which all employes must join the union. Nineteen states have such laws. The union shop is legal under the federal labor law in the 31 other states which do not specifically prohibit it.

With Congress due to convene next month, labor leaders say they still have no firm commitment from administration leaders on when the repeal bill will be brought up in the Senate or how hard Democratic leaders will fight to crush a renewed Republican filibuster that sidetracked the bill this year.

"It's just not there," one labor spokesman said when asked whether union leaders had such a commitment.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council was to discuss this and other matters today in setting the schedule for its biennial convention opening tomorrow.

One member of the council plans to propose that the AFL-CIO "demand responsibility from government."

"They demand responsibility from labor," said an aide, and "the Senate failed to live up to its responsibility."

The jibe is directed at Senate Democrats as well as Republicans.

Board Agrees On Lagunitas School Site

Ending two years of debate, split votes and uncertainty, the Lagunitas School District Board last night agreed on a site for a new elementary school.

Four members of the board voted unanimously to hinge the district's Feb. 15 bond issue and state loan election on a nine-acre site north of the Woodacre Improvement Club.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said the site is bounded by Central and Railroad avenues and Oak Grove Street.

District voters must approve the proposed $200,000 bond issue and $400,000 state loan request before the district can build on the site.

County planning aide David Van Pelt told board members he saw nothing wrong with the site, but said he had not yet studied it extensively. He promised to let them know at their next meeting if he unearthed any serious problem.

McCunniff expressed doubt that Van Pelt's report would cause the board to withdraw last night's decision.

Board members also learned that sixth, seventh and eighth teachers have started getting together to be sure pupils' homework loads are evenly distributed from day to day.

A survey of parents, McCuniff said, showed that an uneven homework load may be a factor in many pupils' poor attitudes toward school.

About 20 people were present in the audience. Board member William G. McBride was absent.

Novato Council Postpones Decision On Marin Riviera

The Novato City Council last night postponed for at least one week any action on the tentative map of Marin Riviera development in the Scottsdale master plan.

Douglas M. Merrill was named a one-man council committee, at his own request, to investigate other town house developments in the bay area. He and Robert Lagle, head of the planning department, will report to the council in either one or two weeks.

"We are faced here with erecting a family type dwelling on less than half the required minimum for single-family dwellings, but more bedrooms than the original apartment zoning," Merrill told the council.

The original Scottsdale master plan called for fourplex apartment units. The request for 25 acres east of Sunset Parkway is for cluster units of two and three-story, three and four-bedroom town houses.

"I just can't see single family type residents on 2,400 square feet," Mayor Robert D. Carrow said.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Adopted rules to implement the personnel ordinance which the council passed last month. There was one change, that city employees, except department heads, do not have to live in the city of Novato.
2. Heard a report that police had voted 18-to-3, and other city employees 34-to-6, in favor of joining the State Employees Retirement System instead of Social Security. The council will take formal action to make the change next Tuesday.
3. Set for Jan. 18 public hearing on annexation of 1,280 acres east of Highway 101.
4. Adjourned to a closed meeting to discuss possible litigation in the Scottsdale assessment district, but took no action when it reconvened in open meeting.

Board Agrees On Lagunitas School Site

Ending two years of debate, split votes and uncertainty, the Lagunitas School District Board last night agreed on a site for a new elementary school.

Four members of the board voted unanimously to hinge the district's Feb. 15 bond issue and state loan election on a nine-acre site north of the Woodacre Improvement Club.

District voters must approve the proposed $200,000 bond issue and $400,000 state loan request before the district can build on the site.

County planning aide David Van Pelt told board members he saw nothing wrong with the site, but said he had not yet studied it extensively. He promised to let them know at their next meeting if he unearthed any serious problem.

McCunniff expressed doubt that Van Pelt's report would cause the board to withdraw last night's decision.

Board members also learned that sixth, seventh and eighth teachers have started getting together to be sure pupils' homework loads are evenly distributed from day to day.

A survey of parents, McCuniff said, showed that an uneven homework load may be a factor in many pupils' poor attitudes toward school.

About 20 people were present in the audience. Board member William G. McBride was absent.

Library Rules Eased For San Anselmans

The San Anselmo library board Monday night bowed to pressure from residents and unanimously voted to change the rules for use of the library.

After a three-quarter hour argument led by library critic Mrs. Andre Moreau of 18 Brenfleck Avenue, the board agreed to drop the rule that a resident applying for a library card must be sponsored by two San Anselmo property owners or make a $1 deposit.

Library trustee Louis Yates reported the board action came after arguments by Mrs. Moreau and four other residents.

In October, Mrs. Moreau wrote the city council objecting to the requirements and criticizing the library in general. She made her complaints in person at the board's November meeting, but commissioners indicated they would take no action.

Yates said the change in requirements was not planned before the meeting — "the item was not on the agenda."

He said that though he voted for the change, he personally saw nothing wrong with the old requirement. "I don't think the prior rule was discriminatory against anyone and it seemed to work well," he said.

A San Anselmo resident registering for a library card will now go through the same procedure as does a San Rafael resident at his library, Yates said.

The registrant will fill out a form promising to abide by the rules of the library, pay fines on overdue books and pay for those books lost.

Yates said the board also discussed but came to no decision on a suggestion that San Anselmo join the county library system, enabling residents to take books from the county library at no cost. Every other city library in the county belongs to the system.

Savings, Loan Is Sued In Embezzlement Case

Mrs. Walter A. Midnight, 84, has sued San Francisco Federal Savings and Loan Assn. for $40,000 in the embezzlement in 1964 of funds by Mrs. Beatrice C. Clark of Greenbrae, then an assistant treasurer of the association.

The suit, filed in Marin Superior Court, claims the savings firm is indebted for that amount to Mrs. Midnight, residing in a San Rafael rest home. It was filed on behalf of Mrs. Midnight through Leland H. Jordan, conservator of her estate.

W. O. Weissich, San Rafael attorney who filed the complaint, said Mrs. Clark obtained funds from Mrs. Midnight's account with the savings firm by getting the latter to sign withdrawal slips.

He said the two women were friends of many years, but Mrs. Midnight was incapable of handling her financial matters. The savings company has taken the position that the withdrawals were valid, he said, and the suit resulted.

Mrs. Clark was convicted of embezzlement by a federal jury, he added.

SESSION

"Along with this program must go the facts of life."

Bremond's agencies "are not reaching these people," Rev. Banks said. Nor do they listen to him, the minister sadly admitted.

Sheriff Mountanos insisted more deputies, trained for the job, would reach Marin City residents not reached by any present program.

"At meetings in the community, we always are talking to the group that is not involved with the law. We don't reach the people who are in trouble," he said.

He cited that Deputy Sheriff Charles T. Prandi, on his own time, had helped organize a basketball team in Marin City. But then he had to cite one of the team members for driving with a revoked license, and he became a target for wrath. His patrol car has been shot at and the windshield of his private car broken with a rock.

"Young people respect Prandi," said Rev. Banks. "Of course they are against him now, and they are against me."

To try to solve that impasse, the supervisors directed Mountanos, Bremond and County Administrator Alan Bruce to try to work out a program that would reach everybody—with officers of the law or in some other way.

Meantime, the board will hear what Marin City residents have to say.

erations are being removed are being retained for a new mission which will be disclosed subsequently.

There was not further detail on this new mission.

Informed sources said "the full decision on the strategic offensive forces has not been announced."

Four SAC bases will be closed.

They are: Walker Air Force Base, Roswell, N.M.; Clinton Sherman Air Force Base, Burns Flat, Okla.; Sewart Air Force Base, Smyrna, Tenn.; and Kincheloe Air Force Base, Kinross, Mich.

SAC will transfer Turner Air Force Base, Albany, Ga., to the Navy and Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Tex., to the Army for other missions.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the powerful Senate Armed Services Committee, objected to any such bomber reduction. He also opposed any scaling down of this country's defenses against Soviet bombers.

Marijuana Arrest Follows Beating With Telephone

John Allan Acree, 18, of 209 Cardinal Road, Tamalpais Valley, was in county jail today in lieu of $1,100 bail on a complaint charging possession of marijuana on Oct. 31.

Acree, arrested yesterday on a warrant, allegedly had marijuana in his clothing when questioned by sheriff's officers who approached a car he was seated in on Main Street in Tamalpais Valley.

Acree also is charged with felony assault on Jack J. Green, 16, 449 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, on Nov. 15. He allegedly entered Green's bedroom and beat him about the head with a telephone receiver. This case was referred Nov. 24 to Marin County Juvenile Court.

some of the procedures preceding it.

Borman and Lovell apparently went to sleep shortly after 10 p.m. PST yesterday. Lovell told the space center after awakening today that he and Boman "both . . . slept six or seven hours last night, and we were awake two or three times during the night."

As the spaceship passed over the tracking ship Rose Knot Victor off the eastern coast of South America early in the 53rd orbit, crewmen who came on deck saw it clearly, moving across the night sky in a brilliant field of stars.

At Cape Kennedy, project engineers today revived hopes for a launch of the Gemini 6 rendezvous ship Sunday, a day ahead of schedule, despite a computer failure that set back testing a half day.

The original computer that was to guide astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford to the historic space meeting with Gemini 7 was found faulty and replaced last night. At that time, officials said the operation would all but eliminate chances for launch Sunday.

However, testing of the new computer was proceeding much more rapidly than expected and engineers cut some time out of the work schedule to allow a crucial flight rehearsal to be moved up from this evening to noon today.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Rebecca Blumenfeld Dies At 84

Mrs. Rebecca Blumenfeld of San Francisco, widow and mother of the men who built the Blumenfeld theater chain, died of a heart attack yesterday in a San Francisco hospital. She was 84.

A native of Austria, she came to New York when she was about 15. There, she married a waiter named Max Blumenfeld.

In 1907, they came to San Francisco, where Blumenfeld set up a livery stable in the midst of the city's effort to rebuild from the fire and earthquake. Ten years later, he bought a nickelodeon in North Beach.

The family moved to San Rafael in 1920, and their four sons —Joseph, Abe, Nathan and Jack —one by one went to work in the expanding theater business that grew from that nickelodeon. Today the chain owns most of the motion picture theaters in Marin County and many in other parts of California.

Max Blumenfeld died in 1936, but his wife stayed in Marin until she moved back to San Francisco about 10 years ago.

Surviving are four sons, Abe Blumenfeld of Tiburon, Nathan Blumenfeld of Alto, Jack Blumenfeld of San Rafael and Joseph Blumenfeld of San Francisco; two daughters, Mrs. Bessie Glazer of Belvedere and Mrs. Esther Leider of Long Beach; a brother, Isadore Foreman of San Rafael, 13 grandchildren, and 24 great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Sinai Memorial Chapel, Divisadero at Geary Street, San Francisco. Inurnment will be in Home of Peace Mausoleum, Colma.

The family requests that tributes be in the form of contributions to the Blind Babies Foundation Variety Club or to another charity.

got very much out of hand."

He said the police made no move to stop the demonstration, which happened Monday, and looked the other way when the students painted "Yankee, no no" over the group's cars.

Zablocki said the demonstration broke out as the congressmen walked through the city in Pakistani Azad Kashmir after intervewing refugees who had fled there from homes in the Indian-held portion of the disputed province of Kashmir.

The youths, estimated to number hundreds, crowded close around the Americans and shouted "Yankee, go home," Zablocki said.

"Pakistan officials were embarrassed and apologized to us and the Foreign Office later assured us the demonstration as not condoned," he said. "But it hurt the image of friendship that we had been told the Pakistani people hold for Americans."

The other congressmen are William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., Ronald Brooks Cameron, D-Calif., James G. Fulton, R-Pa., Harris B. McDowell Jr., D-Del., William T. Murphy, D-Ill., Vernon Wallace Thomson, R-Wis., J. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., and Spark Masayuki Matsunaga, D-Hawaii.

Supervisor Storer, "that it took him 37 minutes the other day to travel by car from the bottom of Waldo Grade to the top. At least we have one man there who would be interested in a ferry."

Storer suggested gasoline taxes be used to subsidize ferry boats until such a time they could pay for themselves, and added, "The idea of commuting by water has had a tremendous effect and not only from pure nostalgia."

If it came back, he said, he believed it would stay even if alternative methods of rapid transit were brought in. It could be a tourist attraction, he said.

Albert D. Elledge, president of the Harbor Tug and Barge Co., operators of the twice-daily Tiburon - San Francisco ferry service, considered everyone who spoke in favor of the ferry boats was speaking through ignorance. He had been losing money on his service for some time, he said.

"If you can think of ways to get the commuter out of his car and onto a ferry, I would be glad to hear it," said Elledge. "All he wants to do is sit there and go on right through to San Francisco."

That was what Hardcastle proposed.

Library Rules Eased For San Anselmans

The San Anselmo library board Monday night bowed to pressure from residents and unanimously voted to change the rules for use of the library.

After a three-quarter hour argument led by library critic Mrs. Andre Moreau of 18 Brenfleck Avenue, the board agreed to drop the rule that a resident applying for a library card must be sponsored by two San Anselmo property owners or make a $1 deposit.

Library trustee Louis Yates reported the board action came after arguments by Mrs. Moreau and four other residents.

In October, Mrs. Moreau wrote the city council objecting to the requirements and criticizing the library in general. She made her complaints in person at the board's November meeting, but commissioners indicated they would take no action.

Yates said the change in requirements was not planned before the meeting — "the item was not on the agenda."

He said that though he voted for the change, he personally saw nothing wrong with the old requirement. "I don't think the prior rule was discriminatory against anyone and it seemed to work well," he said.

A San Anselmo resident registering for a library card will now go through the same procedure as does a San Rafael resident at his library, Yates said.

The registrant will fill out a form promising to abide by the rules of the library, pay fines on overdue books and pay for those books lost.

Yates said the board also discussed but came to no decision on a suggestion that San Anselmo join the county library system, enabling residents to take books from the county library at no cost. Every other city library in the county belongs to the system.

Savings, Loan Is Sued In Embezzlement Case

Mrs. Walter A. Midnight, 84, has sued San Francisco Federal Savings and Loan Assn. for $40,000 in the embezzlement in 1964 of funds by Mrs. Beatrice C. Clark of Greenbrae, then an assistant treasurer of the association.

The suit, filed in Marin Superior Court, claims the savings firm is indebted for that amount to Mrs. Midnight, residing in a San Rafael rest home. It was filed on behalf of Mrs. Midnight through Leland H. Jordan, conservator of her estate.

W. O. Weissich, San Rafael attorney who filed the complaint, said Mrs. Clark obtained funds from Mrs. Midnight's account with the savings firm by getting the latter to sign withdrawal slips.

He said the two women were friends of many years, but Mrs. Midnight was incapable of handling her financial matters. The savings company has taken the position that the withdrawals were valid, he said, and the suit resulted.

Mrs. Clark was convicted of embezzlement by a federal jury, he added.

SESSION

"Along with this program must go the facts of life."

Bremond's agencies "are not reaching these people," Rev. Banks said. Nor do they listen to him, the minister sadly admitted.

Sheriff Mountanos insisted more deputies, trained for the job, would reach Marin City residents not reached by any present program.

"At meetings in the community, we always are talking to the group that is not involved with the law. We don't reach the people who are in trouble," he said.

He cited that Deputy Sheriff Charles T. Prandi, on his own time, had helped organize a basketball team in Marin City. But then he had to cite one of the team members for driving with a revoked license, and he became a target for wrath. His patrol car has been shot at and the windshield of his private car broken with a rock.

"Young people respect Prandi," said Rev. Banks. "Of course they are against him now, and they are against me."

To try to solve that impasse, the supervisors directed Mountanos, Bremond and County Administrator Alan Bruce to try to work out a program that would reach everybody—with officers of the law or in some other way.

Meantime, the board will hear what Marin City residents have to say.

Borman and Lovell apparently went to sleep shortly after 10 p.m. PST yesterday. Lovell told the space center after awakening today that he and Boman "both . . . slept six or seven hours last night, and we were awake two or three times during the night."

As the spaceship passed over the tracking ship Rose Knot Victor off the eastern coast of South America early in the 53rd orbit, crewmen who came on deck saw it clearly, moving across the night sky in a brilliant field of stars.

At Cape Kennedy, project engineers today revived hopes for a launch of the Gemini 6 rendezvous ship Sunday, a day ahead of schedule, despite a computer failure that set back testing a half day.

The original computer that was to guide astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford to the historic space meeting with Gemini 7 was found faulty and replaced last night. At that time, officials said the operation would all but eliminate chances for launch Sunday.

However, testing of the new computer was proceeding much more rapidly than expected and engineers cut some time out of the work schedule to allow a crucial flight rehearsal to be moved up from this evening to noon today.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Rebecca Blumenfeld Dies At 84

Mrs. Rebecca Blumenfeld of San Francisco, widow and mother of the men who built the Blumenfeld theater chain, died of a heart attack yesterday in a San Francisco hospital. She was 84.

A native of Austria, she came to New York when she was about 15. There, she married a waiter named Max Blumenfeld.

In 1907, they came to San Francisco, where Blumenfeld set up a livery stable in the midst of the city's effort to rebuild from the fire and earthquake. Ten years later, he bought a nickelodeon in North Beach.

The family moved to San Rafael in 1920, and their four sons—Joseph, Abe, Nathan and Jack—one by one went to work in the expanding theater business that grew from that nickelodeon. Today the chain owns most of the motion picture theaters in Marin County and many in other parts of California.

Max Blumenfeld died in 1936, but his wife stayed in Marin until she moved back to San Francisco about 10 years ago.

Surviving are four sons, Abe Blumenfeld of Tiburon, Nathan Blumenfeld of Alto, Jack Blumenfeld of San Rafael and Joseph Blumenfeld of San Francisco; two daughters, Mrs. Bessie Glazer of Belvedere and Mrs. Esther Leider of Long Beach; a brother, Isadore Foreman of San Rafael, 13 grandchildren, and 24 great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Sinai Memorial Chapel, Divisadero at Geary Street, San Francisco. Inurnment will be in Home of Peace Mausoleum, Colma.

The family requests that tributes be in the form of contributions to the Blind Babies Foundation Variety Club or to another charity.

He said the police made no move to stop the demonstration, which happened Monday, and looked the other way when the students painted "Yankee, no no" over the group's cars.

Zablocki said the demonstration broke out as the congressmen walked through the city in Pakistani Azad Kashmir after intervewing refugees who had fled there from homes in the Indian-held portion of the disputed province of Kashmir.

The youths, estimated to number hundreds, crowded close around the Americans and shouted "Yankee, go home," Zablocki said.

"Pakistan officials were embarrassed and apologized to us and the Foreign Office later assured us the demonstration as not condoned," he said. "But it hurt the image of friendship that we had been told the Pakistani people hold for Americans."

The other congressmen are William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., Ronald Brooks Cameron, D-Calif., James G. Fulton, R-Pa., Harris B. McDowell Jr., D-Del., William T. Murphy, D-Ill., Vernon Wallace Thomson, R-Wis., J. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., and Spark Masayuki Matsunaga, D-Hawaii.

Supervisor Storer, "that it took him 37 minutes the other day to travel by car from the bottom of Waldo Grade to the top. At least we have one man there who would be interested in a ferry."

Storer suggested gasoline taxes be used to subsidize ferry boats until such a time they could pay for themselves, and added, "The idea of commuting by water has had a tremendous effect and not only from pure nostalgia."

If it came back, he said, he believed it would stay even if alternative methods of rapid transit were brought in. It could be a tourist attraction, he said.

Albert D. Elledge, president of the Harbor Tug and Barge Co., operators of the twice-daily Tiburon - San Francisco ferry service, considered everyone who spoke in favor of the ferry boats was speaking through ignorance. He had been losing money on his service for some time, he said.

"If you can think of ways to get the commuter out of his car and onto a ferry, I would be glad to hear it," said Elledge. "All he wants to do is sit there and go on right through to San Francisco."

That was what Hardcastle proposed.

Supervisors Hike Salaries Of Five Elected Officials

Marin County supervisors yesterday gave unenthusiastic approval to hefty raises for five elected county officials during the next terms of office.

The action means, assuming re-election of the five, that annual salary for Assessor Bert W. Broemell, now at $14,700 and slated to go to $15,300 next month, will go to $20,000 when his new term begins in 1967 and to $22,000 in 1969, halfway through the term.

Salary for County Clerk George H. Gnoss, now at $16,200 and slated to go to $16,800, will go to $18,000 in 1967 and $19,500 two years later.

Pay of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, now at $14,700 and to go to $15,300 next year, will rise to $19,000 in 1967 and $21,000 in 1969.

That for Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez, now at $14,700 and going to $15,300 next year, will be $18,000 in 1967 and $19,500 two years later.

Salary for County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini, now at $12,300 and to go to $12,900 next year, will be $14,000 in 1967 and $15,500 two years later.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen declared they would rather discuss the salary issue in closed session.

"No matter what we do, we are going to be criticized for this," Behr said.

Kettenhofen said he wanted a closed session to "really knock it around."

But Superviscr Byron W. Leydecker vigorously opposed the idea, saying the board would have to meet without him if the discussion were to be closed. Supervisor William A. Gnoss agreed with Leydecker.

State law does not permit closed sessions of public bodies to discuss salaries.

However, Behr, who is a lawyer, contended a closed session would be legal, and County Administrator Alan Bruce reported that County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said this was so.

Leydecker defended the recommedation for the increases, which he and Supervisor Thomas T. Storer had made as the executive salary committee. Storer was not present yesterday afternoon.

Leydecker said the idea was to make an initial increase that appeared due and then provide, through the two-year adjustments, for raises that would come to about 5 per cent a year.

"How did you justify the 5 per cent?" Kettenhofen asked.

Leydecker said this annual increase is built into the pay scale for other county employees. "I don't necessarily agree with it," he said.

Leydecker said the entire board should have participated in the discussion on the salaries, not just a two-man committee.

"It's very difficult," Behr objected.

The board had no recommendation on the salary of County Coroner Frank J. Keaton. Bruce has recommended that the coroner's office be merged with the district attorney's office.

Leydecker said that part of the rationale used in the recommendation was salaries approved for the coming terms by the state legislature for the district attorney and the auditor-controller.

These new salaries, recommended by supervisors last Spring, will be $19,000 for Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and $24,000 for Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales (or their successors).

Bales' present salary, as set by the legislature, is $16,650. Both his and Mitchell's salaries are fixed for four years without the two-year step adjustments.

There was little discussion on the recommendation to increase the salary of County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom from $12,000 to $14,000 on Jan. 1. His is an appointive position. Supervisors voted 4-0 in favor of the recommendation.

Alameda To Sue University

OAKLAND (AP) — Alameda County supervisors plan to sue the University of California for the cost of policing student demonstrations.

Supervisors voted unanimously yesterday to sue for the costs resulting from the Free Speech Movement uprising a year ago and the Vietnam Day Committee parades Oct. 15-16 and Nov. 20 this year.

They also wrote Gov. Edmund G. Brown asking him to include $125,000 in next year's state budget so the state can either reimburse the university if it loses the suit, or pay the county directly if the university wins. The university has turned down a bill sent by supervisors.

Yule For Airmen

Unmarried airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base will be guests at a Christmas party sponsored by the Novato Rotary Club at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 23 at the airmen's club on the base.

Benefit To Developer Seen In Land Swap

San Anselmo School District trustees received reports from two appraisers last night, indicating that a proposed exchange of roadway easements with developers of Sunny Hills Shopping Center would benefit the developers by close to $13,000.

The shopping center has offered to take the district's easement to Red Hill School and give in exchange a comparable easement just to the east. The developers also offered to pave 8 per cent of the road to the school site.

Appraiser David Cohn told the trustees it would be an even trade if the road were paved all the way to the school. Appraiser Neil Brodsgar said the property the district intended to trade is worth $13,000 more than what it would get in return. Cost of paving all the road was estimated at $13,000.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said today that trustees decided to inform the developers of the appraisals and consider the matter again at their Dec. 14 meeting.

The board also agreed to award the contract for construction of Red Hill School at its Dec. 14 meeting, and heard a report on the teaching of language arts in the district.

Yule Party Planned

Bolinas Bay Post 572, American Legion, made final plans last night for a Christmas party to be held at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 18, at the community center, A. C. Pfefferkorn, adjutant, reported today.

Tax Appraiser Earnings Told

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The 151 inheritance tax appraisers appointed by State Controller Alan Cranston have reported gross earnings averaging $23,225 for 1964.

The average net income for the appraisers was $12,244, the reports showed.

However, this year, Cranston has issued a memo to the appraisers that he will accept no political contributions from them—in fact, will return any money that might be sent him by the appointees.

Courtroom Telecast May Be Tried Out

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Can a courtroom trial be carried out under radio, television and newspaper coverage without causing the principals to go into theatrical performances?

That question may be decided soon, it appeared today.

At theh conclusion of a two-day hearing by the State Assembly Interim Judiciary Subcommittee, Chairman George A. Willson, D-Huntington Park, said he would welcome a demonstration of new and "unobtrusive" news coverage techniques.

Willson said such a demonstration could be held at a hearing in San Francisco.

Subject of the assembly subcommittee hearing was a rule invoked by the State Judicial Council banning photographic and broadcasting equipment from courtrooms—even during morning and afternoon recesses.

The rule will go into effect Jan. 1 and will be binding on all California judges.

Willson said there appeared no doubt that the legislature could overrule the decision of the Judicial Council.

Tiburon Fire Chief Asks Improvement Bond Issue

About 45 Tiburon residents turned out at Reed School last night to hear Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher speak in favor of calling a bond issue election for improved fire protection.

Buscher said the district is now rated class six by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau "and we're closer to seven than five." He said to improve protection and cut insurance rates, the district needs at least 10,000 feet of new fire mains, to cost about $127,000; a snorkel truck, to cost $55,000, and 35 additional fire hydrants, to cost $21,000.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said a bond issue would probably be the best way to finance the improvements. He said the district is in good shape financially as the assessed valuation continues to grow.

Members of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn., sponsors of the meeting, agreed to meet with Tiburon fire district commissioners to discuss a possible bond election.

Also discussed was a proposed city zoning ordinance amendment to increase from 7,500 to 10,000 square feet the minimum lot size for a duplex. A single-family dwelling in a duplex zone would require 7,000 square feet.

S. W. Schneider, president of the property owners association, said he planned to poll members on the proposed amendment. The matter will go before the Tiburon planning commission on January 17.

THE BIG, BIG RUSH BEGINS

Looking ahead, San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams rented a warehouse to handle this year's load of Christmas packages. It paid off yesterday as the volume quickly outgrew the capacity of the regular post office loading dock. Here, postal workers use a conveyor belt to process the thousands of packages being sent to, and by, Marin residents in time to wind up under Christmas trees all over the world.

Supervisors Draw Limits On Personnel Board Role

The Marin County Personnel Commission will serve henceforth as an appeals board for aggreived county employees, but will retain some control over policy.

The commission, according to the 4-0 decision of the County Board of Supervisors yesterday, can study policy matters on its own initiative or on request of the board. It can then recommend to the board.

This actually has been the rule of the commission since County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott was hired three years ago. Working under the administrator, Elliott handled many of the personnel details that formerly went to the commission.

Commissioners have complained over the little use made of them. Commission Chairman Julius H. Selinger charged that the commission was going to become little more than a "letterhead."

Retired state employee Burnell Van Dalsem of 1 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, suggested that Elliott should answer to the commission and carry out its directions rather than serve under County Administrator Alan Bruce.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker disagreed with this vigorously, saying Elliott should not be a "lackey" for the commission. Leydecker also said he was opposed to letting an appointive body make policy decisions.

"They are not always responsive to the people," Leydecker said. "We are."

Noting that the commission rarely meets, Supervisor Peter H. Behr declared that "it seems to have wasted away for lack of sustenance."

He said he could see little chance for efficiency in a commission that meets once a month or less.

Money Collected For 'Victims'

BERKELEY (AP)—The Medical Aid Committee says it has collected $500 at the University of California and Stanford University for "victims of United States aggression in Viet Nam."

The organization, which has chapters at both universities, made the announcement yesterday and said each school produced $250.

Committeemen said money orders were mailed to the International Red Cross at Geneva, Switzerland, saying that the funds be used to buy medical supplies to be sent to "the Red Cross of the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam in Hanoi and the South Viet Nam Liberation Red Cross through its representatives in Moscow."

Benefit To Developer Seen In Land Swap

San Anselmo School District trustees received reports from two appraisers last night, indicating that a proposed exchange of roadway easements with developers of Sunny Hills Shopping Center would benefit the developers by close to $13,000.

The shopping center has offered to take the district's easement to Red Hill School and give in exchange a comparable easement just to the east. The developers also offered to pave 8 per cent of the road to the school site.

Appraiser David Cohn told the trustees it would be an even trade if the road were paved all the way to the school. Appraiser Neil Brodsgar said the property the district intended to trade is worth $13,000 more than what it would get in return. Cost of paving all the road was estimated at $13,000.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said today that trustees decided to inform the developers of the appraisals and consider the matter again at their Dec. 14 meeting.

The board also agreed to award the contract for construction of Red Hill School at its Dec. 14 meeting, and heard a report on the teaching of language arts in the district.

Yule Party Planned

Bolinas Bay Post 572, American Legion, made final plans last night for a Christmas party to be held at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 18, at the community center, A. C. Pfefferkorn, adjutant, reported today.

Tax Appraiser Earnings Told

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The 151 inheritance tax appraisers appointed by State Controller Alan Cranston have reported gross earnings averaging $23,225 for 1964.

The average net income for the appraisers was $12.244, the reports showed.

However, this year, Cranston has issued a memo to the appraisers that he will accept no political contributions from them—in fact, will return any money that might be sent him by the appointees.

Courtroom Telecast May Be Tried Out

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Can a courtroom trial be carried out under radio, television and newspaper coverage without causing the principals to go into theatrical performances?

That question may be decided soon, it appeared today.

At theh conclusion of a two-day hearing by the State Assembly Interim Judiciary Subcommittee, Chairman George A. Willson, D-Huntington Park, said he would welcome a demonstration of new and "unobtrusive" news coverage techniques.

Willson said such a demonstration could be held at a hearing in San Francisco.

Subject of the assembly subcommittee hearing was a rule invoked by the State Judicial Council banning photographic and broadcasting equipment from courtrooms—even during morning and afternoon recesses.

The rule will go into effect Jan. 1 and will be binding on all California judges.

Willson said there appeared no doubt that the legislature could overrule the decision of the Judicial Council.

Tiburon Fire Chief Asks Improvement Bond Issue

About 45 Tiburon residents turned out at Reed School last night to hear Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher speak in favor of calling a bond issue election for improved fire protection.

Buscher said the district is now rated class six by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau "and we're closer to seven than five." He said to improve protection and cut insurance rates, the district needs at least 10,000 feet of new fire mains, to cost about $127,000; a snorkel truck, to cost $55,000, and 35 additional fire hydrants, to cost $21,000.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said a bond issue would probably be the best way to finance the improvements. He said the district is in good shape financially as the assessed valuation continues to grow.

Members of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn., sponsors of the meeting, agreed to meet with Tiburon fire district commissioners to discuss a possible bond election.

Also discussed was a proposed city zoning ordinance amendment to increase from 7,500 to 10,000 square feet the minimum lot size for a duplex. A single-family dwelling in a duplex zone would require 7,000 square feet.

S. W. Schneider, president of the property owners association, said he planned to poll members on the proposed amendment. The matter will go before the Tiburon planning commission on January 17.

Ten million attend conventions yearly.

THE BIG, BIG RUSH BEGINS

Looking ahead, San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams rented a warehouse to handle this year's load of Christmas packages. It paid off yesterday as the volume quickly outgrew the capacity of the regular post office loading dock. Here, postal workers use a conveyor belt to process the thousands of packages being sent to, and by, Marin residents in time to wind up under Christmas trees all over the world. ## Supervisors Draw Limits On Personnel Board Role

The Marin County Personnel Commission will serve henceforth as an appeals board for aggrieved county employees, but will retain some control over policy.

The commission, according to the 4-0 decision of the County Board of Supervisors yesterday, can study policy matters on its own initiative or on request of the board. It can then recommend to the board.

This actually has been the rule of the commission since County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott was hired three years ago. Working under the administrator, Elliott handled many of the personnel details that formerly went to the commission.

Commissioners have complained over the little use made of them. Commission Chairman Julius H. Selinger charged that the commission was going to become little more than a "letterhead."

Retired state employee Burnell Van Dalsem of 1 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, suggested that Elliott should answer to the commission and carry out its directions rather than serve under County Administrator Alan Bruce.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker disagreed with this vigorously, saying Elliott should not be a "lackey" for the commission. Leydecker also said he was opposed to letting an appointive body make policy decisions.

"They are not always responsive to the people," Leydecker said. "We are."

Noting that the commission rarely meets, Supervisor Peter H. Behr declared that "it seems to have wasted away for lack of sustenance."

He said he could see little chance for efficiency in a commission that meets once a month or less.

MAYBE THIS RIFLEMAN'S GONE TO WAR

Anyone seen a four-foot tall man, weighing 300 pounds, with a beard, faded yellow shirt, brown pants and holding a rifle, anywhere in the Novato area?

That is the description Jack Duane Kinney, 42, of 655 Canyon Road, Novato, gave of a concrete statue which was stolen Monday night from the Novato Manor convalescent home at 655 Canyon Road. He valued the statue at $70.

Antenna Taken

David K. Randolph reported to Mill Valley police yesterday that, between Nov. 14 and 26, someone stole a television antenna, mast, four guy wires and mountings from the sundeck of the roof of his home at 61 Woodside Lane. He estimated vaule at $75.

The Novato Air Force Assn. president is Lee Wise.

Storer Draws Criticisms From Other Supervisors

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, absent from the board meeting yesterday afternoon, should have been there to defend himself.

Some of his fellow board members, particularly Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, took some sharp verbal jabs at Storer.

Leydecker, who serves with Storer on the executive salary committee, told the board that Storer said at the outset of a meeting on salaries for elected officials that he had not seen a recommendation on the salaries, but at the end of the committee session he recalled that he had seen it.

"So his discussion was limited," Laydecker said.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen thought it too bad that the supervisors had to act on a recommendation that came, in effect, from only one supervisor.

"I can't help it if one member of the board does not choose to function," Leydecker declared.

Storer's name came up again after board members agreed to allow county employees the option of either taking the Friday before Christmas or the Friday before New Year's as a day off, since both holidays fall on Saturday.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the proposal was studied because of Storer's earlier suggestion that employees get the Friday after Thanksgiving off hereafter.

Supervisor Kettenhofen said he thought Storer's suggestion was made "in order to have a popularity contest with employees."

Storer, who was in San Francisco yesterday afternoon to appear before the transportation committee of the board of supervisors there, got some further heat from Marin supervisors when the board learned that part of the increased work load among clerks for the board is due to extra chores asked by Storer.

Leydecker said he wanted to know the nature of the added work. "How many press releases?" he asked. Supervisors continued to next Tuesday their discussion of $3,875 added to the budget to increase the clerk's staff.

South State Hike Completed

OAKDALE, La. (AP) — Preston Jeffers, 58, completed a 1,550 - mile hike from California to Oakdale this week. He started his trek Oct. 19.

Jeffers, who says he can't read or write, says he memorized the number "80" and stayed on U.S. 80 until he reached Shreveport, La., and from there was guided to U.S. 165 into Oakdale in West Louisiana.

"Folks asked me if I had a sponsor, but I didn't have one," said Jeffers. "I just like to walk."

Jeffers said he shunned offers of rides.

"If I hadn't done it, I'd still be wanting to. But there isn't enough money in the world to make me walk it again," he said.

Board Approves Youth Corps Cleanup Project

Marin County supervisors yesterday approved a 12-week neighborhood Job Corps project for cleanup of the old Navy net depot property in Tiburon.

The $29,779 project, to start Jan. 17, will be financed largely through federal War on Poverty funds. It will give jobs to 30 youths.

A tenth of the cost will be paid by Lockheed Missile and Space Co. of Sunnyvale and International Minerals and Chemical Corp. of Skokie, Ill., which have research projects at the depot. County cost will be only $261, covering administrative expense.

The project was encouraged by the Federal Bureau of Mines, which operates a marine mineral technology center at the depot.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Reappointed Denny Dohnert to the county board of appeals, a building trades groups which reviews building code policy and complaints.

2. Put off discussion of appointments to the recently created airport commission. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer proposed Melville Dickson of Woodacre as an appointee, but Storer was not present when the discussion came up and other supervisors wanted more information.

3. Put off until next Tuesday the authorization for court action to force removal of piers, houseboats and arks on the water-covered streets in Richardson Bay.

4. Authorized a nuisance abatement suit against Harry Johnson to force him to remove a building at 383 Shoreline Highway near Mill Valley, gutted by fire recently. Johnson is publisher of Marin Guide.

5. Adopted a resolution to be sent to the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington seeking a speedup in authorization of federal funds supporting the county's War on Poverty program.

6. Authorized transfer of $2,485 from the second phase development fund of Paradise Beach County Park to cover a deficit in first phase allocations. The deficit came to light two months ago and was attributed to construction change orders apparently made but not recorded by former park and recreation director Kelvin J. Nelson.

7. Agreed to discuss at budget sessions for next fiscal year a proposal of the county public works department that Ross, Corte Madera and the county split the cost of improving Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Ross. The county share would be about $23,000.

8. Split 2-2, with Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen voting "no," on a motion to deny the request of seven employees to be put under social security. The employees opted not to join when the county retirement program started. The county would have to pay $1,000 for each to get them in the program.

9. Approved a long bid period on the Hall of Justice addition Dec. 21. Base bids will be submitted at 2 p.m., but because subcontractors wait until the last minute to enter bids to avoid "bid shopping," the general contractors will have until 4:30 p.m. to submit alternate bids.

10. Continued until next Tuesday the application of Borah Lawrence for rezoning from single family residential to planned residential on steep hillside property on North San Pedro Road opposite La Brea Way. The change would allow clustering of up to seven units on a near-level corner of the parcel. Neighbors have protested.

11. Granted a use permit for a private refuse dump on the Elmer Martinelli property north of Point Reyes Station, with condition that the narrow road be widened to 18 feet.

12. Authorized an additional $1,500 for the public works department to purchase a carry-all panel truck for a survey crew rather than a $2,000 pick-up truck authorized in the budget.

13. Proclaimed January "March of Dimes Month" in Marin.

14. Hired appraisers Edward Morphy, Edwin Jordan, David Cohn and Neil Brodsgar at $5,000 each to do appraisals on property needed for the Corte Madera Creek flood control project. The fees paid by the county are to be reimbursed by the state.

15. Adjourned at 7:10 p.m.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer was absent during the afternoon session.

Vice President Amendment Moving

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Delaware has become the 13th state to ratify the proposed 25th amendment to the U.S. Constitution. A total of 38 states must approve it to put it into effect.

The amendment provides for the vice president to assume the duties of the president in case the latter is incapacitated. It also provides for selection of a new vice president if that office becomes vacant.

Sibelius Birthday

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Finland celebrated the 100th birthday today of its greatest composer, the late Jean Sibelius, with a concert in Helsinki and a memorial ceremony at his villa at Jarvenpaa. Sibelius died on Sept. 20, 1957.

Father's Advice On Children

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—From Braulio Fierros, a retired sign painter who has provided for his 19 children without benefit of charity or welfare aid, came this advice today:

"Give kids love, make them feel wanted and don't let your wife work."

Fierros, 65, was one of 12 children and went to work to help support them after his father's death forced him to leave school after the third grade.

None of his children ever was in trouble with the law, Fierros said. His grandchildren number 56, and he has six great-grandchildren.

Mary Morrow, 22-year-old teacher in suburban Oakdale School outside Omaha, Neb., plunks her baritone ukelele during a session of her second grade class yesterday. She says her musical teaching aid is helping her pupils learn math and other subjects because, "it provides good motivation." (AP Wirephoto)

MAYBE THIS RIFLEMAN'S GONE TO WAR

Anyone seen a four-foot tall man, weighing 300 pounds, with a beard, faded yellow shirt, brown pants and holding a rifle, anywhere in the Novato area?

That is the description Jack Duane Kinney, 42, of 655 Canyon Road, Novato, gave of a concrete statue which was stolen Monday night from the Novato Manor convalescent home at 655 Canyon Road. He valued the statue at $70.

Antenna Taken

David K. Randolph reported to Mill Valley police yesterday that, between Nov. 14 and 26, someone stole a television antenna, mast, four guy wires and mountings from the sundeck of the roof of his home at 61 Woodside Lane. He estimated vaule at $75.

The Novato Air Force Assn. president is Lee Wise.

Storer Draws Criticisms From Other Supervisors

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, absent from the board meeting yesterday afternoon, should have been there to defend himself.

Some of his fellow board members, particularly Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, took some sharp verbal jabs at Storer.

Leydecker, who serves with Storer on the executive salary committee, told the board that Storer said at the outset of a meeting on salaries for elected officials that he had not seen a recommendation on the salaries, but at the end of the committee session he recalled that he had seen it.

"So his discussion was limited," Laydecker said.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen thought it too bad that the supervisors had to act on a recommendation that came, in effect, from only one supervisor.

"I can't help it if one member of the board does not choose to function," Leydecker declared.

Storer's name came up again after board members agreed to allow county employees the option of either taking the Friday before Christmas or the Friday before New Year's as a day off, since both holidays fall on Saturday.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the proposal was studied because of Storer's earlier suggestion that employees get the Friday after Thanksgiving off hereafter.

Supervisor Kettenhofen said he thought Storer's suggestion was made "in order to have a popularity contest with employees."

Storer, who was in San Francisco yesterday afternoon to appear before the transportation committee of the board of supervisors there, got some further heat from Marin supervisors when the board learned that part of the increased work load among clerks for the board is due to extra chores asked by Storer.

Leydecker said he wanted to know the nature of the added work. "How many press releases?" he asked. Supervisors continued to next Tuesday their discussion of $3,875 added to the budget to increase the clerk's staff.

South State Hike Completed

OAKDALE, La. (AP) — Preston Jeffers, 58, completed a 1,550 - mile hike from California to Oakdale this week. He started his trek Oct. 19.

Jeffers, who says he can't read or write, says he memorized the number "80" and stayed on U.S. 80 until he reached Shreveport, La., and from there was guided to U.S. 165 into Oakdale in West Louisiana.

"Folks asked me if I had a sponsor, but I didn't have one," said Jeffers. "I just like to walk."

Jeffers said he shunned offers of rides.

"If I hadn't done it, I'd still be wanting to. But there isn't enough money in the world to make me walk it again," he said.

Board Approves Youth Corps Cleanup Project

Marin County supervisors yesterday approved a 12-week neighborhood Job Corps project for cleanup of the old Navy net depot property in Tiburon.

The $29,779 project, to start Jan. 17, will be financed largely through federal War on Poverty funds. It will give jobs to 30 youths.

A tenth of the cost will be paid by Lockheed Missile and Space Co. of Sunnyvale and International Minerals and Chemical Corp. of Skokie, Ill., which have research projects at the depot. County cost will be only $261, covering administrative expense.

The project was encouraged by the Federal Bureau of Mines, which operates a marine mineral technology center at the depot.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Reappointed Denny Dohnert to the county board of appeals, a building trades groups which reviews building code policy and complaints.

2. Put off discussion of appointments to the recently created airport commission. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer proposed Melville Dickson of Woodacre as an appointee, but Storer was not present when the discussion came up and other supervisors wanted more information.

3. Put off until next Tuesday the authorization for court action to force removal of piers, houseboats and arks on the water-covered streets in Richardson Bay.

4. Authorized a nuisance abatement suit against Harry Johnson to force him to remove a building at 383 Shoreline Highway near Mill Valley, gutted by fire recently. Johnson is publisher of Marin Guide.

5. Adopted a resolution to be sent to the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington seeking a speedup in authorization of federal funds supporting the county's War on Poverty program.

6. Authorized transfer of $2,485 from the second phase development fund of Paradise Beach County Park to cover a deficit in first phase allocations. The deficit came to light two months ago and was attributed to construction change orders apparently made but not recorded by former park and recreation director Kelvin J. Nelson.

7. Agreed to discuss at budget sessions for next fiscal year a proposal of the county public works department that Ross, Corte Madera and the county split the cost of improving Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Ross. The county share would be about $23,000.

8. Split 2-2, with Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen voting "no," on a motion to deny the request of seven employees to be put under social security. The employees opted not to join when the county retirement program started. The county would have to pay $1,000 for each to get them in the program.

9. Approved a long bid period on the Hall of Justice addition Dec. 21. Base bids will be submitted at 2 p.m., but because subcontractors wait until the last minute to enter bids to avoid "bid shopping," the general contractors will have until 4:30 p.m. to submit alternate bids.

10. Continued until next Tuesday the application of Borah Lawrence for rezoning from single family residential to planned residential on steep hillside property on North San Pedro Road opposite La Brea Way. The change would allow clustering of up to seven units on a near-level corner of the parcel. Neighbors have protested.

11. Granted a use permit for a private refuse dump on the Elmer Martinelli property north of Point Reyes Station, with condition that the narrow road be widened to 18 feet.

12. Authorized an additional $1,500 for the public works department to purchase a carry-all panel truck for a survey crew rather than a $2,000 pick-up truck authorized in the budget.

13. Proclaimed January "March of Dimes Month" in Marin.

14. Hired appraisers Edward Morphy, Edwin Jordan, David Cohn and Neil Brodsgar at $5,000 each to do appraisals on property needed for the Corte Madera Creek flood control project. The fees paid by the county are to be reimbursed by the state.

15. Adjourned at 7:10 p.m.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer was absent during the afternoon session.

Vice President Amendment Moving

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Delaware has become the 13th state to ratify the proposed 25th amendment to the U.S. Constitution. A total of 38 states must approve it to put it into effect.

The amendment provides for the vice president to assume the duties of the president in case the latter is incapacitated. It also provides for selection of a new vice president if that office becomes vacant.

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss National Assembly today elected Hans Schaffner, 56, minister for public economy, to be president of Switzerland

The election was a formality. The presidency rotates annually among the seven members of the country's governing body, the federal council.

Sibelius Birthday

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Finland celebrated the 100th birthday today of its greatest composer, the late Jean Sibelius, with a concert in Helsinki and a memorial ceremony at his villa at Jarvenpaa. Sibelius died on Sept. 20, 1957.

Father's Advice On Children

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—From Braulio Fierros, a retired sign painter who has provided for his 19 children without benefit of charity or welfare aid, came this advice today:

"Give kids love, make them feel wanted and don't let your wife work."

Fierros, 65, was one of 12 children and went to work to help support them after his father's death forced him to leave school after the third grade.

None of his children ever was in trouble with the law, Fierros said. His grandchildren number 56, and he has six great-grandchildren.

PLAYING WITH DEATH

Hazel Carbone, 2, and brother Mario, 5, were freed yesterday from the safe-like metal cabinet in back of them, after they had locked themselves in at their home in Nutley, N.J. Patrolman Thomas Caprio, ex-weight lifter, ripped off the door of the cabinet to let them out. Mario holds up the door. (AP Wirephoto)

Bay Minister Testifies At Murder Trial

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A California minister testified today that he was attacked last March on a Selma street by one of three white men on trial for the clubbing death of the Rev. James J. Reeb of Boston, a participant in a civil rights campaign.

"There is no doubt in my mind after having seen these men in person," said the Rev. Clark Olsen, 32, of Berkeley, who was with Reeb when he was knocked to the pavement.

But Olsen, recalled to the stand in the second day of the murder trial, said he could not deny having identified another of the defendants as his attacker when shown photograhs by the FBI two weeks after the March 9 incident.

Olsen said he was positive that he was struck by Elmer L. Cook, 42, although the witness on cross-examination said he did not remember if he had told FBI agents that another defendant, William Stanley Hoggle, 37, as the man.

Olsen was followed to the stand by the Rev. Orloff Miller of Boston, who also was with Reeb the night of the attack.

Cook, Hoggle and his brother, Namon O'Neal Hoggle, the third defendant, showed no emotion at Olsen's testimony.

Homeowners Discuss Anti-Speed Moves

Directors of the Glenwood Homeowners Assn. continued discussion last night on what to do about speeders on the neighborhood's streets and how to hasten construction of the city's promised Fire Station Five.

City councilmen Monday postponed action for two weeks on the fire station after learning seven bids came in higher than the architect's estimate.

Woman Returns Home To Find Midday Thief

A daylight burglar, caught ransacking a Novato house yesterday, escaped on foot up South Novato Boulevard.

Mrs. Marion Rowlette, 45, of 1 Lauren Avenue, returned home about noon to find a man ransacking her kitchen. He had already been through other rooms and piled his loot by the front door preparatory to taking it away, police reported.

Surprised by Mrs. Rowlette, He fled out the rear sliding glass door which he had pried open to enter, ran up the driveway and onto South Novato Boulevard where he made his escape.

Darrol James Raven of 1454 Cambridge Street, Novato, an employee of the Grant Nelson Service Station across the street at South Novato Boulevard and Center Road, saw the man running north on South Novato Boulevard.

He described his as a Caucasian between 25 and 35 years of age, about six feet tall, of medium build with brown hair. He was wearing a hat, blue jacket and dark pants.

He carried with him Mrs. Rowlette's large straw clutch purse with blue flowers on the side.

The burglar had entered the garage, taken a bayonet stored there and pried open the sliding door, police reported.

He took a transistor radio and six books of Blue Chip stamps in the straw purse, police reported. Beside the front door, presumably ready to take out, he had piled a television set, sewing machine, and electric toaster.

Marinwood Commission Ired Over Trash In Miller Creek

Members of the Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission are aroused over dumping of trash into Miller Creek.

The commission, which earlier authorized letters to all residents of Marinwood asking cooperation, last night authorized a letter to the county board of supervisors asking heavier policing.

"We somehow want to get it across that we're not just going to shrug this off," temporary chairman Walter Van Gelder said today.

The commission last night named Van Gelder temporary chairman until the end of the year, replacing William T. Lane Jr., who resigned several weeks ago.

Van Gelder told the commission he would not seek another appointment to the commission, as he is leaving early next year. The Marinwood community services district makes appointments to the commission.

Commissioners will recommend and increase for gardener and maintenance man David Williams from $375 to $400. The CSD board is expected to act on the recommendation Dec. 16.

The commission asked Recreation Director Lawrence Crawford to prepare a program for senior citizens for discussion at an early meeting.

Reverse Corps

NEW YORK (AP) — Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps and the Office of Economic Opportunity, says "the time has come for our country to receive Peace Corps Volunteers from foreign countries." Shriver last night endorsed a "reverse Peace Corps," with volunteers from abroad coming to the United States. "We need these volunteers to teach us," he said.

Book Banned In Boston On Court Docket

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The U.S. Supreme Court was asked today to decide whether "Fanny Hill" should be banned, as it is in Boston, or freely circulated, as it is in New York.

A Massachusetts State Court decision against the controversial 18th century novel is the third obscenity case this week to be considered by the court.

More formally known as "John Cleland's Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure," the book is a graphic portrayal of the life and loves of a British prostitute. Massachusetts' highest court voted 4-3 in favor of banning it, while New York's highest court voted by the same margin to allow its distribution.

The New York case is not before the Supreme Court, but it has been mentioned in the pending appeal of the Massachusetts case to point out difficulties that immediate arise when the first Amendment to the Constitution's guarantee of free speech is at issue.

Youth 'Critical' With Crash Injuries

William Velasquez, 18, of Santa Rosa, remained in critical condition at Marin General Hospital today from injuries suffered in an auto accident on Highway 101 Saturday which killed two people. He received back and skull injuries in the crash a mile north of San Rafael.

Geary Goodson, 18, of Windsor, Sonoma County, one of the passengers injured in the accident, was reported to be "fair" today with a broken nose and facial cuts in San Rafael General Hospital. The Independent-Journal earlier reported in error that he had been released from the hospital.

Truck In Novato Damaged By Vandals

Vandals shot out the windshield, cut the radiator hose and stole 40 gallons of gasoline from a truck at a construction site in the Bahia development at Bugeia and Topaz streets, Novato, John H. Cole of Rio Vista reported yesterday to Novato police.

Mrs. Edna May Rooney, 41, of 15 Ruben Court, Novato, turned right off San Luis onto San Carlos, and her car collided with a westbound car driven by Jesse Robert Leal, 28, of San Jose, police reported.

Mrs. Rooney was cut on the chin and bruised on the left knee. Leal complained of pains in his back. Both were to see their own doctors.

Moose Feed Slated

A moose feed will be held for members of the Bolinas Rod and Boat Club at 7 p.m. Friday at the Bolinas Community Center. Club member Archie Goldsberry shot the moose in British Columbia.

Man Balks At District Tax Payment

Dennis J. Hodgson of 410 Sausalito Avenue, Corte Madera, told the Corte Madera Sanitary District board last night he does not wish to pay any more taxes to the district, because it provides him with no sewer service. He must use a septic tank.

District Maintenance Supt. John Comes explained the district does not have a sewer line which extends to the block on Sausalito Avenues where Hodgson lives. Another eight or 10 houses in the area are in the same situation, he said.

Comes said he thinks that if Hodgson does not have to pay taxes, neither will the other property owners.

The district directors instructed their attorney, Robert M. Haight, to give them his legal opinion on the request at their next meeting.

The directors approved plans for the area of Corte Madera Town Hall which the district office will occupy in June, when remodeling of the building is complete.

The district presently has five employees in its office at 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera. It will occupy one-third of the downstairs portion of town hall.

Director Fred A. Nicholson was absent.

Stanley G. Bennett is president of Richardson Bay Sanitary District Board.

State Group To Hear Of Assessment Ideas

Marin County Supervisors yesterday reviewed point-by-point the 28 assessment reforms recommended by the California Assn. of County Assessors, largely under the leadership of Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel.

The suggested changes, which include study of property tax relief for the elderly on fixed income, will be presented to an Assembly interim committee on revenue and taxation meeting in San Mateo Monday.

The afternoon session of the committee will include discussion of penalty assessments on escaped taxes, such as the penalty excused by Marin supervisors on Fairchild Semiconductor several months ago.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen are to attend the afternoon session.

The recommendations include establishment of a uniform assessment ration on total evaluation throughout California, provision for assessors to appeal ratio findings to the State Board of Equalization, allowing boards of supervisors to create an assessment appeals board that would serve as the county board of equalization, permit inspection of records by public officials and rule out the possibility for assessors or their deputies to serve as private agents or advisers.

The recommendations also call for registration of private tax consultants and reimbursement by the state on tax exemption losses where a non-profit corporation is excused from county taxes. This last provision would include church schools and churches.

The recommendations also would change the tax lien date from the first Monday in March to January 1. This would give assessors more time to compile the assessment roll.

Fairfax Pavilion Closed For Work

The Fairfax pavilion was closed today to permit reconditioning of its floors, according to recreation director Nyal D. Worsham.

It will re-open Monday.

Scheduled activities in the pavilion, within the next month, include teen dances Dec. 17 and Jan. 1, and a New Year's Eve dance, sponsored by the Fairfax Lions Club and the men's club of St. Rita's Church.

The New Year's Eve dance, scheduled to run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will help raise funds to buy uniforms for Catholic Youth Organization basketball players. Some of the money also will go to a fund for repairing the pavilion, Worsham said.

THEY LOOK BACK — The gibbon ape and Snorkie the harbor seal stare back at visitors. They are two of yougsters' favorites at the zoo-museum. Youngsters delight in feeding fish to the seal and to a sea lion named Alice Parsons.

RAFTSMEN HOME — Two of six crewmen who originally sailed on the raft Triton, Larry White (left) and Mel Higley, returned to Watsonville yesterday for a variety of reasons including the need to restock the trans-Pacific craft's larder. (UPI Telephoto)

RAFTSMAN'S LAMENT

Romance Cuts Short Trans-Pacific Voyage

WATSONVILLE (AP) — "I'm homesick, 22 years old and I'm in love." Those are the reasons Melvin Higley gives for temporarily abandoning an attempt to cross the Pacific Ocean on a raft.

Higley, engaged to marry Sue Esty, of Capitola, arrived in Watsonville yesterday. Two other men who started Oct. 18 from nearby Capitola for the Society Islands on the nine-ton raft Triton also have given up for the time being.

Three others still are on the raft off Mexico, expecting the trio to return with more supplies in a month.

Larry White, who returned here with Higley, explained: "We were simply eating ourselves out of a trip. We discovered we were eating twice as much as we planned.

Al Parvin came ashore with them and went to Colorado to be with his pregnant wife.

Still aboard are Fred Hammeter, 36, of San Jose; Doug Otis, 26, of Aptos; and Don McGee, 18, an Australian.

Higley and Parvin, 26, live at Santa Cruz and White, 25, at Aptos. Both those cities and Watsonville are south of San Francisco, on the ocean.

Before returning to the raft they intend to buy a new ship's clock, a shortwave radio and extra food.

The raft put ashore at the tip of Baja California, Mexico, and the three who left it traveled the rest of the way by bus.

If the trio does not return, White said, the raft probably would end its journey in Panama—rather than at the islands 7,400 miles across the ocean.

Communications Firms Ask Approval Of Giant Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — American Broadcasting Companies Inc. and the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. have agreed to merge into a $1.8-billion concern operating in nearly every phase of the communications industry.

The merger, approved by the boards of directors of the two companies last night, would involve a stock transaction of between $350 and $400 million.

Harold S. Geneen, chairman and president of IT&T, and Leonard H. Goldenson, president of ABC, said in a joint statement:

"The consummation of the arrangement is subject to the approval of the shareholders of each company and to the approval of the Federal Communications Commission and other appropriate government agencies and the obtaining of a favorable tax ruling."

The impact of the merger would also be felt strongly abroad. IT&T is a major producer of radio, television and ppliances in Europe, Latin America and the Far East.

One of the conditions of the merger, said the joint statement, "will be the continued autonomous operation and management of American Broadcasting Companies Inc. by its present management as a separate subsidiary of International Telephone Corp."

Assets of I.T.&T. at the end of 1964 were in excess of $1.6 billion. ABC's assets exceeded $226.6 million.

Fremont Sends Soldiers Gifts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Accompanied by music from a Navy sound truck, a caravan of 20 cars and two trucks from Fremont Tuesday delivered 2,345 packages to the San Francisco Post Office for shipment to American soldiers in South Viet Nam.

The caravan was the result of a drive called "parcels for Patriots" co-sponsored by the Fremont yesterday delivered Fremont Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The packages weighed a total of more than 16,000 pounds, and postage costs were about $1,000. Cost of shipment was shared by the co-sponsors.

Cigarette Thought Cause Of Fire In Corte Madera

Mrs. Thelma Crause of 18 Flying Cloud Passage, Corte Madera, told firemen that she may have left a smoldering cigarette in her family room early today, thereby causing a fire which did damage estimated at $1,500.

Mrs. Crause said she had been smoking before she went to another room to set her hair at 12:30 a.m. When she returned a half hour later, she found the family room drapes ablaze.

Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson said the 22 volunteer firemen who answered the alarm quickly extinguished the blaze.

Chief Nelson said the fire started on a table next to the drapes and was confined to the family room.

Mancebo Sentence Set For January

Sentencing of Russell John Mancebo, 23, on his guilty plea in Marin Superior Court yesterday to statutory rape was scheduled by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner for Jan. 4.

Mancebo, of 1100 West California Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, had sexual relations with a 16-year-old girl in Sausalito on Oct. 31.

'Titus' Comes In Disguise

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rembrandt's $2.23 million painting "Titus," acquired in London earlier this year by the Norton Simon Foundation, will go on display in the new County Museum of Art on Dec. 26.

The famous art work—on display in the National Gallery in Washington since arriving in this country—was shipped to Los Angeles yesterday, wrapped in disguise as a Christmas gift.

Museum officials, apprehensive that attempts might be to steal the painting, shipped the package wrapped as a yuletide gift.

PLAYING WITH DEATH

Hazel Carbone, 2, and brother Mario, 5, were freed yesterday from the safe-like metal cabinet in back of them, after they had locked themselves in at their home in Nutley, N.J. Patrolman Thomas Caprio, ex-weight lifter, ripped off the door of the cabinet to let them out. Mario holds up the door. (AP Wirephoto)

Bay Minister Testifies At Murder Trial

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A California minister testified today that he was attacked last March on a Selma street by one of three white men on trial for the clubbing death of the Rev. James J. Reeb of Boston, a participant in a civil rights campaign.

"There is no doubt in my mind after having seen these men in person," said the Rev. Clark Olsen, 32, of Berkeley, who was with Reeb when he was knocked to the pavement.

But Olsen, recalled to the stand in the second day of the murder trial, said he could not deny having identified another of the defendants as his attacker when shown photograhs by the FBI two weeks after the March 9 incident.

Olsen said he was positive that he was struck by Elmer L. Cook, 42, although the witness on cross-examination said he did not remember if he had told FBI agents that another defendant, William Stanley Hoggle, 37, as the man.

Olsen was followed to the stand by the Rev. Orloff Miller of Boston, who also was with Reeb the night of the attack.

Cook, Hoggle and his brother, Namon O'Neal Hoggle, the third defendant, showed no emotion at Olsen's testimony.

Homeowners Discuss Anti-Speed Moves

Directors of the Glenwood Homeowners Assn. continued discussion last night on what to do about speeders on the neighborhood's streets and how to hasten construction of the city's promised Fire Station Five.

City councilmen Monday postponed action for two weeks on the fire station after learning seven bids came in higher than the architect's estimate.

Woman Returns Home To Find Midday Thief

A daylight burglar, caught ransacking a Novato house yesterday, escaped on foot up South Novato Boulevard.

Mrs. Marion Rowlette, 45, of 1 Lauren Avenue, returned home about noon to find a man ransacking her kitchen. He had already been through other rooms and piled his loot by the front door preparatory to taking it away, police reported.

Surprised by Mrs. Rowlette, He fled out the rear sliding glass door which he had pried open to enter, ran up the driveway and onto South Novato Boulevard where he made his escape.

Darrol James Raven of 1454 Cambridge Street, Novato, an employee of the Grant Nelson Service Station across the street at South Novato Boulevard and Center Road, saw the man running north on South Novato Boulevard.

He described his as a Caucasian between 25 and 35 years of age, about six feet tall, of medium build with brown hair. He was wearing a hat, blue jacket and dark pants.

He carried with him Mrs. Rowlette's large straw clutch purse with blue flowers on the side.

The burglar had entered the garage, taken a bayonet stored there and pried open the sliding door, police reported.

He took a transistor radio and six books of Blue Chip stamps in the straw purse, police reported. Beside the front door, presumably ready to take out, he had piled a television set, sewing machine, and electric toaster.

Marinwood Commission Ired Over Trash In Miller Creek

Members of the Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission are aroused over dumping of trash into Miller Creek.

The commission, which earlier authorized letters to all residents of Marinwood asking cooperation, last night authorized a letter to the county board of supervisors asking heavier policing.

"We somehow want to get it across that we're not just going to shrug this off," temporary chairman Walter Van Gelder said today.

The commission last night named Van Gelder temporary chairman until the end of the year, replacing William T. Lane Jr., who resigned several weeks ago.

Van Gelder told the commission he would not seek another appointment to the commission, as he is leaving early next year. The Marinwood community services district makes appointments to the commission.

Commissioners will recommend and increase for gardener and maintenance man David Williams from $375 to $400. The CSD board is expected to act on the recommendation Dec. 16.

The commission asked Recreation Director Lawrence Crawford to prepare a program for senior citizens for discussion at an early meeting.

Reverse Corps

NEW YORK (AP) — Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps and the Office of Economic Opportunity, says "the time has come for our country to receive Peace Corps Volunteers from foreign countries." Shriver last night endorsed a "reverse Peace Corps," with volunteers from abroad coming to the United States. "We need these volunteers to teach us," he said.

Book Banned In Boston On Court Docket

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The U.S. Supreme Court was asked today to decide whether "Fanny Hill" should be banned, as it is in Boston, or freely circulated, as it is in New York.

A Massachusetts State Court decision against the controversial 18th century novel is the third obscenity case this week to be considered by the court.

More formally known as "John Cleland's Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure," the book is a graphic portrayal of the life and loves of a British prostitute. Massachusetts' highest court voted 4-3 in favor of banning it, while New York's highest court voted by the same margin to allow its distribution.

The New York case is not before the Supreme Court, but it has been mentioned in the pending appeal of the Massachusetts case to point out difficulties that immediate arise when the first Amendment to the Constitution's guarantee of free speech is at issue.

Youth 'Critical' With Crash Injuries

William Velasquez, 18, of Santa Rosa, remained in critical condition at Marin General Hospital today from injuries suffered in an auto accident on Highway 101 Saturday which killed two people. He received back and skull injuries in the crash a mile north of San Rafael.

Geary Goodson, 18, of Windsor, Sonoma County, one of the passengers injured in the accident, was reported to be "fair" today with a broken nose and facial cuts in San Rafael General Hospital. The Independent-Journal earlier reported in error that he had been released from the hospital.

Truck In Novato Damaged By Vandals

Vandals shot out the windshield, cut the radiator hose and stole 40 gallons of gasoline from a truck at a construction site in the Bahia development at Bugeia and Topaz streets, Novato, John H. Cole of Rio Vista reported yesterday to Novato police.

Two Drivers Hurt In Wreck

Two persons suffered minor injuries in an auto accident at 12:40 p.m. yesterday on San Carlos Way and San Luis Drive, Novato, according to Novato police.

Mrs. Edna May Rooney, 41, of 15 Ruben Court, Novato, turned right off San Luis onto San Carlos, and her car collided with a westbound car driven by Jesse Robert Leal, 28, of San Jose, police reported.

Mrs. Rooney was cut on the chin and bruised on the left knee. Leal complained of pains in his back. Both were to see their own doctors.

Moose Feed Slated

Man Balks At District Tax Payment

Dennis J. Hodgson of 410 Sausalito Avenue, Corte Madera, told the Corte Madera Sanitary District board last night he does not wish to pay any more taxes to the district, because it provides him with no sewer service. He must use a septic tank.

District Maintenance Supt. John Comes explained the district does not have a sewer line which extends to the block on Sausalito Avenues where Hodgson lives. Another eight or 10 houses in the area are in the same situation, he said.

Comes said he thinks that if Hodgson does not have to pay taxes, neither will the other property owners.

The district directors instructed their attorney, Robert M. Haight, to give them his legal opinion on the request at their next meeting.

The directors approved plans for the area of Corte Madera Town Hall which the district office will occupy in June, when remodeling of the building is complete.

The district presently has five employees in its office at 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera. It will occupy one-third of the downstairs portion of town hall.

Director Fred A. Nicholson was absent.

Stanley G. Bennett is president of Richardson Bay Sanitary District Board.

State Group To Hear Of Assessment Ideas

Marin County Supervisors yesterday reviewed point-by-point the 28 assessment reforms recommended by the California Assn. of County Assessors, largely under the leadership of Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel.

The suggested changes, which include study of property tax relief for the elderly on fixed income, will be presented to an Assembly interim committee on revenue and taxation meeting in San Mateo Monday.

The afternoon session of the committee will include discussion of penalty assessments on escaped taxes, such as the penalty excused by Marin supervisors on Fairchild Semiconductor several months ago.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen are to attend the afternoon session.

The recommendations include establishment of a uniform assessment ration on total evaluation throughout California, provision for assessors to appeal ratio findings to the State Board of Equalization, allowing boards of supervisors to create an assessment appeals board that would serve as the county board of equalization, permit inspection of records by public officials and rule out the possibility for assessors or their deputies to serve as private agents or advisers.

The recommendations also call for registration of private tax consultants and reimbursement by the state on tax exemption losses where a non-profit corporation is excused from county taxes. This last provision would include church schools and churches.

The recommendations also would change the tax lien date from the first Monday in March to January 1. This would give assessors more time to compile the assessment roll.

Fairfax Pavilion Closed For Work

The Fairfax pavilion was closed today to permit reconditioning of its floors, according to recreation director Nyal D. Worsham.

It will re-open Monday.

Scheduled activities in the pavilion, within the next month, include teen dances Dec. 17 and Jan. 1, and a New Year's Eve dance, sponsored by the Fairfax Lions Club and the men's club of St. Rita's Church.

The New Year's Eve dance, scheduled to run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will help raise funds to buy uniforms for Catholic Youth Organization basketball players. Some of the money also will go to a fund for repairing the pavilion, Worsham said.

Supervisors Back Brazil Ranch Park

Marin County supervisors yesterday pretty well pinpointed the 2,200-acre Brazil Ranch in southern Marin as the property they would like to see become a memorial park for Adlai E. Stevenson.

In requesting Nature Conservancy to sponsor a nationwide drive for funds to purchase a park in Marin, the board said the funds would purchase property "such as the Brazil Ranch."

The Brazil Ranch which is owned by Stevenson's son, John Fell Stevenson, and others. It is on the coast between Steep Ravine and Muir Beach. It runs inland to border Muir Woods National Monument.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who suggested the Stevenson memorial last week, reported he had talked with Huey Johnson, president of Nature Conservancy, and he was "enthusiastic."

Kettenhofen said he had heard some concern from constituents over taking additional land off the tax rolls, but declared the park project should be viewed as a regional facility. "I don't think it would be excessive in relation to the entire Bay Area," he said.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr remarked that rural lands, including the Brazil Ranch, constitute only 4 per cent of the county's tax assessment roll.

New Elections Post Is Filled By Promotion

Marin County supervisors yesterday elevated Supervisor of Elections John F. Musser Jr. to the job of assistant county clerk for elections with an increase in pay from $790 to $829 a month.

The new position was created after the April school districts election fiasco, with hope that a high-powered man could help cure the problem.

With the new position, the board authorized changes in administration of elections, shifting responsibility for school elections from the county schools office to the election department.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss, who recommended yesterday that Musser be hired to fill the job, told the board he firmly believed it the right selection.

"I think he can do it," board chairman Peter H. Behr said.

Behr said the administrative responsibilities were not clear-cut. He asked to be informed at once if anything should arise to block the administration of elections.

State Reports Can Be Bought

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Persons interested in reading the reports on how California's major problems can be solved through aerospace technology may purchase copies of three of the reports which are completed, Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced.

Copies may be purchased on the basis of reproduction costs, plus sales tax, by writing Documents Section, P. O. Box 1612, Sacramento, 95807.

The publications include: "California Statewide Information System Study," $5.72; "California Waste Management Study," $8.32; "Prevention and Control of Crime and Delinquency," $4.94. A fourth study, "Integrated Transportation for California," will be available later.

Cyclist's Ankle Sprained In Crash

Erik K. Jarvis, 16, suffered a sprained ankle and bruises when the motorcycle he was riding hit the median barrier on Highway 101 just south of the Alto overcrossing, and flipped at 11:50 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Jarvis was northbound in the fast lane. He said a panel truck swerved into his lane. He was treated by his own doctor.

Volunteers Re-Organized

After several years of inactivity, the Sausalito Volunteer Firemen's Assn. has been reorganized.

Volunteers have aided the city's regular firemen in the meanwhile, according to Fire Chief Charles E. Masten, but have not elected officers or held regular drills.

Monthly drills will resume, Masten said.

Gene Pool was elected president. Other officers are William D. McDonald, vice president; Robert G. Anderson, secretary-treasurer, and William A. Hall, sergeant at arms. Stefan Garroway was made a director.

The group is seeking insurance to cover volunteers if their income is curtailed through injury while fighting fires.

Policeman Slays Two After Booking On Bribe Charge

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)— An Oakland policeman arrested yesterday on a bribery charge went on a shooting spree a few hour later, killing two men and seriously wounding himself.

Authorities said Patrolman Frank Erwin Reed, 38, shot and killed Billy Smith, 49, in West Oakland and then drove 10 miles to East Oakland where he fatally wounded Lawrence Walker, 53. They said Reed then shot himself in the head outside Walker's home.

The shooting occurred just hours after Reed and another Oakland policeman, George K. Chamberlain, 43, were arrested and charged with two counts of bribery each.

Police Chief Edward Toothman said the two patrolmen were accused of taking payoffs of $100 a week to protect a marathon poker game in an East Oakland apartment.

The officers were released on bail at the Oakland Hall of Justice, but declined comment when questioned by reporters.

Authorities said Reed drove to West Oakland a short time later and shot down Smith within a stone's throw of where the gambling operation had been conducted. They added that the second victim, Walker, had been arrested 28 times on gambling charges.

Reed has been on the police force for 11 years, while Chamberlain has been an Oakland policeman since 1947. Toothman said they both had good records as officers.

State Employment Sets New Record

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's non - military employment total stood at 6,955,000 in November, a record for the month and 4.5 per cent higher than the same month in 1964, the state said today.

Ernest B. Webb, state director of industrial relations, said employment declined by 71,000 from October, but termed this a comparatively small seasonal reduction.

Unemployment totaled 393,000 in November or 5.6 per cent of the labor force.

Meeting Cancelled

Yesterday's scheduled meeting of the Larkspur Library Board was cancelled for lack of a quorum, according to board president Mrs. Phillip S. Haly. The board will meet Jan. 4.

Customer Influx Saves Airman's Club At Base

The off-again, on-again airmen's club at Hamilton Air Force base has received another reprieve, and will not be closed on Jan. 25 as scheduled.

The club, which has been subsidized by the non-commissioned officers club, unexpectedly showed a profit for November.

It has been a money losing operation for the NCO club, los- approximately $4,000 this year. This loss has been made up from profits of the NCO club.

A recent influx of M-16 rifle trainees to Hamilton was credited with putting the club into the black ink. Governors of the NCO club voted to give it another chance at life.

Originally the airmen's club had been scheduled for closing on Nov. 25. This was subsequently changed to Jan. 25.

Court Outlaws Curb On Voter

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A three-judge federal court declared unconstitutional today a New York State law requiring that a voter must have at least a sixth-grade education in an English-language school.

The decision affected approximately a half million Spanish-educated Puerto Ricans.

The federal court also issued a permanent injunction against enforcement of the state law.

Sausalito Worries On Ferry Parking

Sausalito, once a ferry terminal for Marin, would have trouble using the same slip area if ferries return.

Sausalito City Councilmen last night passed a resolution urging studies on the feasibility of restoring ferry service between Marin and San Francisco.

At the same time, councilmen expressed concern about the possibility of ferries docking "at the old slips" in the center of town and creating a parking problem.

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said Marinship would be the best location for a ferry terminal.

There is talk of having commuter buses drive onto the ferry in Marin and then drive off in San Francisco, taking the passengers to the downtown area, Wax said. (This was proposed at a San Francisco Board of Supervisors committee meeting yesterday by Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, a Golden Gate Bridge District director. See story on page 1).

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said, "I do think Sausalito should be alert as to where the ferries would depart, and what it would do to local traffic and local parking."

The council received an application from Sausalito Communications System, a new, nonprofit television antenna cable company, for a franchise to construct a community antenna television system in the city.

Decision was postponed until city adopts a new or amended community antenna television ordinance.

Councilmen also delayed approval of plans and specifications for a new city corporation yard building at Nevada and Tomales streets.

The Community Appearances Advisory Board, which has opposed plans for a pre-fabricated building, reported that a wooden building could be constructed at less cost.

The council suggested that City Mgr. Charles A. Brown, and Norman Wohlschlaeger, superintendent of public works, confer with the advisory board about the building.

Later in the meeting the council refused to pay a bill for $500 from California Steel Building Inc. for drawing up the plans for a pre-fabricated building.

Brown said the firm drew up the plans "because we assumed that the corporation yard would have a pre-fab type of building."

The Sausalito City Council also:

1. Learned from Brown that the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Marinship Yacht Harbor and the Clipper Yacht Co. donated $400 toward purchase of a $700 portable fire pump to be used to fight boat fires.

2. Delayed decision on a request by Sausalito Artists and Merchants for an extension of the downtown parking validation program, pending a report by Brown after the Christmas holidays.

3. Set for Jan.4 hearing on an application by Malcolm Dewees for planned unit development of one and two-family residential units, totaling nine units, at 319 Sausalito Boulevard.

4. Supported a recommendation by Ronald E. Piper, Larkspur city manager, urging Marin County supervisors to extend the agreement whereby the city provides gasoline tax funds to cities for city - county urban thoroughfares past July, 1966, when it will expire. Brown was appointed to the urban thoroughfare committee.

5. Passed a resolution adopting the budget of funds allocated by the state for widening projects along Woodward Avenue and Main Street from gasoline tax monies.

6. Authorized Brown to remind the State Division of Highways about landscaping of the Spencer Avenue interchange on Highway 101.

7. Received a report from Wax that the state Division of Highways has cancelled its planned auction of surplus land along Ebbtide Avenue near Richardson Bay School.

Alameda To Gain Additional Taxes

OAKLAND (AP) — Alameda County expects to gain $100,000 in taxes because of an audit started after assessor Donald E. Feragen was indicted on bribery charges.

The assessor's office told the Board of Supervisors yesterday that 20 firms had been underassessed by $1 million in the past three years. Those firms have been billed for the $100,000.

Veteran Pilots To Get Free, Plush Vacation

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sixty battle-weary Army combat pilots will live it up for a week, starting tomorrow after spending the past year in Viet Nam.

They'll have no expenses at the Camelback Inn, a plush Phoenix area inter resort.

The Army is flying the pilots from Viet Nam to San Francisco. Continental Airlines is providing free transportation to Phoenix, where they'll be guests of Jack Stewart, the resort owner.

Some of the pilots' wives will join them at the inn.

In extending the invitation, Stewart said he was fed up with draft card burnings and other anti-war protests in the United States.

Council Asks Lower Density In Marincello

The Sausalito City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution urging the Marin County Board of Supervisors to lower the residential density of Marincello.

The resolution asks the county board to recondsider its approval of planned community zoning for Marincello and of the Marincello master plan.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk noted that the board's action permits high density residential development adjacent to Sausalito.

Councilmen urged that supervisors rezone Marincello to a lower density, or as an alternative, amend the Marincello master plan so it would conform with density in adjacent areas. Supervisors approved planned community development for Marincello with a density of 3.5 family units per acre.

After that decision, supervisors proposed that the county zoning ordinance be amended so that density in planned community developments would have to conform to master plans in adjacent area.

The council's resolution also states that Frouge Corp., developers of Marincello "have acquired no legally vested right to proceed with the residential density approved in connection with the Marincello master plan."

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said that he "heard disturbing reports" that the State Division of Beaches and Parks is reconsidering the whole Marin Headlands park project because of Marincello. (The state park commission today opened a three-day meeting in San Francisco at which the Headlands park is among those to be considered.)

The state objects to the industrial zone in the Marincello plan which would border the proposed park area, Wax said, and plans for access through the Fort Baker tunnel which would bring traffic across park land.

"The state is not about to build a park for Marincello," he said.

The council also agreed to support Novato's resolution that a county service area should be established to provide municipal services for Marincello. The Novato resolution is scheduled to come before the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen tonight.

Anti-Smog Group Begins Hearing

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A two-day hearing on air pollution by the Assembly Interim Committee on Transportation and Commerce opened here today.

Assemblyman Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, head of the committee, said "If we finally control the emissions from automobiles and we continue to have a heavy smog level, the public will have a thoroughly justifiable cause for bitter complaint."

He said the legislature had passed a comprehensive control law relating to automotive pollutants and indicated the committee was interested in other identifiable sources.

RAFTSMAN'S LAMENT

Romance Cuts Short Trans-Pacific Voyage

WATSONVILLE (AP) — "I'm homesick, 22 years old and I'm in love." Those are the reasons Melvin Higley gives for temporarily abandoning an attempt to cross the Pacific Ocean on a raft.

Higley, engaged to marry Sue Esty, of Capitola, arrived in Watsonville yesterday. Two other men who started Oct. 18 from nearby Capitola for the Society Islands on the nine-ton raft Triton also have given up for the time being.

Three others still are on the raft off Mexico, expecting the trio to return with more supplies in a month.

Larry White, who returned here with Higley, explained: "We were simply eating ourselves out of a trip. We discovered we were eating twice as much as we planned.

Al Parvin came ashore with them and went to Colorado to be with his pregnant wife.

Still aboard are Fred Hameter, 36, of San Jose; Doug Otis, 26, of Aptos; and Don McGee, 18, an Australian.

Higley and Parvin, 26, live at Santa Cruz and White, 25, at Aptos. Both those cities and Watsonville are south of San Francisco, on the ocean.

Before returning to the raft they intend to buy a new ship's clock, a shortwave radio and extra food.

The raft put ashore at the tip of Baja California, Mexico, and the three who left it traveled the rest of the way by bus.

If the trio does not return, White said, the raft probably would end its journey in Panama—rather than at the islands 7,400 miles across the ocean.

Communications Firms Ask Approval Of Giant Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — American Broadcasting Companies Inc. and the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. have agreed to merge into a $1.8-billion concern operating in nearly every phase of the communications industry.

The merger, approved by the boards of directors of the two companies last night, would involve a stock transaction of between $350 and $400 million.

Harold S. Geneen, chairman and president of IT&T, and Leonard H. Goldenson, president of ABC, said in a joint statement:

"The consummation of the arrangement is subject to the approval of the shareholders of each company and to the approval of the Federal Communications Commission and other appropriate government agencies and the obtaining of a favorable tax ruling."

The Impact of the merger would also be felt strongly abroad. IT&T is a major producer of radio, television and ppliances in Europe, Latin America and the Far East.

One of the conditions of the merger, said the joint statement, "will be the continued autonomous operation and management of American Broadcasting Companies Inc. by its present management as a separate subsidiary of International Telephone Corp."

Assets of I.T.&T. at the end of 1964 were in excess of $1.6 billion. ABC's assets exceeded $226.6 million.

Fremont Sends Soldiers Gifts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Accompanied by music from a Navy sound truck, a caravan of 20 cars and two trucks from Fremont Tuesday delivered 2,345 packages to the San Francisco Post Office for shipment to American soldiers in South Viet Nam.

The caravan was the result of a drive called "parcels for Patriots" co-sponsored by the Fremont yesterday delivered Fremont Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The packages weighed a total of more than 16,000 pounds, and postage costs were about $1,000. Cost of shipment was shared by the co-sponsors.

Cigarette Thought Cause Of Fire In Corte Madera

Mrs. Thelma Crause of 18 Flying Cloud Passage, Corte Madera, told firemen that she may have left a smoldering cigarette in her family room early today, thereby causing a fire which did damage estimated at $1,500.

Mrs. Crause said she had been smoking before she went to another room to set her hair at 12:30 a.m. When she returned a half hour later, she found the family room drapes ablaze.

Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson said the 22 volunteer firemen who answered the alarm quickly extinguished the blaze.

Chief Nelson said the fire started on a table next to the drapes and was confined to the family room.

Mancebo Sentence Set For January

Sentencing of Russell John Mancebo, 23, on his guilty plea in Marin Superior Court yesterday to statutory rape was scheduled by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner for Jan. 4.

Mancebo, of 1100 West California Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, had sexual relations with a 16-year-old girl in Sausalito on Oct. 31.

'Titus' Comes In Disguise

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rembrandt's $2.23 million painting "Titus," acquired in London earlier this year by the Norton Simon Foundation, will go on display in the new County Museum of Art on Dec. 26.

The famous art work—on display in the National Gallery in Washington since arriving in this country—was shipped to Los Angeles yesterday, wrapped in disguise as a Christmas gift.

Museum officials, apprehensive that attempts might be to steal the painting, shipped the package wrapped as a yuletide gift.

Supervisors Back Brazil Ranch Park

Marin County supervisors yesterday pretty well pinpointed the 2,200-acre Brazil Ranch in southern Marin as the property they would like to see become a memorial park for Adlai E. Stevenson.

In requesting Nature Conservancy to sponsor a nationwide drive for funds to purchase a park in Marin, the board said the funds would purchase property "such as the Brazil Ranch."

The Brazil Ranch which is owned by Stevenson's son, John Fell Stevenson, and others. It is on the coast between Steep Ravine and Muir Beach. It runs inland to border Muir Woods National Monument.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who suggested the Stevenson memorial last week, reported he had talked with Huey Johnson, president of Nature Conservancy, and he was "enthusiastic."

Kettenhofen said he had heard some concern from constituents over taking additional land off the tax rolls, but declared the park project should be viewed as a regional facility. "I don't think it would be excessive in relation to the entire Bay Area," he said.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr remarked that rural lands, including the Brazil Ranch, constitute only 4 per cent of the county's tax assessment roll.

Volunteers Re-Organized

After several years of inactivity, the Sausalito Volunteer Firemen's Assn. has been reorganized.

Volunteers have aided the city's regular firemen in the meanwhile, according to Fire Chief Charles E. Masten, but have not elected officers or held regular drills.

Monthly drills will resume, Masten said.

Gene Pool was elected president. Other officers are William D. McDonald, vice president; Robert G. Anderson, secretary-treasurer, and William A. Hall, sergeant at arms. Stefan Garroway was made a director.

The group is seeking insurance to cover volunteers if their income is curtailed through injury while fighting fires.

Policeman Slays Two After Booking On Bribe Charge

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)— An Oakland policeman arrested yesterday on a bribery charge went on a shooting spree a few hour later, killing two men and seriously wounding himself.

Authorities said Patrolman Frank Erwin Reed, 38, shot and killed Billy Smith, 49, in West Oakland and then drove 10 miles to East Oakland where he fatally wounded Lawrence Walker, 53. They said Reed then shot himself in the head outside Walker's home.

The shooting occurred just hours after Reed and another Oakland policeman, George K. Chamberlain, 43, were arrested and charged with two counts of bribery each.

Police Chief Edward Toothman said the two patrolmen were accused of taking payoffs of $100 a week to protect a marathon poker game in an East Oakland apartment.

The officers were released on bail at the Oakland Hall of Justice, but declined comment when questioned by reporters.

Authorities said Reed drove to West Oakland a short time later and shot down Smith within a stone's throw of where the gambling operation had been conducted. They added that the second victim, Walker, had been arrested 28 times on gambling charges.

Reed has been on the police force for 11 years, while Chamberlain has been an Oakland policeman since 1947. Toothman said they both had good records as officers.

State Employment Sets New Record

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's non - military employment total stood at 6,955,000 in November, a record for the month and 4.5 per cent higher than the same month in 1964, the state said today.

Ernest B. Webb, state director of industrial relations, said employment declined by 71,000 from October, but termed this a comparatively small seasonal reduction.

Unemployment totaled 393,000 in November or 5.6 per cent of the labor force.

Meeting Cancelled

Yesterday's scheduled meeting of the Larkspur Library Board was cancelled for lack of a quorum, according to board president Mrs. Phillip S. Haly. The board will meet Jan. 4.

Customer Influx Saves Airman's Club At Base

The off-again, on-again airmen's club at Hamilton Air Force base has received another reprieve, and will not be closed on Jan. 25 as scheduled.

The club, which has been subsidized by the non-commissioned officers club, unexpectedly showed a profit for November.

It has been a money losing operation for the NCO club, losapproximately $4,000 this year. This loss has been made up from profits of the NCO club.

A recent influx of M-16 rifle trainees to Hamilton was credited with putting the club into the black ink. Governors of the NCO club voted to give it another chance at life.

Originally the airmen's club had been scheduled for closing on Nov. 25. This was subsequently changed to Jan. 25.

Court Outlaws Curb On Voter

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A three-judge federal court declared unconstitutional today a New York State law requiring that a voter must have at least a sixth-grade education in an English-language school.

The decision affected approximately a half million Spanish-educated Puerto Ricans.

The federal court also issued a permanent injunction against enforcement of the state law.

New Elections Post Is Filled By Promotion

Marin County supervisors yesterday elevated Supervisor of Elections John F. Musser Jr. to the job of assistant county clerk for elections with an increase in pay from $790 to $829 a month.

The new position was created after the April school districts election fiasco, with hope that a high-powered man could help cure the problem.

With the new position, the board authorized changes in administration of elections, shifting responsibility for school elections from the county schools office to the election department.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss, who recommended yesterday that Musser be hired to fill the job, told the board he firmly believed it the right selection.

"I think he can do it," board chairman Peter H. Behr said.

Behr said the administrative responsibilities were not clear-cut. He asked to be informed at once if anything should arise to block the administration of elections.

State Reports Can Be Bought

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Persons interested in reading the reports on how California's major problems can be solved through aerospace technology may purchase copies of three of the reports which are completed, Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced.

Copies may be purchased on the basis of reproduction costs, plus sales tax, by writing Documents Section, P. O. Box 1612, Sacramento, 95807.

The publications include: "California Statewide Information System Study," $5.72; "California Waste Management Study," $8.32; "Prevention and Control of Crime and Delinquency," $4.94. A fourth study, "Integrated Transportation for California," will be available later.

Cyclist's Ankle Sprained In Crash

Erik K. Jarvis, 16, suffered a sprained ankle and bruises when the motorcycle he was riding hit the median barrier on Highway 101 just south of the Alto overcrossing, and flipped at 11:50 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Jarvis was northbound in the fast lane. He said a panel truck swerved into his lane. He was treated by his own doctor.

Spread Holiday Cheer With Assorted Cheese Spreads

So often homemakers ponder on what to take as a hostess gift during the holiday season. A plain or gaily decorated brandy snifter, a clear glass beer mug, a champagne glass or other attractive and unusual container filled with a flavorsome, favorite home-made cheese spread is one of those personal gifts that just naturally says "holiday greetings and best wishes." Or for a more elegant gift take along two or three different gala spreads for spreading Christmas cheer. Here are some brand new spreads developed by home economists for the Dairy Council of California.

As with most cheese spreads these should be kept tightly covered in the refrigerator and brought out about an hour before serving to soften and bring out the best flavor. These spreads are best when served with crackers or buttered toast rounds.

BRANDIED CHEESE-BUTTER SPREAD

Men really love this. Curry powder and brandy make it so tasty and different from the ordinary cheese spread. Makes about 3½ to 4 cups.

¼ pound sharp cheddar cheese
½ pound sharp processed cheddar cheese
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
½ cup (1 stick) soft butter
¼ cup brandy
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
6 drops Tabasco

Grate cheddar and processed cheese into bowl. Blend in cream cheese and butter. Work in remaining ingredients gradually, blending until smooth.

CHEESE 'N WINE SPREAD

Cheese and wine have been boon companions from time immemorial. Here we combine them in a fluffy spread with just a hint of onion instead of serving them separately. Recipe makes about 3 cups of spread.

½ pound blue or gorganzola cheese
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 cup (½ pint) dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons sherry wine
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper

Place cheese in bowl and mash with a fork. Gradually add dairy sour cream, blending until smooth. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. This mixture keeps well in the refrigerator and should be made several hours before serving.

Protein Beverage

A cherry-flavored beverage that's rich in protein content combines whole and instant non fat dry milk, and red maraschino cherry syrup. Combine five cups of whole milk with two cups of instant nonfat dry milk and ¾ cups of the cherry syrup. Stir before serving and garnish with maraschino cherries. Makes six servings.

"FROM OUR house to your house with love" say personalized gifts of luscious home-made cheese spreads, particularly when presented in attractive and appropriate pieces of glassware.

Sole Florentine And Duck With Orange Sauce Favorites

Marking an anniversary this month is Rubini's Restaurant in Fairfax, where dinner guests are served free champagne on Mondays through Fridays and also have the opportunity to try anniversary specialties "Duckling a L'Orange" and "Filet of Sole Florentine."

Executive chef Gordon Jones offers his two prize recipes:

ROAST LONG ISLAND DUCK A L'ORANGE

Four pound duck
white pepper
salt
2 tables. flour
3 cups water
juice of two oranges
juice of one lemon
two tablespoons sugar
1 chicken bouillon cube

Trim wing portions, neck and excess fat from duck and place in roasting pan. Rub duck well with salt and pepper. Place duck in roasting pan with trimmings and cook for one hour and fifteen minutes at 400°.

Remove duck from pan and keep warm. Skim off excess fat, leaving some for roux. Make a roux of the flour and drippings. And water and bouillon cube. Simmer for 20 minutes.

Strain this portion and add orange juice, lemon juice, sugar and salt and pepper to taste.

Flame duck with your favorite brandy. Carve and serve with orange sauce.

FILET OF SOLE FLORENTINE

Allow six-ounce filet of sole per person
Mornay sauce
Creamed spinach

MORNAY SAUCE

4 cups basic white sauce
4 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese
4 tablespoons grated swiss cheese
juice of one lemon
salt
white pepper
1 tablespoon accent

Heat four cups white sauce over low flame, stirring constantly, but do not boil. Add the two kinds of cheese, lemon juice, accent, salt and pepper to taste and stir until smooth.

CREAMED SPINACH

1 pkg. frozen chopped spinach
1 cup basic white sauce

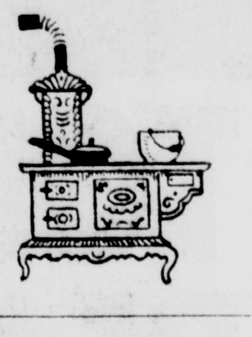
Cook spinach according to directions and drain very well. Combine white sauce with spinach and a dash of nutmeg.

Dredge filet of sole in flour and fry in butter or oil until golden brown.

Divide spinach in individual buttered baking dishes. Place filets on top of spinach.

Cover filets with mornay sauce and sprinkle grated cheese on top and bake in 350° oven until bubbly and golden brown.

A LUSCIOUS RECIPE FOR PRE-HOLIDAY FESTIVITY



Baked Chicken Breasts with Ham
Broccoli with Avanelle's Sauce
Green Salad Hot Biscuits
Filbert Crescents Beverage

AVANELLE'S SAUCE

¾ cup butter
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
3 egg yolks, well beaten
⅛ teaspoon salt and dash of cayenne
1 teaspoon minced onion
¼ teaspoon ground tarragon
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar

Into the top part of a small double boiler, put ⅓ of the butter; add lemon juice and egg yolks. Beating constantly with a wire whisk, cook over hot (not boiling) water until butter melts; add another ⅓ of the butter continuing to whisk constantly; as sauce thickens, whisk in the last ⅓ of the butter and continue cooking and whisking until thick. Remove from over water at once and stir in remaining ingredients. Serve at once. Enough sauce for 6 servings (2 pounds) cooked fresh broccoli.

Chocolate Parfait Can Be Glamorous

CHOCOLATE PARFAIT

1 package (4 ounces) dark sweet chocolate pudding-pie filling
2 cups milk
½ cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Make up the chocolate pudding with the milk according to the package directions for pudding; cool. Whip the cream until stiff adding the sugar and vanilla. Alternate the pudding and whipped cream in 4 parfait glasses making 4 layers in each. Chill until serving time.

NUT CRESCENTS

All-Time Yule Favorites

Each year as Christmas rolls around, an enterprising cook is likely to try her hand at baking that all-time holiday favorite—nut crescents.

This year a friend passed along a version of the recipe that was popular in her Ohio home when she was growing up. This is a rich cookie, and the nuts that go into the dough—and make it particularly delicious—are toasted filberts. Although these cookies are rolled in confectioners sugar, they are not overly sweet—just pleasantly so.

THE DONOR of this recipe tells us that her family always used vanilla sugar to roll the cookies in after they were baked. If this interests you, follow her suggestion: Put a pound of confectioners sugar into a canister, add a vanilla bean and allow the combination to stand until the sugar absorbs the flavor of the bean. Our friends says, "If the vanilla is fresh, usually 24 hours standing time does the trick."

FILBERT CRESCENTS

1 cup butter
½ cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 egg yolk
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ cups sifted regular flour
1¼ cups finely chopped toasted filberts
Extra sifted confectioners sugar

In a mixing bowl, cream the butter; add the ½ cup sifted confectioners sugar, egg yolk, salt and vanilla; beat to blend. With a wooden spoon, gradually stir in the flour, then the filberts, mixing well. Cover and chill until firm.

Using a prepared pastry cloth and prepared stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out one-quarter of the dough at a time so it is about ¼-inch thick. (Keep dough you are not rolling refrigerated.) Cut out cookies with a crescent-shape cookie cutter flouring it if necessary. Place cookies about 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned—about 10 minutes. Remove with a wide spatula to wire racks; cool; roll in extra sifted confectioners sugar. Store in tightly covered container. Yield will depend on size of cookie cutter.

Note: To prepare the filberts for this recipe—turn the nuts into a shallow pan—one that is about ½-inch high is fine. (Have the nuts in one layer.) Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until they have rich toasted flavor—usually 10 to 15 minutes; shake them a couple of times while they're baking. Remove any of the brown skins that will come off by rubbing the nuts between your palms. Chop them fine in a hand-operated rotary-type nut grater or in the electric blender.

Sausalito Worries On Ferry Parking

Sausalito, once a ferry terminal for Marin, would have trouble using the same slip area if ferries return.

Sausalito City Councilmen last night passed a resolution urging studies on the feasibility of restoring ferry service between Marin and San Francisco.

At the same time, councilmen expressed concern about the possibility of ferries docking "at the old slips" in the center of town and creating a parking problem.

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said Marinship would be the best location for a ferry terminal.

There is talk of having commuter buses drive onto the ferry in Marin and then drive off in San Francisco, taking the passengers to the downtown area, Wax said. (This was proposed at a San Francisco Board of Supervisors committee meeting yesterday by Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, a Golden Gate Bridge District director. See story on page 1).

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said, "I do think Sausalito should be alert as to where the ferries would depart, and what it would do to local traffic and local parking."

The council received an application from Sausalito Communications System, a new, non-profit television antenna cable company, for a franchise to construct a community antenna television system in the city.

Decision was postponed until city adopts a new or amended community antenna television ordinance.

Councilmen also delayed approval of plans and specifications for a new city corporation yard building at Nevada and Tomales streets.

The Community Appearances Advisory Board, which has opposed plans for a pre-fabricated building, reported that a wooden building could be constructed at less cost.

The council suggested that City Mgr. Charles A. Brown, and Norman Wohlschlaeger, superintendent of public works, confer with the advisory board about the building.

Later in the meeting the council refused to pay a bill for $500 from California Steel Building Inc. for drawing up the plans for a pre-fabricated building.

Brown said the firm drew up the plans "because we assumed that the corporation yard would have a pre-fab type of building."

The Sausalito City Council also:

1. Learned from Brown that the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Marinship Yacht Harbor and the Clipper Yacht Co. donated $400 toward purchase of a $700 portable fire pump to be used to fight boat fires.

2. Delayed decision on a request by Sausalito Artists and Merchants for an extension of the downtown parking validation program, pending a report by Brown after the Christmas holidays.

3. Set for Jan.4 hearing on an application by Malcolm Dewees for planned unit development of one and two-family residential units, totaling nine units, at 319 Sausalito Boulevard.

4. Supported a recommendation by Ronald E. Piper, Larkspur city manager, urging Marin County supervisors to extend the agreement whereby the city provides gasoline tax funds to cities for city - county urban thoroughfares past July, 1966, when it will expire. Brown was appointed to the urban thoroughfare committee.

5. Passed a resolution adopting the budget of funds allocated by the state for widening projects along Woodward Avenue and Main Street from gasoline tax monies.

6. Authorized Brown to remind the State Division of Highways about landscaping of the Spencer Avenue interchange on Highway 101.

7. Received a report from Wax that the state Division of Highways has cancelled its planned auction of surplus land along Ebbtide Avenue near Richardson Bay School.

Alameda To Gain Additional Taxes

OAKLAND (AP) — Alameda County expects to gain $100,000 in taxes because of an audit started after assessor Donald E. Feragen was indicted on bribery charges.

The assessor's office told the Board of Supervisors yesterday that 20 firms had been under-assessed by $1 million in the past three years. Those firms have been billed for the $100,000.

Veteran Pilots To Get Free, Plush Vacation

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sixty battle-weary Army combat pilots will live it up for a week, starting tomorrow after spending the past year in Viet Nam.

They'll have no expenses at the Camelback Inn, a plush Phoenix area inter resort.

The Army is flying the pilots from Viet Nam to San Francisco. Continental Airlines is providing free transportation to Phoenix, where they'll be guests of Jack Stewart, the resort owner.

Some of the pilots' wives will join them at the inn.

In extending the invitation, Stewart said he was fed up with draft card burnings and other anti-war protests in the United States.

Council Asks Lower Density In Marincello

The Sausalito City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution urging the Marin County Board of Supervisors to lower the residential density of Marincello.

The resolution asks the county board to recondsider its approval of planned community zoning for Marincello and of the Marincello master plan.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk noted that the board's action permits high density residential development adjacent to Sausalito.

Councilmen urged that supervisors rezone Marincello to a lower density, or as an alternative, amend the Marincello master plan so it would conform with density in adjacent areas.

Supervisors approved planned community development for Marincello with a density of 3.5 family units per acre.

After that decision, supervisors proposed that the county zoning ordinance be amended so that density in planned community developments would have to conform to master plans in adjacent area.

The council's resolution also states that Frouge Corp., developers of Marincello "have acquired no legally vested right to proceed with the residential density approved in connection with the Marincello master plan."

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said that he "heard disturbing reports" that the State Division of Beaches and Parks is reconsidering the whole Marin Headlands park project because of Marincello. (The state park commission today opened a three-day meeting in San Francisco at which the Headlands park is among those to be considered.)

The state objects to the industrial zone in the Marincello plan which would border the proposed park area, Wax said, and plans for access through the Fort Baker tunnel which would bring traffic across park land.

"The state is not about to build a park for Marincello," he said.

The council also agreed to support Novato's resolution that a county service area should be established to provide municipal services for Marincello. The Novato resolution is scheduled to come before the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen tonight.

Anti-Smog Group Begins Hearing

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A two-day hearing on air pollution by the Assembly Interim Committee on Transportation and Commerce opened here today.

Assemblyman Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, head of the committee, said "If we finally control the emissions from automobiles and we continue to have a heavy smog level, the public will have a thoroughly justifiable cause for bitter complaint."

He said the legislature had passed a comprehensive control law relating to automotive pollutants and indicated the committee was interested in other identifiable sources.

Uncle, Nephew Born Only Minutes Apart

OAKLAND (AP)—Mrs. LeRoy Southard, 44, and her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Prock, 20, each gave birth to a son yesterday.

The new uncle and his new nephew were born minutes apart—the uncle at Providence Hospital and the nephew at Kaiser Hospital. The uncle weighed eight pounds and the nephew nine.

Board Learns Of Marincello Petition Date

Marin County Supervisors learned yesterday that they will receive petitions urging reconsideration of the Marincello Master Plan at 3 p.m. next Tuesday.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he will ask that the names be listed by supervisorial district with a notation on whether or not they are registered voters.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker took sharp issue with that demand.

"The public has a right to petition us and we don't have a right to tell them how it is to be done," Leydecker said.

Kettenhofen protested that he was only mentioning it out of courtesy so the petitioners would know in advance of his request. He said he had received complaints from residents questioning how well informed the petitioners were.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr called this a "gratuitus" remark.

After further words, it was agreed that County Administrator Alan Bruce will inform Mrs. Elizabeth H. Rodman, co-chairman of the Marincello Protest Committee, that Kettenhofen will make this request.

Supervisors Behr and Leydecker were in the minority when the Marincello Master Plan was approved by 3-2 vote Nov. 12.

Joint Closed Meeting To Discuss Planner

The Marin County Board of Supervisors and the County Planning Commission will hold a joint, closed session at the start of the board meeting at 9 a.m. Dec. 21 to discuss candidates for county planning director.

Supervisors scheduled the meeting yesterday. The new man will replace B. D. Dobbs, who has resigned as of next Jan. 1.

Marin Women

WHAT WOMAN SERIES

Doctor Advises Audience To Avoid Dangerous Props

Warning against the use of such "crutches" as alcohol, narcotics and sexual indiscretions, Dr. Patricia Hallinan urged the 60 women attending her lecture, "What Woman Are You — Psychosomatically?" at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Tiburon, yesterday to "meet everyday problems squarely."

"If a woman has not found happiness in life, no doctor can give it to her in a syringe," said Dr. Hallinan, assistant public health officer for the Marin County Health Dept., in the third lecture of the church-sponsored "What Woman Are You?" series.

Defining "psychosomatic" as the interaction of the mind and body, she spoke of the shocks which we meet throughout our lives beginning with birth.

MANY FORCES press in on us all, and we develop fears, the woman doctor said. Some fears are universal, such as fears of famine, pestilence, fire and death. Other fears are personal and result from the things which we have been taught, such as fear of not being liked, fear of failure, fear of appearing cowardly.

A defense mechanism, similar to that which the stomach employs when it rejects bad food, is used to combat extraordinary or prolonged mental stress. Sometimes the defenses get out of hand and bring harmful reactions in the gastro-intestinal tract or excessive fatigue or flight.

The speaker said a woman's life is divided into four parts: The onset of puberty, the marriage and child-bearing years, menopause and old age.

DEFINING puberty according to the Latin derivation as "capable of bearing children," she noted that while most American girls attain physical maturity from 11 to 14, it is not uncommon for the monthly cycle to begin at ten. A charitable home for unwed mothers in the Bay Area has cared for a nine-year-old mother.

Illegitimacy rates have doubled in the 15 to 19-year-old age group in the last ten years. A great increase in teen-age marriages has occurred in the United States. According to figures quoted by Dr. Hallinan, 25 per cent of high school seniors are married, and 50 per cent of these youthful marriages end in divorce. The boy who marries young and assumes family responsibilities falls to the bottom of the labor market. "Love's young dream," said Dr. Hallinan, herself the mother of five sons, "becomes a poverty-ridden nightmare."

WHEN AMERICA was an agricultural country, children were a part of nature and aware of the life cycle. Now experts are inquiring about the changes in mores. Lack of adequate sex information, early dating and lax parental supervision are blamed for the trend in teen-age behavior. Paraphrasing a popular slogan, the public health officer said, "A lot of parents would rather fight than switch."

In discussing marriage and the child-bearing years, Dr. Hallinan found that women are often rather unprepared for marriage, and the reversal of standards. Prior to marriage sex was taboo, after marriage the woman is expected to be warmly responsive. Living in a close personal relationship, a woman often feels that she must hide her shortcomings. With the birth of a child, the marriage is sealed. "The daughter of a mother becomes the mother of a daughter," the speaker said.

THE YOUNG WOMAN is confined to the traditional "children, church and kitchen" role. In our culture, she is almost totally responsible for the children. If she is too dominant, she fears her sons may be homosexuals; if she is too permissive, she worries that her children may get into trouble. As the woman grows older, she may become disillusioned. It is then that she may first seek some "crutch."

Dr. Hallinan discussed at some length the indiscriminate use of tranquilizers, which depress the central nervous system, often produce drowsiness and have some addictive propensities. She also spoke about the relatively new oral contraceptives and stated that they should be used only under strict medical supervision, so that possible adverse side-effects could be quickly spotted.

SEEING THE SOVIET

Glittering And Less Glittering Scenes On Russian Landscape

One of a series of articles on a just-completed trip through Russia and India.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Some glittering and less glittering generalities remain on the Soviet landscape —

Middle-aged women trudge Moscow streets with string shopping bags to carry home the fresh foods for the family meals, often after a long wait in line for fish, bread or fruits. Very few have refrigerators yet and must shop daily, the older often doing the buying for the younger working wives as well. In the cold months they wear snow boots and heavy coats, some in strange "off" shades — reds, greens, purples, blues — none in true bright colors. Invariably a kerchief, usually woolen and costing about 7 rubles (about $8 at official exchange rate), covers the hair.

In the shops, lines form and each shopper selects what she wants, if they have it, then steps to the cashier to pay the bill, which is figured on an abacus. Cash registers are yet unknown in the state's economic machinery. Then it is back to the counter to pick up the purchase and to hand the "paid" tag to the shoplady, three maneuvers for one purchase.

THIS COMPLICATED system is being streamlined a little with more vending machines for papers, pens, magazines, notebooks, haberdashery items and other small things, and by the growing number of kiosks set along the wide sidewalks where there is little or no waiting to buy small items. Occasionally, the salesgirls are now being allowed to take the money, eliminating the cashier lines.

Credit buying is the latest thing in the USSR, but credit can only be extended for purchase of such things as clothes, furniture, television sets and radios, cameras or watches. Prices are the same as for cash with a small fee tacked on for services. A family pays about 20 per cent down payment and the rest is equal amounts over a year period.

Twice a year — spring and autumn—big sales are held by the stores, offering goods that are out of season, outmoded or shopworn.

ONE SPRINGTIME non-sale item that was a hot article with the younger set come May was the butterfly net, almost an oddity in this country nowadays. But nearly every young boy and girl in Moscow carried his own bright red stick with its conical red net, giving one to wonder what the state production quota was on butterflies and whether it shouldn't be increased. . . .

Furniture now has a Danish modern styling that is not unattractive and resembles what we might call a cheap line here. . . . Offices are notable for their plain wooden desks, lack of typewriters and their inkstands with blotter, something that is nearly obsolete in this country. Ballpoint pens are still much sought after items by Russians, and the young boys who greet the foreigner with the offer to trade the ever-present lapel pins for pens or chewing gum are familiar to every traveler.

And about those pins—they are very "in," especially in Moscow and Leningrad, and the adult or youngster who has a lapel full wins the one-upmanship game as it is played in the capital by tourists from the other Soviet republics and the locals. Perhaps that is what has kept the wide-lapel suit so stylish. . . . The pins are enamelled metal depicting local attractions with the city name or the various slogans, organizations and societies of the USSR.

TELEVISION SETS are more within reach of families today and regarded as an educational medium by the state, and thus desirable. But programming is not so extensive as to interfere with the sports, hobby circles, classes and the volunteer activities that are so encouraged as right conduct by the state. The "volunteer" work is somewhat different from America's. Every citizen is urged to do volunteer jobs after work, contributing whatever skills he may have to the developing society. Some teach English to children of guides, some teach technical classes at their factory, some patrol the streets to help keep order and peace. These people can be seen on Moscow and Leningrad streets in the evening, easily identified by their red armbands.

The young women are perhaps a little more stylish than a few years before, their long hair usually done in modified beehive or French twist styles, skirts knee-length and eyes slightly made up. Some, not many, wear lipstick. Hair coloring has hit the Soviet socialist society and the results are often questionable shades of orange and red.

Perhaps these are some signs of the times. Russian Americans who have returned for visits say that their beloved landscape is changing, and the verdict of other travelers is that a visitor better hurry to see the traditional— new, standardized cities are replacing it fast.

"NEXT TIME WE will take a boat trip down the Volga," we suggested to the guide at the parting in the Moscow airport. Her face brightened— "Yes, and we can camp along the banks. Yes, of course," she said hopefully.

Had we seen "only what they want you to"? Whatever the answer, the seeing can be interesting.

Sole Florentine And Duck With Orange Sauce Favorites

EXECUTIVE CHEF and owner of Rubini's Restaurant in Fairfax, Gordon Jones, right, holds an anniversary specialty "Duckling a L'Orange" while Sous Chef Herbert Holzmann adds brandy. This specialty and "Filet of Sole Florentine," foreground, are house specialties during the December anniversary at the restaurant.

Marking an anniversary this month is Rubini's Restaurant in Fairfax, where dinner guests are served free champagne on Mondays through Fridays and also have the opportunity to try anniversary specialties "Duckling a L'Orange" and "Filet of Sole Florentine."

Executive chef Gordon Jones offers his two prize recipes:

ROAST LONG ISLAND DUCK A L'ORANGE

Four pound duck
white pepper
salt
2 tables. flour
3 cups water
juice of two oranges
juice of one lemon
two tablespoons sugar
1 chicken bouillon cube

Trim wing portions, neck and excess fat from duck and place in roasting pan. Rub duck well with salt and pepper. Place duck in roasting pan with trimmings and cook for one hour and fifteen minutes at 400°.

Remove duck from pan and keep warm. Skim off excess fat, leaving some for roux. Make a roux of the flour and drippings. And water and bouillon cube. Simmer for 20 minutes.

Strain this portion and add orange juice, lemon juice, sugar and salt and pepper to taste.

Flame duck with your favorite brandy. Carve and serve with orange sauce.

FILET OF SOLE FLORENTINE

Allow six-ounce filet of sole per person
Mornay sauce
Creamed spinach

MORNAY SAUCE

4 cups basic white sauce
4 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese
4 tablespoons grated swiss cheese
juice of one lemon
salt
white pepper
1 tablespoon accent

Heat four cups white sauce over low flame, stirring constantly, but do not boil. Add the two kinds of cheese, lemon juice, accent, salt and pepper to taste and stir until smooth.

CREAMED SPINACH

1 pkg. frozen chopped spinach
1 cup basic white sauce

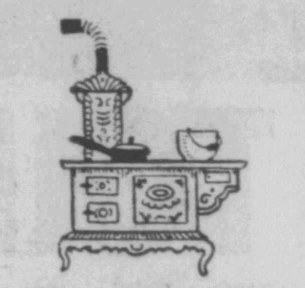
Cook spinach according to directions and drain very well. Combine white sauce with spinach and a dash of nutmeg.

Dredge filet of sole in flour and fry in butter or oil until golden brown.

Divide spinach in individual buttered baking dishes. Place filets on top of spinach.

Cover filets with mornay sauce and sprinkle grated cheese on top and bake in 350° oven until bubbly and golden brown.

A LUSCIOUS RECIPE FOR PRE-HOLIDAY FESTIVITY



Baked Chicken Breasts with Ham
Broccoli with Avanelle's Sauce
Green Salad Hot Biscuits
Filbert Crescents Beverage

AVANELLE'S SAUCE

¾ cup butter
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
3 egg yolks, well beaten
⅛ teaspoon salt and dash of cayenne
1 teaspoon minced onion
¼ teaspoon ground tarragon
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar

Into the top part of a small double boiler, put ⅓ of the butter; add lemon juice and egg yolks. Beating constantly with a wire whisk, cook over hot (not boiling) water until butter melts; add another ⅓ of the butter continuing to whisk constantly; as sauce thickens, whisk in the last ⅓ of the butter and continue cooking and whisking until thick. Remove from over water at once and stir in remaining ingredients. Serve at once. Enough sauce for 6 servings (2 pounds) cooked fresh broccoli.

Chocolate Parfait Can Be Glamorous

CHOCOLATE PARFAIT

1 package (4 ounces) dark sweet chocolate pudding-pie filling
2 cups milk
½ cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Make up the chocolate pudding with the milk according to the package directions for pudding; cool. Whip the cream until stiff adding the sugar and vanilla. Alternate the pudding and whipped cream in 4 parfait glasses making 4 layers in each. Chill until serving time.

NUT CRESCENTS

All-Time Yule Favorites

Each year as Christmas rolls around, an enterprising cook is likely to try her hand at baking that all-time holiday favorite—nut crescents.

This year a friend passed along a version of the recipe that was popular in her Ohio home when she was growing up. This is a rich cookie, and the nuts that go into the dough—and make it particularly delicious—are toasted filberts. Although these cookies are rolled in confectioners sugar, they are not overly sweet—just pleasantly so.

THE DONOR of this recipe tells us that her family always used vanilla sugar to roll the cookies in after they were baked. If this interests you, follow her suggestion: Put a pound of confectioners sugar into a canister, add a vanilla bean and allow the combination to stand until the sugar absorbs the flavor of the bean. Our friends says, "If the vanilla is fresh, usually 24 hours standing time does the trick."

FILBERT CRESCENTS

1 cup butter
½ cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 egg yolk
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ cups sifted regular flour
1¼ cups finely chopped toasted filberts
Extra sifted confectioners sugar

In a mixing bowl, cream the butter; add the ½ cup sifted confectioners sugar, egg yolk, salt and vanilla; beat to blend. With a wooden spoon, gradually stir in the flour, then the filberts, mixing well. Cover and chill until firm.

Using a prepared pastry cloth and prepared stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out one-quarter of the dough at a time so it is about ¼-inch thick. (Keep dough you are not rolling refrigerated.) Cut out cookies with a crescent-shape cookie cutter flouring it if necessary. Place cookies about 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned—about 10 minutes. Remove with a wide spatula to wire racks; cool; roll in extra sifted confectioners sugar. Store in tightly covered container. Yield will depend on size of cookie cutter.

Note: To prepare the filberts for this recipe—turn the nuts into a shallow pan—one that is about ½-inch high is fine. (Have the nuts in one layer.) Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until they have rich toasted flavor—usually 10 to 15 minutes; shake them a couple of times while they're baking. Remove any of the brown skins that will come off by rubbing the nuts between your palms. Chop them fine in a hand-operated rotary-type nut grater or in the electric blender.

Spread Holiday Cheer With Assorted Cheese Spreads

So often homemakers ponder on what to take as a hostess gift during the holiday season. A plain or gaily decorated brandy snifter, a clear glass beer mug, a champagne glass or other attractive and unusual container filled with a flavorsome, favorite home-made cheese spread is one of those personal gifts that just naturally says "holiday greetings and best wishes." Or for a more elegant gift take along two or three different gala spreads for spreading Christmas cheer. Here are some brand new spreads developed by home economists for the Dairy Council of California.

As with most cheese spreads these should be kept tightly covered in the refrigerator and brought out about an hour before serving to soften and bring out the best flavor. These spreads are best when served with crackers or buttered toast rounds.

BRANDIED CHEESE-BUTTER SPREAD

Men really love this. Curry powder and brandy make it so tasty and different from the ordinary cheese spread. Makes about 3½ to 4 cups.

¼ pound sharp cheddar cheese
½ pound sharp processed cheddar cheese
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
½ cup (1 stick) soft butter
¼ cup brandy
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
6 drops Tabasco

Grate cheddar and processed cheese into bowl. Blend in cream cheese and butter. Work in remaining ingredients gradually, blending until smooth.

CHEESE 'N WINE SPREAD

Cheese and wine have been boon companions from time immemorial. Here we combine them in a fluffy spread with just a hint of onion instead of serving them separately. Recipe makes about 3 cups of spread.

½ pound blue or gorganzola cheese
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 cup (½ pint) dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons sherry wine
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper

Place cheese in bowl and mash with a fork. Gradually add dairy sour cream, blending until smooth. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. This mixture keeps well in the refrigerator and should be made several hours before serving.

Protein Beverage

A cherry-flavored beverage that's rich in protein content combines whole and instant non fat dry milk, and red maraschino cherry syrup. Combine five cups of whole milk with two cups of instant nonfat dry milk and ¾ cups of the cherry syrup. Stir before serving and garnish with maraschino cherries. Makes six servings.

"FROM OUR house to your house with love" say personalized gifts of luscious home-made cheese spreads, particularly when presented in attractive and appropriate pieces of glassware.

FAR EAST FANTASY

Baring one shoulder, the sari-draped folds of Onondaga's sinuous crepe of Celanese acetate and rayon envelop the body as gently as a caress. ## Board Learns Of Marincello Petition Date

Marin County Supervisors learned yesterday that they will receive petitions urging reconsideration of the Marincello Master Plan at 3 p.m. next Tuesday.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he will ask that the names be listed by supervisorial district with a notation on whether or not they are registered voters.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker took sharp issue with that demand.

"The public has a right to petition us and we don't have a right to tell them how it is to be done," Leydecker said.

Kettenhofen protested that he was only mentioning it out of courtesy so the petitioners would know in advance of his request. He said he had received complaints from residents questioning how well informed the petitioners were.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr called this a "gratuitus" remark.

After further words, it was agreed that County Administrator Alan Bruce will inform Mrs. Elizabeth H. Rodman, co-chairman of the Marincello Protest Committee, that Kettenhofen will make this request.

Supervisors Behr and Leydecker were in the minority when the Marincello Master Plan was approved by 3-2 vote Nov. 12.

Joint Closed Meeting To Discuss Planner

The Marin County Board of Supervisors and the County Planning Commission will hold a joint, closed session at the start of the board meeting at 9 a.m. Dec. 21 to discuss candidates for county planning director.

Supervisors scheduled the meeting yesterday. The new man will replace B. D. Dobbs, who has resigned as of next Jan. 1.

OLD FRIENDS met again when Mrs. Yukiko Maki of Tokyo visited Mrs. Thomas Nock in Tiburon. The two reminisced about the prints of traditional artist Un'ichi Hiratsuka. On the wall behind the women is a print of the seventh century Imperial Treasure House, and they are looking at a print showing a Japanese religious gate. These and similar prints were sold to benefit the American Women's College Club in Japan in which both women have been active members.

Japanese Fulbright Officer Visits With Tiburon Family

By BETTY FROST

Ending the five-week tour of the United States with a five-day visit in Tiburon last week, was Mrs. Yukiko Maki, American program officer for the Fulbright Commission of the United States Educational Commission in Japan.

Mrs. Maki has been the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nock, who lived in Japan for 20 years, where Mr. Nock was in the oil business. The Nocks have made their home in Hill Haven, Tiburon, for the past two years.

NO STRANGER to the United States, the charming visitor from Tokyo was graduated from Wellesley in 1924. She had completed high school in Princeton, N.J., and lived in Washington, D.C., during the time her late husband was in the diplomatic service. Now widowed, she has been active with the Fulbright Commission for seven years. She has one grown son who lives in Tokyo.

The purpose of her trip at this time was to visit the various universities in the United States in which Japanese students are enrolled in order to get an over-all picture of the Fullbright Program in operation, and to attend a meeting in Washington, held under the direction of Ralph Vogel, executive secretary of the program, which is represented on the board of foreign scholarships appointed by the President, and operated by the State Department.

SHE HAS SEEN twelve universities since she entered this country at Seattle over a month ago, and has been in the Midwest, New York and New England. During her California sojourn, she visited campuses at Stanford University, San Francisco State College and the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Emphasizing that the program is a two-way street, the petite woman said that coming to Japan are visiting lecturers, research scholars, teachers and graduate students from this country, which involve about 47 families each year, while 160 Japanese scholars are sent to America to study at various universities.

"WE ARE deeply appreciative," she said, "because all of our people are treated so well. The United States is a wonderful country and I have many good friends here."

She noted that it was her first visit to Marin County, and that she was especially pleased to be with the Nock family for a brief interlude of relaxation in a friendly home atmosphere.

The two women reminisced about their shared experiences in Japan. Mrs. Maki is one of the founders of the American College Women's Club in Tokyo. It began as a club for alumnae from the seven Eastern women's colleges, but was expanded to include alumnae of other American colleges. Mrs. Nock, a graduate of the University of California, became interested in the club, which has an office in the American Cultural Center in Tokyo. In 1955, the Tiburon woman assisted in founding an information center for the American College Women's Club in the American Cultural Center in Yokohama.

THE ALUMNAE club offers a two-way cultural exchange. Japanese and American women who had been educated in the United States work together to raise funds to send young Japanese to this country to study. One of their most successful projects was the display and sale of Japanese prints, such as those of Un'ichi Hiratsuka, which Mrs. Nock has in her Tiburon home. Hiratsuka is a traditional artist who has been among the leaders of the school of art which insists that the artist both design and print his own work.

JAPANESE women delighted in showing their American friends some of the beautiful and less accessible spots of interest in their country. Mrs. Nock recalls laughingly that Mrs. Maki took a group of American women to a Zen Buddhist temple, which had never before been visited by American women. Through Mrs. Maki's persuasiveness the party was allowed to spend the night in the temple, which has ample accommodations for wayfarers, but had never before extended this hospitality to women from this country.

Nancy L. Jimerson Bride Of Frederick Petersen Jr.

The Rev. Norman Douglas Smith assisted by Charles Agneau officiated at the wedding of Nancy Lynn Jimerson of Inverness Park and Frederick Alden Petersen Jr. of Tiburon on Nov. 11 in Grace Cathedral's Chapel of Grace, San Francisco.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Wade Jimerson Jr. of Inverness Park, Nancy was escorted to the altar by her father in the 4 p.m. ceremony. She wore a full-length gown of white peau de soie with chapel train for the double-ring rite.

Kathleen Kiefer of Santa Rosa wore a pale blue gown as maid of honor and Frank Giambastiani Jr., also of Santa Rosa, acted as best man.

A champagne buffet at Cathedral House followed the ceremony.

Both bride and bridegroom attended Tomales High School. Fred attended College of Marin with a major in forestry and is presently with the U.S. Navy stationed at Norfolk, Va.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wilma Van Peer of Inverness Park and Fred A. Petersen of Tiburon and the grandson of Mrs. F. H. Petersen of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. George Curtis of Memphis, Tenn., is the bride's sister.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California, the couple drove to Norfolk, Va., where they will make their home.

important part in her reaction to the menopause. The change of life usually takes place in the late 40s or early 50s. "Many think it is the end, actually," said Dr. Hallinan. "It means the end to child-bearing, but that is the only function that ceases."

The autonomic system, which functions without voluntary control, may bring on hot flashes and night sweats. Psychogenic symptoms such as anxiety, depression, insomnia and frigidity may appear. There may be gradual changes in bone composition. Hormones and calcium may be indicated.

"Unfortunately, in this country we have a cult favoring youth and beauty," Dr. Hallinan said. The beautiful girl who has neglected to develop her mind and personality may find this time of life very turbulent. Those who have developed charm, wit and intelligence to supplement surface beauty will usually weather it well.

THE LIFE SPAN in the United States has been greatly increased in this country by good medical care and yet there is very little respect in the United States for the elderly, the lecturer said.

There are now over 10,000 people in this nation over 100 years old. Men, retiring at 65, may face one-third of their life with little to do. The new field of geriatrics offers new knowledge of nutrition and health care for the elderly. Elderly people who keep their minds active get along pretty well. A lack of mental stimulation often accounts for the decline of the elderly. "You can teach an old dog anything he wants to learn," she said.

DR. HALLINAN spoke hopefully of future aid for the elderly of Marin County. (BLF)

SEEING THE SOVIET

Glittering And Less Glittering Scenes On Russian Landscape

One of a series of articles on a just-completed trip through Russia and India.

By BARBARA HOSMER

Some glittering and less glittering generalities remain on the Soviet landscape —

Middle-aged women trudge Moscow streets with string shopping bags to carry home the fresh foods for the family meals, often after a long wait in line for fish, bread or fruits. Very few have refrigerators yet and must shop daily, the older often doing the buying for the younger working wives as well. In the cold months they wear snow boots and heavy coats, some in strange "off" shades — reds, greens, purples, blues — none in true bright colors. Invariably a kerchief, usually woolen and costing about 7 rubles (about $8 at official exchange rate), covers the hair.

In the shops, lines form and each shopper selects what she wants, if they have it, then steps to the cashier to pay the bill, which is figured on an abacus. Cash registers are yet unknown in the state's economic machinery. Then it is back to the counter to pick up the purchase and to hand the "paid" tag to the shoplady, three maneuvers for one purchase.

THIS COMPLICATED system is being streamlined a little with more vending machines for papers, pens, magazines, notebooks, haberdashery items and other small things, and by the growing number of kiosks set along the wide sidewalks where there is little or no waiting to buy small items. Occasionally, the salesgirls are now being allowed to take the money, eliminating the cashier lines.

Credit buying is the latest thing in the USSR, but credit can only be extended for purchase of such things as clothes, furniture, television sets and radios, cameras or watches. Prices are the same as for cash with a small fee tacked on for services. A family pays about 20 per cent down payment and the rest is equal amounts over a year period.

Twice a year — spring and autumn—big sales are held by the stores, offering goods that are out of season, outmoded or shopworn.

ONE SPRINGTIME non-sale item that was a hot article with the younger set come May was the butterfly net, almost an oddity in this country nowadays. But nearly every young boy and girl in Moscow carried his own bright red stick with its conical red net, giving one to wonder what the state production quota was on butterflies and whether it shouldn't be increased. . . .

Furniture now has a Danish modern styling that is not unattractive and resembles what we might call a cheap line here. . . . Offices are notable for their plain wooden desks, lack of typewriters and their inkstands with blotter, something that is nearly obsolete in this country. Ballpoint pens are still much sought after items by Russians, and the young boys who greet the foreigner with the offer to trade the ever-present lapel pins for pens or chewing gum are familiar to every traveler.

And about those pins—they are very "in," especially in Moscow and Leningrad, and the adult or youngster who has a lapel full wins the one-upmanship game as it is played in the capital by tourists from the other Soviet republics and the locals. Perhaps that is what has kept the wide-lapel suit so stylish. . . . The pins are enamelled metal depicting local attractions with the city name or the various slogans, organizations and societies of the USSR.

TELEVISION SETS are more within reach of families today and regarded as an educational medium by the state, and thus desirable. But programming is not so extensive as to interfere with the sports, hobby circles, classes and the volunteer activities that are so encouraged as right conduct by the state. The "volunteer" work is somewhat different from America's. Every citizen is urged to do volunteer jobs after work, contributing whatever skills he may have to the developing society. Some teach English to children of guides, some teach technical classes at their factory, some patrol the streets to help keep order and peace. These people can be seen on Moscow and Leningrad streets in the evening, easily identified by their red armbands.

The young women are perhaps a little more stylish than a few years before, their long hair usually done in modified beehive or French twist styles, skirts knee-length and eyes slightly made up. Some, not many, wear lipstick. Hair coloring has hit the Soviet socialist society and the results are often questionable shades of orange and red.

Perhaps these are some signs of the times. Russian Americans who have returned for visits say that their beloved landscape is changing, and the verdict of other travelers is that a visitor better hurry to see the traditional—new, standardized cities are replacing it fast.

"NEXT TIME WE will take a boat trip down the Volga," we suggested to the guide at the parting in the Moscow airport. Her face brightened—"Yes, and we can camp along the banks. Yes, of course," she said hopefully.

Had we seen "only what they want you to"? Whatever the answer, the seeing can be interesting.

WHAT WOMAN SERIES

Doctor Advises Audience To Avoid Dangerous Props

Warning against the use of such "crutches" as alcohol, narcotics and sexual indiscretions, Dr. Patricia Hallinan urged the 60 women attending her lecture, "What Woman Are You — Psychosomatically?" at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Tiburon, yesterday to "meet everyday problems squarely."

"If a woman has not found happiness in life, no doctor can give it to her in a syringe," said Dr. Hallinan, assistant public health officer for the Marin County Health Dept., in the third lecture of the church-sponsored "What Woman Are You?" series.

Defining "psychosomatic" as the interaction of the mind and body, she spoke of the shocks which we meet throughout our lives beginning with birth.

MANY FORCES press in on us all, and we develop fears, the woman doctor said. Some fears are universal, such as fears of famine, pestilence, fire and death. Other fears are personal and result from the things which we have been taught, such as fear of not being liked, fear of failure, fear of appearing cowardly.

A defense mechanism, similar to that which the stomach employs when it rejects bad food, is used to combat extraordinary or prolonged mental stress. Sometimes the defenses get out of hand and bring harmful reactions in the gastro-intestinal tract or excessive fatigue or flight.

The speaker said a woman's life is divided into four parts: The onset of puberty, the marriage and child-bearing years, menopause and old age.

DEFINING puberty according to the Latin derivation as "capable of bearing children," she noted that while most American girls attain physical maturity from 11 to 14, it is not uncommon for the monthly cycle to begin at ten. A charitable home for unwed mothers in the Bay Area has cared for a nine-year-old mother.

Illegitimacy rates have doubled in the 15 to 19-year-old age group in the last ten years. A great increase in teen-age marriages has occurred in the United States. According to figures quoted by Dr. Hallinan, 25 per cent of high school seniors are married, and 50 per cent of these youthful marriages end in divorce. The boy who marries young and assumes family responsibilities falls to the bottom of the labor market. "Love's young dream," said Dr. Hallinan, herself the mother of five sons, "becomes a poverty-ridden nightmare."

WHEN AMERICA was an agricultural country, children were a part of nature and aware of the life cycle. Now experts are inquiring about the changes in mores. Lack of adequate sex information, early dating and lax parental supervision are blamed for the trend in teen-age behavior. Paraphrasing a popular slogan, the public health officer said, "A lot of parents would rather fight than switch."

In discussing marriage and the child-bearing years, Dr. Hallinan found that women are often rather unprepared for marriage, and the reversal of standards. Prior to marriage sex was taboo, after marriage the woman is expected to be warmly responsive. Living in a close personal relationship, a woman often feels that she must hide her shortcomings. With the birth of a child, the marriage is sealed. "The daughter of a mother becomes the mother of a daughter," the speaker said.

THE YOUNG WOMAN is confined to the traditional "children, church and kitchen" role. In our culture, she is almost totally responsible for the children. If she is too dominant, she fears her sons may be homosexuals; if she is too permissive, she worries that her children may get into trouble. As the woman grows older, she may become disillusioned. It is then that she may first seek some "crutch."

Dr. Hallinan discussed at some length the indiscriminate use of tranquilizers, which depress the central nervous system, often produce drowsiness and have some addictive propensities. She also spoke about the relatively new oral contraceptives and stated that they should be used only under strict medical supervision, so that possible adverse side-effects could be quickly spotted.

THE PERSONALITY of the individual woman plays a very

Can't erase the readership of Marin's Best-seller

Why does advertising in the I-J make a lasting impression on I-J readers? Why does it make a resounding "impression" on cash registers of hundreds of stores and dealers?

The reason is simple, yet it can mean the difference, in your business, between profit and loss. In the I-J, your ads become PART OF THE NEWS OF MARIN COUNTY. They team up news of your merchandise with LOCAL NEWS—the best-read, most wanted feature in the Independent-Journal.

Result: you gain the concentrated attention of the I-J's 40,600 families. Instead of coming in "by air," or in the vacuum of a circular, your advertising arrives in the home within Marin's best-selling news medium.

That's why the I-J is Marin's best-seller for advertisers. That's why merchants who carefully consider their costs, put THEIR stores in Marin's best-selling location — the 40,600 homes of the Independent-Journal.

NOW 73.4% COVERAGE OF THE RICHEST MARKET IN ALL 13 WESTERN STATES

When you combine the two—the I-J's coverage and readership with the responsiveness of the West's richest market, then you're aiming at full potential for your business.

OLD FRIENDS met again when Mrs. Yukiko Maki of Tokyo visited Mrs. Thomas Nock in Tiburon. The two reminisced about the prints of traditional artist Un'ichi Hiratsuka. On the wall behind the women is a print of the seventh century Imperial Treasure House, and they are looking at a print showing a Japanese religious gate. These and similar prints were sold to benefit the American Women's College Club in Japan in which both women have been active members.

Japanese Fulbright Officer Visits With Tiburon Family

By BETTY FROST

Ending the five-week tour of the United States with a five-day visit in Tiburon last week, was Mrs. Yukiko Maki, American program officer for the Fulbright Commission of the United States Educational Commission in Japan.

Mrs. Maki has been the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nock, who lived in Japan for 20 years, where Mr. Nock was in the oil business. The Nocks have made their home in Hill Haven, Tiburon, for the past two years.

NO STRANGER to the United States, the charming visitor from Tokyo was graduated from Wellesley in 1924. She had completed high school in Princeton, N.J., and lived in Washington, D.C., during the time her late husband was in the diplomatic service. Now widowed, she has been active with the Fulbright Commission for seven years. She has one grown son who lives in Tokyo.

The purpose of her trip at this time was to visit the various universities in the United States in which Japanese students are enrolled in order to get an over-all picture of the Fullbright Program in operation, and to attend a meeting in Washington, held under the direction of Ralph Vogel, executive secretary of the program, which is represented on the board of foreign scholarships appointed by the President, and operated by the State Department.

SHE HAS SEEN twelve universities since she entered this country at Seattle over a month ago, and has been in the Midwest, New York and New England. During her California sojourn, she visited campuses at Stanford University, San Francisco State College and the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Emphasizing that the program is a two-way street, the petite woman said that coming to Japan are visiting lecturers, research scholars, teachers and graduate students from this country, which involve about 47 families each year, while 160 Japanese scholars are sent to America to study at various universities.

"WE ARE deeply appreciative," she said, "because all of our people are treated so well. The United States is a wonderful country and I have many good friends here."

She noted that it was her first visit to Marin County, and that she was especially pleased to be with the Nock family for a brief interlude of relaxation in a friendly home atmosphere.

The two women reminisced about their shared experiences in Japan. Mrs. Maki is one of the founders of the American College Women's Club in Tokyo. It began as a club for alumnae from the seven Eastern women's colleges, but was expanded to include alumnae of other American colleges. Mrs. Nock, a graduate of the University of California, became interested in the club, which has an office in the American Cultural Center in Tokyo. In 1955, the Tiburon woman assisted in founding an information center for the American College Women's Club in the American Cultural Center in Yokohama.

THE ALUMNAE club offers a two-way cultural exchange. Japanese and American women who had been educated in the United States work together to raise funds to send young Japanese to this country to study. One of their most successful projects was the display and sale of Japanese prints, such as those of Un'ichi Hiratsuka, which Mrs. Nock has in her Tiburon home. Hiratsuka is a traditional artist who has been among the leaders of the school of art which insists that the artist both design and print his own work.

JAPANESE women delighted in showing their American friends some of the beautiful and less accessible spots of interest in their country. Mrs. Nock recalls laughingly that Mrs. Maki took a group of American women to a Zen Buddhist temple, which had never before been visited by American women. Through Mrs. Maki's persuasiveness the party was allowed to spend the night in the temple, which has ample accommodations for wayfarers, but had never before extended this hospitality to women from this country.

Westminster Women To He Program Of Holiday Music

A program of Christmas music is planned for the luncheon which the United Presbyterian Women of the Westminister Presbyterian Church, Tiburon, will give at noon, Dec. 14 at the church.

Mrs. James Olson, spiritual life chairman, has arranged the musical program and will be a soloist. Mesdames Ali Rashid, Robert Ferguson, George White, Robert Keller, Walter Olson, Jane Ring, Charles Bigelow and John Fulton will take part in the program.

Yacht Club Plans Party For Children

The sixth Christmas party for the children of members of the Sausalito Yacht Club will be held Dec. 19 at 3 o'clock in the yacht club. The Women's Auxiliary, which is in charge of the event, has "surprise" entertainment planned.

Santa Claus will arrive by boat and loaded with gifts. Mrs. Melville Pearce is in charge of the event.

Nancy L. Jimerson Bride Of Frederick Petersen Jr.

The Rev. Norman Douglas Smith assisted by Charles Agneau officiated at the wedding of Nancy Lynn Jimerson of Inverness Park and Frederick Alden Petersen Jr. of Tiburon on Nov. 11 in Grace Cathedral's Chapel of Grace, San Francisco.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Wade Jimerson Jr. of Inverness Park, Nancy was escorted to the altar by her father in the 4 p.m. ceremony. She wore a full-length gown of white peau de soie with chapel train for the double-ring rite.

Kathleen Kiefer of Santa Rosa wore a pale blue gown as maid of honor and Frank Giambastiani Jr., also of Santa Rosa, acted as best man.

A champagne buffet at Cathedral House followed the ceremony.

Both bride and bridegroom attended Tomales High School. Fred attended College of Marin with a major in forestry and is presently with the U.S. Navy stationed at Norfolk, Va.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wilma Van Peer of Inverness Park and Fred A. Petersen of Tiburon and the grandson of Mrs. F. H. Petersen of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. George Curtis of Memphis, Tenn., is the bride's sister.

Following a wedding trip to Southern California, the couple drove to Norfolk, Va., where they will make their home.

WOMAN SERIES

important part in her reaction to the menopause. The change of life usually takes place in the late 40s or early 50s. "Many think it is the end, actually," said Dr. Hallinan. "It means the end to child-bearing, but that is the only function that ceases."

The autonomic system, which functions without voluntary control, may bring on hot flashes and night sweats. Psychogenic symptoms such as anxiety, depression, insomnia and frigidity may appear. There may be gradual changes in bone composition. Hormones and calcium may be indicated.

"Unfortunately, in this country we have a cult favoring youth and beauty," Dr. Hallinan said. The beautiful girl who has neglected to develop her mind and personality may find this time of life very turbulent. Those who have developed charm, wit and intelligence to supplement surface beauty will usually weather it well.

THE LIFE SPAN in the United States has been greatly increased in this country by good medical care and yet there is very little respect in the United States for the elderly, the lecturer said.

There are now over 10,000 people in this nation over 100 years old. Men, retiring at 65, may face one-third of their life with little to do. The new field of geriatrics offers new knowledge of nutrition and health care for the elderly. Elderly people who keep their minds active get along pretty well. A lack of mental stimulation often accounts for the decline of the elderly. "You can teach an old dog anything he wants to learn," she said.

DR. HALLINAN spoke hopefully of future aid for the elderly of Marin County. (BLF)

Fund Hunt Starts For Aquatic Park

San Rafael Recreation Director Joseph P. Rodota will confer with state officials in Sacramento later this month to find out whether state or federal funds might be available to help the city build an aquatic park.

The San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission last week authorized Rodota to look into the matter.

Yesterday, Rodota said he has no site and no precise details worked out yet, but is following up on suggestions by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce that the city should consider such a park.

He said he envisions a site of 20 to 25 acres in an open water area of San Rafael, probably near the Canal Street apartments.

The park would probably include a bathing beach, boat launching ramps and parking facilities. It might be operated entirely by the city, but Rodota conceded he sees "a lot of potential" in having private concessionaires.

An aquatic park would serve two purposes, Rodota said.

First, it would fill a need which many citizens feel exists for public access to open water.

Too, it would fill in the present, serious gap in recreation facilities for residents of the Canal Street area.

Rodota declined to mention any cost figures until he finds out whether outside funds are available.

Should they be available—and if the city council is ready to make a serious study of an aquatic park—Rodota predicted he would draw heavily from the previous planning of engineer Daniel P. Coleman for details.

Coleman included such a park in his proposed a San Rafael Master Plan. This feature, however, was one of the parts of the plan which led councilmen not to approve it, since it involved diking which was attacked by critics as further bay filling.

Sentencing Date Set For Pickets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five demonstrators who picketed Gen. Maxwell Taylor in a protest of the Viet Nam war will be sentenced Dec. 13 for trespassing and disturbing the peace.

They changed their pleas from innocent to no contest and were convicted yesterday in Municipal Court.

Taylor, former ambassador to South Viet Nam, was at the Fairmont Hotel last August when the picketing occurred.

The five are Jerry Rubin, 27, Berkeley, a Vietnam Day Committee leader; Steve Weissman, 25, Oakland, once prominent in the Free Speech Movement at the University of California; Lawrence R. Loughlin, 32, of San Francisco; Barbara J. Gullahorn, 22, Berkeley; and Henry H. Mitchell, 20, Fresno.

'Mental Care'

Sonoma State Hospital staff psychologist Margeret J. Stanford will speak on "Recent Trends in Mental Care" tomorrow at 11 a.m. in room 26 of the Science Building at College of Marin.

Ross Schedules Slope Discussion

The Ross Town Council is scheduled to introduce an ordinance and pass a resolution tomorrow which would pave the way for a town slope policy.

Councilmen will meet at 8 p.m. at the town hall.

Also scheduled is discussion on two proposed ordinances. One would add a floor ration limitation to present lot coverage stipulations, while the other would control noise caused by loudspeakers and construction equipment.

Restrictions Face Black South African

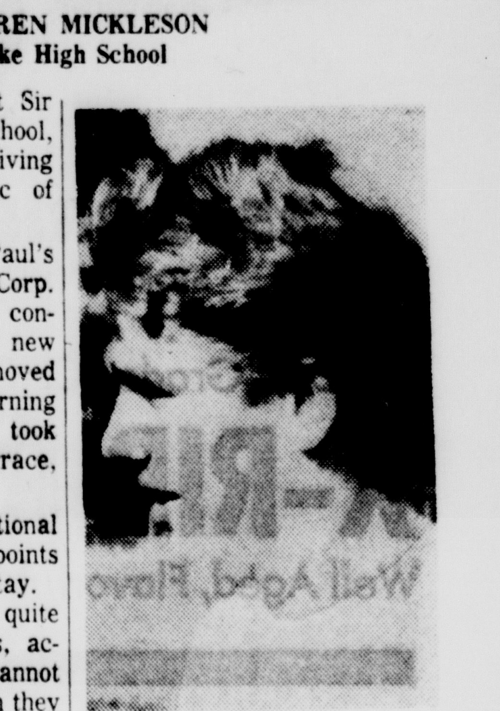
By KAREN MICKLESON
Drake High School



PAUL HILTON
Saw apartheid close-up

Paul Hilton, a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School, spent the last two years living in Johannesburg, Republic of South Africa.

Francis B. Hilton, Paul's father, works for Bechtel Corp. and was sent to Africa in connection with opening of a new copper mine. The family moved along with him. Upon returning from Africa, the Hiltons took residence at 55 Forest Terrace, Fairfax.

Race relations and educational systems were particular points of interest during Paul's stay.

The African natives are quite restricted in their actions, according to Paul. Natives cannot go to white schools, nor can they attend movie theaters and other places of recreation.

"Even in the places where they can go, they have their own sections, such as soccer games, busses," said Paul. For example, the only time a Negro can ride a white bus is while accompanying white children to their destination.

The natives are in constant fear of the Caucasian race, he said. "They realize the power of the white man and they respect and obey him. . . .

"You have to live there to understand why they must treat the natives the way they do. The natives couldn't survive very well without the white man."

The educational system in South Africa differs greatly from ours. Paul said school "is much harder there and they are very strict. There are no discipline problems, either."

High school takes six years to complete. During each year one takes seven solid courses (no electives). Among the six-year requisites are mathematics, English and two other languages.

The same subjects are taken constantly, but they become more complicated each year. Paul suggested that perhaps this is advantageous, for students finish high school at a much more advanced level than American students do.

Five weeks were taken during his trip home, during which Paul and his family toured in Europe. Although he spent some time in France and Spain, the majority of sightseeing was in Italy. Paul liked Venice best and found it most scenic and most historically interesting.

"My understanding of the people of other nations has been broadened and through my traveling I've gained better knowledge of the geography of the world," he said of his two years abroad.

Can't erase the readership of Marin's Best-seller

Why does advertising in the I-J make a lasting impression on I-J readers? Why does it make a resounding "impression" on cash registers of hundreds of stores and dealers?

The reason is simple, yet it can mean the difference, in your business, between profit and loss. In the I-J, your ads become PART OF THE NEWS OF MARIN COUNTY. They team up news of your merchandise with LOCAL NEWS—the best-read, most wanted feature in the Independent-Journal.

Result: you gain the concentrated attention of the I-J's 40,600 families. Instead of coming in "by air," or in the vacuum of a circular, your advertising arrives in the home within Marin's best-selling news medium.

That's why the I-J is Marin's best-seller for advertisers. That's why merchants who carefully consider their costs, put THEIR stores in Marin's best-selling location — the 40,600 homes of the Independent-Journal.

49ers' Crow Is Named NFL Player Of Week

JOHN DAVID CROW

NEW YORK (AP) — John David Crow, the Heisman Trophy winner in 1957, is coming back strong as a power runner and pass catcher with San Francisco 49ers.

Crow's running in the second half of Sunday's Detroit game has earned him recognition by The Associated Press as the offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 49ers' offense calls for many passes to the running backs and Crow fits into the picture. Paired with rookie Ken Willard at the two running back positions, Crow already has topped his 1964 yardage in total offense. The former Texas A&M star has gained 447 yards running and 430 receiving for 877 yards.

The Lions held Crow to 15 yards on five carries in the first half but he came back strong with 64 yards on nine carries in the second half as the 49ers rallied from a 14-3 deficit to a 17-14 victory. It was Crow slamming for 15 big yards on two carries who kept alive the winning touchdown drive. He gained 79 yards on 14 carries for the day.

Crow and Willard also were factors in keeping the Lions' rugged rush line off the back of quarterback John Brodie. Brodie has not been thrown for a loss while attempting to pass in the last four games.

Jim Brown, the great Cleveland fullback, tied Lenny Moore's record by scoring his 20th touchdown of the year in Cleveland's 24-16 victory over Washington. Brown carried 27 times for 141 yards for a season total of 1,450 yards.

Gary Collins of the Cleveland Browns caught five passes for 53 yards and one touchdown and averaged 50.5 yards per punt on four efforts.

Tucker Frederickson, the New York Giants' rookie fullback, had his best day, scoring three touchdowns and gaining 81 yards against Pittsburgh.

Roman Gabriel, filling in for injured Bill Munson as the Los Angeles quarterback, completed 17 of 31 for 216 yards and to touchdowns in an upset of St. Louis.

Chicago's Gale Sayers, a leading candidate for rookie of the year honors, scored the lone touchdown on a 61-yard run in the Bears' 13-0 win over Baltimore. Sayers gained 118 on 16 carries and caught one pass for 10 yards.

Bobby Hayes and Frank Clarke of Dallas each caught a TD pass from Don Meredith in a 21-19 victory over Philadelphia. Norm Snead of the Eagles continued his effective bombing with 20 of 43 for 320 yards in a losing cause.

Jim Taylor gained 89 yards on 17 carries for Green Bay, but their best gainer was a 73-yard run by defensive back Willie Wood after taking Fred Cox' 59-yard field goal attempt in the second period of the game with Minnesota.

I-J Sports Editor

Bowl Grid Games Getting Out Of This World; Sun-Moon Next?

I love football, but enough is enough. I mean these post-season bowl games are getting out of hand. It all started with just a few New Year's Day classics, but if you'll check the sports calendar you'll find bowl games for every vegetable, animal and mineral.

Everybody, it seems, is getting into the act, so I've decided that if you can't beat 'em, join 'em. Here are some of my contributions to the post-season madness otherwise known as Major Bowls Amateur Hour:

There is a Liberty Bowl so why not a Communist Bowl in Red Bluff?

LET'S TOP the Lettuce Bowl with a Dressing Bowl in France. A tossup.

There are bowls for flowers, like the Rose and Camellia, so I'd be happy to stage a Weed Bowl in my backyard. Come one, come all — the mower the merrier.

I'D LOVE to have a seat on the 50-yard line for a Plumbers Bowl in Flushing, N.Y. And how about a Carpenters Bowl in Woodacre between Warsaw and Great Plains?

San Quentin, I am sure, could nicely stage a Penal Bowl between Penn. and Conn. Speaking of such, there already is a Copper Bowl, so let's arrange a Robber Bowl. Or how about a Bowl Bowl between Walla Walla and Sing Sing?

VEGETABLES CERTAINLY deserve a place on our post-season grid menu, like a Sprout Bowl in Brussels. Cauliflower Bowl in Madison Square Garden and a Corn Bowl in Cobb. For Seasoning there should be a Pepper Bowl in Salt Lake.

Of course, we could start a Glow Bowl conflict, but maybe we'd better let Saigons be Saigons.

A MILK BOWL in the Cow Palace between Moo Jersey and Gurnseyville sounds udderly fascinating.

Even more ridiculous would be a Burl Hives Bowl between Redwood and the Novato Hornets.

Yes, the list goes on and on. There are bowls for Bluebonnets, Mineral Water, Pecan, Tangerine, Rice (Grantland), Gator, Sun, etc. and a long list of etceteras.

AND IT WON'T be long now before you'll be reading the following headlines: "Inter-Planetary Bowl—Astros vs. Cosmos, Opening Blastoff at 1:30." Or, "Earth Mars Venus in Space Bowl," or "Moon Tide, by Jupiter!" or "Sun Eclipses All-Stars."

So, you can see the situation is not only getting out of hand; it's liable to get out of this world. I hope they put a stop to the nonsense pretty soon because what started out with the Adam Bowl could develop into the Atom Bowl and I don't want to be around to hear the final gun.

Prothro Issues An Apology

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA football coach Tommy Prothro hasn't changed his mind about the officiating in last Saturday's Bruin-Tennessee game at Memphis, but he and fullback Paul Horgan have apologized to Volunteer star Bob Petrella for an injury suffered on the final play.

Tennessee won the game, 37-34, on a touchdown with 39 seconds remaining.

"I have written Coach (Doug) Dickey apologizing for our player's (Horgan's) over-aggressiveness on the sidelines on the final play, for which there was no excuse, and also expressed the belief it has been exaggerated," Prothro said yesterday.

Petrella required 12 stitches to close a head wound sustained in an out-of-bounds collision with Horgan, who was not in the game at the time.

Horgan, son of former FBI agent and prominsnt Los Angeles attorney Patrick D. Horgan, issued a prepared statement yesterday in which he said, "I am distressed about the incident and have written to Bob Petrella to say so."

Prothro did not indicate if any disciplinary action would be taken against Horgan and added it was a "matter for our squad alone."

Tennessee officials had charged that Horgan came off the bench and deliberately struck Petrella.

UCLA's athletic director, J.D. Morgan, said he wired Tennessee Athletic Director Bob Woodruff before viewing the game films and had apologized for any untoward behavior by any Bruin player or players.

After seeing the films he said, "when the boy as knocked out of bounds, he was knocked into Horgan. Horgan fended him off in the chest and down went everyone."

Prothro, still bitterly disappointed at the loss, said he had not changed his opinion about the officiating "except that I do not feel A. C. Williams officiated a poor game."

On his weekly television program Monday night Prothro showed several of the disputed plays.

CELTICS' HIGH LOW PLAY?

Don Nelson of the Boston Celtics rolls on his back and teamate Larry Siefried leaps over him after Nelson slipped to the floor during the Boston-St. Louis game last night in New York City. Cliff Hagen of the Hawks is more concerned with the loose ball than with the tumbling Nelson. The Celtics won the wild and woolly game, 112-96. See story on page 34. (AP Wirephoto)

Michigan '5' Trails Bruins By 58 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA's first place berth in this week's Associated Press poll is something less than startling. The same can't be said for South Carolina's No. 10 spot.

"It feels great," said Frank McGuire, the Gamecocks' coach. "We're two years ahead of schedule."

The 10th place berth was South Carolina's first appearance on the list of college basketball's elite and marked McGuire's return to prominence. In 14 years at St. John's, N.Y. and North Carolina, his teams were rarely out of the Top Ten.

There were few other suprises in the first weekly poll.

UCLA, as expected, dominated the voting with 35 of the 42 first place ballots cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters across the country. The Bruins totaled 399 points to 341 for Michigan. The Wolverines had six first place votes.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, rated one of the strongest teams in the East, got the other first place vote and had 262 points for third place.

Following the Hawks were Vanderbilt, Minnesota, Duke, Kansas, Providence, Bradley and McGuire's South Carolina.

UCLA lived up to its preseason notices with wide margin victories over Big Ten foes Ohio State and Illinois last week. Michigan whipped Tennessee, Bowling Green and Ball State in its first three outings.

Duke, which dropped a 73-71 decision to South Carolina Monday night, faces the toughest week of all the Top Ten teams with consecutive clashes against UCLA Friday and Saturday.

The balloting for the Top Ten, which covered games through Monday night, credited 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc.

The Associated Press College basketball poll as determined on the basis of 10 points for first place, 9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1, first places are in parentheses.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1.UCLA (35) | 2 | 0 | 399 |
| 2.Michigan (6) | 3 | 0 | 341 |
| 3.St. Joseph's, Pa. (1) | 2 | 0 | 262 |
| 4.Vanderbilt | 1 | 0 | 209 |
| 5.Minnesota | 2 | 0 | 182 |
| 6.Duke | 2 | 1 | 171 |

| 8.Providence | 1 | 0 | 142 |
| 9.Bradley | 3 | 0 | 79 |
| 10.South Carolina | 3 | 0 | 7 9 |

Other teams receiving votes, listed in alphabetical order, were: Army, Boston College, Brigham Young, Cincinnati, Colorado, Creighton, Dayton, Florida, Georgia Tech, Iowa, Kansas State, Kentucky, Louisville, Maryland, Michigan State New Mexico, North Carolina State, Oklahoma City, Penn, Penn State, San Fran-California, Tennessee, Utah, West Virgincisco, St. John's N.Y., Stanford, Southern ia.

Raiders Are Solid Pick Over Jets

OAKLAND (UPI)— Oakland rates as a solid favorite Sunday over the New York Jets, but it's hard to believe after hearing the Raider front office talk.

"They're a good, young club," a Raider spokesman insisted yesterday. "And that Joe Namath is simply great for a rookie quarterback."

Namath, the $400,000 bonus baby, is rolling after a slow start. He has hit 128 of 260 passes for 1701 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank third in the league.

New York lost five and tied one in its first six games. Then the Jets won four straight and lost to straight.

Namath gets a lot of help from fullback Matt Snell, who has rushed for 707 yards, and flanker Don Maynard, who has caught 51 passes.

The Raiders can get a shot at the Western title by downing New York, which is likely to happen, while San Diego falls before Houston, which is unlikely to happen. Oakland is at San Diego in the last game of the season.

Tulsa Air Combo Named

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Tulsa's record-breaking passing battery heads up the offensive-minded North team announced today for the 17th annual Senior Bowl football game Jan. 8.

The battery is Bill Anderson throwing and Howard Twilley catching. Both set all-time NCAA marks during the regular season.

The 27-member North squad includes seven players picked in the first round of the professional football drafts, plus 11 others chosen in the first five rounds. Every man on the squad was drafted by the pro clubs.

The South squad, announced last Sunday, included six first-round choices and a total of 19 in the first five rounds.

Santa Clara Squeezes By Miami Quint In Close One

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Santa Clara Broncos have found that one way of winning basketball games is to stay on good terms with the clock.

Before the time finally ran out in Santa Clara's 78-74 victory over the University of Miami last night, the lead changed no less than eight occasions.

In the final minute, the game still could have gone either way.

With 17 seconds left, Miami scored and cut Santa Clara's lead to two points. It was only when Bronco sophomore Bob Heaney dropped in a clinching jump shot with two seconds remaining that Santa Clara could relax.

High scorer for the game was Bronco guard Mark Gervasoni, with 29 points. Guard Junior Gee led Miami with 18.

In other action, Don Frost scored 16 points and sparked the Cal Aggies to a 64-55 victory over an alumni team.

Fund Hunt Starts For Aquatic Park

San Rafael Recreation Director Joseph P. Rodota will confer with state officials in Sacramento later this month to find out whether state or federal funds might be available to help the city build an aquatic park.

The San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission last week authorized Rodota to look into the matter.

Yesterday, Rodota said he has no site and no precise details worked out yet, but is following up on suggestions by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce that the city should consider such a park.

He said he envisions a site of 20 to 25 acres in an open water area of San Rafael, probably near the Canal Street apartments.

The park would probably include a bathing beach, boat launching ramps and parking facilities. It might be operated entirely by the city, but Rodota conceded he sees "a lot of potential" in having private concessionaires.

An aquatic park would serve two purposes, Rodota said.

First, it would fill a need which many citizens feel exists for public access to open water.

Too, it would fill in the present, serious gap in recreation facilities for residents of the Canal Street area.

Rodota declined to mention any cost figures until he finds out whether outside funds are available.

Should they be available—and if the city council is ready to make a serious study of an aquatic park—Rodota predicted he would draw heavily from the previous planning of engineer Daniel P. Coleman for details.

Coleman included such a park in his proposed a San Rafael Master Plan. This feature, however, was one of the parts of the plan which led councilmen not to approve it, since it involved diking which was attacked by critics as further bay filling.

49er Parks Is Battling For Pass Catching Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Brown of Cleveland has virtually clinched the rushing championship and scoring crown in the National Football League but there is a lively battle for the pass catching title between Dave Parks of San Francisco and Pete Retzlaff of Philadelphia.

Brown has gained 1,450 yards in 12 games and his 20 touchdowns, tying Lenny Moore's record of last year, give him the scoring lead with 120 points.

The closest competitor in the rushing department is Timmy Brown of Philadelphia with 833 yards, or 617 yards behind Jim. Fred Cox of the Minnesota Vikings is next to Brown in scoring with 98 points on 20 field goals and 38 conversions. It is possible for him to catch the Cleveland fullback, but not likely.

Parks has caught 62 passes for 1,066 yards and Retzlaff, veteran tight end of the Eagles, has nabbed 60 for 1,119 yards. Tommy McDonald of Los Angeles in third with 53 receptions.

Although Bob Hayes, the Dallas rookie, isn't among the top 10 receivers, he has caught 40 for 806 yards and is averaging 20.2 yards per catch. He may become the first rookie receiver to gain 1,000 yards catching passes since Mike Ditka's 1,076 for Chicago in 1961.

Rudy Bukich of Chicago remains the leading passer in standings based on several different categories. Bobby Boyd of Baltimore has the most interceptions, seven, Gary Collins of Cleveland leads the punters with a 46.9-yard average; Leroy Kelly of Cleveland is the top punt return man with an average of 16. 2 yards, and Tom Watkins of Detroit is first in kickoff returns with a 34.4-yard average.

Knicks, Celtics Win Games; Red Auerbach Tossed Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick McGuire is oneup on a couple of old teammates and Red Auerbach is onedown to another referee. But Auerbach's Boston Celtics still are 8½ up on McGuire's New York Knickberbockers.

The Knicks edged Los Angeles 131-127 last night for McGuire's second coaching victory in three starts after the Celtics beat St. Louis 112-96 but lost Auerbach in the opener of a stormy National Basketball Association doubleheader.

McGuire has beaten to former Knick teammates — St. Louis Player-coach Richie Guerin and Los Angeles pilot Fred Schaus — since taking over the New York reins nine days ago. Auerbach, meanwhile, has been tossed out of a game for the second time this season.

The Celtics, however, remain on top in the Eastern Division race, 16 percentage points in front of second-place Cincinnati and 8 ½ games ahead of the last-place Knicks.

They overpowered the Hawks despite the absence of big Bill Russell, scoring ace Sam Jones...and Auerbach, who was ejected from the game in the third period after drawing his second technical foul of the evening in a tragi-comic rhubarb with official Norm Drucker.

The argument started over a team technical foul called against the Celtics for making an illegal substitution. Mike Farmer, who handles the St. Louis bench while Guerin is playing, pointed out the infraction to the officials and when Auerbach demanded equal time for rebuttal, Drucker ignored...and then banished him.

"The official was probably right on the call," Auerbach said afterward, "but I objected to Farmer stopping the game. Drucker listened to Farmer but when I tried to say something he wouldn't listen to me."

Russell, who is out with a pulled muscle, piloted the Celtics the rest of the way and, with Larry Siegfried doing the heavy gunning, they broke the game open in the final 15 minutes.

Siegfried scored 31 points while filling in for Sam Jones, who is nursing a damaged knee. Tom Sanders added 21 points for the Celts and Guerin had 22 for St. Louis.

The Knicks, paced by Dick Barnett's 38 points and 10 assists, outlasted the Western Division-leading Lakers despite a 46-point spree by Jerry West. West carried the scoring load in the absence of Elgin Baylor, who has been sidelined by a knee injury.

New York set a club record ith 41 assists — Butch Komives also chipping in with 10. Walt Bellamy contributed 24 points 24 rebounds as the Knicks erased a 10-point halftime deficit and held on in the closing minutes.

Barnett and teammate Willis Reed also were slapped with technicals and Guerin drew one in the first game. Those three and the pair incurred by Auerbach increased the league treasury by $125. An automatic $25 fine goes with each technical called.

North Grid Team For Senior Bowl

picked as No. 1 by the pros are:

Missouri's 6-2, 207-pound halfback Johnny Roland, by the New York Jets; West Virginia's 6-2, 235-pound fullback Dick Leftridge, Pittsburgh Steelers; San Diego State's 6-1, 190-pound end Wry Garrison, San Diego Chargers; Massachusetts' 6-4, 250-pound end Milt Morin, Cleveland Browns.

Indiana's 6-5, 242-pound Randy Beisley, an interior lineman, Philadelphia Eagles; Missouri's 6-5, 245-pound Francis Peay, interior lineman, New York Giants; and Purdue's 6-3, 240-pound Karl Singer, interior lineman, Boston Patriots.

The versatile Roland, Singer and Tulsa's Twilley are North players who were chosen on the first-team All-America.

The fabulous Twilley, who is only 5-10 and 180 pounds, caught 134 passes — 55 more than anyone else in major college ranks — and led the nation in scoring with 127 points this season.

Anderson set five major college records and led major college players in total offense and passing. His passing records were 509 attempts, 296 completions and 3,464 yards gained. The Tulsa tosser was drafted by both Los Angeles and Houston as a future last year.

Anderson will share the quarterbacking duties with Missouri standout Gary Lane, a second-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bisons; and George Wilson of Xavier of Ohio, also drafted by Buffalo and Detroit.

The South squad of 27 players includes 17 from the Southeastern Conference and other top players from the Southwest and Atlantic Coast conferences.

The Southerners are led by three All-Americas — center-linebacker Paul Crane of Alabama, Florida end Charley Casey and Tennessee linebacker Frank Emanuel.

South quarterbacks are Alabama's Steve Sloan and Texas A.&I's Randy Johnson, who has signed with the new Atlanta Falcons of the NFL.

Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets will coach the South team and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots will direct the North.

Each member of the winning team will receive $1,000 and each loser $750. The South leads in the series 10-5-1 with the 7-7 tie last January the only draw.

The North squad:

Ends—Gary Garrison, San Diego State; Tony Jeter, Nebraska; Tom Mitchell, Bucknell; Milt Morin, Massachusetts; Howard Twilley, Tulsa.

Interior Linemen — Butch Allison, Missouri; Randy Beisler, Indiana; Joe Dobson, Idaho; Charley Harper, Oaklahoma State; Gale Gillingham, Minnesota; Francis Peay, Missouri; Karl Singer, Purdue;

Centers and linebackers—Don Hansen, Richard Tyson, Tulsa.
Illinois; John Osmond, Tulsa.

Quarterbacks—Bill Anderson, Tulsa; Gary Lane, Missouri; George Wilson Jr., Xaier of Ohio.

Tam And San Rafael Basketballers Lose

Tamalpais High School's basketball team lost to Vallejo yesterday on the Tam court, 67-62.

In the only other varsity game played yesterday, San Rafael lost its first game of the year, falling to Santa Rosa 48-43 on the Bulldog's floor.

The Indians of Tam shot a cold 31 per cent from the floor in the first period, which is the main reason they trailed at halftime, 35-24.

In the third quarter, the Tam cagers out-scored the Apaches' 24-13, knotting the score at 48-all.

The Indians shot a sizzling 60 per cent in the second half, but it wasn't enough to overcome the 11-point first half deficit.

Steve Woodward and Pete Nelson were high scorers for Tam with 13 and 12 points respectively. John Marshall led Vallejo's offense with 16.

Tam: Steve Johnson, 2-0-4; Woodward, 5-3-13; Honor Jackson, 2-0-4; Mike Biber, 0-2-2; Ron Gilliam, 2-1-5; Nelson, 5-2 12; Mike Beaver, 3-1-7; Brian Donnan, 2-1-5; Art Center, 5-0-10. Totals: 26-10—62.

Soccer Matches Slated Sunday

Hoping to continue the momentum gained in its startling 3-3 tie with league-leading Scots last week, the Guadalajara soccer team from Oakland will face the Greek-American squad in Sunday's feature match at Balboa Stadium in San Francisco, 3:10 p.m.

The Scots face Nacional at 1:30, following a clash between Teutonia and Hakoa at 11:50 a.m. In the opener, Mercury plays the Vikings, 10 a.m.

Terra Linda's Class B Quint In Easy Win

Terra Linda's class B cage team walloped Rohnert Park High, 64-32, yesterday.

Dan Barker and Steve Wise led the Trojans' attack with 12 and 9 points respectively. All 15 boys saw action for the Trojans.

SAN RAFAEL High's class B squad lost to Santa Rosa's lightweights, 59-37, yesterday at the San Rafael gym. Steve Durham scored 16 points for the Bulldogs.

TAMALPAIS' lightweights handed Vallejo's class B team its first defeat of the season yesterday at Tam, 45-30.

Leroy Barrow was high man for the Indians with 15 points, followed by Pat Schafer, 12, and Larry Adams, 8.

Restrictions Face Black South African

By KAREN MICKLESON
Drake High School

PAUL HILTON
Saw apartheid close-up

Paul Hilton, a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School, spent the last two years living in Johannesburg, Republic of South Africa.

Francis B. Hilton, Paul's father, works for Bechtel Corp. and was sent to Africa in connection with opening of a new copper mine. The family moved along with him. Upon returning from Africa, the Hiltons took residence at 55 Forest Terrace, Fairfax.

Race relations and educational systems were particular points of interest during Paul's stay.

The African natives are quite restricted in their actions, according to Paul. Natives cannot go to white schools, nor can they attend movie theaters and other places of recreation.

"Even in the places where they can go, they have their own sections, such as soccer games, busses," said Paul. For example, the only time a Negro can ride a white bus is while accompanying white children to their destination.

The natives are in constant fear of the Caucasian race, he said. "They realize the power of the white man and they respect and obey him. . . .

"You have to live there to understand why they must treat the natives the way they do. The natives couldn't survive very well without the white man."

The educational system in South Africa differs greatly from ours. Paul said school "is much harder there and they are very strict. There are no discipline problems, either."

High school takes six years to complete. During each year one takes seven solid courses (no electives). Among the six-year requisites are mathematics, English and two other languages.

The same subjects are taken constantly, but they become more complicated each year. Paul suggested that perhaps this is advantageous, for students finish high school at a much more advanced level than American students do.

Five weeks were taken during his trip home, during which Paul and his family toured in Europe. Although he spent some time in France and Spain, the majority of sightseeing was in Italy. Paul liked Venice best and found it most scenic and most historically interesting.

"My understanding of the people of other nations has been broadened and through my traveling I've gained better knowledge of the geography of the world," he said of his two years abroad.

Watch Out! Here Comes Old Durant

No one ever sat on a horse better than Tim Durant—not John Wayne, Gary Cooper, Lady Godiva, Snapper Garrison, Geromino or Tom Mix. Certainly no one from Waterbury, Conn., which is where Tim was foaled. The last horse they had there was pulling a streetcar.

Tim was a Yale man, so, naturally, he went into stocks and bonds. He became a son-in-law of the original E. F. Hutton, and the nice part about that was that Tim couldn't wait to get out of his bowler hat and customer suit and down to the family stable on week-ends so he could jump fences and chase frightened furry little animals.

THE ECONOMY even co-operated to put Tim on horseback full time. Tim was what was known as a "$2 broker" (two bucks every 100 shares sold), and there were days when he computed it could cost him $200 in sales to go out to lunch. Pretty soon he was the richest guy in the country bringing peanut butter sandwiches to work in his hat.

He had set his goal at a million dollars by the time he was 30. Tim was willing, but his stomach wouldn't go along. He ended up with only a half million and a case of flaming stomach ulcers at Roosevelt Hospital. The day the stock market broke, Tim remembers carrying orders around by the basketful. Only the buyers were perched on Manhattan ledges by that time, looking for a dry spot to land.

"I REMEMBER you literally had to walk home at night squeezing yourself against the buildings so you wouldn't get hit with falling partners," Tim recalled.

Tim came to Hollywood in the early '30s, a lean, spare six-footer with an excellent tennis backhand, an excellent knowledge of horsemanship, and of finances—and not much else. He quickly became Charlie Chaplin's liaison man with the financial world. There were times when it was more fun being a seller in a market crash. But as long as he got the week-end astride a jumper chasing a scent over the Malibu hills, it was the good life for him.

It was Winston Churchill, or somebody, who described fox-hunting as "the unspeakable in pursuit of the inedible," but Tim Durant so liked being on horseback that he would have been happy even in the Charge of the Light Brigade.

HE ORGANIZED "drag scent" hunts (in which the scent of a fox was captured in a bag) and enlilsted as many of the movie colony as could manage to get on a horse and not fall off, to join him. He hunted in Ireland with his good friend, the director, John Huston. He bought his own modest ranch and raised jumpers. He wore out several red coats and had to have his top hat blocked regularly. But, two years ago when he was over in England, he suddenly perceived a new challenge—the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree outside of Liverpool.

This is the Kentucky Derby of England — a 4¾-mile steeplechase over some 30 jumps, most of them privet hedges, but one of them full of water. The fatalities on this four-footed version of Indianapolis are usually, but not always, horses. The winner's fans liked to boast he "never touched a twig or wet a boot," but a more typical situation occurred the year Tim watched the race when 47 started and only 13 finished—and had prickers and water all over them. The race is 120 years old, and the number who have finished it are only a quarter of the number who have started it.

TIM IMMEDIATELY bought a jumper, Aerial III, and put his name in the entry box for 1966. The English were outraged. It's not that Tim is an American. Their objection was geriatric, not geographic. Tim will be 66 years old when the race is run. He'll be spotting his horse 56 years and the rest of the riders a couple of generations.

They made Tim ride a race on a similar course to prove his fitness and adaptability—or lack of it. He finished the race—next-to-last, to be sure, but it was the horse who was slow, not Tim. Besides, the jumps behind Tim were littered with human and animal debris anyone of whom would have been glad just to finish, period.

THE JUMPS AT Aintree are high enough to commit suicide off—as has been proven in the past. A severe conditioning program is indicated to last the grueling 10 minutes of the race on which millions are bet in sweepstakes all over the world. Tim prepped by riding a 100-mile-in-one-day race over the summit of the Sierras from Tahoe City over into Nevada—a trip made largely with flashlight and prayer on precipices just wide enough for a horse to walk squeezing against the mountain like a 1929 stockbroker edging for the subway.

You can get 1000-to-1 against Tim in the Grand National. You can get almost that against his even finishing. You probably could get a good price against his surviving.

It just might be an overlay. The horse is like a good broken-field runner — not necessarily fast, but hard to bring down. So is the rider.

First Foreign Student To Win Novato Letter

At the recent Novato High School sports award program, the crowd gave a standing ovation for a young man who had been selected by the high school's champion cross country team as the most improved player of the season.

With that, Bob Smith, the team's most valuable player, gave the young man a Novato High School letterman's jacket, which the team members had chipped in and bought as a present for the young man.

It was not that his record was so excellent — he had finished second twice against Redwood and Drake high school teams. It was because he was the first foreign student in the history of Novato High School to win a letter in athletics.

That is the record so far this year of Wilfrid van Meer, a Youth for Understanding exchange student from The Netherlands.

Wilfrid probably well deserved the credit for the most improved runner on the cross country team. His only experience in athletics was playing field hockey in a private club and not in high school back in his native Holland.

Wilfrid is staying this school year with the Grant Nelson family at 768 Kendon Lane, Novato. His American brother is Donald Nelson, a junior at Novato High School. He also has a younger brother, Richard, who goes to Hill Junior High School.

He was born in Arnheim, site of one of the famous battles of World War II, but does not remember much of that area because his family moved near Amsterdam when he was only six. His father is a stockbroker in Amsterdam.

Some of his observations on America included things that we have that they do not have. Some of these were daylight time, and Veterans Day, Halloween and Thanksgiving holidays.

He was also surprised that everybody here lives in a "bungalow." In Holland, they live in two and three-story row houses with a small front yard and a little larger back yard. He was also surprised at the number of cars.

"Everybody here has two or three cars," he said.

He took a more mature view of girls than that of most of the exchange students.

"Girls are the same here as in Holland," he observed.

Russ Soccermen Win

TOKYO (AP) — The Moscow Torpedoes of Soviet Russia defeated a select Japanese soccer team 2-0 in a three-nation good-will tournament today. Sweden played a scoreless tie with a Tokyo squad last night.

Cage Tourney Set In Kentfield Gym

College of Marin's basketball pavilion will be loaded with fans from throughout Northern California this weekend when the Tars host the Golden Valley Conference cage tournament.

Four games will be played Friday, starting at 3 p.m., and seven games will be played Saturday starting at 9 a.m. Cost of the tourney is $1 per day for adults and 50 cents for student body card holders.

First game of the double elimination tourney Friday will find Shasta College going against Yuba Junior College, 3 p.m. At 5 o'clock, it will be Napa vs. guest school American River J.C. Then at 7 p.m., it's Sierra vs. Santa Rosa, followed by host Marin against Siskiyou, 9 o'clock.

Santa Rosa Junior College, victor over Foothill College already this season, and American River J.C. rate as tourney favorites.

Although the Tars have an 0-3 record so far this season, they can't be counted out of the GVC tourney because the Mariners always seem to do great against conference foes.

In last year's tournament, played at Santa Rosa, Marin beat American River 83-81, Santa Rosa 76-73 and Shasta 70-63 to win the championship trophy. The Tars will be trying to defend that trophy this weekend.

2 Yanks Advance In Net Play

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Americans Arthur Ashe and Herb FitzGibbon gained the men's singles quarter-finals of the South Australian Tennis Championships but two other U.S. players were eliminated in the third round today.

Ashe, the No. 1 foreign seed from Richmond, Va., ousted Patricio Rodriguez of Chile 7-5, 5-7, 6-2 and FitzGibbon, of Garden City, N.Y., disposed of Alan Stone of Australia 6-2, 6-3.

Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., and Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., bowed to a pair of Australians. Roy Emerson, the Wimbledon champion and the top-seeded Australian, was hard-pressed to defeat Richey 6-1, 8-10, 9-7. Owen Davidson also was extended before beating McManus 6-3, 0-6, 6-4.

Tom Okker of Holland provided the day's biggest upset as he outlasted Davis Cupper John Newcombe, the No. 3 Australian seed, 6-1, 11-9. Newcombe was the tournament's defending champion.

In other third-round matches, involving Australians, Fred Stolle, the No. 2 Aussie, sidelined Eugene Rosso 6-4, 6-3 and John Cooper knocked off Tim Addison 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. Carole Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio and Nancy Richey, Cliff's sister, posted victories in the second round of the women's singles. Mrs. Graebner swept Beryl Jenkins of Australia 6-0, 6-3 and Miss Richey turned back Helen Gourlay of Australia 6-1, 6-0.

Ashe and Cliff Richey won their quarter-final match in the men's doubles, whipping Lew Gerrard of New Zealand and Roger Taylor of Britain 9-7, 5-7, 6-3.

The top-seeded Australian pair of Emerson and Stolle were victorious over fellow countrymen John Cottrill and Ray Ruffels 6-3, 9-7.

AFL Slates All-Star Tilt Jan. 15

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The American Football League All-Stars selected from the other seven clubs, will be played in the 70,000-seat Rice Stadium NBC-TV will broadcast the game in color. Kickoff time is 1 p.m.

The league and the Houston Oilers jointly announced the game site yesterday.

In previous years the league matched the All-Stars from the Eastern Division against the All-Stars from the Western Division.

But the league owners felt the league (eight teams) was too restrictive and the All-Stars versus the champions would make a better game.

Players on the winning team will get $1,000 each and the losers $500. The remainder of the gate receipts less expenses will go to the AFL players' pension fund.

The All-Star club will be made be picked in a vote of the league players, including a place kicker and a punter.

The coach with the best won-loss record — not counting the will be the All-Star club coach. He will pick the other 14 players.

The league owners will hold their annual January meeting in Houston the week of the game.

Wes Parker Leads N.L. 1st Basemen

CINCINNATI (AP) — Wes Parker of the pennant- winning Los Angeles Dodgers tied a National League record for first basemen last season by compiling a .997 average, the official fielding averages released today disclosed.

Parker's mark equaled the one set by Walter Holke of the Boston Braves in 1921. The major league record is .9993 established by John (Stuffy) McInnis of the Boston Red Sox, also in 1921.

Parker made only five errors in 1,534 chances. Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, Ed Kranepool of New York and Bill White of St. Louis, the latter recently traded to Philadelphia, were the runners-up among the first basemen. Each fielded .992.

The other fielding leaders were second baseman Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh .988, shortstop Dick Schofield, who played for Pittsburgh and San Francisco, .981, third baseman Ken Boyer, St. Louis, traded last month to the New York Mets, .968, outfielder Vada Pinson, Cincinnati, .992 and catcher Tim McCarver of St. Louis .995.

Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs topped the pitchers for the second straight year and for the third time in his career, handling 76 chances flawlessly in 1965.

Mazeroski and Philadelphia outfielder Johnny Callison set major league records, Mazeroski by leading the second basemen in double plays for the sixth straight time and Callison for topping the outfielders in assists for the fourth straight year. Mazeroski participated in 113 double plays and Callison picked up 21 assists last season.

Cincinnati had the highest club fielding average, .981. St. Louis and Los Angeles were next with .979 each followed by Milwaukee with .978.

Al Walton won the club's sweepstakes tournament Sunday with a card of 68-5—63, followed by Nash, 80-16—64 and Don Hawken and Younger, 79-14—65 each.

Sausalito Couple Buy Mendocino Inn

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Grant of Sausalito have purchased Harbor House, an inn in Elk, Mendocino County, and plan to take over its operation Jan. 1.

They bought it from two former Mill Valleyans, Bill Brewer and Bill Parker, who have owned it five years and who plan to move to Alamos, Mexico, in January.

Mrs. Grant has operated the Greyhound ticket agency and owned and operated the book store in the bus depot in Mill Valley for 11 years.

She is retaining the agency and book store but they will be managed by Margot Marker and Brunhilde Liebes, both of Mill Valley. Mrs. Liebes has worked at the depot nine years; Miss Marker, seven years.

Grant has worked for Trans World Airlines in San Francisco for 12 years, and prior to that, he and Mrs. Grant served 12 years in the Foreign Service. They reside at 112 Glen Drive.

Harbor House, overlooking Greenwood Landing, was built in 1916-17 when the landing was a busy port for lumber schooners and for lodging and entertainment of the company's guests.

The inn has accommodations for 20 people on the modified American plan. It is closed in January and February under present owners, but the Grants will keep it open year around.

Mrs. Grant, who traditionally has a Christmas party at the bus depot and book store, will not hold the party this Christmas.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Let's Look Through Changes On Returns

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

There have been only a few changes for 1965 but some of them may affect your 1965 income tax return, and some of them will affect you for 1966.

For 1965 we have a new rate scale of 14 per cent to 70 per cent which takes the place of the old higher scale.

P. J. Wikel

The dividend exclusion is now $100 per person, $200 on a joint return, but there will be no dividend received credit for 1965 and after.

The retirement income credit rate has been reduced to reflect the lower tax rates. For 1965 it will be 15 per cent.

If you will receive tips in 1966 and they amount to $20 or more in one month, then you must report these tips to your employer each month and he must withhold the social security tax and the withholding tax on these tips from your wages.

Tips are now considered wages subject to income tax and social security tax withholding.

The medical expense changes making the 3 per cent and 1 per cent limitations applicable regardless of age and removing the maximum limitations do not take effect until Jan. 1, 1967.

Kaiser Sets Dividend

OAKLAND—Kaiser Steel Corp.'s board of directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 36½ cents per share on the preferred stock, and a dividend of $1.4375 per share on the 5¾ per cent convertible preference stock, both payable on Dec. 31, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Dec. 17.

Syndicate Buys Sewer Bond Issue

SAN FRANCISCO—A Bank of America underwriting group which included Wells Fargo Bank and C. N. White and Co. has bought the $2 million bond issue of the Union Sanitary District, Alameda County.

The syndicate paid a premium of $9 for 5½, 3¾, 3.90 and 4 per cent bonds. The dollar bid was 100. Net interest cost to the district was 4.0561 per cent.

The bonds were reoffered to investors to yield from 3.25 to 4.05 per cent, according to maturity July 1, 1967-96.

Stocks Slide Lower After Early Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks slipped lower today after an early gain. Trading was active.

Low-priced issues did a brisk business and generally showed gains. Aerospace defense issues and airlines were strong, and there was selective strength in recent Wall Street favorites among electronics, color television and office equipments.

Blue-chips generally marked time or fell, tugging at the popular averages.

Motors were irregularly lower. Steels were mixed. Retail stores were irregular despite reports of huge early-Christmas buying.

The market opened firmer, then weakened amid profit-taking as the day wore on.

Volume for the day was estimated at 10 million shares, compared with 9.35 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close.

Sharp gains by many issues at the opening of the market were shaved to fractions and many issues turned lower. Low-priced stocks continued active.

Aerospace defense issues advanced and airlines were higher. Steels were narrowly mixed and motors irregularly lower. Electronics were mixed.

Du Pont tugged at the averages, dropping more than 2 points. American Telephone was fractionally lower.

American Photocopy looked like the volume leader for the day, moving fractionally higher. Commercial Solvents, a big gainer Tuesday, was untraded because of an influx of orders.

American Broadcasting was down about 4 points following terms of its proposed merger with International Telephone and Telegraph. ITT was off a fraction.

Among low-priced issues, Fairchild Hiller was off a fraction while Brunswick and Babbit pushed fractionally higher.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in heavy trading.

U.S. government and corporate bonds prices were mostly unchanged.

Ideal Stationery For Strawberry; Hagel Opens Service Station

Newly opened at 408 Strawberry Town and Country Village is Ideal Stationery, located next door to the Polynesian Shop.

Proprietors are Ian Hay of Brisbane, former stationery manufacturer representative, and his sister-in-law, Joan Hay of San Jose.

The store handles commercial and social stationery supplies, greeting cards and gifts. From now until Christmas it is open daily Mondays through Saturdays to 9 p.m. After that, says Hay, hours will follow the general pattern of the shopping center.

NEW NAME for the service station at the southeast corner of Fourth and Irwin streets, San Rafael is Hagel's Flying A Service. New owner is Gunther Hagel, who has Gunther Hagel Home and Building Maintenance. Service manager is John Schmidt. This was formerly a Hancock station.

JAMES D. HAHN of Marinwood has been appointed chief purchasing agent for all nine campuses of the University of California and will now be headquartered in Berkeley. He has been with the university's purchasing department 23 years. For the past 10 years he has been stationed in San Francisco as purchasing agent for the University of California Medical Center.

NEW GENERAL MANAGER at Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael, is Charles Lacey of Novato, whose past experiences over 18 years has been in the automotive finance division of Crocker-Citizens National Bank. He has managed automotive financing in Redding and Chico and for the past 13 months has been an assistant vice president in Crocker-Citizens' San Rafael office.

Recently Don Fraser has been acting as sales manager at Ames, but he will return to his regular post of manager of truck and fleet sales.

SPEAKING OF AUTOMOBILES, for the first time in U.S. automotive history, more than 10 million motor vehicles have been built in a single calendar year. It's not known whether the record setting vehicle was a passenger car or truck or where it was built, but it evidently came off the assembly line Nov. 27 when the year's production reached 10,014,017 units. Last year at that time U.S. auto makers had produced 8,248,376 units.

JOHN R. THOMPSON of Santa Venetia has been appointed assistant secretary in the trust department of Bank of California's San Francisco headquarters. He joined the bank in 1963, following five years of accounting, finance and investment work with San Francisco and Denver firms and as assistant finance officer with the U.S. Army in Paris.

MRS. BETTY CRAWFORD of 716 Birchwood Court, Terra Linda has established a sales and service facilitiy for Relaxacizor, Inc. covering Marin and Sonoma Counties and has been named supervisor for this area.

She has acted as the company's Marin representative and figure consultant for the last two years and is now recruiting and training other women to go out in the field. Eventually she hopes to have about 20 representatives in the two counties.

An interesting observation by Mrs. Crawford is that one-third of her total sales of electronic muscle-toning and figure-contouring devices in Marin during 1965 have been to business and professional men.

JACK R. YELVERTON, former administration manager at Fairchild Semiconductor, San Rafael, has been elected vice president and a director of Wilkinson, Sedwick and Yelverton, Inc., San Francisco personnel and industrial relations consulting firm formerly known as Wilkinson, Sedwick and Co.

Yelverton became associated with the firm as a principal last year. He left Fairchild in 1961 to join Signetic Corp. in Sunnyvale.

H. WALLY GRAY of 442 West Live Oak Drive, Tamalpais Valley, has been appointed distributor for National Dynamics Corp. of New York. The company produces a chemical formula known as VX-6 that attacks sulphation, said to be a major cause of battery failure and short battery life.

TOMORROW NIGHT is womens' night at the recently opened men's clothing store Robert Banks, Ltd. in Strawberry Town and Country Village. For three hours from 6 to 9 p.m. men will not be admitted—so women shoppers can browse and buy, free from the eyes of the men of the family.

49ers' Crow Is Named NFL Player Of Week

JOHN DAVID CROW

NEW YORK (AP) — John David Crow, the Heisman Trophy winner in 1957, is coming back strong as a power runner and pass catcher with San Francisco 49ers.

Crow's running in the second half of Sunday's Detroit game has earned him recognition by The Associated Press as the offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 49ers' offense calls for many passes to the running backs and Crow fits into the picture. Paired with rookie Ken Willard at the two running back positions, Crow already has topped his 1964 yardage in total offense. The former Texas A&M star has gained 447 yards running and 430 receiving for 877 yards.

The Lions held Crow to 15 yards on five carries in the first half but he came back strong with 64 yards on nine carries in the second half as the 49ers rallied from a 14-3 deficit to a 17-14 victory. It was Crow slamming for 15 big yards on two carries who kept alive the winning touchdown drive. He gained 79 yards on 14 carries for the day.

Crow and Willard also were factors in keeping the Lions' rugged rush line off the back of quarterback John Brodie. Brodie has not been thrown for a loss while attempting to pass in the last four games.

Jim Brown, the great Cleveland fullback, tied Lenny Moore's record by scoring his 20th touchdown of the year in Cleveland's 24-16 victory over Washington. Brown carried 27 times for 141 yards for a season total of 1,450 yards.

Gary Collins of the Cleveland Browns caught five passes for 53 yards and one touchdown and averaged 50.5 yards per punt on four efforts.

Tucker Frederickson, the New York Giants' rookie fullback, had his best day, scoring three touchdowns and gaining 81 yards against Pittsburgh.

Roman Gabriel, filling in for injured Bill Munson as the Los Angeles quarterback, completed 17 of 31 for 216 yards and to touchdowns in an upset of St. Louis.

Chicago's Gale Sayers, a leading candidate for rookie of the year honors, scored the lone touchdown on a 61-yard run in the Bears' 13-0 win over Baltimore. Sayers gained 118 on 16 carries and caught one pass for 10 yards.

Bobby Hayes and Frank Clarke of Dallas each caught a TD pass from Don Meredith in a 21-19 victory over Philadelphia. Norm Snead of the Eagles continued his effective bombing with 20 of 43 for 320 yards in a losing cause.

Jim Taylor gained 89 yards on 17 carries for Green Bay, but their best gainer was a 73-yard run by defensive back Willie Wood after taking Fred Cox' 59-yard field goal attempt in the second period of the game with Minnesota.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

Bowl Grid Games Getting Out Of This World; Sun-Moon Next?

I love football, but enough is enough. I mean these post-season bowl games are getting out of hand. It all started with just a few New Year's Day classics, but if you'll check the sports calendar you'll find bowl games for every vegetable, animal and mineral.

Everybody, it seems, is getting into the act, so I've decided that if you can't beat 'em, join 'em. Here are some of my contributions to the post-season madness otherwise known as Major Bowls Amateur Hour:

There is a Liberty Bowl so why not a Communist Bowl in Red Bluff?

LET'S TOP the Lettuce Bowl with a Dressing Bowl in France. A tossup.

There are bowls for flowers, like the Rose and Camellia, so I'd be happy to stage a Weed Bowl in my backyard. Come one, come all — the mower the merrier.

I'D LOVE to have a seat on the 50-yard line for a Plumbers Bowl in Flushing, N.Y. And how about a Carpenters Bowl in Woodacre between Warsaw and Great Plains?

San Quentin, I am sure, could nicely stage a Penal Bowl between Penn. and Conn. Speaking of such, there already is a Copper Bowl, so let's arrange a Robber Bowl. Or how about a Bowl Bowl between Walla Walla and Sing Sing?

VEGETABLES CERTAINLY deserve a place on our post-season grid menu, like a Sprout Bowl in Brussels. Cauliflower Bowl in Madison Square Garden and a Corn Bowl in Cobb. For Seasoning there should be a Pepper Bowl in Salt Lake.

Of course, we could start a Glow Bowl conflict, but maybe we'd better let Saigons be Saigons.

A MILK BOWL in the Cow Palace between Moo Jersey and Gurnseyville sounds udderly fascinating.

Even more ridiculous would be a Burl Hives Bowl between Redwood and the Novato Hornets.

Yes, the list goes on and on. There are bowls for Bluebonnets, Mineral Water, Pecan, Tangerine, Rice (Grantland), Gator, Sun, etc. and a long list of etceteras.

AND IT WON'T be long now before you'll be reading the following headlines: "Inter-Planetary Bowl—Astros vs. Cosmos, Opening Blastoff at 1:30." Or, "Earth Mars Venus in Space Bowl," or "Moon Tide, by Jupiter!" or "Sun Eclipses All-Stars."

So, you can see the situation is not only getting out of hand; it's liable to get out of this world. I hope they put a stop to the nonsense pretty soon because what started out with the Adam Bowl could develop into the Atom Bowl and I don't want to be around to hear the final gun.

Prothro Issues An Apology

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA football coach Tommy Prothro hasn't changed his mind about the officiating in last Saturday's Bruin-Tennessee game at Memphis, but he and fullback Paul Horgan have apologized to Volunteer star Bob Petrella for an injury suffered on the final play.

Tennessee won the game, 37-34, on a touchdown with 39 seconds remaining.

"I have written Coach (Doug) Dickey apologizing for our player's (Horgan's) over-aggressiveness on the sidelines on the final play, for which there was no excuse, and also expressed the belief it has been exaggerated," Prothro said yesterday.

Petrella required 12 stitches to close a head wound sustained in an out-of-bounds collision with Horgan, who was not in the game at the time.

Horgan, son of former FBI agent and prominsnt Los Angeles attorney Patrick D. Horgan, issued a prepared statement yesterday in which he said, "I am distressed about the incident and have written to Bob Petrella to say so."

Prothro did not indicate if any disciplinary action would be taken against Horgan and added it was a "matter for our squad alone."

Tennessee officials had charged that Horgan came off the bench and deliberately struck Petrella.

UCLA's athletic director, J.D. Morgan, said he wired Tennessee Athletic Director Bob Woodruff before viewing the game films and had apologized for any untoward behavior by any Bruin player or players.

After seeing the films he said, "when the boy as knocked out of bounds, he was knocked into Horgan. Horgan fended him off in the chest and down went everyone."

Prothro, still bitterly disappointed at the loss, said he had not changed his opinion about the officiating "except that I do not feel A. C. Williams officiated a poor game."

On his weekly television program Monday night Prothro showed several of the disputed plays.

CELTICS' HIGH LOW PLAY?

Don Nelson of the Boston Celtics rolls on his back and teamate Larry Siefried leaps over him after Nelson slipped to the floor during the Boston-St. Louis game last night in New York City. Cliff Hagen of the Hawks is more concerned with the loose ball than with the tumbling Nelson. The Celtics won the wild and woolly game, 112-96. See story on page 34. (AP Wirephoto)

Tulsa Air Combo Named

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Tulsa's record-breaking passing battery heads up the offensive-minded North team announced today for the 17th annual Senior Bowl football game Jan. 8.

The battery is Bill Anderson throwing and Howard Twilley catching. Both set all-time NCAA marks during the regular season.

The 27-member North squad includes seven players picked in the first round of the professional football drafts, plus 11 others chosen in the first five rounds. Every man on the squad was drafted by the pro clubs.

The South squad, announced last Sunday, included six first-round choices and a total of 19 in the first five rounds.

Michigan '5' Trails Bruins By 58 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA's first place berth in this week's Associated Press poll is something less than startling. The same can't be said for South Carolina's No. 10 spot.

"It feels great," said Frank McGuire, the Gamecocks' coach. "We're two years ahead of schedule."

The 10th place berth was South Carolina's first appearance on the list of college basketball's elite and marked McGuire's return to prominence. In 14 years at St. John's, N.Y. and North Carolina, his teams were rarely out of the Top Ten.

There were few other suprises in the first weekly poll.

UCLA, as expected, dominated the voting with 35 of the 42 first place ballots cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters across the country. The Bruins totaled 399 points to 341 for Michigan. The Wolverines had six first place votes.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, rated one of the strongest teams in the East, got the other first place vote and had 262 points for third place.

Following the Hawks were Vanderbilt, Minnesota, Duke, Kansas, Providence, Bradley and McGuire's South Carolina.

UCLA lived up to its preseason notices with wide margin victories over Big Ten foes Ohio State and Illinois last week. Michigan whipped Tennessee, Bowling Green and Ball State in its first three outings.

Duke, which dropped a 73-71 decision to South Carolina Monday night, faces the toughest week of all the Top Ten teams with consecutive clashes against UCLA Friday and Saturday.

The balloting for the Top Ten, which covered games through Monday night, credited 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc.

The Associated Press College basketball poll as determined on the basis of 10 points for first place, 9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1, first places are in parentheses.

| 1.UCLA (35) | 2 | 0 | 399 |

Other teams receiving votes, listed in alphabetical order, were: Army, Boston College, Brigham Young, Cincinnati, Colorado, Creighton, Dayton, Florida, Georgia Tech, Iowa, Kansas State, Kentucky, Louisville, Maryland, Michigan State New Mexico, North Carolina State, Oklahoma City, Penn, Penn State, San Fran- California, Tennessee, Utah, West Virgin- cisco, St. John's N.Y., Stanford, Southern ia.

My Searcher Wins Feature

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Odds-on favorite My Searcher rung on between horses yester- and captured the $3,500 Sons of Italy Purse for 3-year-olds by a head over six furlongs at Bay Meadows.

The high - weighted favorite took over in the stretch and ran the distance in 1:11 1-5.

The winner paid $3.80, $3.00 and $2.20. Ray Gold closed ground quickly for second and paid $10.20 and $3.00. Kellojet was third in the six-horse race and returned $2.40.

Raiders Are Solid Pick Over Jets

OAKLAND (UPI)— Oakland rates as a solid favorite Sunday over the New York Jets, but it's hard to believe after hearing the Raider front office talk.

"They're a good, young club," a Raider spokesman insisted yesterday. "And that Joe Namath is simply great for a rookie quarterback."

Namath, the $400,000 bonus baby, is rolling after a slow start. He has hit 128 of 260 passes for 1701 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank third in the league.

New York lost five and tied one in its first six games. Then the Jets won four straight and lost to straight.

Namath gets a lot of help from fullback Matt Snell, who has rushed for 707 yards, and flanker Don Maynard, who has caught 51 passes.

The Raiders can get a shot at the Western title by downing New York, which is likely to happen, while San Diego falls before Houston, which is unlikely to happen. Oakland is at San Diego in the last game of the season.

Marin Tars Bombed, 105-60

Contra Costa Junior College's cage team, defending champ of the Golden Gate Conference, was too much for College of Marin Tars last night in San Pablo. The Tars were bombed, 105-60.

Among the standouts for Contra Costa were Don Lyon, top prep scorer in Northern California last year when he played for California School for Deaf in Berkeley, and center Wes Russell, a big rebounder. Lyon was high scorer in the game with 31 points. Gary Lloyd hit for 22 points.

Top scorer for Marin, which trailed 52-27 at half, was Don Hanson with 12 points.

Marin coach Cal Riemcke, realizing early that the game was out of reach, played all 14 men on his team.

Marin scoring: Don Hanson, 4-4-12; Fred Arnold, 4-0-8; Rod Monti, 2-2-6; Jim Halm, 3-0-6; Bill Brody, 4-1-9; Larry Wolfe, 2-0-4; Lorry Galassi, 2-0-4; Jeff Chapman, 2-0-4; Bill Pandiani, 2-1-5; Mike Menne, 1-0-2. Totals: 26-8—60.

Santa Clara Squeezes By Miami Quint In Close One

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Santa Clara Broncos have found that one way of winning basketball games is to stay on good terms with the clock.

Before the time finally ran out in Santa Clara's 78-74 victory over the University of Miami last night, the lead changed no less than eight occasions.

In the final minute, the game still could have gone either way.

With 17 seconds left, Miami scored and cut Santa Clara's lead to two points. It was only when Bronco sophomore Bob Heaney dropped in a clinching jump shot with two seconds remaining that Santa Clara could relax.

High scorer for the game was Bronco guard Mark Gervasoni, with 29 points. Guard Junior Gee led Miami with 18.

In other action, Don Frost scored 16 points and sparked the Cal Aggies to a 64-55 victory over an alumni team.

Drake Race Relations Committee Keeps Busy

The Sir Francis Drake High School Race Relations Committee, organized this year, already has become one of the most active student groups on the San Anselmo campus.

The committee began as an off-shoot of the Drake Diplomats Club, headed by co-chairmen Pete Stone, a senior and the organization's founder, and Jared Rossman, a junior who appeared before the San Rafael City Council this week as spokesman for the Marin Viet Nam Committee.

Two subcommittees are studying the role of the Negro in United States history and the situation in Bogalusa, La., where Crown Zellerbach Corp., the principal industry, has been accused of discriminatory hiring.

Members of the committee helped obtain food and clothing for destitute migrant workers during the recent grape pickers' strike at Delano.

The committee also has participated in activities of the Marin chapter of the Congress on Racial Equality and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

49er Parks Is Battling For Pass Catching Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Brown of Cleveland has virtually clinched the rushing championship and scoring crown in the National Football League but there is a lively battle for the pass catching title between Dave Parks of San Francisco and Pete Retzlaff of Philadelphia.

Brown has gained 1,450 yards in 12 games and his 20 touchdowns, tying Lenny Moore's record of last year, give him the scoring lead with 120 points.

The closest competitor in the rushing department is Timmy Brown of Philadelphia with 833 yards, or 617 yards behind Jim. Fred Cox of the Minnesota Vikings is next to Brown in scoring with 98 points on 20 field goals and 38 conversions. It is possible for him to catch the Cleveland fullback, but not likely.

Parks has caught 62 passes for 1,066 yards and Retzlaff, veteran tight end of the Eagles, has nabbed 60 for 1,119 yards. Tommy McDonald of Los Angeles in third with 53 receptions.

Although Bob Hayes, the Dallas rookie, isn't among the top 10 receivers, he has caught 40 for 806 yards and is averaging 20.2 yards per catch. He may become the first rookie receiver to gain 1,000 yards catching passes since Mike Ditka's 1,076 for Chicago in 1961.

Rudy Bukich of Chicago remains the leading passer in standings based on several different categories. Bobby Boyd of Baltimore has the most interceptions, seven, Gary Collins of Cleveland leads the punters with a 46.9-yard average; Leroy Kelly of Cleveland is the top punt return man with an average of 16. 2 yards, and Tom Watkins of Detroit is first in kickoff returns with a 34.4-yard average.

Knicks, Celtics Win Games; Red Auerbach Tossed Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick McGuire is oneup on a couple of old teammates and Red Auerbach is onedown to another referee. But Auerbach's Boston Celtics still are 8½ up on McGuire's New York Knickberbockers.

The Knicks edged Los Angeles 131-127 last night for McGuire's second coaching victory in three starts after the Celtics beat St. Louis 112-96 but lost Auerbach in the opener of a stormy National Basketball Association doubleheader.

McGuire has beaten to former Knick teammates — St. Louis Player-coach Richie Guerin and Los Angeles pilot Fred Schaus — since taking over the New York reins nine days ago. Auerbach, meanwhile, has been tossed out of a game for the second time this season.

The Celtics, however, remain on top in the Eastern Division race, 16 percentage points in front of second-place Cincinnati and 8 ½ games ahead of the last-place Knicks.

They overpowered the Hawks despite the absence of big Bill Russell, scoring ace Sam Jones...and Auerbach, who was ejected from the game in the third period after drawing his second technical foul of the evening in a tragi-comic rhubarb with official Norm Drucker.

The argument started over a team technical foul called against the Celtics for making an illegal substitution. Mike Farmer, who handles the St. Louis bench while Guerin is playing, pointed out the infraction to the officials and when Auerbach demanded equal time for rebuttal, Drucker ignored...and then banished him.

"The official was probably right on the call," Auerbach said afterward, "but I objected to Farmer stopping the game. Drucker listened to Farmer but when I tried to say something he wouldn't listen to me."

Russell, who is out with a pulled muscle, piloted the Celtics the rest of the way and, with Larry Siegfried doing the heavy gunning, they broke the game open in the final 15 minutes.

Siegfried scored 31 points while filling in for Sam Jones, who is nursing a damaged knee. Tom Sanders added 21 points for the Celts and Guerin had 22 for St. Louis.

The Knicks, paced by Dick Barnett's 38 points and 10 assists, outlasted the Western Division-leading Lakers despite a 46-point spree by Jerry West. West carried the scoring load in the absence of Elgin Baylor, who has been sidelined by a knee injury.

New York set a club record ith 41 assists — Butch Komives also chipping in with 10. Walt Bellamy contributed 24 points 24 rebounds as the Knicks erased a 10-point halftime deficit and held on in the closing minutes.

Barnett and teammate Willis Reed also were slapped with technicals and Guerin drew one in the first game. Those three and the pair incurred by Auerbach increased the league treasury by $125. An automatic $25 fine goes with each technical called.

North Grid Team For Senior Bowl

picked as No. 1 by the pros are:

Missouri's 6-2, 207-pound halfback Johnny Roland, by the New York Jets; West Virginia's 6-2, 235-pound fullback Dick Leftridge, Pittsburgh Steelers; San Diego State's 6-1, 190-pound end Wry Garrison, San Diego Chargers; Massachusetts' 6-4, 250-pound end Milt Morin, Cleveland Browns.

Indiana's 6-5, 242-pound Randy Beisley, an interior lineman, Philadelphia Eagles; Missouri's 6-5, 245-pound Francis Peay, interior lineman, New York Giants; and Purdue's 6-3, 240-pound Karl Singer, interior lineman, Boston Patriots.

The versatile Roland, Singer and Tulsa's Twilley are North players who were chosen on the first-team All-America.

The fabulous Twilley, who is only 5-10 and 180 pounds, caught 134 passes — 55 more than anyone else in major college ranks — and led the nation in scoring with 127 points this season.

Anderson set five major college records and led major college players in total offense and passing. His passing records were 509 attempts, 296 completions and 3,464 yards gained. The Tulsa tosser was drafted by both Los Angeles and Houston as a future last year.

Anderson will share the quarterbacking duties with Missouri standout Gary Lane, a second-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bisons; and George Wilson of Xavier of Ohio, also drafted by Buffalo and Detroit.

The South squad of 27 players includes 17 from the Southeastern Conference and other top players from the Southwest and Atlantic Coast conferences.

The Southerners are led by three All-Americas — center-linebacker Paul Crane of Alabama, Florida end Charley Casey and Tennessee linebacker Frank Emanuel.

South quarterbacks are Alabama's Steve Sloan and Texas A.&I's Randy Johnson, who has signed with the new Atlanta Falcons of the NFL.

Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets will coach the South team and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots will direct the North.

Each member of the winning team will receive $1,000 and each loser $750. The South leads in the series 10-5-1 with the 7-7 tie last January the only draw.

Tam And San Rafael Basketballers Lose

Tamalpais High School's basketball team lost to Vallejo yesterday on the Tam court, 67-62.

In the only other varsity game played yesterday, San Rafael lost its first game of the year, falling to Santa Rosa 48-43 on the Bulldog's floor.

The Indians of Tam shot a cold 31 per cent from the floor in the first period, which is the main reason they trailed at halftime, 35-24.

In the third quarter, the Tam cagers out-scored the Apaches' 24-13, knotting the score at 48-all.

The Indians shot a sizzling 60 per cent in the second half, but it wasn't enough to overcome the 11-point first half deficit.

Democrats, Republicans Urge Voter Registration

A California non-partisan Voter Registration Committee has been formed to launch a program aimed at the estimated 3.7 million adult Californians ineligible to vote because they have failed to register.

Both the Republican and the Democratic state central committee chairmen have been named to the committee.

Governor Brown said the idea of the bi-partisan committee grew out of discussions with officials of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., which has sponsored many programs to encourage greater citizen participation in public affairs.

We take the occasion to remind Marin voters of all political affiliations that statewide elections are coming up again next year. The majority of voters, of course, are already registered, if they voted in the last general election of 1962 and have not moved or changed their names since then.

But there are undoubtedly many who have changed addresses since they last voted and have forgotten or neglected to re-register with the county clerk. They must re-register in person; they cannot do so by writing or by telephone.

A few voters who disqualify themselves by failing to keep themselves properly registered could determine who are elected and what measures are passed next June and November.

A recent example in Marin was the Tamalpais High School District School bonds, which failed last month by a mere three percentage points of the required two-thirds majority. Voter turnout was only 29 per cent.

A slightly better registration percentage, plus a bigger turnout at the polls could have made a difference in the outcome. At least, the result would have been more nearly representative of the desires of the total voting public.

In 1960, statewide, 72 per cent of adult Californians otherwise eligible to vote were registered. Today, the registration is down to 66 per cent of the total potential.

"Our democratic process is dependent on the ballot box," the governor said. "If we are to choose our leaders and decide the issues wisely, then the maximum possible number of eligible voters must participate in the elective process."

We heartily agree.

The legal registration deadline is 54 days before election day. But don't wait until then. You might forget, and you will have lost your most effective voice in the shaping of state government for the next four years.

COMPANY OWNERSHIP GIVEN TO WORKERS

An industrialist surprised his 300 employees by making them owners of his $2.5 million electronics firm in Wetzlar, West Germany, not long ago.

Upon reaching his 70th birthday, the generous man decided to turn over the entire business to all his employees in the form of a foundation that they themselves would control.

Each worker, over and above his salary, will share in the firm's profits on the basis of seniority and position.

The example set by this employer could do much to foster better management-labor relations if imitated by numerous others in a completely voluntary manner.

The problems of sharing wealth are considerably lessened when all persons involved are motivated by a sense of Christian justice and charity.

On the other hand, bitterness, coercion and injustice hurt rather than help the beneficial relationship that should exist between employers and employees.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Should California Legislature Enact State-Wide Smog Laws?

By HENRY C. MAC ARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — Whether wide revision of state laws controlling administration of air pollution will be effected by the 1966 legislature in special session, or whether the state will continue attempts to control poisoning of the atmosphere on a regional basis, is a question causing some concern.

It is virtually a certainty that the subject will be one for discussion, due to the new laws adopted earlier this year applying to so-called smog-control devices on automobiles.

AT THE PRESENT time, nobody knows just where the state stands with relation to enforcement of the laws which contemplated requirement of such devices on used cars. New cars sold after the first of the year are required to have such devices.

Consequently, it is necessary, if the intent of the legislature is to be carried out and a move made on behalf of cleaner air for California, for the governor to call for smog control.

Some concern has been voiced by legislators to the effect that air pollution matters, instead of being administered by several area agencies, perhaps with different sets of standards and sometimes conflicting regulations, should be centralized in a state office, with a directing head and a state-wide board controlling all policy matters.

SOME BUSINESS and industry oppose this principle, on the grounds that problems are different in different parts of the state. What might be good for the Los Angeles area, for instance, might well be out of line in the San Francisco bay area.

Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, said during the recent session of the legislature that it might be necessary to go to an all-powerful administrator, who would have the final say in what could or could not be done in smog control. Senator Collier has worked with air pollution problems for some time, and as chairman of the senate transportation committee, is well versed in the subject, particularly on vehicle control devices.

Although the legislature has not dragged its feet with relation to keeping California's atmosphere clean, it is a fact that the situation becomes worse as time passes by. Many factors are involved, but the most important one appears now to be emissions of various poisons from car exhausts.

LENGTHY STUDIES from a half dozen different state agencies have dealt with this problem, but so far, no one solution has been brought forward to control such emissions.

Manufacturers of control devices have about given up, and to date, the pollution control board has approved only one device for installation on used cars.

The problem is one of far-reaching import, and for the safety of the people, the quicker it is solved the better.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Another Reader Is Commended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to commend Charles C. Whiteaker for his remarks in the Journal regarding U.S. involvement in Rhodesia. Would that we could have more such citizens striving to save their country from our present government. The time is short. The cause of the eastern blackout will never be really known. If the public would just examine the voting records of their representatives. Make sure they are constructing the kind of country in which they wish to live.

Some Persons Need Conscience

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the Dec. 1 edition, Mrs. Gerstner asks a few questions and I would appreciate the chance of answering her. She asks, "Who are these people exerting the effort toward 'social justice and fair play in housing?' "

Mrs. Gerstner, these are people whose consciences have not rotted away from years of disuse. These are the people who live their religions, not just talk about them. These are the Prophets of the Twentieth Century, sent to prod a corrupt community.

Mrs. Gerstner then asks why are they resurrecting the "dead horse" of fair housing when Proposition 14 "restored freedom" when it was overwhelmingly victorious last year.

Mrs. Gerstner, that dead horse was not buried—the rotting carcass of bigotry still stinks up the air of this country. If bigotry could not be buried by legislation, it does not follow that it cannot be buried at all. The organizations that you decry may succeed in removing some of the carcass.

Finally, you talk of free will and God. Mrs. Gerstner, really, how do you think that God would have voted on Proposition 14?

Second Deck, Second Route?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Well, I see three-fifths of our Board of Supervisors and the Golden Gate Bridge District have reached into their bag of tricks and pulled out a second deck for the bridge.

Huzzah. I'm sure those who join me in the morning and evening crushes along 101 are as pleased as I. Just think, when the second deck is finished we can crawl at our usual 25-mph pace down to the bridge, cross it at 65 mph, and then crawl from the toll plaza into the downtown area of San Francisco.

We might save a couple of minutes. That is, if the deck is completed next week. . . .

You apparently didn't consider widening 101 where it so pathetically needs it. You apparently didn't consider using some of that money for an alternate route.

For most of us, there's one way to get to the bridge. Without another way or more, a second deck will be folly.

Ferry boats? A joke! Unless you live in Sausalito or Tiburon. You can't get to them any faster than you can get to the bridge.

Why didn't you fall-guy commuters let the men you've voted into office know they are there to vote in your behalf?

Prohibition wasn't popular, so the voters did something about it. I don't think the second deck will accomplish anything.

If I'm wrong, let me know.

Fairfax Vote Discouraging

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was most discouraging to read in the Nov. 23 edition that the "Fairfax Councilmen Vote Down Viet Resolutions, 4-1," and it brought several questions to my mind. Firstly, what right do the city fathers have to vote on an opinion in behalf of the Fairfax community? Secondly, who voted against it and what were their reasons? The reporter very ably presents Mr. Pagni's (and others in the audience) reasons for backing the resolution; however, I feel he made a very serious omission in not representing the opposing side, because the reader is led to believe that four out of five high officials in Fairfax oppose our foreign policy in Viet Nam. Can they really think Communists will cease their continuous aggression if we pull out? Or do they believe that we are the aggressors, uninvited and unwanted by the South Vietnamese people? If this is true, I would like to suggest that they read a letter from the Saigon students to the American people (Nov. 8 issue of U. S. News and World Report) which is their answer to the Anti-Viet Nam Demonstrations in U. S.

It is my fondest hope that the four councilmen who voted against the resolution did so in the belief that it was not in their jurisdiction to represent the opinions of the people of Fairfax.

No Need For Traffic Signals

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Those two new traffic signals —one where Fourth Street enters the Miracle Mile—and the other one Second and Shaver—we need like a hole in the head.

May I suggest? Give them to San Anselmo for the Hub for Christmas. It would be a good deed for all the motorists.

Industry Is Out Looking Around For More Good, Qualified Workers

WASHINGTON — Get ready for a shock — a welcome one:

Conditions are ripe today for the nearly total elimination of unemployment.

I'm not talking about WPA or leaf-raking or other made-work. I'm talking about real jobs.

The key facts, which turn the unemployment problem upside down, are these:

FOR THE FIRST time since the industrial revolution there are more jobs in the U.S. looking for workers than there are workers to fill them.

Industry is so starved for qualified employees today that big firms send recruiting teams to scour the entire country for workers; they bribe and steal each other's workers and when a factory closes, the recruitment teams swarm at the gates to hire the dismissed.

This is no exaggeration. It is visible all over the nation. Automobile companies have even been scouting the poverty pockets of Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania signing up unemployed miners.

What we now have in the U.S., on the basis of the latest studies, is this:

NEARLY 3,000,000 jobs seeking and searching for qualified workers.

Nearly 3,000,000 unemployed, most of whom are not qualified — do not have the work skills — to take the jobs that are open.

All of this means:

That private industry can create and at this very moment is thirstily demanding an enlarged work force capable of wiping out almost completely the nation's unemployment.

That the problem of erasing unemployment is not how to create the jobs — industry is doing that — but how the unemployed can be trained to man the jobs which are beckoning to them.

HERE THE SITUATION cries out for a new approach to the central problem which creates present-day unemployment and which is now depriving industry of urgently needed workers.

This is not to suggest that government should do the job, but rather that government should help create the conditions to enable industry to do the job.

For this purpose Congress will have before it next month a practical and constructive bill, developed by Sen. Winston Prouty, R., Vt. and Rep. Thomas Curtis, R., Mo., and supported by 105 Republican members of Congress.

The Prouty-Curtis proposal goes to the heart of the problem: How best to provide the job skills so the unemployed can fill the jobs waiting for them. As Sen. Prouty puts it: "The most efficient and effective job training in this country is being done by the nation's greatest job trainer—private industry."

BUT MUCH MORE needs to be done to dent the number of unskilled jobless and to provide the work force industry urgently needs.

To encourage industry to mount new and expanded training programs the Prouty-Curtis bill provides that the same seven per cent tax credit for new investment in plant and equipment be extended to investment in human capital; that is, in developing the skills of present and future workers.

New Broadcast Plan Is Pushed By NASA

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is embarking on a new space project that could revolutionize world communication systems within a decade.

Known as the direct-broadcast satellite, the spectacular NASA project could directly affect every TV and radio set owner in the U.S. and abroad as well as domestic and foreign communication carriers.

IN A MEMORANDUM to leading aerospace industries, NASA authorities are asking them to submit by mid-January "feasibility studies to advance the development" of a direct-broadcast satellite system.

This communications satellite, according to NASA scientists, would use atomic power to relay broadcasts from a centrally located transmission station on the ground directly to individual TV and radio receivers.

Communications satellites now orbiting the earth, such as "Tell-Star" and "Early Bird," are only able to relay radio-TV signals to extremely sensitive and costly receiving stations with high-rise antennas. These satellites use power from solar cells and batteries.

THE DIRECT-BROADCAST satellite will weigh between 5,000 and 7,000 pounds, as compared to less than 100 pounds for the communications satellites in operation.

The nuclear reactor, similar to but much larger than SNAP 10-a used in several U.S. experimental satellites, would generate upward of 40 kilowatts of electricity, or many times the power now produced by solar cells and conventional-type batteries in the communications satellites.

This atomic power would produce sufficient current to transmit from a single transmitter more than a half dozen radio and TV broadcasts at the same time to home receivers.

Stationed at 22,330 miles above the Atlantic Ocean, near the equator, a single direct-broadcast satellite would have an estimated range of nearly one million square miles. It could beam signals from a New York or Miami TV-radio station into homes anywhere in the U.S., Western Europe, South America or Africa.

Only minor modifications in home receivers and inexpensive changes in antennas would be needed to receive pictures as clear as those now picked up from local stations, according to NASA scientists.

NASA OFFICIALS pushing the extraordinary project contend that the launching of the first direct-broadcast satellite is as important to U.S. prestige as putting a man on the moon.

Also that the communications satellite venture will be infinitely cheaper—an estimated $1 billion, as compared to nearly $40 billion for the moon project.

In their backstage discussions with congressional and space industry authorities, NASA experts are warning that if Russia achieves this space breakthrough before the U.S., the Kremlin could pepper every television and radio set in the world with its propaganda.

They firmly hold that this is no idle threat, pointing out that the Soviet already is discussing exactly such a joint project with the French. The idea was broached to Foreign Minister Couve de Murville when he was in Moscow last month.

LAST WEEK the first color TV transmission took place between Moscow and Paris, with the use of the Russian Bolnya I satellite and the French Secam system. French scientists, who favor closer space cooperation with the U.S. and not Russia, are warning this is only the start of Moscow-Paris collaboration.

They also are saying the Soviet is offering use of its closely guarded launching facilities to orbit the first joint Franco-Russian satellite.

FRANCE IS preparing to launch rockets for the exploration of the upper atmosphere from AdelieLand, in the Antarctic, in 1967. Intelligence reports that an expedition has left Paris to prepare the launching platforms. French Dragon and Centaure rockets will be used in the tests. . . . Britain's strategic nuclear bombing force has been re-equipped with new Mark II Vulcan and Victor planes with double the engine power of the older models. According to the U.S. Air Force, nuclear weapons can now be accurately delivered at any height, from tree-top level to 55,000 feet, by the new British bombers.

Watch Out! Here Comes Old Durant

No one ever sat on a horse better than Tim Durant—not John Wayne, Gary Cooper, Lady Godiva, Snapper Garrison, Geromino or Tom Mix. Certainly no one from Waterbury, Conn., which is where Tim was foaled. The last horse they had there was pulling a streetcar.

Tim was a Yale man, so, naturally, he went into stocks and bonds. He became a son-in-law of the original E. F. Hutton, and the nice part about that was that Tim couldn't wait to get out of his bowler hat and customer suit and down to the family stable on week-ends so he could jump fences and chase frightened furry little animals.

THE ECONOMY even co-operated to put Tim on horseback full time. Tim was what was known as a "$2 broker" (two bucks every 100 shares sold), and there were days when he computed it could cost him $200 in sales to go out to lunch. Pretty soon he was the richest guy in the country bringing peanut butter sandwiches to work in his hat.

He had set his goal at a million dollars by the time he was 30. Tim was willing, but his stomach wouldn't go along. He ended up with only a half million and a case of flaming stomach ulcers at Roosevelt Hospital. The day the stock market broke, Tim remembers carrying orders around by the basketful. Only the buyers were perched on Manhattan ledges by that time, looking for a dry spot to land.

"I REMEMBER you literally had to walk home at night squeezing yourself against the buildings so you wouldn't get hit with falling partners," Tim recalled.

Tim came to Hollywood in the early '30s, a lean, spare six-footer with an excellent tennis backhand, an excellent knowledge of horsemanship, and of finances—and not much else. He quickly became Charlie Chaplin's liaison man with the financial world. There were times when it was more fun being a seller in a market crash. But as long as he got the week-end astride a jumper chasing a scent over the Malibu hills, it was the good life for him.

It was Winston Churchill, or somebody, who described fox-hunting as "the unspeakable in pursuit of the inedible," but Tim Durant so liked being on horseback that he would have been happy even in the Charge of the Light Brigade.

HE ORGANIZED "drag scent" hunts (in which the scent of a fox was captured in a bag) and enlilsted as many of the movie colony as could manage to get on a horse and not fall off, to join him. He hunted in Ireland with his good friend, the director, John Huston. He bought his own modest ranch and raised jumpers. He wore out several red coats and had to have his top hat blocked regularly. But, two years ago when he was over in England, he suddenly perceived a new challenge—the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree outside of Liverpool.

This is the Kentucky Derby of England — a 4¾-mile steeplechase over some 30 jumps, most of them privet hedges, but one of them full of water. The fatalities on this four-footed version of Indianapolis are usually, but not always, horses. The winner's fans liked to boast he "never touched a twig or wet a boot," but a more typical situation occurred the year Tim watched the race when 47 started and only 13 finished—and had prickers and water all over them. The race is 120 years old, and the number who have finished it are only a quarter of the number who have started it.

TIM IMMEDIATELY bought a jumper, Aerial III, and put his name in the entry box for 1966. The English were outraged. It's not that Tim is an American. Their objection was geriatric, not geographic. Tim will be 66 years old when the race is run. He'll be spotting his horse 56 years and the rest of the riders a couple of generations.

They made Tim ride a race on a similar course to prove his fitness and adaptability—or lack of it. He finished the race—next-to-last, to be sure, but it was the horse who was slow, not Tim. Besides, the jumps behind Tim were littered with human and animal debris anyone of whom would have been glad just to finish, period.

THE JUMPS AT Aintree are high enough to commit suicide off—as has been proven in the past. A severe conditioning program is indicated to last the grueling 10 minutes of the race on which millions are bet in sweepstakes all over the world. Tim prepped by riding a 100-mile-in-one-day race over the summit of the Sierras from Tahoe City over into Nevada—a trip made largely with flashlight and prayer on precipices just wide enough for a horse to walk squeezing against the mountain like a 1929 stockbroker edging for the subway.

You can get 1000-to-1 against Tim in the Grand National. You can get almost that against his even finishing. You probably could get a good price against his surviving.

It just might be an overlay. The horse is like a good broken-field runner — not necessarily fast, but hard to bring down. So is the rider.

First Foreign Student To Win Novato Letter

At the recent Novato High School sports award program, the crowd gave a standing ovation for a young man who had been selected by the high school's champion cross country team as the most improved player of the season.

With that, Bob Smith, the team's most valuable player, gave the young man a Novato High School letterman's jacket, which the team members had chipped in and bought as a present for the young man.

It was not that his record was so excellent — he had finished second twice against Redwood and Drake high school teams. It was because he was the first foreign student in the history of Novato High School to win a letter in athletics.

That is the record so far this year of Wilfrid van Meer, a Youth for Understanding exchange student from The Netherlands.

Wilfrid probably well deserved the credit for the most improved runner on the cross country team. His only experience in athletics was playing field hockey in a private club and not in high school back in his native Holland.

Wilfrid is staying this school year with the Grant Nelson family at 768 Kendon Lane, Novato. His American brother is Donald Nelson, a junior at Novato High School. He also has a younger brother, Richard, who goes to Hill Junior High School.

He was born in Arnheim, site of one of the famous battles of World War II, but does not remember much of that area because his family moved near Amsterdam when he was only six. His father is a stockbroker in Amsterdam.

Some of his observations on America included things that we have that they do not have. Some of these were daylight time, and Veterans Day, Halloween and Thanksgiving holidays.

He was also surprised that everybody here lives in a "bungalow." In Holland, they live in two and three-story row houses with a small front yard and a little larger back yard. He was also surprised at the number of cars.

"Everybody here has two or three cars," he said.

He took a more mature view of girls than that of most of the exchange students.

"Girls are the same here as in Holland," he observed.

Cage Tourney Set In Kentfield Gym

College of Marin's basketball pavilion will be loaded with fans from throughout Northern California this weekend when the Tars host the Golden Valley Conference cage tournament.

Four games will be played Friday, starting at 3 p.m., and seven games will be played Saturday starting at 9 a.m. Cost of the tourney is $1 per day for adults and 50 cents for student body card holders.

First game of the double elimination tourney Friday will find Shasta College going against Yuba Junior College, 3 p.m. At 5 o'clock, it will be Napa vs. guest school American River J.C. Then at 7 p.m., it's Sierra vs. Santa Rosa, followed by host Marin against Siskiyou, 9 o'clock.

Santa Rosa Junior College, victor over Foothill College already this season, and American River J.C. rate as tourney favorites.

Although the Tars have an 0-3 record so far this season, they can't be counted out of the GVC tourney because the Mariners always seem to do great against conference foes.

In last year's tournament, played at Santa Rosa, Marin beat American River 83-81, Santa Rosa 76-73 and Shasta 70-63 to win the championship trophy. The Tars will be trying to defend that trophy this weekend.

2 Yanks Advance In Net Play

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Americans Arthur Ashe and Herb FitzGibbon gained the men's singles quarter-finals of the South Australian Tennis Championships but two other U.S. players were eliminated in the third round today.

Ashe, the No. 1 foreign seed from Richmond, Va., ousted Patricio Rodriguez of Chile 7-5, 5-7, 6-2 and FitzGibbon, of Garden City, N.Y., disposed of Alan Stone of Australia 6-2, 6-3.

Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., and Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., bowed to a pair of Australians. Roy Emerson, the Wimbledon champion and the top-seeded Australian, was hard-pressed to defeat Richey 6-1, 8-10, 9-7. Owen Davidson also was extended before beating McManus 6-3, 0-6, 6-4.

Tom Okker of Holland provided the day's biggest upset as he outlasted Davis Cupper John Newcombe, the No. 3 Australian seed, 6-1, 11-9. Newcombe was the tournament's defending champion.

In other third-round matches, involving Australians, Fred Stolle, the No. 2 Aussie, sidelined Eugene Rosso 6-4, 6-3 and John Cooper knocked off Tim Addison 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. Carole Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio and Nancy Richey, Cliff's sister, posted victories in the second round of the women's singles. Mrs. Graebner swept Beryl Jenkins of Australia 6-0, 6-3 and Miss Richey turned back Helen Gourlay of Australia 6-1, 6-0.

Ashe and Cliff Richey won their quarter-final match in the men's doubles, whipping Lew Gerrard of New Zealand and Roger Taylor of Britain 9-7, 5-7, 6-3.

The top-seeded Australian pair of Emerson and Stolle were victorious over fellow countrymen John Cottrill and Ray Ruffels 6-3, 9-7.

AFL Slates All-Star Tilt Jan. 15

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The American Football League All-Stars selected from the other seven clubs, will be played in the 70,000-seat Rice Stadium NBC-TV will broadcast the game in color. Kickoff time is 1 p.m.

The league and the Houston Oilers jointly announced the game site yesterday.

In previous years the league matched the All-Stars from the Eastern Division against the All-Stars from the Western Division.

But the league owners felt the league (eight teams) was too restrictive and the All-Stars versus the champions would make a better game.

Players on the winning team will get $1,000 each and the losers $500. The remainder of the gate receipts less expenses will go to the AFL players' pension fund.

The All-Star club will be made be picked in a vote of the league players, including a place kicker and a punter.

The coach with the best won-loss record — not counting the will be the All-Star club coach. He will pick the other 14 players.

The league owners will hold their annual January meeting in Houston the week of the game.

Wes Parker Leads N.L. 1st Basemen

CINCINNATI (AP) — Wes Parker of the pennant- winning Los Angeles Dodgers tied a National League record for first basemen last season by compiling a .997 average, the official fielding averages released today disclosed.

Parker's mark equaled the one set by Walter Holke of the Boston Braves in 1921. The major league record is .9993 established by John (Stuffy) McInnis of the Boston Red Sox, also in 1921.

Parker made only five errors in 1,534 chances. Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, Ed Kranepool of New York and Bill White of St. Louis, the latter recently traded to Philadelphia, were the runners-up among the first basemen. Each fielded .992.

The other fielding leaders were second baseman Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh .988, shortstop Dick Schofield, who played for Pittsburgh and San Francisco, .981, third baseman Ken Boyer, St. Louis, traded last month to the New York Mets, .968, outfielder Vada Pinson, Cincinnati, .992 and catcher Tim McCarver of St. Louis .995.

Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs topped the pitchers for the second straight year and for the third time in his career, handling 76 chances flawlessly in 1965.

Mazeroski and Philadelphia outfielder Johnny Callison set major league records, Mazeroski by leading the second basemen in double plays for the sixth straight time and Callison for topping the outfielders in assists for the fourth straight year. Mazeroski participated in 113 double plays and Callison picked up 21 assists last season.

Cincinnati had the highest club fielding average, .981. St. Louis and Los Angeles were next with .979 each followed by Milwaukee with .978.

By MICHAEL PERCY

Short Story In The Newspaper May Hide A Drama In Family

You often have to do more than read between the lines, for there is much drama in your newspaper if you use a little imagination to get "the story behind the story."

An example of a seemingly innocuous item that might appear in your I-J under a one-line is, "Teen Dance Set.,:

"A dance for Belvedere teenagers has been scheduled for 8 p.m. today at the Community Center under the sponsorship of the Belvedere Recreation Commission."

(There is no dance tonight. The item is just an example of something you might read).

Anyway, most people probably read the story and accept it as a routine announcement. There will be a dance.

SOMEONE ELSE might pause a moment and envision a group of smiling, clean-cut youngsters gathered at the Community Center to exault in their youth, laugh and dance those dances they dance, etc., and perhaps think back to the dances of their own youth. . . but that's not using your imagination to the fullest.

Imagine a typical Belvedere family: Father home from the city after a commute across the bay by ferry boat, relaxing with a drink and reading the I-J. The mother busy in the kitchen. Two teen-age children, a boy, 17, and a girl, 15, upstairs on school assignments.

DINNER IS CALLED and the family sits down. Not much is said and about halfway through the meal, father cheerfully speaks up:

"Well, I see by the paper there's a dance tonight. I guess you kids have dates and will be going?"

Silence. And then:

"Oh, Daddy I just hate you!" The girl cries, pushing away from the table and tossing her napkin onto her plate. "You know on one will ask me!" She runs from the room in tears.

"What was THAT all about?" the father asks in amazement.

"SHE'S A CREEP," the boy replies. "Don't you know? An its."

"What do you mean calling your sister a creep?" the father demands. "And what's an 'its'? Ehe —"

"An its is what you call someone when you can't think of anything worse," the boy answers. "It's bad enough having a kid sister around at school and all, but when I have to keep roping my friends in to date her — wow!"

"NOW SEE here, son —"

"No, maybe you'd beter see here," the mother breaks in. "Perhaps if you spent a little more time with your children you'd get to know them a little better and find out what their problems are." She tosses her napkin onto her plate.

"Now see here—"

But he is too late. She has stormed from the room. Father tosses his napkin onto his plate, grabs his coat and hat and leaves the house, probably headed for the nearest bar in Tiburon. The boys places his napkin on the table, goes to the kitchen, comes back with his dessert, and sits down to eat it alone. But is it his just desserts?

WHEN YOU THINK about it, perhaps there is some news, the nature of which is so heart rending, it should be suppressed. All of that heart break just because of one little story . . . .

Secrets Of Correspondence With An Aide To The President

WASHINGTON—It has been rumored that McGeorge Bundy, the President's White House advisor on foreign affairs, has been offered the presidency of the Ford Foundation at $75,000 a year. It has also been rumored that Bundy really doesn't want to take the job, if the President would indicate what plans he has for Bundy's future. It is further rumored that Bundy wrote a letter to Mr. Johnson telling him of the Ford offer, but so far the President has not answered the letter.

This is not the first time such a correspondence has taken place between a White House aide and the president. I have in my possession a series of letters another presidential staffer wrote to President Johnson in hopes of forcing the President's hand.

The first one said:

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I have just been offered the Chancellorship of the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools at $100,000 a year. I told them, of course, it would be out of the question to take the job when my services were so badly needed by you. They asked me to write to you, knowing full well what your answer will be. Waiting to hear from you I remain.

Yours truly,"

The following week another letter was sent.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I know how busy you have been lately, but I was just wondering if you ever received my letter concerning the job offer made to me by the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools. It's quite possible since Larry O'Brien took over as postmaster general, the letter may have gotten lost.

I have assured the Appalachia people that you have something very big in store for me in the next few months, something you would rather not announced at this time, and that is probably why you hesitated to put anything in writing concerning my future. If you could just hint in a letter something to this effect without the specifics, I'm sure it would satisfy the Appalachia people and they would stop bothering me.

Sincerely yours,"

Two weeks later a third letter was sent.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

Things must be really hectic at the ranch. I've been kidding the mailman about losing a letter from the President of the United States sent to me, but he insists he's never seen one. To bring you up to date, the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools want me to head up their program. My wife says I ought to take it, but I said my first loyalty was to you, and that you would be infuriated if I even considered it.

Could you have either Jack Valenti or Bill Moyers or someone call me just to confirm this, as the Appalachia people are starting to wonder if I really do work in the White House. I'd be very happy to stay right where I am. Unlike many White House staffers I have no ambitions other than to serve you to the best of my ability. The photographs of you at LBJ ranch are wonderful.

Your Faithful Servant"

The final letter was sent on November 14.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I regret that I must submit my resignation for personal reasons. Now before you protest. . . . ."

Sausalito Couple Buy Mendocino Inn

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Grant of Sausalito have purchased Harbor House, an inn in Elk, Mendocino County, and plan to take over its operation Jan. 1.

They bought it from two former Mill Valleyans, Bill Brewer and Bill Parker, who have owned it five years and who plan to move to Alamos, Mexico, in January.

Mrs. Grant has operated the Greyhound ticket agency and owned and operated the book store in the bus depot in Mill Valley for 11 years.

She is retaining the agency and book store but they will be managed by Margot Marker and Brunhilde Liebes, both of Mill Valley. Mrs. Liebes has worked at the depot nine years; Miss Marker, seven years.

Grant has worked for Trans World Airlines in San Francisco for 12 years, and prior to that, he and Mrs. Grant served 12 years in the Foreign Service. They reside at 112 Glen Drive.

Harbor House, overlooking Greenwood Landing, was built in 1916-17 when the landing was a busy port for lumber schooners and for lodging and entertainment of the company's guests.

The inn has accommodations for 20 people on the modified American plan. It is closed in January and February under present owners, but the Grants will keep it open year around.

Mrs. Grant, who traditionally has a Christmas party at the bus depot and book store, will not hold the party this Christmas.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Let's Look Through Changes On Returns

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

There have been only a few changes for 1965 but some of them may affect your 1965 income tax return, and some of them will affect you for 1966.

For 1965 we have a new rate scale of 14 per cent to 70 per cent which takes the place of the old higher scale.

P. J. Wikel

The dividend exclusion is now $100 per person, $200 on a joint return, but there will be no dividend received credit for 1965 and after.

The retirement income credit rate has been reduced to reflect the lower tax rates. For 1965 it will be 15 per cent.

If you will receive tips in 1966 and they amount to $20 or more in one month, then you must report these tips to your employer each month and he must withhold the social security tax and the withholding tax on these tips from your wages.

Tips are now considered wages subject to income tax and social security tax withholding.

The medical expense changes making the 3 per cent and 1 per cent limitations applicable regardless of age and removing the maximum limitations do not take effect until Jan. 1, 1967.

Kaiser Sets Dividend

OAKLAND—Kaiser Steel Corp.'s board of directors have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 36½ cents per share on the preferred stock, and a dividend of $1.4375 per share on the 5¾ per cent convertible preference stock, both payable on Dec. 31, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Dec. 17.

Syndicate Buys Sewer Bond Issue

The bonds were reoffered to investors to yield from 3.25 to 4.05 per cent, according to maturity July 1, 1967-96.

Stocks Slide Lower After Early Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks slipped lower today after an early gain. Trading was active.

Low-priced issues did a brisk business and generally showed gains. Aerospace defense issues and airlines were strong, and there was selective strength in recent Wall Street favorites among electronics, color television and office equipments.

Blue-chips generally marked time or fell, tugging at the popular averages.

Motors were irregularly lower. Steels were mixed. Retail stores were irregular despite reports of huge early-Christmas buying.

The market opened firmer, then weakened amid profit-taking as the day wore on.

Volume for the day was estimated at 10 million shares, compared with 9.35 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close.

Sharp gains by many issues at the opening of the market were shaved to fractions and many issues turned lower. Low-priced stocks continued active.

Aerospace defense issues advanced and airlines were higher. Steels were narrowly mixed and motors irregularly lower. Electronics were mixed.

Du Pont tugged at the averages, dropping more than 2 points. American Telephone was fractionally lower.

American Photocopy looked like the volume leader for the day, moving fractionally higher. Commercial Solvents, a big gainer Tuesday, was untraded because of an influx of orders.

American Broadcasting was down about 4 points following terms of its proposed merger with International Telephone and Telegraph. ITT was off a fraction.

Among low-priced issues, Fairchild Hiller was off a fraction while Brunswick and Babbit pushed fractionally higher.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in heavy trading.

U.S. government and corporate bonds prices were mostly unchanged.

The store handles commercial and social stationery supplies, greeting cards and gifts. From now until Christmas it is open daily Mondays through Saturdays to 9 p.m. After that, says Hay, hours will follow the general pattern of the shopping center.

Last year at that time U.S. auto makers had produced 8,248,376 units.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bidding Hinged On A Finesse Is Profitable, If Played Right

It is quite reasonable to bid a slam that depends on one successful finesse.

You don't always have to take that finesse if an opponent discards obligingly.

Opening lead — ♠ 10

Declarer took his four spade tricks, discarding a club from dummy.

East discarded the deuce of hearts and then the seven of clubs.

DISCARDS FALL

South next led a club to dummy's queen and then ran the hearts.

Declarer and West each discarded a diamond on the third heart.

South threw the ten of clubs next, and West discarded the jack of clubs.

Now South went astray by trying the finesse with the jack of diamonds.

West took the queen of diamonds and the ace of clubs, defeating the contract.

SHOULD LEAD CLUB

Declarer could make sure of the contract at the end by leading a club instead of playing the diamonds.

West would have to take the ace of clubs and lead diamonds, thus giving South a free finesse.

West should make things more difficult for South by discarding a second diamond instead of the jack of clubs.

South goes down if he leads a club or tries a diamond finesse.

Declarer can make the contract if he leads out the king and ace of diamonds, relying on the queen to be unguarded after West's two discards, but this sort of play is easier to talk about than to make at the table.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ Q J 7 2
♥ Q 10
♦ A J 7 2
♣ K 10 4.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 13 points in high cards and one point for the doubleton, but the hand is not worth an opening bid.

The doubleton queen of hearts simply is not worth three points.

Avoid making an opening bid that depends on counting doubleton queens and jacks at full value.

Drake Race Relations Committee Keeps Busy

The Sir Francis Drake High School Race Relations Committee, organized this year, already has become one of the most active student groups on the San Anselmo campus.

The committee began as an off-shoot of the Drake Diplomats Club, headed by co-chairmen Pete Stone, a senior and the organization's founder, and Jared Rossman, a junior who appeared before the San Rafael City Council this week as spokesman for the Marin Viet Nam Committee.

Two subcommittees are studying the role of the Negro in United States history and the situation in Bogalusa, La., where Crown Zellerbach Corp., the principal industry, has been accused of discriminatory hiring.

Members of the committee helped obtain food and clothing for destitute migrant workers during the recent grape pickers' strike at Delano.

The committee also has participated in activities of the Marin chapter of the Congress on Racial Equality and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

Innocent Plea Made On Checks

Drinkwater, of Mesa Road, Bolinas, is accused of forging a $15 check to defraud Garrett D. Hodgson, 28 Princess Street, Sausalito, and a $20 check to defraud Bernice C. Perro, 629 Bridgeway, Sausalito, both on June 12.

Democrats, Republicans Urge Voter Registration

A California non-partisan Voter Registration Committee has been formed to launch a program aimed at the estimated 3.7 million adult Californians ineligible to vote because they have failed to register.

Both the Republican and the Democratic state central committee chairmen have been named to the committee.

Governor Brown said the idea of the bi-partisan committee grew out of discussions with officials of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., which has sponsored many programs to encourage greater citizen participation in public affairs.

We take the occasion to remind Marin voters of all political affiliations that statewide elections are coming up again next year. The majority of voters, of course, are already registered, if they voted in the last general election of 1962 and have not moved or changed their names since then.

But there are undoubtedly many who have changed addresses since they last voted and have forgotten or neglected to re-register with the county clerk. They must re-register in person; they cannot do so by writing or by telephone.

A few voters who disqualify themselves by failing to keep themselves properly registered could determine who are elected and what measures are passed next June and November.

A recent example in Marin was the Tamalpais High School District School bonds, which failed last month by a mere three percentage points of the required two-thirds majority. Voter turnout was only 29 per cent.

A slightly better registration percentage, plus a bigger turnout at the polls could have made a difference in the outcome. At least, the result would have been more nearly representative of the desires of the total voting public.

In 1960, statewide, 72 per cent of adult Californians otherwise eligible to vote were registered. Today, the registration is down to 66 per cent of the total potential.

"Our democratic process is dependent on the ballot box," the governor said. "If we are to choose our leaders and decide the issues wisely, then the maximum possible number of eligible voters must participate in the elective process."

We heartily agree.

The legal registration deadline is 54 days before election day. But don't wait until then. You might forget, and you will have lost your most effective voice in the shaping of state government for the next four years.

COMPANY OWNERSHIP GIVEN TO WORKERS

An industrialist surprised his 300 employees by making them owners of his $2.5 million electronics firm in Wetzlar, West Germany, not long ago.

Upon reaching his 70th birthday, the generous man decided to turn over the entire business to all his employees in the form of a foundation that they themselves would control.

Each worker, over and above his salary, will share in the firm's profits on the basis of seniority and position.

The example set by this employer could do much to foster better management-labor relations if imitated by numerous others in a completely voluntary manner.

The problems of sharing wealth are considerably lessened when all persons involved are motivated by a sense of Christian justice and charity.

On the other hand, bitterness, coercion and injustice hurt rather than help the beneficial relationship that should exist between employers and employees.

Should California Legislature Enact State-Wide Smog Laws?

By HENRY C. MAC ARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — Whether wide revision of state laws controlling administration of air pollution will be effected by the 1966 legislature in special session, or whether the state will continue attempts to control poisoning of the atmosphere on a regional basis, is a question causing some concern.

It is virtually a certainty that the subject will be one for discussion, due to the new laws adopted earlier this year applying to so-called smog-control devices on automobiles.

AT THE PRESENT time, nobody knows just where the state stands with relation to enforcement of the laws which contemplated requirement of such devices on used cars. New cars sold after the first of the year are required to have such devices.

Consequently, it is necessary, if the intent of the legislature is to be carried out and a move made on behalf of cleaner air for California, for the governor to call for smog control.

Some concern has been voiced by legislators to the effect that air pollution matters, instead of being administered by several area agencies, perhaps with different sets of standards and sometimes conflicting regulations, should be centralized in a state office, with a directing head and a state-wide board controlling all policy matters.

SOME BUSINESS and industry oppose this principle, on the grounds that problems are different in different parts of the state. What might be good for the Los Angeles area, for instance, might well be out of line in the San Francisco bay area.

Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, said during the recent session of the legislature that it might be necessary to go to an all-powerful administrator, who would have the final say in what could or could not be done in smog control. Senator Collier has worked with air pollution problems for some time, and as chairman of the senate transportation committee, is well versed in the subject, particularly on vehicle control devices.

Although the legislature has not dragged its feet with relation to keeping California's atmosphere clean, it is a fact that the situation becomes worse as time passes by. Many factors are involved, but the most important one appears now to be emissions of various poisons from car exhausts.

LENGTHY STUDIES from a half dozen different state agencies have dealt with this problem, but so far, no one solution has been brought forward to control such emissions.

Manufacturers of control devices have about given up, and to date, the pollution control board has approved only one device for installation on used cars.

The problem is one of far-reaching import, and for the safety of the people, the quicker it is solved the better.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Another Reader Is Commended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to commend Charles C. Whiteaker for his remarks in the Journal regarding U.S. involvement in Rhodesia. Would that we could have more such citizens striving to save their country from our present government. The time is short. The cause of the eastern blackout will never be really known. If the public would just examine the voting records of their representatives. Make sure they are constructing the kind of country in which they wish to live.

Some Persons Need Conscience

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the Dec. 1 edition, Mrs. Gerstner asks a few questions and I would appreciate the chance of answering her. She asks, "Who are these people exerting the effort toward 'social justice and fair play in housing?' "

Mrs. Gerstner, these are people whose consciences have not rotted away from years of disuse. These are the people who live their religions, not just talk about them. These are the Prophets of the Twentieth Century, sent to prod a corrupt community.

Mrs. Gerstner then asks why are they resurrecting the "dead horse" of fair housing when Proposition 14 "restored freedom" when it was overwhelmingly victorious last year.

Mrs. Gerstner, that dead horse was not buried—the rotting carcass of bigotry still stinks up the air of this country. If bigotry could not be buried by legislation, it does not follow that it cannot be buried at all. The organizations that you decry may succeed in removing some of the carcass.

Finally, you talk of free will and God. Mrs. Gerstner, really, how do you think that God would have voted on Proposition 14?

Second Deck, Second Route?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Well, I see three-fifths of our Board of Supervisors and the Golden Gate Bridge District have reached into their bag of tricks and pulled out a second deck for the bridge.

Huzzah. I'm sure those who join me in the morning and evening crushes along 101 are as pleased as I. Just think, when the second deck is finished we can crawl at our usual 25-mph pace down to the bridge, cross it at 65 mph, and then crawl from the toll plaza into the downtown area of San Francisco.

We might save a couple of minutes. That is, if the deck is completed next week. . . .

You apparently didn't consider widening 101 where it so pathetically needs it. You apparently didn't consider using some of that money for an alternate route.

For most of us, there's one way to get to the bridge. Without another way or more, a second deck will be folly.

Ferry boats? A joke! Unless you live in Sausalito or Tiburon. You can't get to them any faster than you can get to the bridge.

Why didn't you fall-guy commuters let the men you've voted into office know they are there to vote in your behalf?

Prohibition wasn't popular, so the voters did something about it. I don't think the second deck will accomplish anything.

If I'm wrong, let me know.

Fairfax Vote Discouraging

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was most discouraging to read in the Nov. 23 edition that the "Fairfax Councilmen Vote Down Viet Resolutions, 4-1," and it brought several questions to my mind. Firstly, what right do the city fathers have to vote on an opinion in behalf of the Fairfax community? Secondly, who voted against it and what were their reasons? The reporter very ably presents Mr. Pagni's (and others in the audience) reasons for backing the resolution; however, I feel he made a very serious omission in not representing the opposing side, because the reader is led to believe that four out of five high officials in Fairfax oppose our foreign policy in Viet Nam. Can they really think Communists will cease their continuous aggression if we pull out? Or do they believe that we are the aggressors, uninvited and unwanted by the South Vietnamese people? If this is true, I would like to suggest that they read a letter from the Saigon students to the American people (Nov. 8 issue of U.S. News and World Report) which is their answer to the Anti-Viet Nam Demonstrations in U. S.

It is my fondest hope that the four councilmen who voted against the resolution did so in the belief that it was not in their jurisdiction to represent the opinions of the people of Fairfax.

Industry Is Out Looking Around For More Good, Qualified Workers

WASHINGTON — Get ready for a shock — a welcome one:

Conditions are ripe today for the nearly total elimination of unemployment.

I'm not talking about WPA or leaf-raking or other made-work. I'm talking about real jobs.

The key facts, which turn the unemployment problem upside down, are these:

FOR THE FIRST time since the industrial revolution there are more jobs in the U.S. looking for workers than there are workers to fill them.

Industry is so starved for qualified employees today that big firms send recruiting teams to scour the entire country for workers; they bribe and steal each other's workers and when a factory closes, the recruitment teams swarm at the gates to hire the dismissed.

This is no exaggeration. It is visible all over the nation. Automobile companies have even been scouting the poverty pockets of Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennyslvania signing up unemployed miners.

What we now have in the U.S., on the basis of the latest studies, is this:

NEARLY 3,000,000 jobs seeking and searching for qualified workers.

Nearly 3,000,000 unemployed, most of whom are not qualified — do not have the work skills — to take the jobs that are open.

All of this means:

That private industry can create and at this very moment is thirstily demanding an enlarged work force capable of wiping out almost completely the nation's unemployment.

That the problem of erasing unemployment is not how to create the jobs — industry is doing that — but how the unemployed can be trained to man the jobs which are beckoning to them.

HERE THE SITUATION cries out for a new approach to the central problem which creates present-day unemployment and which is now depriving industry of urgently needed workers.

This is not to suggest that government should do the job, but rather that government should help create the conditions to enable industry to do the job.

For this purpose Congress will have before it next month a practical and constructive bill, developed by Sen. Winston Prouty, R., Vt. and Rep. Thomas Curtis, R., Mo., and supported by 105 Republican members of Congress.

The Prouty-Curtis proposal goes to the heart of the problem: How best to provide the job skills so the unemployed can fill the jobs waiting for them. As Sen. Prouty puts it: "The most efficient and effective job training in this country is being done by the nation's greatest job trainer—private industry."

BUT MUCH MORE needs to be done to dent the number of unskilled jobless and to provide the work force industry urgently needs.

To encourage industry to mount new and expanded training programs the Prouty-Curtis bill provides that the same seven per cent tax credit for new investment in plant and equipment be extended to investment in human capital; that is, in developing the skills of present and future workers.

New Broadcast Plan Is Pushed By NASA

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is embarking on a new space project that could revolutionize world communication systems within a decade.

Known as the direct-broadcast satellite, the spectacular NASA project could directly affect every TV and radio set owner in the U.S. and abroad as well as domestic and foreign communication carriers.

IN A MEMORANDUM to leading aerospace industries, NASA authorities are asking them to submit by mid-January "feasibility studies to advance the development" of a direct-broadcast satellite system.

This communications satellite, according to NASA scientists, would use atomic power to relay broadcasts from a centrally located transmission station on the ground directly to individual TV and radio receivers.

Communications satellites now orbiting the earth, such as "Tell-Star" and "Early Bird," are only able to relay radio-TV signals to extremely sensitive and costly receiving stations with high-rise antennas. These satellites use power from solar cells and batteries.

THE DIRECT-BROADCAST satellite will weigh between 5,000 and 7,000 pounds, as compared to less than 100 pounds for the communications satellites in operation.

The nuclear reactor, similar to but much larger than SNAP 10-a used in several U.S. experimental satellites, would generate upward of 40 kilowatts of electricity, or many times the power now produced by solar cells and conventional-type batteries in the communications satellites.

This atomic power would produce sufficient current to transmit from a single transmitter more than a half dozen radio and TV broadcasts at the same time to home receivers.

Stationed at 22,330 miles above the Atlantic Ocean, near the equator, a single direct-broadcast satellite would have an estimated range of nearly one million square miles. It could beam signals from a New York or Miami TV-radio station into homes anywhere in the U.S., Western Europe, South America or Africa.

Only minor modifications in home receivers and inexpensive changes in antennas would be needed to receive pictures as clear as those now picked up from local stations, according to NASA scientists.

NASA OFFICIALS pushing the extraordinary project contend that the launching of the first direct-broadcast satellite is as important to U.S. prestige as putting a man on the moon.

Also that the communications satellite venture will be infinitely cheaper—an estimated $1 billion, as compared to nearly $40 billion for the moon project.

In their backstage discussions with congressional and space industry authorities, NASA experts are warning that if Russia achieves this space breakthrough before the U.S., the Kremlin could pepper every television and radio set in the world with its propaganda.

They firmly hold that this is no idle threat, pointing out that the Soviet already is discussing exactly such a joint project with the French. The idea was broached to Foreign Minister Couve de Murville when he was in Moscow last month.

LAST WEEK the first color TV transmission took place between Moscow and Paris, with the use of the Russian Bolnya I satellite and the French Secam system. French scientists, who favor closer space cooperation with the U.S. and not Russia, are warning this is only the start of Moscow-Paris collaboration.

They also are saying the Soviet is offering use of its closely guarded launching facilities to orbit the first joint Franco-Russian satellite.

FRANCE IS preparing to launch rockets for the exploration of the upper atmosphere from AdelieLand, in the Antarctic, in 1967. Intelligence reports that an expedition has left Paris to prepare the launching platforms. French Dragon and Centaure rockets will be used in the tests. . . . Britain's strategic nuclear bombing force has been re-equipped with new Mark II Vulcan and Victor planes with double the engine power of the older models. According to the U.S. Air Force, nuclear weapons can now be accurately delivered at any height, from tree-top level to 55,000 feet, by the new British bombers.

SANTA WON'T FORGET FOUR-LEGGED WAIFS

Homeless animals at the Marin County Humane Society will not be forgotten this Christmas.

Members of the society's women's auxiliary, and a special committee headed by Mrs. Evelyn B. Levy, will stuff stockings with animal goodies next Tuesday. If the animals are taken to new homes between then and Christmas, the stockings go with them.

Also going wtih them, according to society executive director Mel L. Morse, will be these warnings:

1. Do not give a child a pet which is too young to survive its "adoption" and subsequent handling.
2. Be sure the pet is wanted. Find out if the family has provisions for keeping it.
3. Never give a pet to youngster whose parents have not agreed he or she should have one.

Drake Students To Elect Spring Song, Yell Leaders

Sir Francis Drake High School students will elect seven song leaders and four yell leaders for the basketball season on Friday.

Students running for the various positions will perform before the student body at a special assembly tomorrow, climaxing a week of campaign.

The Helmsmen, composed of seniors Rich Cohen, Dianne Gibbs, Brad Kritsky, and Sue Travis of San Anselmo, are the only nominees for yell leaders.

Twenty-one girls are vying for song-leader. Senior girls are Michelle Bozic, Cathy Callan, Kathi Cosgrove, Vicki Edlstein, Pat Hamm, Sally Lloyd, Patty Pearce, Lorri Renolds, Sherri Worth, of San Anselmo, and Kathy Lococo of Fairfax. Juniors are Becky Bell, Karen Fuller, Krista Martin, Marianne Mitchell, Lynee Queen, of San Anselmo, Linda Gillespie, Dolly Maloney of Fairfax, and Theresa Nielsen of Forest Knolls. Sophomores Chris Porter and Judy Tuttle of San Anselmo, and Patti Schmidt of Fairfax are also competing.

The high school's new selection procedure requires each student to register before he may vote. Rob Smith, election committee head, reported 1,270 students have registered, or 75 per cent of the student body.

Strep Leads List Again

Streptococcus infections again led the list of communicable diseases in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 24 strep infection cases reported, of which 10 were in San Rafael, six were in Novato. Mill Valley and San Anselmo had three apiece; others were in Sausalito and the rural areas.

There were 12 cases of gonorrhea, of which five were in rural areas, three in Mill Valley, two in San Rafael, and one each in Fairfax and San Anselmo.

San Rafael had the county's lone case of measles and two of the four cases of syphilis. Other syphilis cases were in San Anselmo and Novato.

One case of salmonella food poisoning was reported in Corte Madera.

Counties Called Disaster Areas

SACRAMENTO (AP) — With words of sympathy for the victims, President Johnson has declared Riverside, San Bernardino and Ventura counties as disaster areas.

The move enables them to get federal aid to clean up damage to public facilities from the recent rain storms, and flooding.

In announcing the action yesterday, Gov. Brown said Johnson authorized an initial outlay of $1 million for repairing roads and other public facilities.

Noel Dance Scheduled

"Angelique de Noel," which translates "Angels of Christmas," will be the theme of the Associated Girl Students dance at Terra Linda High School at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Merit Pay Plan Agreement Out Until Summer

Members of the San Rafael Teachers Assn. salary committee and two San Rafael Board of Education members agreed Monday it will be at least next summer before they can come up with any recommendations about a merit pay plan for San Rafael teachers.

Alan L. Hopkins, committee chairman, said his group and board members Walter J. Doll and Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. agreed that "it will be at least the end of this school year and probably into the next" before conclusions are reached.

"We are in the midst of defining what we are talking about," he added.

Hopkins said they decided to keep meeting on the subject on a regular basis. Next session will be at 8 p.m. Jan. 10 at Davidson School.

State Board To Look At Poverty Programs

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state board of education will have its first look at special programs from school districts to avail themselves of new federal money to aid children from low income families when it meets in San Francisco tomorrow and Friday.

California could receive up to $77.8 million under the new federal act, for the balance of the current school year. The money was not provided until late September and school districts have been hard pressed to develop programs.

The board of education has set a tentative deadline of Dec. 31 to get all the programs approved. Even then, most districts will lose a number of months in which the program could have been in effect.

Wilson C. Riles, state director of compensatory education, said the largest program he is recommending for approval totals $11 million to benefit children primarily in east and south-central Los Angeles, including Watts.

The program, submitted by the Los Angeles city unified school district, features new or stepped-up efforts in pre-school and kindergarten education, reading and other language development skills such as English for the foreign born, library resources, counseling, school-community coordination, cultural enrichment, health services and in-service training of teachers.

(The recently released report of the special commission studying the Watts riots had called for more pre-school programs and setting up certain schools in disadvantaged areas as emergency schools.)

Other programs among those totaling $20 million which have been submitted include plans from San Francisco, Long Beach, Fresno, Berkeley, Riverside and New Haven unified school districts, plus various elementary and high school districts. Of these, San Francisco's is the largest at $3.4 million.

Supervisors Delay Action On Assessment Appeal Case

Marin County Supervisors yesterday, sitting as a board of equalization, delayed action on an unusual assessment appeal to look at the land involved.

The appeal by three owners on the assessment of 16 Mill Valley lots came before the board after the owners filed suit in Marin County Superior Court seeking a rehearing.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, representing the board, stipulated that the case could be reheard.

In their suit, Sara Hilarita Boyle Silberberg, Carmelita Boyle Silberberg and Ida Boyle Gross argued that the board of supervisors never got the full information on Mill Valley zoning restrictions when it turned down the appeal last July.

The city will reportedly allow a house for every 1.25 acre while the assessor's office said the land could take two to three houses an acre.

The assessor says the total value of the land is $141,000. The property borders the Mill Valley Golf Course.

After looking at the land and getting further information from city officials, supervisors will study the matter again Jan. 4.

Frosh, French Groups Benefit

Freshman class and French Club will share profits from refreshment concessions at Terra Linda High School basketball games.

The two groups were selected because their treasuries appeared in the greatest need, according to a ruling by a student committee consisting of Cathy Calaway, Pat Bryne, Sam Osborne and Sue McGee.

The freshman class will use the money to repay a loan from the Student Council to cover cost of building a float for the Homecoming Parade. The French Club will use the money to buy foreign language movies which will be available to all language classes.

Sausalito Couple Buys Mother Lode Gallery

Mr. and Mrs. Dorner T. Schueler of Sausalito have acquired a Mother Lode country art gallery and plan to move to Murphys later this month.

Schueler, a painter and commercial artist, in addition to operating the Gallery at Murphys in Calaveras County, will also have an office with the Calaveras Press at Angels Camp, where he will continue his commercial work. He also plans a studio at his Murphys home.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By MICHAEL PERCY

Short Story In The Newspaper May Hide A Drama In Family

You often have to do more than read between the lines, for there is much drama in your newspaper if you use a little imagination to get "the story behind the story."

An example of a seemingly innocuous item that might appear in your I-J under a one-line is, "Teen Dance Set,,:

"A dance for Belvedere teenagers has been scheduled for 8 p.m. today at the Community Center under the sponsorship of the Belvedere Recreation Commission."

(There is no dance tonight. The item is just an example of something you might read).

Anyway, most people probably read the story and accept it as a routine announcement. There will be a dance.

SOMEONE ELSE might pause a moment and envision a group of smiling, clean-cut youngsters gathered at the Community Center to exault in their youth, laugh and dance those dances they dance, etc., and perhaps think back to the dances of their own youth. . . but that's not using your imagination to the fullest.

Imagine a typical Belvedere family: Father home from the city after a commute across the bay by ferry boat, relaxing with a drink and reading the I-J. The mother busy in the kitchen. Two teen-age children, a boy, 17, and a girl, 15, upstairs on school assignments.

DINNER IS CALLED and the family sits down. Not much is said and about halfway through the meal, father cheerfully speaks up:

"Well, I see by the paper there's a dance tonight. I guess you kids have dates and will be going?"

Silence. And then:

"Oh, Daddy I just hate you!" The girl cries, pushing away from the table and tossing her napkin onto her plate. "You know on one will ask me!" She runs from the room in tears.

"What was THAT all about?" the father asks in amazement.

"SHE'S A CREEP," the boy replies. "Don't you know? An its."

"What do you mean calling your sister a creep?" the father demands. "And what's an 'its'? Ehe —"

"An its is what you call someone when you can't think of anything worse," the boy answers. "It's bad enough having a kid sister around at school and all, but when I have to keep roping my friends in to date her — wow!"

"NOW SEE here, son —"

"No, maybe you'd beter see here," the mother breaks in. "Perhaps if you spent a little more time with your children you'd get to know them a little better and find out what their problems are." She tosses her napkin onto her plate.

"Now see here—"

But he is too late. She has stormed from the room. Father tosses his napkin onto his plate, grabs his coat and hat and leaves the house, probably headed for the nearest bar in Tiburon. The boys places his napkin on the table, goes to the kitchen, comes back with his dessert, and sits down to eat it alone. But is it his just desserts?

WHEN YOU THINK about it, perhaps there is some news, the nature of which is so heart rending, it should be suppressed. All of that heart break just because of one little story . . . .

Secrets Of Correspondence With An Aide To The President

WASHINGTON—It has been rumored that McGeorge Bundy, the President's White House advisor on foreign affairs, has been offered the presidency of the Ford Foundation at $75,000 a year. It has also been rumored that Bundy really doesn't want to take the job, if the President would indicate what plans he has for Bundy's future. It is further rumored that Bundy wrote a letter to Mr. Johnson telling him of the Ford offer, but so far the President has not answered the letter.

This is not the first time such a correspondence has taken place between a White House aide and the president. I have in my possession a series of letters another presidential staffer wrote to President Johnson in hopes of forcing the President's hand.

The first one said:

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I have just been offered the Chancellorship of the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools at $100,000 a year. I told them, of course, it would be out of the question to take the job when my services were so badly needed by you. They asked me to write to you, knowing full well what your answer will be. Waiting to hear from you I remain.

Yours truly,"

The following week another letter was sent.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I know how busy you have been lately, but I was just wondering if you ever received my letter concerning the job offer made to me by the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools. It's quite possible since Larry O'Brien took over as postmaster general, the letter may have gotten lost.

I have assured the Appalachia people that you have something very big in store for me in the next few months, something you would rather not announced at this time, and that is probably why you hesitated to put anything in writing concerning my future. If you could just hint in a letter something to this effect without the specifics, I'm sure it would satisfy the Appalachia people and they would stop bothering me.

Sincerely yours,"

Two weeks later a third letter was sent.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

Things must be really hectic at the ranch. I've been kidding the mailman about losing a letter from the President of the United States sent to me, but he insists he's never seen one. To bring you up to date, the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools want me to head up their program. My wife says I ought to take it, but I said my first loyalty was to you, and that you would be infuriated if I even considered it.

Could you have either Jack Valenti or Bill Moyers or someone call me just to confirm this, as the Appalachia people are starting to wonder if I really do work in the White House. I'd be very happy to stay right where I am. Unlike many White House staffers I have no ambitions other than to serve you to the best of my ability. The photographs of you at LBJ ranch are wonderful.

Your Faithful Servant"

The final letter was sent on November 14.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I regret that I must submit my resignation for personal reasons. Now before you protest. . . . ."

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

The Marin County Planning Commission denied two applications for sawmills at Nicasio, one at the George Rogers ranch and another at the Roy Bunt ranch.

20 YEARS AGO

Marin County farms selling milk had increased but the number of dairymen producing cream had decreased, according to the agricultural census.

Larkspur's population reached 2,525, an increase of 967 in five years, the U.S. Census Bureau reported.

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 8, the 342nd day of 1965 with 23 to follow.

The moon is full; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

In 1776, George Washington crossed the Delaware River, near Trenton, N.J. and landed on Pennsylvania soil.

In 1863, President Lincoln announced his plan for reconstruction of the South, a plan providing for amnesty of all who supported the Confederacy except the highest leaders.

In 1886, delegates from 25 unions founded the American Federation of Labor at Columbus, Ohio.

In 1949, the Chinese Nationalist government, defeated by the Communists moved its headquarters from the mainland to Formosa.

A Thought for the Day — President Lincoln said: "Truth is generally the best vindication against slander."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bidding Hinged On A Finesse Is Profitable, If Played Right

It is quite reasonable to bid a slam that depends on one successful finesse.

You don't always have to take that finesse if an opponent discards obligingly.

Opening lead — ♠ 10

Declarer took his four spade tricks, discarding a club from dummy.

East discarded the deuce of hearts and then the seven of clubs.

DISCARDS FALL

South next led a club to dummy's queen and then ran the hearts.

Declarer and West each discarded a diamond on the third heart.

South threw the ten of clubs next, and West discarded the jack of clubs.

Now South went astray by trying the finesse with the jack of diamonds.

West took the queen of diamonds and the ace of clubs, defeating the contract.

SHOULD LEAD CLUB

Declarer could make sure of the contract at the end by leading a club instead of playing the diamonds.

West would have to take the ace of clubs and lead diamonds, thus giving South a free finesse.

West should make things more difficult for South by discarding a second diamond instead of the jack of clubs.

South goes down if he leads a club or tries a diamond finesse.

Declarer can make the contract if he leads out the king and ace of diamonds, relying on the queen to be unguarded after West's two discards, but this sort of play is easier to talk about than to make at the table.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ Q J 7 2
♥ Q 10
♦ A J 7 2
♣ K 10 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 13 points in high cards and one point for the doubleton, but the hand is not worth an opening bid.

The doubleton queen of hearts simply is not worth three points.

Avoid making an opening bid that depends on counting doubleton queens and jacks at full value.

Superior Court Gets Meter Case

Robert Earl Williams, 30, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday in Marin Municipal Court following preliminary hearing on a charge of stealing from San Rafael parking meters.

The San Francisco suspect is charged with petty theft with a prior conviction. He allegedly was caught by San Rafael police while opening a meter coin box with a key.

SANTA WON'T FORGET FOUR-LEGGED WAIFS

Homeless animals at the Marin County Humane Society will not be forgotten this Christmas.

Members of the society's women's auxiliary, and a special committee headed by Mrs. Evelyn B. Levy, will stuff stockings with animal goodies next Tuesday. If the animals are taken to new homes between then and Christmas, the stockings go with them.

Also going wtih them, according to society executive director Mel L. Morse, will be these warnings:

1. Do not give a child a pet which is too young to survive its "adoption" and subsequent handling.
2. Be sure the pet is wanted. Find out if the family has provisions for keeping it.
3. Never give a pet to youngster whose parents have not agreed he or she should have one.

Drake Students To Elect Spring Song, Yell Leaders

Sir Francis Drake High School students will elect seven song leaders and four yell leaders for the basketball season on Friday.

Students running for the various positions will perform before the student body at a special assembly tomorrow, climaxing a week of campaign.

The Helmsmen, composed of seniors Rich Cohen, Dianne Gibbs, Brad Kritsky, and Sue Travis of San Anselmo, are the only nominees for yell leaders.

Twenty-one girls are vying for song-leader. Senior girls are Michelle Bozic, Cathy Callan, Kathi Cosgrove, Vicki Edlstein, Pat Hamm, Sally Lloyd, Patty Pearce, Lorri Renolds, Sherri Worth, of San Anselmo, and Kathy Lococo of Fairfax. Juniors are Becky Bell, Karen Fuller, Krista Martin, Marianne Mitchell, Lynee Queen, of San Anselmo, Linda Gillespie, Dolly Maloney of Fairfax, and Theresa Nielsen of Forest Knolls. Sophomores Chris Porter and Judy Tuttle of San Anselmo, and Patti Schmidt of Fairfax are also competing.

The high school's new selection procedure requires each student to register before he may vote. Rob Smith, election committee head, reported 1,270 students have registered, or 75 per cent of the student body.

Strep Leads List Again

Streptococcus infections again led the list of communicable diseases in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 24 strep infection cases reported, of which 10 were in San Rafael, six were in Novato. Mill Valley and San Anselmo had three apiece; others were in Sausalito and the rural areas.

There were 12 cases of gonorrhea, of which five were in rural areas, three in Mill Valley, two in San Rafael, and one each in Fairfax and San Anselmo.

San Rafael had the county's lone case of measles and two of the four cases of syphilis. Other syphilis cases were in San Anselmo and Novato.

One case of salmonella food poisoning was reported in Corte Madera.

Counties Called Disaster Areas

SACRAMENTO (AP) — With words of sympathy for the victims, President Johnson has declared Riverside, San Bernardino and Ventura counties as disaster areas.

The move enables them to get federal aid to clean up damage to public facilities from the recent rain storms, and flooding.

In announcing the action yesterday, Gov. Brown said Johnson authorized an initial outlay of $1 million for repairing roads and other public facilities.

Noel Dance Scheduled

"Angelique de Noel," which translates "Angels of Christmas," will be the theme of the Associated Girl Students dance at Terra Linda High School at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Merit Pay Plan Agreement Out Until Summer

Members of the San Rafael Teachers Assn. salary committee and two San Rafael Board of Education members agreed Monday it will be at least next summer before they can come up with any recommendations about a merit pay plan for San Rafael teachers.

Alan L. Hopkins, committee chairman, said his group and board members Walter J. Doll and Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. agreed that "it will be at least the end of this school year and probably into the next" before conclusions are reached.

"We are in the midst of defining what we are talking about," he added.

Hopkins said they decided to keep meeting on the subject on a regular basis. Next session will be at 8 p.m. Jan. 10 at Davidson School.

Beer Stops Aches On 103rd Birthday

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Martha Forbes celebrated her 103rd birthday today with her usual noontime beverage — a bottle of beer.

"Oh, I love my beer. It keeps me from aching," says Mrs. Forbes, who was born on a farm in Gentry County, Mo.

State Board To Look At Poverty Programs

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state board of education will have its first look at special programs from school districts to avail themselves of new federal money to aid children from low income families when it meets in San Francisco tomorrow and Friday.

California could receive up to $77.8 million under the new federal act, for the balance of the current school year. The money was not provided until late September and school districts have been hard pressed to develop programs.

The board of education has set a tentative deadline of Dec. 31 to get all the programs approved. Even then, most districts will lose a number of months in which the program could have been in effect.

Wilson C. Riles, state director of compensatory education, said the largest program he is recommending for approval totals $11 million to benefit children primarily in east and south-central Los Angeles, including Watts.

The program, submitted by the Los Angeles city unified school district, features new or stepped-up efforts in pre-school and kindergarten education, reading and other language development skills such as English for the foreign born, library resources, counseling, school-community coordination, cultural enrichment, health services and in-service training of teachers.

(The recently released report of the special commission studying the Watts riots had called for more pre-school programs and setting up certain schools in disadvantaged areas as emergency schools.)

Other programs among those totaling $20 million which have been submitted include plans from San Francisco, Long Beach, Fresno, Berkeley, Riverside and New Haven unified school districts, plus various elementary and high school districts. Of these, San Francisco's is the largest at $3.4 million.

Supervisors Delay Action On Assessment Appeal Case

Marin County Supervisors yesterday, sitting as a board of equalization, delayed action on an unusual assessment appeal to look at the land involved.

The appeal by three owners on the assessment of 16 Mill Valley lots came before the board after the owners filed suit in Marin County Superior Court seeking a rehearing.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, representing the board, stipulated that the case could be reheard.

In their suit, Sara Hilarita Boyle Silberberg, Carmelita Boyle Silberberg and Ida Boyle Gross argued that the board of supervisors never got the full information on Mill Valley zoning restrictions when it turned down the appeal last July.

The city will reportedly allow a house for every 1.25 acre while the assessor's office said the land could take two to three houses an acre.

The assessor says the total value of the land is $141,000. The property borders the Mill Valley Golf Course.

After looking at the land and getting further information from city officials, supervisors will study the matter again Jan. 4.

Frosh, French Groups Benefit

Freshman class and French Club will share profits from refreshment concessions at Terra Linda High School basketball games.

The two groups were selected because their treasuries appeared in the greatest need, according to a ruling by a student committee consisting of Cathy Calaway, Pat Bryne, Sam Osborne and Sue McGee.

The freshman class will use the money to repay a loan from the Student Council to cover cost of building a float for the Homecoming Parade. The French Club will use the money to buy foreign language movies which will be available to all language classes.

Sausalito Couple Buys Mother Lode Gallery

Mr. and Mrs. Dorner T. Schueler of Sausalito have acquired a Mother Lode country art gallery and plan to move to Murphys later this month.

Schueler, a painter and commercial artist, in addition to operating the Gallery at Murphys in Calaveras County, will also have an office with the Calaveras Press at Angels Camp, where he will continue his commercial work. He also plans a studio at his Murphys home.

Pension Hike May Actually Hurt A Few

By THOMAS S. STIMMEL
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — For 29,000 Veterans Administration pensioners, the recent increase in social security benefits is a small disaster instead of a small bonanza.

Because of technicalities and bad timing, they're getting less money than they did just before the social security increase.

Typical is the case of a 71-year-old veteran's widow in Oregon, whose VA pension was reduced $16 a month because her social security benefits were increased $4 a month.

The Veterans Administration acknowledges this, but points out that such cases are exceptions. They affect only 29,000 of more than 2.1 million non-service connected pensioners. Service-connected compensations are not affected.

A VA official explained the situation this way:

In 1964 Congress expected to approve increases in veterans pensions and social security benefits, both to become effective Jan. 1, 1965.

The veterans bill excluded 10 per cent of all retirement income from pension calculations so that pensioners would not be penalized by the increase in social security benefits, since these VA pensions are pegged to income—the higher the income, the lower, the pension.

The 10 per cent exclusion clause put many people into lower income brackets, thereby increasing their pensions. (For instance, a person with an income of $610, would have his pension calculated as if his income were $549. This would put him into a lower income bracket and increase his pension because $600 is a dividing point between pension brackets.)

However, because the VA bill passed on schedule and the social security bill did not become effective until October, a problem developed for some 29,000 people, including the Oregon widow.

All of them had been put into a lower income bracket by the exclusion clause and therefore were receiving a higher VA pension. Then the social security increase came along and pushed them back up to a higher income bracket, cutting their VA pension.

The VA says these people actually have benefitted from a "windfall" for the past nine months. The VA emphasizes that the, 29,000 people did get increases after all. The widow, for example, received $45 a month a year ago and gets $48 a month now. The trouble is that in the nine months between the VA pension raise and the social security raise, she got $64 a month.

Communist Back On Union Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Archie Brown, an avowed Communist, is back in his old job today on the executive board of Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

The longshoreman, held the same post in 1962 when he was convicted under a federal law barring Communists from union office. The U.S. Supreme Court, in a test case involving Brown, ruled last June that the law was unconstitutional.

Results of an election which placed Brown on the board bers was announced yesterday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Gout's Startling Pain Usually Strikes In Small Hours Of Night

VAN DELLEN

Most attacks of gout begin in the wee hours of morning. When the great toe is involved, the pain comes suddenly and produces maximum disability within minutes or hours. The digit feels hot and is so tender to the touch the sufferer protects it carefully. Standing hurts, and wearing a shoe is unbearable. Many slit or cut out the tip or side of the footwear in order to be on their feet.

THIS MANEUVER is a sign of gout, because it implies that distress appeared suddenly and the individual was forced to do something as an emergency measure. Involvement of the fingers, wrists, ankles, spine, and other toes can be just as uncomfortable.

The clue to the diagnosis of gout also comes from a number of precipitating factors. The disease may arise after relatively trivial trauma such as playing too much golf or mowing the lawn. The same can be said of the man who indulges in excessive sightseeing. I often wonder how many attacks of gout were triggered by the New York World's Fair. The discomfort is unlike the ordinary stiffness that follows unaccustomed exercise.

Gout sometimes develops the morning after eating or drinking too heavily. Such debauches are poison to the man so predisposed, and many have learned through experience to use discretion during the holidays and at conventions, as well as on birthdays and duck hunting or fishing trips. Overeating of meat, venison, or goose is condemned because these foods are rich in purines. Any other food or beverage that triggers an attack should be avoided. Several medicines, such as vitamin B, liver extract, bile salts, insulin, and certain diuretics are known to cause an attack.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

THERE IS NO shortage of medication for the relief of pain and the prevention of recurrences. In addition, many newcomers are about to be introduced. But, regardless of the remedy, gout victims should drink large amounts of water to lessen the chance of developing kidney stones.

GRAVEL FORMER

V.F. writes: My husband has been suffering off and on for five years with gravel; when it passes he is in severe pain. Is there any way to prevent its formation?

REPLY

Have the gravel analyzed and when the causative chemicals are determined, he should omit foods containing these substances. Meanwhile encourage him to drink large amounts of water to keep the chemicals in solution.

INFLAMED VEIN

A. D. writes: Can phlebitis develop in an arm?

REPLY

Yes. Vein inflammation is more common in the legs, but I have seen phlebitis in almost every surface vein of the body.

HARDENED ARTERIES

H. R. writes: Can a man of 40 have hardening of the brain cells?

REPLY

Yes, but it's the arteries and not the cells that become hardened.

Dixie Negro Voters Help GOP Strength

By DON BACON
Advance News Service

COLUMBIA, S.C. — The Negro's march to the ballot box is accelerating the growth of the Republican party in this Deep South State.

Almost all southern Negroes now registering to vote for the first time are Democrats. But, it is estimated, for every Negro who registers as a Democrat, a white person joins the Republicans.

He may be either a new voter or a party switcher.

"I'll show you what I think of the voting rights act," said a South Carolina white man as he whipped out his wallet to show a newly acquired Republican party membership card.

The effect of the tit-for-tat registration activity has been to confuse even more the outlook for this state's 1966 elections, which southern Republicans view as crucial.

Party-switching has been widespread in South Carolina since Sen. Strom Thurmond started it last year. Formerly a Democrat, the ultra-conservative senator found the Republican label more to his liking.

Recent Negro voter registration drives in such places as nearby Clarendon County have spurred counter-measures by segregationist whites, and have led to an effective statewide white registration campaign by the Republican organization.

Besides urging previously unregistered whites to sign up, South Carolina Republicans have been actively soliciting new members among politically experienced Democrats and independents.

Among the Deep South states, the Republican party here is perhaps the best organized. It has more than 600 precinct organizations. Aided by its new recruits, it is expected to be ready to stand up to the Democratic party in the next elections.

Although the registration campaigns have only begun, the Republican drive is showing signs of success in Clarendon and Dorchester counties, where the Negro voting issue burns hottest. These are the only two South Carolina counties to which the Justice Department has sent federal voting registrars.

The arrival this month of federal registrars, whose presence is unanimously condemned by political leaders of both parties in South Carolina, gave impetus to the white voter drives.

It also brought into the picture a third political group, the South Carolina Independents, headed by outspoken segregationist Maurice Bessinger of Columbia. Bessinger's Independents have started their own statewide white voter drive.

Contending that South Carolina is "threatened with Negro rule," Bessinger recently told a founding rally that whites "must fight for our race."

It is still too early to tell what ultimate effect the white-versus-Negro voter drives will have on the two-party system in South Carolina and elsewhere in the South. Most southern political observers believe, however, that both parties must eventually solicit Negro support.

A big test for southern Republicanism comes next year in various state and local elections. The 1966 elections are especially crucial in South Carolina, where both senate seats and the governorship are on the line.

Republican candidates in the South were aided in 1964 by Barry Goldwater's candidacy. Next year there will be no Goldwater heading the ticket, although he will campaign for some southern Republicans.

South Carolina Republicans believe they have the best chance in the Deep South to capture top statewide offices. Although short on experience and registered voters, the party does possess the state's biggest single asset — Senator Thurmond, an immensely popular figure.

Thurmond faces re-election, but so far the Democrats haven't found a candidate to run against him.

The other senate seat, vacated by the death this year of Olin D. Johnston, is filled temporarily by former Gov. Donald S. Russell, a Democrat. Likely to oppose Russell for the remainder of the term is Rep. Albert Watson of Columbia, another Democrat-turned-Republican.

In the governor's race, Republicans hope to persuade retired Army Gen. Mark Clark to run against incumbent Gov. Robert E. McNair, who moved up from lieutenant governor when Russell moved to the Senate.

NO PHONY REINDEER FOR HIM

For the benefit of youngsters confused by Santa Clauses who fly in helicopters and other modern conveyances, the jolly old fellow will fly to—or at least be at—Sabella's Restaurant, Alto, at 5:30 p.m. Monday. His team includes all eight traditional members plus that latecomer, Rudolph-the-Red-Nosed. The animals will be accompanied by "chief elf" Grady Carothers (left), who cares for a herd of more than 100 reindeer at Santa's Village near Santa Cruz.

Novato Turns City Control To Students

The Student Executive Council of Novato High School yesterday took over the reins of government from Novato City Council and city departments heads in the semi-annual student Government Day.

From 1 to 3 p.m., students learned the functioning of city departments. Last night they made reports to the student city council. The students then turned the meeting back to the regular city council.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow jokingly asked the students to make a study of the budget at budget sessions next year to see if they can find out how to meet all of their recommendations without increasing taxes out of reason.

Dave Budde acted as mayor. Other members of the student city council were Gary Miller, Steve Alexander, Barry Barringer, and Michelle Baget.

Department heads and assistants were Harold Fain, city manager; Barbara Jones, assistant city manager; Nanette Baget, planning director; Vivian Morse, public works director; Sue Yates, assistant public works director; Ronald Pugh, parks and recreation director; Diane Castaldi, assistant parks and recreation director; Ray Hill, police chief; and Karen Leech, assistant police chief.

San Francisco Grand Jury Belabors Topless, Books

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vice in San Francisco is again under fire—this time in a grand jury denunciation of six, sex and "moral decay."

But the bright lights didn't even flicker in a city whose Barbary Coast past makes "amateur topless night" a ho-hum event and where neons flash "nude model strip poker."

The San Francisco Grand Jury, which makes reports of city activities one of its traditional functions, noted yesterday what it called a market increase in pornographic literature and "open and notorious solicitation for prostitution."

Jurors also took a new swing at the city's topless waitresses and showgirls.

Dirty books, prostitutes and semi-nude showgirls — and narcotics and homosexuals—abound in the locations frequented by San Francisco's estimated 2.5 million visitors this year, according to the grand jury report.

The visitors can bypass the shady sights, and some do but the night clubs are sharing sizeably in the $149 million-plus the conventions bureau says tourists spent in San Francisco this year.

At any rate, officials debated among themselves who should be officially concerned now with the grand jury's finding of "the rising crime rate and the apparent decay of the moral standards of the community."

The mayor's office thought the jury's findings fell under the district attorney's office. The DA's office said the report was a police matter. Police said the report was addressed to the mayor.

Mayor John Shelley, who once punned "the topless bathing suit is at the bottom of it all," issued a statement promising "never to allow wantonness, vulgarity or sexual promiscuity to take over."

North Beach club owners said the report didn't or shouldn't apply to them.

The Health Department said the city's high venereal disease rate, seventh highest among major American cities with a rate of 85.7 cases per 100,000 population this year, couldn't be traced mainly to prostitutes, who have figured in 1,500 police arrests in 1965.

Jail Sentence In Narcotic Case

Gary John Gilbert, 23, alias Gary John Ammenti, was given a 90-day jail term and placed on 18 months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. He had pleaded guilty to possession of a device to smoke a narcotic.

Gilbert, of San Francisco, originally was charged jointly with Dean Howard Engle, 20, of Monterey, with possession of marijuana. Engle faces jury trial on the latter charge in Marin Superior Court Jan. 24.

The two were arrested on Beach Road near Tiburon on Sept. 20.

Fortune In Gems Glitters At Granat Brothers Debut

Just about a fortune in gems glittered at the opening of Granat Brothers Jewelers' newest store last Friday morning opposite the Promenade Pond on the Northgate mall.

The traditional silk ribbon was replaced by a pearl necklace 39 feet long and strung with over a thousand cultured pearls. It was the same fabulous bauble that appeared recently on the NBC-TV show "Play Your Hunch" with Robert Q. Lewis and is thought to be the largest pearl necklace in the world.

As if that were not enough glamor and glitter, the shears wielded by San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini druing the ribbon cutting ceremony were studded with real diamonds and other precious gems worth more than $50,000.

Granat Brothers Jewelers were established in San Francisco in 1905. The Northgate location is the company's eighth Bay Area store. Others are located in San Francisco, Oakland, Southland, Stonestown, Hillsdale and Stevens Creek (San Jose). The firm specizalizes in fine jewelry and related items.

Granny Prints Find Favor With The Men

The midget-size floral prints that are known as "granny prints" in the women's wear field are now appearing in men's ties—and will be followed by the same patterns in sport shirts.

There's a lightweight raincoat that has a pile liner which folds up and fits into a pocket. Great coat for travel.

Gleaming Fine Silver Adds Much To Holiday Occasion

With the accent these days on elegance in entertaining, nothing adds as much to the table as the luster of fine silver, bringing a special glow to family and guests alike. Gleaming silver and festive occasions go together like love and marriage, says the Jewelry Industry Council. Silver, the "Queen of Metals," always reflects good taste and charm to family gatherings of all kinds, especially during the holidays.

A fine silver service grows more beautiful with use through the years, and makes a memorable Yuletide gift that the entire family will appreciate and enjoy. For Christmas and for use throughout the years, holloware pieces bring a "special occasion" feeling to every meal.

Beautiful silver bowls, platters, ash trays, compotes and vases are gifts of timeless value. Most popular in silver holloware gifts are silver bowls of all sizes from tiny individual ash trays to huge centerpiece bowls for flowers or fruit.

Silver rates a top place on every Christmas gift list—bringing added joy for happy holiday entertaining plus every day pleasure throughout the year.

Pension Hike May Actually Hurt A Few

By THOMAS S. STIMMEL
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — For 29,000 Veterans Administration pensioners, the recent increase in social security benefits is a small disaster instead of a small bonanza.

Because of technicalities and bad timing, they're getting less money than they did just before the social security increase.

Typical is the case of a 71-year-old veteran's widow in Oregon, whose VA pension was reduced $16 a month because her social security benefits were increased $4 a month.

The Veterans Administration acknowledges this, but points out that such cases are exceptions. They affect only 29,000 of more than 2.1 million non-service connected pensioners. Service-connected compensations are not affected.

A VA official explained the situation this way:

In 1964 Congress expected to approve increases in veterans pensions and social security benefits, both to become effective Jan. 1, 1965.

The veterans bill excluded 10 per cent of all retirement income from pension calculations so that pensioners would not be penalized by the increase in social security benefits, since these VA pensions are pegged to income—the higher the income, the lower, the pension.

The 10 per cent exclusion clause put many people into lower income brackets, thereby increasing their pensions. (For instance, a person with an income of $610, would have his pension calculated as if his income were $549. This would put him into a lower income bracket and increase his pension because $600 is a dividing point between pension brackets.)

However, because the VA bill passed on schedule and the social security bill did not become effective until October, a problem developed for some 29,000 people, including the Oregon widow.

All of them had been put into a lower income bracket by the exclusion clause and therefore were receiving a higher VA pension. Then the social security increase came along and pushed them back up to a higher income bracket, cutting their VA pension.

The VA says these people actually have benefitted from a "windfall" for the past nine months. The VA emphasizes that the, 29,000 people did get increases after all. The widow, for example, received $45 a month a year ago and gets $48 a month now. The trouble is that in the nine months between the VA pension raise and the social security raise, she got $64 a month.

Communist Back On Union Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Archie Brown, an avowed Communist, is back in his old job today on the executive board of Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

The longshoreman, held the same post in 1962 when he was convicted under a federal law barring Communists from union office. The U.S. Supreme Court, in a test case involving Brown, ruled last June that the law was unconstitutional.

Results of an election which placed Brown on the board bers was announced yesterday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Gout's Startling Pain Usually Strikes In Small Hours Of Night

VAN DELLEN

Most attacks of gout begin in the wee hours of morning. When the great toe is involved, the pain comes suddenly and produces maximum disability within minutes or hours. The digit feels hot and is so tender to the touch the sufferer protects it carefully. Standing hurts, and wearing a shoe is unbearable. Many slit or cut out the tip or side of the footwear in order to be on their feet.

THIS MANEUVER is a sign of gout, because it implies that distress appeared suddenly and the individual was forced to do something as an emergency measure. Involvement of the fingers, wrists, ankles, spine, and other toes can be just as uncomfortable.

The clue to the diagnosis of gout also comes from a number of precipitating factors. The disease may arise after relatively trivial trauma such as playing too much golf or mowing the lawn. The same can be said of the man who indulges in excessive sightseeing. I often wonder how many attacks of gout were triggered by the New York World's Fair. The discomfort is unlike the ordinary stiffness that follows unaccustomed exercise.

Gout sometimes develops the morning after eating or drinking too heavily. Such debauches are poison to the man so predisposed, and many have learned through experience to use discretion during the holidays and at conventions, as well as on birthdays and duck hunting or fishing trips. Overeating of meat, venison, or goose is condemned because these foods are rich in purines. Any other food or beverage that triggers an attack should be avoided. Several medicines, such as vitamin B, liver extract, bile salts, insulin, and certain diuretics are known to cause an attack.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

THERE IS NO shortage of medication for the relief of pain and the prevention of recurrences. In addition, many newcomers are about to be introduced. But, regardless of the remedy, gout victims should drink large amounts of water to lessen the chance of developing kidney stones.

GRAVEL FORMER

V.F. writes: My husband has been suffering off and on for five years with gravel; when it passes he is in severe pain. Is there any way to prevent its formation?

REPLY

Have the gravel analyzed and when the causative chemicals are determined, he should omit foods containing these substances. Meanwhile encourage him to drink large amounts of water to keep the chemicals in solution.

INFLAMED VEIN

A. D. writes: Can phlebitis develop in an arm?

REPLY

Yes. Vein inflammation is more common in the legs, but I have seen phlebitis in almost every surface vein of the body.

HARDENED ARTERIES

H. R. writes: Can a man of 40 have hardening of the brain cells?

REPLY

Yes, but it's the arteries and not the cells that become hardened.

Dixie Negro Voters Help GOP Strength

By DON BACON
Advance News Service

COLUMBIA, S.C. — The Negro's march to the ballot box is accelerating the growth of the Republican party in this Deep South State.

Almost all southern Negroes now registering to vote for the first time are Democrats. But, it is estimated, for every Negro who registers as a Democrat, a white person joins the Republicans.

He may be either a new voter or a party switcher.

"I'll show you what I think of the voting rights act," said a South Carolina white man as he whipped out his wallet to show a newly acquired Republican party membership card.

The effect of the tit-for-tat registration activity has been to confuse even more the outlook for this state's 1966 elections, which southern Republicans view as crucial.

Party-switching has been widespread in South Carolina since Sen. Strom Thurmond started it last year. Formerly a Democrat, the ultra-conservative senator found the Republican label more to his liking.

Recent Negro voter registration drives in such places as nearby Clarendon County have spurred counter-measures by segregationist whites, and have led to an effective statewide white registration campaign by the Republican organization.

Besides urging previously unregistered whites to sign up, South Carolina Republicans have been actively soliciting new members among politically experienced Democrats and independents.

Among the Deep South states, the Republican party here is perhaps the best organized. It has more than 600 precinct organizations. Aided by its new recruits, it is expected to be ready to stand up to the Democratic party in the next elections.

Although the registration campaigns have only begun, the Republican drive is showing signs of success in Clarendon and Dorchester counties, where the Negro voting issue burns hottest. These are the only two South Carolina counties to which the Justice Department has sent federal voting registrars.

The arrival this month of federal registrars, whose presence is unanimously condemned by political leaders of both parties in South Carolina, gave impetus to the white voter drives.

It also brought into the picture a third political group, the South Carolina Independents, headed by outspoken segregationist Maurice Bessinger of Columbia. Bessinger's Independents have started their own statewide white voter drive.

Contending that South Carolina is "threatened with Negro rule," Bessinger recently told a founding rally that whites "must fight for our race."

It is still too early to tell what ultimate effect the white-versus-Negro voter drives will have on the two-party system in South Carolina and elsewhere in the South. Most southern political observers believe, however, that both parties must eventually solicit Negro support.

A big test for southern Republicanism comes next year in various state and local elections. The 1966 elections are especially crucial in South Carolina, where both senate seats and the governorship are on the line.

Republican candidates in the South were aided in 1964 by Barry Goldwater's candidacy. Next year there will be no Goldwater heading the ticket, although he will campaign for some southern Republicans.

South Carolina Republicans believe they have the best chance in the Deep South to capture top statewide offices. Although short on experience and registered voters, the party does possess the state's biggest single asset — Senator Thurmond, an immensely popular figure.

Thurmond faces re-election, but so far the Democrats haven't found a candidate to run against him.

The other senate seat, vacated by the death this year of Olin D. Johnston, is filled temporarily by former Gov. Donald S. Russell, a Democrat. Likely to oppose Russell for the remainder of the term is Rep. Albert Watson of Columbia, another Democrat-turned-Republican.

In the governor's race, Republicans hope to persuade retired Army Gen. Mark Clark to run against incumbent Gov. Robert E. McNair, who moved up from lieutenant governor when Russell moved to the Senate.

Snow Gear Rental Idea Offers Something New

The addition of a new rental department for snow and ski enthusiasts has been announced by Bud Landreth, manager at Northgate Sporting Goods.

Following a new concept in leasing, it means that skiers may rent any equipment for the entire winter season and return it after the snows are gone—or rent for shorter periods, as over a weekend, said Landreth. Users have the advantage of being assured a proper fit of the latest equipment whenever needed.

All equipment is new and rental or lease payments may be applied toward purchase at Northgate Sporting Goods. Fittings and trappings include skis and bindings, boots, poles, pants, parkas, ski racks, toboggans and other equipment.

PREMIUM QUALITY SHOE

The wardrobe of every well dressed man should include at least one long-wing brogue, such as this Florsheim Imperial. Available in brown hand-stained calf, black, weathered moss and golden harvest calf at the Florsheim Northgate store.

Clothing Bargains Really Those With Best Qualities

"Fabulous bargains" in clothes are like fabulous bargains in anything else. You usually find out that you got exactly what you paid for.

Your best guide to quality in men's clothing is to select a reputable brand, advises William Luebke, manager of Hastings at Northgate, local Society Brand Clothes dealer.

Well - known manufacturers usually achieve that status because they consistently offer the public the most quality for the price. Such manufacturers don't concentrate solely on what the eye but build hidden quality into clothing, the kind of tailoring that doesn't sag after the first dry-cleaning or the first few months of wear.

These manufacturers know that it's what you don't see that makes what you do see look so handsome.

There are, however, some features which set apart a quality suit. Some of them:

1. A rich fabric, obvious to the touch, and a good general appearance are the first two indications.

2. If the fabric has a pattern —and this is especially important when it's a plaid or check— inspect a garment to see if the pattern is matched to blend unbrokenly at such points as pockets, back jacket seams, sleeves (in relation to the body of the jacket), etc.

3. Check, too, the quality of matching of what tailors call "trimmings" — such things as threads, buttons, button and buttonhole threads, under-collar material, linings, and the like.

4. Check the vents in the jacket. See if the overlap is deep enough to eliminate unsightly spreading apart.

5. Check trouser pocket linings. First make sure the manufacturer has not skimped on the suit fabric by letting the lining come too close to the pocket opening, thereby causing the lining to show with every movement.

Check the quality of the pocket lining itself. It should be a happy medium between the coarse fabric fitted only for work clothes and a highly luxurious lining that won't wear.

6. Check the coat front. Is it soft to the touch and especially comfortable to wear? That's a sign that fine-quality inner fabrics have been used to shape the garment. A hard and board-like feel indicates either that cheaper fabrics were used or that an artificial additive has been applied to the inner fabrics to give the garment body — until the first few dry cleanings wash it away.

7. Put on the jacket and lift your arms over your head. The jacket should rise naturally . . . but it shouldn't pull wholly out of shape. And the strain on the arms should not be excessive.

8. Check the jacket sleeve seam — inside and out. Has the fullness been evenly distributed to offer comfortable wear and a neat appearance?

9. Examine the collar to make sure it hugs the neck and does not stand away in an awkward manner.

10. Flip the lapels. Do they flip back into position easily? If so, that indicates careful shaping during tailoring and considerable handwork which is always a hallmark of quality.

Be Sure Shoes Fit

Nothing is more important than wearing shoes which fit properly—and this can apply not only to the size but also the shape of new shoes. So insist on a proper style as well as a comfortable fit, when you shop for shoes . . .

STYLE COMBINATION

A form fitting sheath paired with a mink trimmed stole completes an ensemble equal to all festivities of the holidays. Created by Claralura at Loana's, Northgate.

Plain-Colored Shirt Due New Popularity

The coming year looks like a big one for plain-colored shirts, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear. Perhaps it's because men are appreciating their practicality; or perhaps it's because the new shades are so handsome.

Take the peach tone as an example—or a blue green now being shown. Or the pinks, always favored, and now due for the big comeback. They al look like the proverbial "million" with the dark clothing in vogue.

NO PHONY REINDEER FOR HIM

For the benefit of youngsters confused by Santa Clauses who fly in helicopters and other modern conveyances, the jolly old fellow will fly to—or at least be at—Sabella's Restaurant, Alto, at 5:30 p.m. Monday. His team includes all eight traditional members plus that latecomer, Rudolph-the-Red-Nosed. The animals will be accompanied by "chief elf" Grady Carothers (left), who cares for a herd of more than 100 reindeer at Santa's Village near Santa Cruz.

Novato Turns City Control To Students

The Student Executive Council of Novato High School yesterday took over the reins of government from Novato City Council and city departments heads in the semi-annual student Government Day.

From 1 to 3 p.m., students learned the functioning of city departments. Last night they made reports to the student city council. The students then turned the meeting back to the regular city council.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow jokingly asked the students to make a study of the budget at budget sessions next year to see if they can find out how to meet all of their recommendations without increasing taxes out of reason.

Dave Budde acted as mayor. Other members of the student city council were Gary Miller, Steve Alexander, Barry Barringer, and Michelle Baget.

Department heads and assistants were Harold Fain, city manager; Barbara Jones, assistant city manager; Nanette Baget, planning director; Vivian Morse, public works director; Sue Yates, assistant public works director; Ronald Pugh, parks and recreation director; Diane Castaldi, assistant parks and recreation director; Ray Hill, police chief; and Karen Leech, assistant police chief.

San Francisco Grand Jury Belabors Topless, Books

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vice in San Francisco is again under fire—this time in a grand jury denunciation of six, sex and "moral decay."

But the bright lights didn't even flicker in a city whose Barbary Coast past makes "amateur topless night" a ho-hum event and where neons flash "nude model strip poker."

The San Francisco Grand Jury, which makes reports of city activities one of its traditional functions, noted yesterday what it called a market increase in pornographic literature and "open and notorious solicitation for prostitution."

Jurors also took a new swing at the city's topless waitresses and showgirls.

Dirty books, prostitutes and semi-nude showgirls — and narcotics and homosexuals—abound in the locations frequented by San Francisco's estimated 2.5 million visitors this year, according to the grand jury report.

The visitors can bypass the shady sights, and some do but the night clubs are sharing sizeably in the $149 million-plus the conventions bureau says tourists spent in San Francisco this year.

At any rate, officials debated among themselves who should be officially concerned now with the grand jury's finding of "the rising crime rate and the apparent decay of the moral standards of the community."

The mayor's office thought the jury's findings fell under the district attorney's office. The DA's office said the report was a police matter. Police said the report was addressed to the mayor.

Mayor John Shelley, who once punned "the topless bathing suit is at the bottom of it all," issued a statement promising "never to allow wantonness, vulgarity or sexual promiscuity to take over."

North Beach club owners said the report didn't or shouldn't apply to them.

The Health Department said the city's high venereal disease rate, seventh highest among major American cities with a rate of 85.7 cases per 100,000 population this year, couldn't be traced mainly to prostitutes, who have figured in 1,500 police arrests in 1965.

Jail Sentence In Narcotic Case

Gary John Gilbert, 23, alias Gary John Ammenti, was given a 90-day jail term and placed on 18 months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. He had pleaded guilty to possession of a device to smoke a narcotic.

Gilbert, of San Francisco, originally was charged jointly with Dean Howard Engle, 20, of Monterey, with possession of marijuana. Engle faces jury trial on the latter charge in Marin Superior Court Jan. 24.

The two were arrested on Beach Road near Tiburon on Sept. 20.

Stribley's Has Tips For Table For Hostesses

The successful hostess is a serene hostess who preplans everything meticulously, according to Stribley's Northgate.

Before her guests arrive, she sets the table, selects the menu, arranges the centerpiece and allows time for a last-minute check.

Stribley's has some simple rules for setting a table correctly: Forks on the left; knives and spoons on the right — all from the outside in, in order of use. Place the butter knife across the tip or vertically at the side of the butter plate. All knife blades face inward.

Place the china and silver about one inch from the table edge; space settings about 15 inches apart for comfort and convenience. If wine is served, place the wine glasses on the diagonal to the right of the water goblets.

A centerpiece, low and lovely, and candlelight high above the eye, create a charming setting for entertaining table talk. Whether placed in the center or at the end of the table, a centerpiece can be marvelously effective but should not be overpowering.

Prison Job Training Stops Many From Crime 'Habit'

By SAMUEL SHARKEY JR.
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Can the "prison habit" be broken?

In-prison job training pilot projects have provided dramatic evidence that it can, particularly for youths.

Responding to President Lyndon B. Johnson's comment last March that the long-range solution to crime was jobs, education and hope, the Department of Labor has sponsored two projects to train and place youths from correctional institutions.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has reported that:

At Rikers Island, New York City, 82 trainees were released and 69 were placed immediately in data processing jobs.

At Lorton, Va., the re-arrest rate for the trainees is 3.4 per cent, compared to the 42 per cent for non-trainees.

Wirtz noted that idle ex-prisoners add to the unemployment rolls. More than 100,000 leave federal and state prisons every year. Few have received any in-prison training to prepare them to compete successfully for jobs on the outside. The result is that, unable to make a living, they return to crime. More than a third of all released prisoners eventually return because, for want of a better alternative, they've developed the "prison habit."

"These people need help almost more than any other group," Wirtz said. "Most of them are school dropouts, 80 per cent are from broken homes, and worst of all, most of them are young." Two-thirds are younger than 35, and 30 per cent are 15 to 24 years old. At that impressionable age, prison can, and too often does, become a habit-forming alternative to a job.

All this costs the country some $2 billion a year to maintain the entire penal system, including police, parole officers and the courts. Yet only a small portion of that huge sum is used for training programs.

"Lack of job skills and subsequent unemployment and underemployment undoubtedly lead ex-prisoners back into trouble and prison," Wirtz pointed out.

Despite all these factors, however, "the intelligence of these people is on a par with those who never land in jail," Wirtz said. That idle intelligence is an untapped resource the Labor Department hopes to put to use.

In New York City, union, management, city government and educational leaders are serving on an advisory committee to stimulate such training. Wirtz directed his manpower administrator to determine the feasibility of an even broader program that would include the help of the departments of Justice and of Health, Education and Welfare.

Despite all the optimism, however, Wirtz warned that "the greatest change must come in the attitudes of all Americans" toward former prisoners, who are hampered both by their lack of skill and by their penal record.

"We must recognize that although an investment in providing skills for inmates contains some risks," Wirtz said, "it can be a potent instrument for rehabilitation."

He called for a relaxation of rules blocking an ex-prisoner's chance for employment and for a major increase in job placement officers. There are only 12 in the entire federal correctional system.

Wirtz pointed out that under a new law, the attorney general can authorize federal prisoners to work at paid jobs or in training programs in the community, and under a new policy the labor department can approve training for prisoners released to the community.

South America Adventure Set In Brazil

A "Carnival in Rio" trip planned for Californians begins action Feb. 17, putting light-hearted and fun-loving travelers smack into the gayest carnival celebration in the world.

Four days before Lent, Rio's beauteous harbor rings with gay but haunting melodies and echoes back to the streets filled with dancers, the staccato pulse of their own footbeats. Dazzling color floods the city as samba parades and costumed party-goers weave to and fro, night and day. Climax of the celebration is a gala ball.

Neatest feature of the Rio Carnival for Californians tour is the choice of going just to Brazil for the carnival and back home via Sao Paulo and Lima, Peru, in 12 days or continuing around South America from Rio in 31 days.

Lovely Montevideo, cosmopolitan Buenos Aires, picturesque Paraguay, mysterious Peru, full-flavored Colombia, as well as the highlights of unmatched Iguassu Falls, unique Cuzco and Machu Picchu, and the Argentine Lake District at San Carlos de Bariloche, are included in the full 31-day trip.

Also included for either trip are the hard-to-get tickets to special balls and events.

Well-timed for the spontaneous traveler, the tour is limited to 15 persons.

Fortune In Gems Glitters At Granat Brothers Debut

Just about a fortune in gems glittered at the opening of Granat Brothers Jewelers' newest store last Friday morning opposite the Promenade Pond on the Northgate mall.

The traditional silk ribbon was replaced by a pearl necklace 39 feet long and strung with over a thousand cultured pearls. It was the same fabulous bauble that appeared recently on the NBC-TV show "Play Your Hunch" with Robert Q. Lewis and is thought to be the largest pearl necklace in the world.

As if that were not enough glamor and glitter, the shears wielded by San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini druing the ribbon cutting ceremony were studded with real diamonds and other precious gems worth more than $50,000.

Granat Brothers Jewelers were established in San Francisco in 1905. The Northgate location is the company's eighth Bay Area store. Others are located in San Francisco, Oakland, Southland, Stonestown, Hillsdale and Stevens Creek (San Jose). The firm specizalizes in fine jewelry and related items.

Granny Prints Find Favor With The Men

The midget-size floral prints that are known as "granny prints" in the women's wear field are now appearing in men's ties—and will be followed by the same patterns in sport shirts.

There's a lightweight raincoat that has a pile liner which folds up and fits into a pocket.

Gleaming Fine Silver Adds Much To Holiday Occasion

With the accent these days on elegance in entertaining, nothing adds as much to the table as the luster of fine silver, bringing a special glow to family and guests alike. Gleaming silver and festive occasions go together like love and marriage, says the Jewelry Industry Council. Silver, the "Queen of Metals," always reflects good taste and charm to family gatherings of all kinds, especially during the holidays.

A fine silver service grows more beautiful with use through the years, and makes a memorable Yuletide gift that the entire family will appreciate and enjoy. For Christmas and for use throughout the years, holloware pieces bring a "special occasion" feeling to every meal.

Beautiful silver bowls, platters, ash trays, compotes and vases are gifts of timeless value. Most popular in silver holloware gifts are silver bowls of all sizes from tiny individual ash trays to huge centerpiece bowls for flowers or fruit.

Silver rates a top place on every Christmas gift list—bringing added joy for happy holiday entertaining plus every day pleasure throughout the year.

Italian Craft Work Glitters On Gift Lists

The fine hand of Italian craftsmen has been justly celebrated from the ancient times of the Etruscans and Romans until the present day.

This Christmas season, working with such traditional materials as glass, marble, metal and wood, as well as with modern plastics and laminates, Italian craftsmen have turned out an exciting selection of gift items. Fashioned in styles ranging from the classic to the modern, these gifts are designed to please the most discriminating person on your list, and to bring elegance and warmth to any decor or setting.

Many Italian cities have been made famous by their handicrafts: Venice for its sparkling, jewel-like crystal and glass; Florence, for its intricately worked, elegantly designed metal, marble and alabaster; Bologna, for its rich, full grained woods; Deruta, Faenza and Capodimonte, for colorful, precious ceramics; and Rome for exquisite stone carvings.

Impressive examples of Italian craftsmanship include a three-stem candelabra of sparkling faceted glass, accented by polished nickel-plated brass. It lends a note of distinction to any setting.

Bubbled glass decanters and saucers in delicate frosted blue and aquamarine are extremely lovely for water and wine.

FOR WINTER VACATIONS IN SUN OR SNOW

A sport shirt is not a sport shirt when it becomes a jacket—as many will this winter. On the left: A beefy wool plaid shirt with dog-ear pockets; on the right, a giant plaid wool pullover that is washable, with permanent knit dickie, shirt cuffs and knit waistband.

Pipe Lover Is Easily Pleased

If you are giving a gift to a pipe smoker this Christmas, additional pipes and smoking tobacco are always appreciated. Other fine gifts which add greatly to the gentlemen's pipe smoking pleasure are such accessories as humidors, pipe lighters, reamers, pouches, pipe racks, and pipe knives.

This year there is a wider choice in selecting pipes, smoking tobacco and accessories. Two-pipe sets, always a favorite with the pipe smoker, are handsomely packaged for holiday giving. Tobacco is also attractively wrapped in packaging that assures freshness and retention of flavor. A wide assortment of tins, pouches and variety packs are available to choose from.

And there are pipes in all sizes, shapes and colors, to suit every personality.

A recent survey by The Pipe and Tobacco Council indicated that a pipe enhances man's image. Women editors throughout the United States evidently agree with these findings.

Clothing Bargains Really Those With Best Qualities

"Fabulous bargains" in clothes are like fabulous bargains in anything else. You usually find out that you got exactly what you paid for.

Your best guide to quality in men's clothing is to select a reputable brand, advises William Luebke, manager of Hastings at Northgate, local Society Brand Clothes dealer.

Well - known manufacturers usually achieve that status because they consistently offer the public the most quality for the price. Such manufacturers don't concentrate solely on what the eye but build hidden quality into clothing, the kind of tailoring that doesn't sag after the first dry-cleaning or the first few months of wear.

These manufacturers know that it's what you don't see that makes what you do see look so handsome.

There are, however, some features which set apart a quality suit. Some of them:

1. A rich fabric, obvious to the touch, and a good general appearance are the first two indications.

2. If the fabric has a pattern —and this is especially important when it's a plaid or check— inspect a garment to see if the pattern is matched to blend unbrokenly at such points as pockets, back jacket seams, sleeves (in relation to the body of the jacket), etc.

3. Check, too, the quality of matching of what tailors call "trimmings" — such things as threads, buttons, button and buttonhole threads, under-collar material, linings, and the like.

4. Check the vents in the jacket. See if the overlap is deep enough to eliminate unsightly spreading apart.

5. Check trouser pocket linings. First make sure the manufacturer has not skimped on the suit fabric by letting the lining come too close to the pocket opening, thereby causing the lining to show with every movement.

Check the quality of the pocket lining itself. It should be a happy medium between the coarse fabric fitted only for work clothes and a highly luxurious lining that won't wear.

6. Check the coat front. Is it soft to the touch and especially comfortable to wear? That's a sign that fine-quality inner fabrics have been used to shape the garment. A hard and board-like feel indicates either that cheaper fabrics were used or that an artificial additive has been applied to the inner fabrics to give the garment body — until the first few dry cleanings wash it away.

7. Put on the jacket and lift your arms over your head. The jacket should rise naturally . . . but it shouldn't pull wholly out of shape. And the strain on the arms should not be excessive.

8. Check the jacket sleeve seam — inside and out. Has the fullness been evenly distributed to offer comfortable wear and a neat appearance?

9. Examine the collar to make sure it hugs the neck and does not stand away in an awkward manner.

10. Flip the lapels. Do they flip back into position easily? If so, that indicates careful shaping during tailoring and considerable handwork which is always a hallmark of quality.

Be Sure Shoes Fit

Nothing is more important than wearing shoes which fit properly—and this can apply not only to the size but also the shape of new shoes. So insist on a proper style as well as a comfortable fit, when you shop for shoes . . .

STYLE COMBINATION

A form fitting sheath paired with a mink trimmed stole completes an ensemble equal to all festivities of the holidays. Created by Claralura at Loana's, Northgate.

Plain-Colored Shirt Due New Popularity

The coming year looks like a big one for plain-colored shirts, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear. Perhaps it's because men are appreciating their practicality; or perhaps it's because the new shades are so handsome.

Take the peach tone as an example—or a blue green now being shown. Or the pinks, always favored, and now due for the big comeback. They al look like the proverbial "million" with the dark clothing in vogue.

Make Your Christmas Camera Work Look More Like A Pro

One of our happiest family traditions at Christmas is the taking of snapshots and home movies. If you receive a camera for Christmas, or if you are the family photographer, here are a few professional tips from William Weeden of a leading camera firm.

Establish a pattern of shots, he suggests, and carry it over the years. The children in their pajamas as they see the decorated tree for the first time . . . the dinner table in all its glory (and later) . . . the beautifully wrapped gifts (and later!) . . . and a family group shot. On this last, he urges that you do NOT ask everyone to "smile, please." That makes a hard-looking unnatural picture. Get them talking, some laughing and others serious.

It is always best to use a flash bulb for inside shots, he advises. When you photograph the tree in color, use the slowest shutter speed. This gives the garlands of lights a chance to "burn in" and show up well.

With a truly modern camera, you are free to concentrate on your duties as director of the family-and-friends cast. Some models, for example, positions film automatically. As you focus for distance, you automatically set the proper flash exposure by means of an electric eye.

An annual tradition in many homes is the showing of last year's slides and prints. But this is the moment when you should look to the future as well as the past. Take some shots with next year's Christmas card in mind. Color prints are less expensive these days, and you can inset them in standard greeting cards or make your own.

One final word of wisdom from Weeden: When you arrange slides or mount prints, put them in a "story sequence." "You can even," he says, "make a real production of it by having your youngest hold up a card marked Christmas 1965," and then having other members of the family display credits such as "Catering by Mom," "Decorations by Santa," "Gifts from Everyone."

Stribley's Has Tips For Table For Hostesses

The successful hostess is a serene hostess who preplans everything meticulously, according to Stribley's Northgate.

Before her guests arrive, she sets the table, selects the menu, arranges the centerpiece and allows time for a last-minute check.

Stribley's has some simple rules for setting a table correctly: Forks on the left; knives and spoons on the right — all from the outside in, in order of use. Place the butter knife across the tip or vertically at the side of the butter plate. All knife blades face inward.

Place the china and silver about one inch from the table edge; space settings about 15 inches apart for comfort and convenience. If wine is served, place the wine glasses on the diagonal to the right of the water goblets.

A centerpiece, low and lovely, and candlelight high above the eye, create a charming setting for entertaining table talk. Whether placed in the center or at the end of the table, a centerpiece can be marvelously effective but should not be overpowering.

Prison Job Training Stops Many From Crime 'Habit'

By SAMUEL SHARKEY JR.
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Can the "prison habit" be broken?

In-prison job training pilot projects have provided dramatic evidence that it can, particularly for youths.

Responding to President Lyndon B. Johnson's comment last March that the long-range solution to crime was jobs, education and hope, the Department of Labor has sponsored two projects to train and place youths from correctional institutions.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has reported that:

At Rikers Island, New York City, 82 trainees were released and 69 were placed immediately in data processing jobs.

At Lorton, Va., the re-arrest rate for the trainees is 3.4 per cent, compared to the 42 per cent for non-trainees.

Wirtz noted that idle ex-prisoners add to the unemployment rolls. More than 100,000 leave federal and state prisons every year. Few have received any in-prison training to prepare them to compete successfully for jobs on the outside. The result is that, unable to make a living, they return to crime. More than a third of all released prisoners eventually return because, for want of a better alternative, they've developed the "prison habit."

"These people need help almost more than any other group," Wirtz said. "Most of them are school dropouts, 80 per cent are from broken homes, and worst of all, most of them are young." Two-thirds are younger than 35, and 30 per cent are 15 to 24 years old. At that impressionable age, prison can, and too often does, become a habit-forming alternative to a job.

All this costs the country some $2 billion a year to maintain the entire penal system, including police, parole officers and the courts. Yet only a small portion of that huge sum is used for training programs.

"Lack of job skills and subsequent unemployment and underemployment undoubtedly lead ex-prisoners back into trouble and prison," Wirtz pointed out.

Despite all these factors, however, "the intelligence of these people is on a par with those who never land in jail," Wirtz said. That idle intelligence is an untapped resource the Labor Department hopes to put to use.

In New York City, union, management, city government and educational leaders are serving on an advisory committee to stimulate such training. Wirtz directed his manpower administrator to determine the feasibility of an even broader program that would include the help of the departments of Justice and of Health, Education and Welfare.

Despite all the optimism, however, Wirtz warned that "the greatest change must come in the attitudes of all Americans" toward former prisoners, who are hampered both by their lack of skill and by their penal record.

"We must recognize that although an investment in providing skills for inmates contains some risks," Wirtz said, "it can be a potent instrument for rehabilitation."

He called for a relaxation of rules blocking an ex-prisoner's chance for employment and for a major increase in job placement officers. There are only 12 in the entire federal correctional system.

Wirtz pointed out that under a new law, the attorney general can authorize federal prisoners to work at paid jobs or in training programs in the community, and under a new policy the labor department can approve training for prisoners released to the community.

South America Adventure Set In Brazil

A "Carnival in Rio" trip planned for Californians begins action Feb. 17, putting light-hearted and fun-loving travelers smack into the gayest carnival celebration in the world.

Four days before Lent, Rio's beauteous harbor rings with gay but haunting melodies and echoes back to the streets filled with dancers, the staccato pulse of their own footbeats. Dazzling color floods the city as samba parades and costumed party-goers weave to and fro, night and day. Climax of the celebration is a gala ball.

Men Simply Don't Fit In Few Sizes

Most women like to think they can easily categorize the American male . . . usually in a half dozen or so groups.

But a leading men's clothing manufacturer says the job isn't nearly that simple when it comes to fitting men in suits.

In fact, Hart Schaffner and Marx tailors 253 specialty sizes to fit virtually any build and any posture.

At the turn of the century, manufacturers of garments sold "off the peg" gave little thought to any deviation from the few so-called "standard sizes" in which clothing was made although such specialized fit was one of the obvious advantages of custom tailoring.

In 1906, Hart Schaffner and Marx introduced an important advancement — proportioned fit. This concept recognized that men came in assorted shapes as well as sizes and that shape had to be considered just as much as size in tailoring of a garment.

Exhaustive researce revealed the fact that men could be categorized into 14 basic shapes (as distinguished from sizes). These shapes range from "extra short" (for a man from 5 feet to 5 feet 4 inches) to "extra long" (5 feet 11 inches to 6 feet 3 inches), from "slenderizer" (a term on which the firm holds a copyright) to "stout."

Hart Scaffner and Marx, whose local dealer is Hastings at Northgate, tailors these shapes in sizes ranging from 32 to 56. Stores, however, cannot stock every possible size and shape combination but instead concentrate on those which are worn by the majority of men.

Stores do order from the Chicago manufacturer specially-made individual suits cut to any size, shape, fabric and style available. And they can choose garments from a stock maintained for immediate delivery in size-shapes ranging from 37 short to 50 extra long (see photograph).

Over the years the clothing manufacturer has noted that men are getting bigger. In 1917 the average man was a size 39. Today's generation has not only thrown out its chest to an average of 41.7 but also stands some two inches taller than his counterpart of 60 years ago. Sales of "longs" used to total about 10 percent; today it's 20 per cent.

TALL AND SHORT OF IT. Hart Schaffner and Marx tailor a total of 253 different size-and-shape combinations to fit men ranging in height from five feet to six feet, three inches —and in width from slender to stout. Bulk of the company's production fall within the size-shape combinations shown above—37 short to 50 extra long. Available at Hastings, Northgate.

Men's Hair Spray

Stores throughout the country report a modest but growing demand for hair spray for men. Some of the major toiletry firms are now distributing it. It is reported from Paris that Picasso will design some men's wear for the post-ecole set!

Care Needed To Keep Skin Holiday Nice

Rough! That's what hands and skin frequently are, at holiday time, just when a woman wants to look her prettiest.

Such increased activities as cooking, dishwashing and house cleaning are particularly severe on the hands. Another enemy of beautiful skin, the cosmetics people tell us, is indoor heating. It dehydrates, robbing the skin constantly of moisture, just as much as exposure to wind or cold or too much sun in warmer climates.

Since your hands have far less natural oil supply than your face, it is even more important that they be protected indoors as well as outdoors by a good hand cosmetic that will provide them with oil and moisture and guard skin against dryness and aging.

New Home Furnishers Offer Unique Designs

Richard C. Franz and his wife Jacqueline, owners of Franz Design, 124 Pine Street, San Anselmo, have leased larger space at a new location in Northgate Shopping Center. The larger space to be occupied by Franz Design on the west side of the mall will adjoin Adrienne's Teens and Women's apparel and a beauty and wig salon, now leased and scheduled for late spring or summer openings.

The "Age of Specialization" has now reached into the home furnishings industry, declared the Franz Design owners. They are planning to have available the kind of furniture which everyone is looking for but cannot find except in the pages of home magazines.

Since they opened their store on the side street in San Anselmo a few short years ago, using the slogan "Have you found us yet?", the response to their style of country elegance has been so great that they are now planning more stores of the type which is to open at Northgate.

It will be larger than originally planned in order to allow privacy in consultation rooms, said Mrs. Franz, who is in charge of interior planning.

The owners have selected interesting and different lamps and decorative accessories which will be available only at their stores. Many manufacturers of high-styled merchandise have aligned themselves with Franz, delighted to find the type of store which will serve as the proper setting for their designs.

Italian Craft Work Glitters On Gift Lists

The fine hand of Italian craftsmen has been justly celebrated from the ancient times of the Etruscans and Romans until the present day.

This Christmas season, working with such traditional materials as glass, marble, metal and wood, as well as with modern plastics and laminates, Italian craftsmen have turned out an exciting selection of gift items. Fashioned in styles ranging from the classic to the modern, these gifts are designed to please the most discriminating person on your list, and to bring elegance and warmth to any decor or setting.

Many Italian cities have been made famous by their handicrafts: Venice for its sparkling, jewel-like crystal and glass; Florence, for its intricately worked, elegantly designed metal, marble and alabaster; Bologna, for its rich, full grained woods; Deruta, Faenza and Capodimonte, for colorful, precious ceramics; and Rome for exquisite stone carvings.

Impressive examples of Italian craftsmanship include a three-stem candelabra of sparkling faceted glass, accented by polished nickel-plated brass. It lends a note of distinction to any setting.

Bubbled glass decanters and saucers in delicate frosted blue and aquamarine are extremely lovely for water and wine.

Pipe Lover Is Easily Pleased

If you are giving a gift to a pipe smoker this Christmas, additional pipes and smoking tobacco are always appreciated. Other fine gifts which add greatly to the gentlemen's pipe smoking pleasure are such accessories as humidors, pipe lighters, reamers, pouches, pipe racks, and pipe knives.

This year there is a wider choice in selecting pipes, smoking tobacco and accessories. Two-pipe sets, always a favorite with the pipe smoker, are handsomely packaged for holiday giving. Tobacco is also attractively wrapped in packaging that assures freshness and retention of flavor. A wide assortment of tins, pouches and variety packs are available to choose from.

And there are pipes in all sizes, shapes and colors, to suit every personality.

A recent survey by The Pipe and Tobacco Council indicated that a pipe enhances man's image. Women editors throughout the United States evidently agree with these findings.

Doggerel, Too, Dots Records Of Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anyone who thinks the most romantic reading in the Congressional Record is the annual report on tung nut oil production has a surprise coming.

The Record happens to be a veritable treasury of home-spun American poetry.

On the average of once a week, some member of Congress asks that a poem written by a constituent be printed in the record. Usually, it ends up in the appendix, a kind of rag bag for congressmen eager to please the folks back home.

But sometimes a poem gets into the actual Record of debate. This year, Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., was so struck with a series of lyrical tributes paid his state by the Holy Family Civics Club of the Bronx, N.Y., that he had seven poems printed in the midst of weighty speeches on the Viet Nam crisis and the fiscal problems of the Inter-American Development Bank.

McGee's offerings appear to bear out the two cardinal requirements for Congressional Record poetry: A lofty thought and a firm rhyme scheme. Beyong that, the sky is the limit.

Witness the opening stanza of Wanda Kowalski's poem on Wyoming's 75th anniversary as a state:

"In eighteen hundred and ninety
This land became a state
And nature blessed it greatly
With forest, cattle and bait."

Not all Congressional record poets get their first public mention in this way. His eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, wrote a poem after a recent spell in the hospital and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., put in the record. It began:

"I live out in Brighton, close to B.C.
And I'm just as healthy as I can be.
I have arthritis in both my knees
And when I must speak, then I talk with a wheeze.
My pulse is weak and my blood is quite thin
But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in."

The death of a prominent person usually is followed by a shower of poetic tributes. Hundreds of poems honoring the late President John F. Kennedy have appeared in the Record, including one called "Special Delivery From Heaven" which appeared under the names of a half a dozen different 11-year-old children last year.

Sir Winston Churchill's death impelled John J. Williamson of Alameda, Calif., to write a 24 stanza work that Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., preserved for the Record. A stanza at random:

"As British as orange maramalade;
Tea and kippers
He was 'homespun,' liked his 'easy' chair, cigar; robe and slippers
A friend of all who shunned the 'mean' yet;
Knew the 'ing'
A loyal subject of his benevolent;
Queen and king!"

East Bay Collectors Likely To Have Your Old Numbers

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Frank and Caroline Hyde have your number.

That is, if you were listed in any of the 20,000 telephone directories the Oakland couple has collected in the past 30 years.

This unique collection of telephone books from all over the world fills floor-to-ceiling shelves — nearly 1,000 square feet—in the basement of the Hyde home.

Hyde, 71, said the collection is "irreplaceable."

"I couldn't estimate the cost," he said. "But if you gave me $100,000, I'd let you have the whole works."

Browsing through the unusual "library" is a geography lesson in itself. There are directories from Malta, Havana, Trinidad, Singapore, Hong Kong and, of course, the United States. A 1950 Paris edition weighs 8½ pounds.

Most California cities are represented. Los Angeles dominates the several dozen shelves devoted to state directories.

Where did the Hydes get the books?

They won't tell.

Make Your Christmas Camera Work Look More Like A Pro

One of our happiest family traditions at Christmas is the taking of snapshots and home movies. If you receive a camera for Christmas, or if you are the family photographer, here are a few professional tips from William Weeden of a leading camera firm.

Establish a pattern of shots, he suggests, and carry it over the years. The children in their pajamas as they see the decorated tree for the first time . . . the dinner table in all its glory (and later) . . . the beautifully wrapped gifts (and later!) . . . and a family group shot. On this last, he urges that you do NOT ask everyone to "smile, please." That makes a hard-looking unnatural picture. Get them talking, some laughing and others serious.

It is always best to use a flash bulb for inside shots, he advises. When you photograph the tree in color, use the slowest shutter speed. This gives the garlands of lights a chance to "burn in" and show up well.

With a truly modern camera, you are free to concentrate on your duties as director of the family-and-friends cast. Some models, for example, positions film automatically. As you focus for distance, you automatically set the proper flash exposure by means of an electric eye.

An annual tradition in many homes is the showing of last year's slides and prints. But this is the moment when you should look to the future as well as the past. Take some shots with next year's Christmas card in mind. Color prints are less expensive these days, and you can inset them in standard greeting cards or make your own.

One final word of wisdom from Weeden: When you arrange slides or mount prints, put them in a "story sequence." "You can even," he says, "make a real production of it by having your youngest hold up a card marked Christmas 1965," and then having other members of the family display credits such as "Catering by Mom," "Decorations by Santa," "Gifts from Everyone."

Zoo's Animals Make Exacting Customers For Veteran Chef

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bill Hoff runs a restaurant for animals.

Hoff runs a lot more as executive director of the Cincinnati Zoo. But the restaurant duties are important for keeping such varied creatures as monkeys and tropical birds alive and healthy.

"There was a time when zoo animals were fed horse meat and scraps," Hoff said. "They seldom lived long.

"Nowadays we feed them special diets, diets that were worked out largely through trial and error."

Without the special diets, he said, "we'd have a fortune in dead animals on our hands in no time."

Hoff and his helpers are working now on a diet for a three-toed sloth, a sleepy-looking South American animal about the size of a large cat.

The sloth's natural diet is leaves from a type of palm known as an umbrella tree. But these have to be flown in from British Guiana.

The zoo is trying to wean its sloth from the leaves.

"All we can do is put different things in her cage, together with some of the leaves and hope she'll like something," said Emanuel Ledecky-Janecek, the zoo's assistant curator.

Changing an animal's diet is standard procedure. Big cats must learn to eat horse meat instead of game—and a duck-bill platypus has to learn to like hardboiled eggs instead of Australian grubs.

Eggs—both raw and boiled—are standard fare on the zoo menu. So are meat, fish, hay, skimmed milk, lettuce, shrimp meal, citrus fruits, carrots, brewer's yeast and dried flies.

Rice, oatmeal, baby food and canned fruit cocktail are in the larder, too, along with various vitamin and mineral capsules.

"People don't seem to notice vitamin and mineral shortages very much," Hoff said, "but they affect animals very quickly."

For instance, when he was with a Chicago zoo, three lions got sick, despite a regular diet of frozen fish. Analysis on one which died discovered a shortage of vitamin B-1—which is destroyed in freezing the fish.

Zoo administrators now have made a culinary art of inventing food supplements for animals, relying partly on what is known about human needs and partly on trial and error.

"Sometimes we have to trick them," Hoff said.

"Bears, for instance. They're finicky eaters. They like to go through their food and pick out only those things they like."

They don't like vitamin and mineral pills. So the zoo has adapted a sausage making machine to grind and blend minerals and meat.

"We run the horse meat through that and put in the vitamins and minerals," Hoff explained. "The food comes out a sort of thick puree, but it can be made into balls.

"The bears can't separate the ingredients and have to stay healthy whether they want to or not."

'Velour Look' Is Hot Fashion

"The Velour Look"—whether it be the genuine Swiss-knit or the made-in-America version, or the similar-to-velour plush pile velveteens and cotton suedes—is one of the most important knitwear items for the current season, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. It provides the "soft look" and the "soft feel" for casual living.

And one of the biggest hosiery features recently introduced—to go along with the velour shirt trend—is the "velour stretch sock." It's actually a fine terry-weave.

This new sock comes in all velour shirt shades, too.

One Stop Takes Care Of Men's Gifts

Attention Shoppers: Christmas buying for the men on your list means one-stop shopping this year, according to the American Institute of Men's and Moys' Wear.

You can select anything for them from handsome sport coats and shirts to leather goods, pajamas, socks and jewelry—or you can freshen-up their supply of neckties and ascots and also find a tremendously enlarged assortment of novelty gifts and toiletries—all in their favorite men's shop.

With the beginning of winter close at hand, gifts to carry the warmth of the Yuletide season through the cold days ahead include sweaters, mufflers, gloves, warm outerwear coats and jackets, ski parkas and headgear ranging from both real fur and fur-like hats to cloth and leather sport hats and knitted ski toques.

Warm wool and wool-mix or wool-like sport shirts will hit the gift target in colorful checks and plaids as well as in solid shades . . . both bright and subdued. Among the newest are the C.P.O. shirts inspired by those worn by the navy's chief petty officers. For lighter casual shirts, you may choose from authentic "natural shoulder" button-downs, Italian-type "Contemporaries" and a host of velours and corduroys that are bound to brighten Christmas morning for the men in your life.

Warmth, fashion and good taste are combined in the executive-length business socks; and the increasingly popular over-the-calf-length also makes a fine gift in the casual argyle panels and heathery mixtures.

Sweaters find a welcome spot under the Christmas Tree in burly ski-types, trim vest-like models and a host of soft knits in both pullovers and cardigans.

Fine gloves will glad-hand him in warm lined models as well as in lighterweight dress styles. There are also sports car gloves for the fellow who favors "four-on-the-floor."

The word in boutique items is "quality" with a capital "Q" this year. Handsomely designed leather goods ranging from wallets to attache cases and travel sets are but a few of the items. Others include jewelry cases, desk sets, flask sets, brushes, key cases and soft slippers. There are transistor radios that are styled to look like microphones, globes and . . well, everything but radios. There are replicas of ancient cannons, clipper ships made of horn, and hunting horns that wrap around barometers. Bar sets and bar novelties, battery operated gadgets of all kinds and coin banks are some of the other boutique beauties.

Toiletry gifts will be extremely popular this Christmas. There are attractively packaged hair lotions, for before shaving and after too, colognes, soaps, shave creams, deodorants, powders for after-bath and after-shave. Supplementing the well-known brands are a host of newcomers in the toiletries selections — many of them bearing the names of famous perfumers — and there are exotic scents, whifs of the piney woods, spicy aromatics and others carrying the sugestion of citrus or leather or mint. Most of these toiletries are offered alone or in elaborate "sets."

Neckwear — one of the most traditional holiday gifts — may be selected from sleek modern designs and fabrics for the Contemporary man, or from paisleys, reps, poplins and mogodors for the Traditional fellow.

Don't overlook ascots to dress up those sport shirt collars or mufflers to add warmth and a bit of color to the cold days.

In a dressier mood, there are business shirts — particularly those in the new colors and new stripes. Select from virtually unlimited new collar styles and both plain and french cuffs. Jewelry is keyed to both dressy and casual clothes with designs ranging from sheer elegance to rugged sporting motifs.

Bank Reports Trade Gains In New Site

Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Northgate office in San Rafael has enjoyed a substantial increase in business during the past two years, according to Samuel M. Spencer, assistant vice president and manager of the office.

It was slightly more than two years ago that the office moved from temporary quarters nearby into its present permanent location in the Northgate Shopping Center.

"Our deposits have increased about 40 per cent and our loan volume has shown a corresponding increase," Spencer said. He also noted that the office staff has increased from seven two years ago to 13 today, additional evidence of the growth of business at the office.

Spencer said the bank's Northgate office serves Marin County north of San Rafael. The bank operates nine other offices in the county and more than 250 throughout California.

Extra Clothing Care Pays Off Handsomely

Wool socks will come out of the laundry extra soft if a dash of baking soda is added to the rinse water . . .

When storing lightweight summer slacks, try not to hang them over the crossbar of a hanger, or they wil be badly creased by next summer. Use a pants hanger or store them flat.

Socks Are Healthy

Going sockless is unhealthy. In parts of the South, and even in the cool regions of the North, some college lads are still going without socks. Podiatrists point out that shoes without socks can irritate the foot, making it more susceptible to fungus, allergies, infections and warts.

Men Simply Don't Fit In Few Sizes

Most women like to think they can easily categorize the American male . . . usually in a half dozen or so groups.

But a leading men's clothing manufacturer says the job isn't nearly that simple when it comes to fitting men in suits.

In fact, Hart Schaffner and Marx tailors 253 specialty sizes to fit virtually any build and any posture.

At the turn of the century, manufacturers of garments sold "off the peg" gave little thought to any deviation from the few so-called "standard sizes" in which clothing was made although such specialized fit was one of the obvious advantages of custom tailoring.

In 1906, Hart Schaffner and Marx introduced an important advancement — proportioned fit. This concept recognized that men came in assorted shapes as well as sizes and that shape had to be considered just as much as size in tailoring of a garment.

Exhaustive researce revealed the fact that men could be categorized into 14 basic shapes (as distinguished from sizes). These shapes range from "extra short" (for a man from 5 feet to 5 feet 4 inches) to "extra long" (5 feet 11 inches to 6 feet 3 inches), from "slenderizer" (a term on which the firm holds a copyright) to "stout."

Hart Scaffner and Marx, whose local dealer is Hastings at Northgate, tailors these shapes in sizes ranging from 32 to 56. Stores, however, cannot stock every possible size and shape combination but instead concentrate on those which are worn by the majority of men.

Stores do order from the Chicago manufacturer specially-made individual suits cut to any size, shape, fabric and style available. And they can choose garments from a stock maintained for immediate delivery in size-shapes ranging from 37 short to 50 extra long (see photograph).

Over the years the clothing manufacturer has noted that men are getting bigger. In 1917 the average man was a size 39. Today's generation has not only thrown out its chest to an average of 41.7 but also stands some two inches taller than his counterpart of 60 years ago. Sales of "longs" used to total about 10 percent; today it's 20 per cent.

Men's Hair Spray

Stores throughout the country report a modest but growing demand for hair spray for men. Some of the major toiletry firms are now distributing it. It is reported from Paris that Picasso will design some men's wear for the post-ecole set!

TALL AND SHORT OF IT. Hart Schaffner and Marx tailor a total of 253 different size-and-shape combinations to fit men ranging in height from five feet to six feet, three inches —and in width from slender to stout. Bulk of the company's production fall within the size-shape combinations shown above—37 short to 50 extra long. Available at Hastings, Northgate.

Care Needed To Keep Skin Holiday Nice

Rough! That's what hands and skin frequently are, at holiday time, just when a woman wants to look her prettiest.

Such increased activities as cooking, dishwashing and house cleaning are particularly severe on the hands. Another enemy of beautiful skin, the cosmetics people tell us, is indoor heating. It dehydrates, robbing the skin constantly of moisture, just as much as exposure to wind or cold or too much sun in warmer climates.

Since your hands have far less natural oil supply than your face, it is even more important that they be protected indoors as well as outdoors by a good hand cosmetic that will provide them with oil and moisture and guard skin against dryness and aging.

New Home Furnishers Offer Unique Designs

Richard C. Franz and his wife Jacqueline, owners of Franz Design, 124 Pine Street, San Anselmo, have leased larger space at a new location in Northgate Shopping Center. The larger space to be occupied by Franz Design on the west side of the mall will adjoin Adrienne's Teens and Women's apparel and a beauty and wig salon, now leased and scheduled for late spring or summer openings.

The "Age of Specialization" has now reached into the home furnishings industry, declared the Franz Design owners. They are planning to have available the kind of furniture which everyone is looking for but cannot find except in the pages of home magazines.

Since they opened their store on the side street in San Anselmo a few short years ago, using the slogan "Have you found us yet?", the response to their style of country elegance has been so great that they are now planning more stores of the type which is to open at Northgate.

It will be larger than originally planned in order to allow privacy in consultation rooms, said Mrs. Franz, who is in charge of interior planning.

The owners have selected interesting and different lamps and decorative accessories which will be available only at their stores. Many manufacturers of high-styled merchandise have aligned themselves with Franz, delighted to find the type of store which will serve as the proper setting for their designs.

WHO WEARS WIGS?

Busy women, who have to look their best at a moment's notice, do. Sensible women, who want a light, airy coiffure; fashion-conscious women, concerned with style and color. # Doggerel, Too, Dots Records Of Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anyone who thinks the most romantic reading in the Congressional Record is the annual report on tung nut oil production has a surprise coming.

The Record happens to be a veritable treasury of home-spun American poetry.

On the average of once a week, some member of Congress asks that a poem written by a constituent be printed in the record. Usually, it ends up in the appendix, a kind of rag bag for congressmen eager to please the folks back home.

But sometimes a poem gets into the actual Record of debate. This year, Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., was so struck with a series of lyrical tributes paid his state by the Holy Family Civics Club of the Bronx, N.Y., that he had seven poems printed in the midst of weighty speeches on the Viet Nam crisis and the fiscal problems of the Inter-American Development Bank.

McGee's offerings appear to bear out the two cardinal requirements for Congressional Record poetry: A lofty thought and a firm rhyme scheme. Beyong that, the sky is the limit.

Witness the opening stanza of Wanda Kowalski's poem on Wyoming's 75th anniversary as a state:

"In eighteen hundred and ninety
This land became a state
And nature blessed it greatly
With forest, cattle and bait."

Not all Congressional record poets get their first public mention in this way. His eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, wrote a poem after a recent spell in the hospital and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., put in the record. It began:

"I live out in Brighton, close to B.C.
And I'm just as healthy as I can be.
I have arthritis in both my knees
And when I must speak, then I talk with a wheeze.
My pulse is weak and my blood is quite thin
But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in."

The death of a prominent person usually is followed by a shower of poetic tributes. Hundreds of poems honoring the late President John F. Kennedy have appeared in the Record, including one called "Special Delivery From Heaven" which appeared under the names of a half a dozen different 11-year-old children last year.

Sir Winston Churchill's death impelled John J. Williamson of Alameda, Calif., to write a 24-stanza work that Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., preserved for the Record. A stanza at random:

"As British as orange maramalade;
Tea and kippers
He was 'homespun,' liked his 'easy' chair, cigar; robe and slippers
A friend of all who shunned the 'mean' yet;
Knew the 'ing'
A loyal subject of his benevolent;
Queen and king!"

FM Tuner's Enjoyment Can Outlast Record Collection

By PRESTON McGRAW

The FM (frequency modulation) tuner, with the rapid increase in the number of broadcasting stations, is the high fidelity hobbyist's most reasonable means of getting music.

The money spent on a fairly modest record collection will buy a good tuner. And a tuner will last for years, bringing in all kinds of music. It would take a fortune to get on records the variety of music available on FM.

How to get a good tuner? The specifications are a good deal of help. The reputation of the manufacturer who made it and the dealer who so'd it also are important.

Statistics, to give an accurate picture, should be carefully documented. A good frequency response for an FM tuner is 20-20,000 cycles per second, plus or minus 1 decibel.

The "plus or minus 1 decibel" is important because if a tuner's frequency response is down a great deal more than that, 20-20,000 cps do not mean what they sound like.

A decibel, incidentally, is the lowest amount of volume change that the human ear can hear. Sound gets painful around 130 decibels.

Some tuners are much more sensitive than 3 microvolts at 100 per cent modulation, etc., and some are less so.

Special Lamps Can Extend Freshness Of Tomatoes

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — An increase in the shelf life of tomatoes when kept under special fluorescent lamps has been announced by the Lighting Products Division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc. here.

Researchers found that tomatoes retain their firmness, continue to mature and resume converting carbohydrates into soluble sugar when exposed to special fluorescent lamp (Gro-Lux).

Carbohydrates and sugar buildup in tomatoes binds free water, resulting in continued post-harvest firmness.

Free water tends to evaporate from fruit, causing surface shrinkage. Tests to determine the beneficial effect of the Gro-Lux fluorescent lamp upon shelf-life of produce, starting with tomatoes, have been conducted by Sylvania scientists,

East Bay Collectors Likely To Have Your Old Numbers

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Frank and Caroline Hyde have your number.

That is, if you were listed in any of the 20,000 telephone directories the Oakland couple has collected in the past 30 years.

This unique collection of telephone books from all over the world fills floor-to-ceiling shelves — nearly 1,000 square feet—in the basement of the Hyde home.

Hyde, 71, said the collection is "irreplaceable."

"I couldn't estimate the cost," he said. "But if you gave me $100,000, I'd let you have the whole works."

Browsing through the unusual "library" is a geography lesson in itself. There are directories from Malta, Havana, Trinidad, Singapore, Hong Kong and, of course, the United States. A 1950 Paris edition weighs 8½ pounds.

Most California cities are represented. Los Angeles dominates the several dozen shelves devoted to state directories.

Where did the Hydes get the books?

They won't tell.

Zoo's Animals Make Exacting Customers For Veteran Chef

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bill Hoff runs a restaurant for animals.

Hoff runs a lot more as executive director of the Cincinnati Zoo. But the restaurant duties are important for keeping such varied creatures as monkeys and tropical birds alive and healthy.

"There was a time when zoo animals were fed horse meat and scraps," Hoff said. "They seldom lived long.

"Nowadays we feed them special diets, diets that were worked out largely through trial and error."

Without the special diets, he said, "we'd have a fortune in dead animals on our hands in no time."

Hoff and his helpers are working now on a diet for a three-toed sloth, a sleepy-looking South American animal about the size of a large cat.

The sloth's natural diet is leaves from a type of palm known as an umbrella tree. But these have to be flown in from British Guiana.

The zoo is trying to wean its sloth from the leaves.

"All we can do is put different things in her cage, together with some of the leaves and hope she'll like something," said Emanuel Ledecky-Janecek, the zoo's assistant curator.

Changing an animal's diet is standard procedure. Big cats must learn to eat horse meat instead of game—and a duck-bill platypus has to learn to like hardboiled eggs instead of Australian grubs.

Eggs—both raw and boiled—are standard fare on the zoo menu. So are meat, fish, hay, skimmed milk, lettuce, shrimp meal, citrus fruits, carrots, brewer's yeast and dried flies.

Rice, oatmeal, baby food and canned fruit cocktail are in the larder, too, along with various vitamin and mineral capsules.

"People don't seem to notice vitamin and mineral shortages very much," Hoff said, "but they affect animals very quickly."

For instance, when he was with a Chicago zoo, three lions got sick, despite a regular diet of frozen fish. Analysis on one which died discovered a shortage of vitamin B-1—which is destroyed in freezing the fish.

Zoo administrators now have made a culinary art of inventing food supplements for animals, relying partly on what is known about human needs and partly on trial and error.

"Sometimes we have to trick them," Hoff said.

"Bears, for instance. They're finicky eaters. They like to go through their food and pick out only those things they like."

They don't like vitamin and mineral pills. So the zoo has adapted a sausage making machine to grind and blend minerals and meat.

"We run the horse meat through that and put in the vitamins and minerals," Hoff explained. "The food comes out a sort of thick puree, but it can be made into balls.

"The bears can't separate the ingredients and have to stay healthy whether they want to or not."

'Velour Look' Is Hot Fashion

"The Velour Look"—whether it be the genuine Swiss-knit or the made-in-America version, or the similar-to-velour plush pile velveteens and cotton suedes—is one of the most important knitwear items for the current season, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. It provides the "soft look" and the "soft feel" for casual living.

And one of the biggest hosiery features recently introduced—to go along with the velour shirt trend—is the "velour stretch sock." It's actually a fine terry-weave.

This new sock comes in all velour shirt shades, too.

One Stop Takes Care Of Men's Gifts

Attention Shoppers: Christmas buying for the men on your list means one-stop shopping this year, according to the American Institute of Men's and Moys' Wear.

You can select anything for them from handsome sport coats and shirts to leather goods, pajamas, socks and jewelry—or you can freshen-up their supply of neckties and ascots and also find a tremendously enlarged assortment of novelty gifts and toiletries—all in their favorite men's shop.

With the beginning of winter close at hand, gifts to carry the warmth of the Yuletide season through the cold days ahead include sweaters, mufflers, gloves, warm outerwear coats and jackets, ski parkas and headgear ranging from both real fur and fur-like hats to cloth and leather sport hats and knitted ski toques.

Warm wool and wool-mix or wool-like sport shirts will hit the gift target in colorful checks and plaids as well as in solid shades . . . both bright and subdued. Among the newest are the C.P.O. shirts inspired by those worn by the navy's chief petty officers. For lighter casual shirts, you may choose from authentic "natural shoulder" button-downs, Italian-type "Contemporaries" and a host of velours and corduroys that are bound to brighten Christmas morning for the men in your life.

Warmth, fashion and good taste are combined in the executive-length business socks; and the increasingly popular over-the-calf-length also makes a fine gift in the casual argyle panels and heathery mixtures.

Sweaters find a welcome spot under the Christmas Tree in burly ski-types, trim vest-like models and a host of soft knits in both pullovers and cardigans.

Fine gloves will glad-hand him in warm lined models as well as in lighterweight dress styles. There are also sports car gloves for the fellow who favors "four-on-the-floor."

The word in boutique items is "quality" with a capital "Q" this year. Handsomely designed leather goods ranging from wallets to attache cases and travel sets are but a few of the items. Others include jewelry cases, desk sets, flask sets, brushes, key cases and soft slippers. There are transistor radios that are styled to look like microphones, globes and . . well, everything but radios. There are replicas of ancient cannons, clipper ships made of horn, and hunting horns that wrap around barometers. Bar sets and bar novelties, battery operated gadgets of all kinds and coin banks are some of the other boutique beauties.

Toiletry gifts will be extremely popular this Christmas. There are attractively packaged hair lotions, for before shaving and after too, colognes, soaps, shave creams, deodorants, powders for after-bath and after-shave. Supplementing the well-known brands are a host of newcomers in the toiletries selections — many of them bearing the names of famous perfumers — and there are exotic scents, whifs of the piney woods, spicy aromatics and others carrying the sugestion of citrus or leather or mint. Most of these toiletries are offered alone or in elaborate "sets."

Neckwear — one of the most traditional holiday gifts — may be selected from sleek modern designs and fabrics for the Contemporary man, or from paisleys, reps, poplins and mogodors for the Traditional fellow.

Don't overlook ascots to dress up those sport shirt collars or mufflers to add warmth and a bit of color to the cold days.

In a dressier mood, there are business shirts — particularly those in the new colors and new stripes. Select from virtually unlimited new collar styles and both plain and french cuffs. Jewelry is keyed to both dressy and casual clothes with designs ranging from sheer elegance to rugged sporting motifs.

Bank Reports Trade Gains In New Site

Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Northgate office in San Rafael has enjoyed a substantial increase in business during the past two years, according to Samuel M. Spencer, assistant vice president and manager of the office.

It was slightly more than two years ago that the office moved from temporary quarters nearby into its present permanent location in the Northgate Shopping Center.

"Our deposits have increased about 40 per cent and our loan volume has shown a corresponding increase," Spencer said. He also noted that the office staff has increased from seven two years ago to 13 today, additional evidence of the growth of business at the office.

Spencer said the bank's Northgate office serves Marin County north of San Rafael. The bank operates nine other offices in the county and more than 250 throughout California.

Extra Clothing Care Pays Off Handsomely

Wool socks will come out of the laundry extra soft if a dash of baking soda is added to the rinse water . . .

When storing lightweight summer slacks, try not to hang them over the crossbar of a hanger, or they wil be badly creased by next summer. Use a pants hanger or store them flat.

Socks Are Healthy

Going sockless is unhealthy. In parts of the South, and even in the cool regions of the North, some college lads are still going without socks. Podiatrists point out that shoes without socks can irritate the foot, making it more susceptible to fungus, allergies, infections and warts.

Board To Meet In Marin City Hot Spot

Marin County Supervisors will go to the scene Monday to seek an answer to the problem of violence in Marin City.

After long discussion yesterday of a proposal by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos to put eight more deputies in four more cars into Marin City, the supervisors decided to meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the Marin City Lounge. They issued an invitation for all Marin City residents to attend.

The eight more deputies, declared Rev. Samuel L. Banks of the Village Baptist Church of Marin City, would "just give the hard core eight more to shoot at."

"Marin City should not go martial law," Rev. Banks told the supervisors. "We should give jobs."

The minister also criticized the courts "who take these things too lightly." He said "the courts do us an injustice by taking lightly the throwing of rocks."

"Before the unskilled and unqualified kill all of us, let's have more cooperation from the courts," he begged.

Rocks, bullets and insults have been hurled at sheriff's patrol cars in recent weeks in the shadow of the new apartments and private homes constructed to redevelop Marin City, a World War II shipbuilding community of "temporary" housing.

The violence climaxed Sunday night in a fire which gutted the Marin City sheriff's sub-station. Investigators have called it arson.

Rev. Bank's urging for jobs for the "hard core" youth who are blamed for the trouble got endorsement from Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, and from Walter Bremond, county community relations director whose work is largely with Marin City people.

Leydecker also urged Supervisors Chairman Peter H. Behr to talk with judges, asking them to mete out sterner justice to offenders against officers of the law.

Bremond endorsed adding more sheriff's deputies, but said, "The key issue is finding jobs for these people."

"No matter how deprived people are, it doesn't give them a hunting license," snapped Behr.

Reds Riddle Crack South Viet Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A strong Viet Cong force encircled and virtually destroyed an elite South Vietnamese ranger battalion today near the coastal town of Tam Ky, 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

The attack broke a to-day lull in the ground action and came after a Viet Cong offer to call off the war for 12 hours starting Christmas Eve "to allow people on the other side to celebrate Christmas in peace."

A Vietnamese battalion usually numbers about 500 men.

U.S. air attacks continued unabated over North and South Viet Nam. Bridges and roads around Dien Bien Phu were attacked.

A U.S. Marine F-4 Phantom jet with to men aboard was reported downed on an escort mission over North Viet Nam. The fate of the pilot and his observer was not known.

Some 20 F-105 Thunderchief jets hit Communist supply lines near Dien Bien Phu, scene of the great French defeat 11 years ago. In the South, other planes drove off an unknown number of black pajama-clad Viet Cong harassing a government outpost 15 miles northwest of Rach Gia, a town in southwest Viet Nam. Three guerrillas were reported killed.

U.S. military headquarters reported another decline in weekly American casualties with 19 Americans killed, 161 wounded and two missing in action in the seven-day period that ended last Saturday. The figures included the terrorist attack on an enlisted men's billet in Saigon Saturday but not the big battle involving the U.S. 1st Division Sunday.

Marin Banks Feel Impact Of Federal Interest Hike

First increases in interest rates resulting from Federal Reserve Board action were reported today by three Marin County banks.

Crocker-Citizens National Bank, Bank of America and Wells Fargo Bank all said slight increases have been put into effect on interest paid on certificates of deposit.

Crocker-Citizens, which previously paid a maximum of 4 and one-fourth per cent on certificates, has raised to 4 and one-half per cent of certificates of $5,000 or more maturing in one year.

Bank of America and Wells Fargo have gone up to 4 and five-eighths per cent on certificates of $100,000 or more maturing in six months or longer. Bank of America also pays 4 and one-half per cent on large certificates maturing in 90 days.

Officers of all three banks said commercial loan rates in some instances are likely to move up by one-half of one per cent.

Bank of Marin, Redwood National Bank, Tiburon National Bank and United California Bank reported no change.

Massive Moscow Marches Protest War In Viet Nam

Red Police, Troops Protect U.S. Embassy From Crowds

MOSCOW (UPI — Crowds of Russians, officially estimated at 250,000 persons, demonstrated in the streets of Moscow today against American policies in Viet Nam. Strong police precautions barred a march on the U.S. Embassy although a score of persons tried unsuccessfully to deliver a petition to the embassy.

Western newsmen saw tens of thousands of demonstrators at several rallies in various Moscow squares and streets. But by early evening the official Tass news agency reported the number had swelled to 250,000.

The manifestations were part of an increasing nationwide movement against the United States taking the form of organized mass meetings, newspaper editorials and hundreds of petitions delivered to the embassy.

The stepped up drive coincided with Premier Alexei Kosygin's bitterest attack yet on American foreign policy, made in an interview with the New York Times. He said U.S. policies had forced Russia to increase its military spending 5 per cent and accused American soldiers of killing women and children in Viet Nam.

Another official denunciation of American policy came today in a draft message to Britain as co-chairman with Russia of the 1954 Geneva conference which ended the Indochina war. The draft message accusing the United States of aggression said both Britain and Russia noted the moves with "deep anxiety." Britain is not expected to agree to the joint message.

Hundreds of placard-carrying Russians from clubs, factories and offices gathered in streets near the embassy but apparently the organizers changed their plans in the middle of the march and went instead to the huge square fronting the nearby Kiev Railway Station.

As dusk gathered in Moscow it still was not entirely clear whether the demonstrators would resume their march on the embassy or try another day. Security precautions were enforced and plain clothesmen and uniformed policemen hovered in the embassy neighborhood.

In Karachi, Pakistan, a mob of Pakistani students demonstrated and shouted insults in the faces of nine U.S. congressmen when they visited the city of Mirpur to see a Kashmiri refugee camp, the leader of the American delegation said today.

"We were practically mobbed as we walked back to our cars," said Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis. "The situation

Pentagon Boss Scraps Most U.S. Bombers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today actions that will reduce the U.S. long-range bomber force to about a third of its present strength, but hinted that a new advanced plane may be built.

McNamara also disclosed planned cutbacks in the Continental Air Defense and Early Warning Systems because of what he called "the reduced Soviet bomber threat."

These developments were formally disclosed in the announcement of details of a planned elimination or reduction of 149 military bases in the United States and overseas at a claimed saving of $410 million a year. (See story, page 3).

The moves with respect to the Air Force had been reported in advance, in outline, and had drawn formidable opposition in Congress.

McNamara said "the basic bomber force and the base structure of the Strategic Air Command will be adjusted while maintaining the required strategic nuclear capability."

He added that "this will be accomplished by phasing out of the inventory the older models of the B-52 mombers and all B-58 bombers."

The defense secretary did not spell out the number of bombers, but analysis of the base actions, including SAC's withdrawal from six bases, showed that the present force of 680 long range bombers—600 B-52s and all 80 supersonic B-58s—will be reduced by 1971 to the 255 later models of the eight-jet B-52s.

McNamra said that "certain . . . bases from which B52 op-

Property Tax Deadline Near

Deadline for the first installment of Marin County property taxes is 5 p.m. Friday.

The treasurer-tax collector's office at the Civic Center will be open until 9 p.m. today and tomorrow, but will close at 5 p.m. Friday.

Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez said any returns mailed Friday will be accepted without the 6 per cent penalty for late payment.

Second installment is due April 10.

State Capitol Has Tall Tree

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A 27-foot Christmas tree stood today in the Capitol rotunda.

The white fir, donated by the Division of Forestry, measured 10 inches at its base. It was cut down near Baxter.

About 4,000 ornaments and 600 lights were being placed on the tree.

Ruins Of Fire Said To Yield Gasoline Smell

Charred debris smelling of "some petroleum product" may give clue to origin of flames which swept through the sheriff's substation at Marin City Sunday.

Earl Guisness, investigator for National Board of Fire Underwriters, disclosed today he had detected the smell, which might be of paint thinner or gasoline, among debris at the fire. He plans to deliver the materials to California Criminal Investigation and Identification laboratories in Sacramento, probably tomorrow.

Guisness, who joined the investigation at request of the sheriff's office, said he and sheriff's Inspector Harold V. Sleezer finished sifting charred ruins in the station last evening. He earlier had advanced a theory that someone broke a window for entry, then perhaps ignited some material already within the station.

He said it now appears more likely the glass pane in an outside door was broken to enter a hallway, and the main portion of the substation reached through an unbolted door.

Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson yesterday had expressed belief that all doors had been locked by officers before they left the building on patrol several hours before the fire.

The $10,000 blaze climaxed weeks of harrassment of sheriff's officers in Marin City through rock-throwing, B-B gun and pellet firings, and three gunfire assaults.

Dave Townsel Jr., 19, of 211 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was scheduled to plead this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon in the firing of a shot which hit a sheriff's car last Thursday.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos has asked the county board of supervisors for eight additional deputies and four more patrol cars to beef up Marin City law law enforcement.

One Bouquet For Marine Wife

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Marine Staff Sgt. David G. Benavente wrote to a San Diego florist from Viet Nam asking that a dozen roses be sent to his wife every month on the date of their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Maria Benavente received only one bouquet.

It arrived one week after a telegram saying her husband had been killed Nov. 23 fighting near Chu Lai in Viet Nam.

Funeral services were held yesterday for Benavente, 29, father of three girls ages 3, 4 and 5.

Bridge Director Urges Combined Bus, Ferry Plan

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

A marriage between buses and ferries for Marin-San Francisco commuters was proposed yesterday by Thomas D. Hardcastle, a director of the Golden Gate Bridge District and longtime resident of Novato.

Speaking at a public hearing in San Francisco on the proposal to re-establish ferry service across the bay, Hardcastle said he believed using ferries to carry buses could solve one traffic problem on the Golden Gate Bridge.

He suggested commuters could board buses at points in Marin, and on arrival at Sausalito, the buses would go aboard ferries and be conveyed across to San Francisco.

"The commuter would arrive in the city without leaving his seat and traffic across the Golden Gate Bridge would be eased," Hardcastle said.

He was sure commuters would never buy the idea of leaving their cars and walking to a ferry.

The hearing was held by a San Francisco Supervisors' committee which endorsed the proposal for a further study into the feasibility of re-establishing a ferry service. The full San Francisco board will consider it Monday.

PLAN ENDORSED

Studies to bring back the boats have already been endorsed by Marin County Board of Supervisor, and Marin Supervisor Thomas T. Storer was on hand at the San Francisco City Hall to lend support.

So was San Francisco Planning Commissioner O. W. Willard, who urged a $25,000 study of the ferry idea which, he felt, would not solve every facet of the traffic problem but could help.

James L. McCarthy, San Francisco director of planning, said the public response to re-establishing the ferry service "has been extensive and widespread."

LOSING MONEY?

The ferries which plied between Marin and San Francisco ceased running the day the Golden Gate Bridge was opened in 1937, but McCarthy said he did not know whether Southern Pacific Co. was losing money on the ferry service at that time?

George C. Nickum, a naval architect from Seattle, said modern ferryboats built for Washington had cost $5,725,000, of which the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency had paid 50 per cent.

For a service to be effective, he said, there would have to be three boats running a half-hour schedule during peak hours.

He estimated a run between Market Street, San Francisco, and Mainship, Sausalito, would take 21 minutes plus loading and unloading time. Fare over a comparable Washington route is 65 cents.

"I was told by a friend," said

Gemini Shines Aloft; All Well At Cape, Too

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI —The Gemini 7 spacecraft, brilliantly visible among the stars at night, performing flawlessly, today swept past the 1.5 million-mile mark, nearly a third of the way through its 14-day orbital voyage in space.

Gemini astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell worked and slept in the greatest degree of creature comfort ever attained on a spaceship. Beethoven symphonies and Chopin etudes were beamed to them through the silence of space.

Gemini 7 entered its 58th orbit at 6:36 a.m. PST. It had traveled 1.5 million miles since its launch Saturday and would cover millions more if its mission went to the full planned 14 days. The prospects for that could not have looked better.

At the cape, the simulated flight of Gemini 6, one of the critical preparations for launching, was moved up to 9 p.m. PST from 2 p.m. by telescoping

McGEORGE BUNDY
To quit White House

Bundy Quits For Ford Foundation

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—The Texas White House announced today the resignation of McGeorge Bundy as President Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs. The future of the job was left cloudy.

Bundy, 46, will leave the White House staff Feb. 28 to become president of the Ford Foundation at a reported salary of $75,000 a year. His present salary is $28,500 a year.

Press secretary Bill D. Moyers in announcing Bundy's forthcoming departure, said Johnson wrote Bundy a handwritten note today accepting the resignation "with genuine regret."

Moyers emphasized that Johnson has nearly three months in which to decide what to do with the position Bundy filled. The job became a potent force in government when the former Harvard College dean was named to it in 1961 by President John F. Kennedy.

There has been speculation that Johnson may leave the post unfilled, and rely more directly on the State Department.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Lady Politico Wins Name Fight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest Stevens today had court permission to seek state office under the name Ivy Baker Priest, which she used as U.S. Treasurer during President Eisenhower's administration.

In approving Mrs. Stevens' petition to change her name legally, Superior Judge Burnett Wolfson yesterday scoffed at contentions her purpose was "solely for political advantage.

"This lady is so devout, she didn't want to part with the name Priest," the judge quipped. He added that many actresses are known as Miss "even though they have six husbands."

Opposition to the name change came from Roy E. June, an Orange County attorney.

De Gaulle Will Run

Pope Ends Great Council, Hopes It Will Benefit The Entire World

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI formally closed the Vatican Ecumenical Council today and said he hoped its work would bring renewal to all the world, not to the Roman Catholic Church alone.

His final words closing the three-year council were "Ite in pace"—Go in peace.

More than 100,000 Romans and pilgrims thronged St. Peter's Square for the outdoor ceremonies ending the council which Pope John XXIII had opened on Oct. 11, 1962.

Princes, government heads, foreign ministers and other dignitaries from nearly 100 nations watched as the 2,300 bishops moved in procession from the Apostolic Palace across the square to the steps of St. Peter's Basilica.

After them came Pope Paul on his portable throne.

The Pope in an address during a special Mass said he hoped the council would bring about a renewal for the world, not the Church alone. Describing his speech as a greeting to the peoples of the world, he said he hoped the assembly "would be able to work in the Church and the world that renewal of thought, activity, customs and moral force and joy and hope that was the very scope" of the council.

Obviously speaking to persons in Communist lands, he said he was especially addressing "all unjustly held in silence, in oppression and in deprivation of legitimate and sacred rights, owed to every honest man, and especially to you, brothers, who are none other than doers of good, piety and peace."

Unusual details marked the ceremony, with Pope Paul giving $90,000 in checks for charities in five nations as "a symbol of the charity of the entire Church, united around the Pope in the persons of his bishops."

The checks will mean $30,000 for a hospital in Bethlehem, Jordan; $20,000 for community projects by a religious order in Argentina; $15,000 each for agricultural training in southern India and for Catholic Welfare work in Pakistan, and $10,000 for Catholic welfare in Cambodia.

The Pope also wrote special messages addressed to government leaders, intellectuals, artists, women, workers, the poor and the sick, and youth.

The first stone of a new church in Rome to commemorate the Ecumenical Council was put near the papal throne in front of the basilica for the pontiff's blessing. The new church will be called "Our Lady, Mother of the Church" after a title that Paul VI declared for the Virgin Mary as the 1964 phase of the council was completed.

The council's ending came on a major holy day honoring the mother of Christ, the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

Non-Catholics Voice Praise For Vatican

NEW YORK (AP) — Non-Catholic American religious leaders in general lauded the work of the Vatican Ecumenical Council and said today it opens the way for a new era of collaboration among churches.

Many said the council went farther in modifying Roman Catholic policy of long standing that any outsider had thought possible.

Dr. Edwin Tuller, secretary of the American Baptist Convention, said the council "opened opportunities for communication beteen the Roman Church and the Protestant Church that were never there before."

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, clerk of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., said "the ecumenical movement has been greatly strengthened and we look forward to ever-increasing unity and cooperation."

Evangelist Billy Graham commented: "The council brought out a new understanding and spirit among all Christians, the debates provided a new understanding on the part of Protestants of what the Church of Rome believes, and it provided for a new reformation — or freedom — within the Church of Rome."

LABOR SETS FIGHT OVER UNION SHOP

AFL-CIO Leaders Seek White House Pledge For Early Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Section

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Despite assurances from President Johnson, organized labor leaders say they are running scared in their drive in Congress to wipe out state laws that ban union-shop contracts.

Top AFL-CIO officers publicly voice no doubts that Johnson will live up to his pledge to push for repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act.

But privately they are worried that lukewarm administration support may mean defeat of the repeal fight for the forseeable future.

Section 14B permits the states to outlaw union-shop contracts under which all employes must join the union. Nineteen states have such laws. The union shop is legal under the federal labor law in the 31 other states which do not specifically prohibit it.

With Congress due to convene next month, labor leaders say they still have no firm commitment from administration leaders on when the repeal bill will be brought up in the Senate or how hard Democratic leaders will fight to crush a renewed Republican filibuster that sidetracked the bill this year.

"It's just not there," one labor spokesman said when asked whether union leaders had such a commitment.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council was to discuss this and other matters today in setting the schedule for its biennial convention opening tomorrow.

One member of the council plans to propose that the AFL-CIO "demand responsibility from government."

"They demand responsibility from labor," said an aide, and "the Senate failed to live up to its responsibility."

The jibe is directed at Senate Democrats as well as Republicans.

When Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen blocked the repeal bill with a filibuster last session, Democratic leader Mike Mansfield refused labor's demands to hold the Senate in session around the clock to break the talkathon.

FM Tuner's Enjoyment Can Outlast Record Collection

By PRESTON McGRAW

The FM (frequency modulation) tuner, with the rapid increase in the number of broadcasting stations, is the high fidelity hobbyist's most reasonable means of getting music.

The money spent on a fairly modest record collection will buy a good tuner. And a tuner will last for years, bringing in all kinds of music. It would take a fortune to get on records the variety of music available on FM.

How to get a good tuner? The specifications are a good deal of help. The reputation of the manufacturer who made it and the dealer who so'd it also are important.

Statistics, to give an accurate picture, should be carefully documented. A good frequency response for an FM tuner is 20-20,000 cycles per second, plus or minus 1 decibel.

The "plus or minus 1 decibel" is important because if a tuner's frequency response is down a great deal more than that, 20-20,000 cps do not mean what they sound like.

A decibel, incidentally, is the lowest amount of volume change that the human ear can hear. Sound gets painful around 130 decibels.

Some tuners are much more sensitive than 3 microvolts at 100 per cent modulation, etc., and some are less so.

Special Lamps Can Extend Freshness Of Tomatoes

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — An increase in the shelf life of tomatoes when kept under special fluorescent lamps has been announced by the Lighting Products Division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc. here.

Researchers found that tomatoes retain their firmness, continue to mature and resume converting carbohydrates into soluble sugar when exposed to special fluorescent lamp (Gro-Lux).

Carbohydrates and sugar buildup in tomatoes binds free water, resulting in continued post-harvest firmness.

Free water tends to evaporate from fruit, causing surface shrinkage: Tests to determine the beneficial effect of the Gro-Lux fluorescent lamp upon shelf-life of produce, starting with tomatoes, have been conducted by Sylvania scientists,

Novato Council Postpones Decision On Marin Riviera

The Novato City Council last night postponed for at least one week any action on the tentative map of Marin Riviera development in the Scottsdale master plan.

Douglas M. Merrill was named a one-man council committee, at his own request, to investigate other town house developments in the bay area. He and Robert Lagle, head of the planning department, will report to the council in either one or two weeks.

"We are faced here with erecting a family type dwelling on less than half the required minimum for single-family dwellings, but more bedrooms than the original apartment zoning," Merrill told the council.

The original Scottsdale master plan called for fourplex apartment units. The request for 25 acres east of Sunset Parkway is for cluster units of two and three-story, three and four-bedroom town houses.

"I just can't see single family type residents on 2,400 square feet," Mayor Robert D. Carrow said.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Adopted rules to implement the personnel ordinance which the council passed last month. There was one change, that city employees, except department heads, do not have to live in the city of Novato.
2. Heard a report that police had voted 18-to-3, and other city employees 34-to-6, in favor of joining the State Employees Retirement System instead of Social Security. The council will take formal action to make the change next Tuesday.
3. Set for Jan. 18 public hearing on annexation of 1,280 acres east of Highway 101.
4. Adjourned to a closed meeting to discuss possible litigation in the Scottsdale assessment district, but took no action when it reconvened in open meeting.

Hot And Cold

Board Agrees On Lagunitas School Site

Ending two years of debate, split votes and uncertainty, the Lagunitas School District Board last night agreed on a site for a new elementary school.

Four members of the board voted unanimously to hinge the district's Feb. 15 bond issue and state loan election on a nine-acre site north of the Woodacre Improvement Club.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said the site is bounded by Central and Railroad avenues and Oak Grove Street.

District voters must approve the proposed $200,000 bond issue and $400,000 state loan request before the district can build on the site.

County planning aide David Van Pelt told board members he saw nothing wrong with the site, but said he had not yet studied it extensively. He promised to let them know at their next meeting if he unearthed any serious problem.

McCunniff expressed doubt that Van Pelt's report would cause the board to withdraw last night's decision.

Board members also learned that sixth, seventh and eighth teachers have started getting together to be sure pupils' homework loads are evenly distributed from day to day.

A survey of parents, McCuniff said, showed that an uneven homework load may be a factor in many pupils' poor attitudes toward school.

About 20 people were present in the audience. Board member William G. McBride was absent.

Library Rules Eased For San Anselmans

The San Anselmo library board Monday night bowed to pressure from residents and unanimously voted to change the rules for use of the library.

After a three-quarter hour argument led by library critic Mrs. Andre Moreau of 18 Brenfleck Avenue, the board agreed to drop the rule that a resident applying for a library card must be sponsored by two San Anselmo property owners or make a $1 deposit.

Library trustee Louis Yates reported the board action came after arguments by Mrs. Moreau and four other residents.

In October, Mrs. Moreau wrote the city council objecting to the requirements and criticizing the library in general. She made her complaints in person at the board's November meeting, but commissioners indicated they would take no action.

Yates said the change in requirements was not planned before the meeting — "the item was not on the agenda."

He said that though he voted for the change, he personally saw nothing wrong with the old requirement. "I don't think the prior rule was discriminatory against anyone and it seemed to work well," he said.

A San Anselmo resident registering for a library card will now go through the same procedure as does a San Rafael resident at his library, Yates said.

The registrant will fill out a form promising to abide by the rules of the library, pay fines on overdue books and pay for those books lost.

Yates said the board also discussed but came to no decision on a suggestion that San Anselmo join the county library system, enabling residents to take books from the county library at no cost. Every other city library in the county belongs to the system.

Savings, Loan Is Sued In Embezzlement Case

Mrs. Walter A. Midnight, 84, has sued San Francisco Federal Savings and Loan Assn. for $40,000 in the embezzlement in 1964 of funds by Mrs. Beatrice C. Clark of Greenbrae, then an assistant treasurer of the association.

The suit, filed in Marin Superior Court, claims the savings firm is indebted for that amount to Mrs. Midnight, residing in a San Rafael rest home. It was filed on behalf of Mrs. Midnight through Leland H. Jordan, conservator of her estate.

W. O. Weissich, San Rafael attorney who filed the complaint, said Mrs. Clark obtained funds from Mrs. Midnight's account with the savings firm by getting the latter to sign withdrawal slips.

He said the two women were friends of many years, but Mrs. Midnight was incapable of handling her financial matters. The savings company has taken the position that the withdrawals were valid, he said, and the suit resulted.

Mrs. Clark was convicted of embezzlement by a federal jury, he added.

SESSION

"Along with this program must go the facts of life."

Bremond's agencies "are not reaching these people," Rev. Banks said. Nor do they listen to him, the minister sadly admitted.

Sheriff Mountanos insisted more deputies, trained for the job, would reach Marin City residents not reached by any present program.

"At meetings in the community, we always are talking to the group that is not involved with the law. We don't reach the people who are in trouble," he said.

He cited that Deputy Sheriff Charles T. Prandi, on his own time, had helped organize a basketball team in Marin City. But then he had to cite one of the team members for driving with a revoked license, and he became a target for wrath. His patrol car has been shot at and the windshield of his private car broken with a rock.

"Young people respect Prandi," said Rev. Banks. "Of course they are against him now, and they are against me."

To try to solve that impasse, the supervisors directed Mountanos, Bremond and County Administrator Alan Bruce to try to work out a program that would reach everybody—with officers of the law or in some other way.

Meantime, the board will hear what Marin City residents have to say.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the powerful Senate Armed Services Committee, objected to any such bomber reduction. He also opposed any scaling down of this country's defenses against Soviet bombers.

Marijuana Arrest Follows Beating With Telephone

John Allan Acree, 18, of 209 Cardinal Road, Tamalpais Valley, was in county jail today in lieu of $1,100 bail on a complaint charging possession of marijuana on Oct. 31.

Acree, arrested yesterday on a warrant, allegedly had marijuana in his clothing when questioned by sheriff's officers who approached a car he was seated in on Main Street in Tamalpais Valley.

Acree also is charged with felony assault on Jack J. Green, 16, 449 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, on Nov. 15. He allegedly entered Green's bedroom and beat him about the head with a telephone receiver. This case was referred Nov. 24 to Marin County Juvenile Court.

some of the procedures preceding it.

Borman and Lovell apparently went to sleep shortly after 10 p.m. PST yesterday. Lovell told the space center after awakening today that he and Boman "both . . . slept six or seven hours last night, and we were awake two or three times during the night."

As the spaceship passed over the tracking ship Rose Knot Victor off the eastern coast of South America early in the 53rd orbit, crewmen who came on deck saw it clearly, moving across the night sky in a brilliant field of stars.

At Cape Kennedy, project engineers today revived hopes for a launch of the Gemini 6 rendezvous ship Sunday, a day ahead of schedule, despite a computer failure that set back testing a half day.

The original computer that was to guide astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford to the historic space meeting with Gemini 7 was found faulty and replaced last night. At that time, officials said the operation would all but eliminate chances for launch Sunday.

However, testing of the new computer was proceeding much more rapidly than expected and engineers cut some time out of the work schedule to allow a crucial flight rehearsal to be moved up from this evening to noon today.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Rebecca Blumenfeld Dies At 84

Mrs. Rebecca Blumenfeld of San Francisco, widow and mother of the men who built the Blumenfeld theater chain, died of a heart attack yesterday in a San Francisco hospital. She was 84.

A native of Austria, she came to New York when she was about 15. There, she married a waiter named Max Blumenfeld.

In 1907, they came to San Francisco, where Blumenfeld set up a livery stable in the midst of the city's effort to rebuild from the fire and earthquake. Ten years later, he bought a nickelodeon in North Beach.

The family moved to San Rafael in 1920, and their four sons —Joseph, Abe, Nathan and Jack —one by one went to work in the expanding theater business that grew from that nickelodeon. Today the chain owns most of the motion picture theaters in Marin County and many in other parts of California.

Max Blumenfeld died in 1936, but his wife stayed in Marin until she moved back to San Francisco about 10 years ago.

Surviving are four sons, Abe Blumenfeld of Tiburon, Nathan Blumenfeld of Alto, Jack Blumenfeld of San Rafael and Joseph Blumenfeld of San Francisco; two daughters, Mrs. Bessie Glazer of Belvedere and Mrs. Esther Leider of Long Beach; a brother, Isadore Foreman of San Rafael, 13 grandchildren, and 24 great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Sinai Memorial Chapel, Divisadero at Geary Street, San Francisco. Inurnment will be in Home of Peace Mausoleum, Colma.

The family requests that tributes be in the form of contributions to the Blind Babies Foundation Variety Club or to another charity.

got very much out of hand."

He said the police made no move to stop the demonstration, which happened Monday, and looked the other way when the students painted "Yankee, no no" over the group's cars.

Zablocki said the demonstration broke out as the congressmen walked through the city in Pakistani Azad Kashmir after intervewing refugees who had fled there from homes in the Indian-held portion of the disputed province of Kashmir.

The youths, estimated to number hundreds, crowded close around the Americans and shouted "Yankee, go home," Zablocki said.

"Pakistan officials were embarrassed and apologized to us and the Foreign Office later assured us the demonstration as not condoned," he said. "But it hurt the image of friendship that we had been told the Pakistani people hold for Americans."

The other congressmen are William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., Ronald Brooks Cameron, D-Calif., James G. Fulton, R-Pa., Harris B. McDowell Jr., D-Del., William T. Murphy, D-Ill., Vernon Wallace Thomson, R-Wis., J. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., and Spark Masayuki Matsunaga, D-Hawaii.

Supervisor Storer, "that it took him 37 minutes the other day to travel by car from the bottom of Waldo Grade to the top. At least we have one man there who would be interested in a ferry."

Storer suggested gasoline taxes be used to subsidize ferry boats until such a time they could pay for themselves, and added, "The idea of commuting by water has had a tremendous effect and not only from pure nostalgia."

If it came back, he said, he believed it would stay even if alternative methods of rapid transit were brought in. It could be a tourist attraction, he said.

Albert D. Elledge, president of the Harbor Tug and Barge Co., operators of the twice-daily Tiburon - San Francisco ferry service, considered everyone who spoke in favor of the ferry boats was speaking through ignorance. He had been losing money on his service for some time, he said.

"If you can think of ways to get the commuter out of his car and onto a ferry, I would be glad to hear it," said Elledge. "All he wants to do is sit there and go on right through to San Francisco."

That was what Hardcastle proposed.

Supervisors Hike Salaries Of Five Elected Officials

Marin County supervisors yesterday gave unenthusiastic approval to hefty raises for five elected county officials during the next terms of office.

The action means, assuming re-election of the five, that annual salary for Assessor Bert W. Broemell, now at $14,700 and slated to go to $15,300 next month, will go to $20,000 when his new term begins in 1967 and to $22,000 in 1969, halfway through the term.

Salary for County Clerk George H. Gnoss, now at $16,200 and slated to go to $16,800, will go to $18,000 in 1967 and $19,500 two years later.

Pay of Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, now at $14,700 and to go to $15,300 next year, will rise to $19,000 in 1967 and $21,000 in 1969.

That for Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez, now at $14,700 and going to $15,300 next year, will be $18,000 in 1967 and $19,500 two years later.

Salary for County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini, now at $12,300 and to go to $12,900 next year, will be $14,000 in 1967 and $15,500 two years later.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen declared they would rather discuss the salary issue in closed session.

"No matter what we do, we are going to be criticized for this," Behr said.

Kettenhofen said he wanted a closed session to "really knock it around."

But Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker vigorously opposed the idea, saying the board would have to meet without him if the discussion were to be closed. Supervisor William A. Gnoss agreed with Leydecker.

State law does not permit closed sessions of public bodies to discuss salaries.

However, Behr, who is a lawyer, contended a closed session would be legal, and County Administrator Alan Bruce reported that County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said this was so.

Leydecker defended the recommedation for the increases, which he and Supervisor Thomas T. Storer had made as the executive salary committee. Storer was not present yesterday afternoon.

Leydecker said the idea was to make an initial increase that appeared due and then provide, through the two-year adjustments, for raises that would come to about 5 per cent a year.

"How did you justify the 5 per cent?" Kettenhofen asked.

Leydecker said this annual increase is built into the pay scale for other county employees. "I don't necessarily agree with it," he said.

Leydecker said the entire board should have participated in the discussion on the salaries, not just a two-man committee.

"It's very difficult," Behr objected.

The board had no recommendation on the salary of County Coroner Frank J. Keaton. Bruce has recommended that the coroner's office be merged with the district attorney's office.

Leydecker said that part of the rationale used in the recommendation was salaries approved for the coming terms by the state legislature for the district attorney and the auditor-controller.

These new salaries, recommended by supervisors last Spring, will be $19,000 for Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and $24,000 for Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales (or their successors).

Bales' present salary, as set by the legislature, is $16,650. Both his and Mitchell's salaries are fixed for four years without the two-year step adjustments.

There was little discussion on the recommendation to increase the salary of County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom from $12,000 to $14,000 on Jan. 1. His is an appointive position. Supervisors voted 4-0 in favor of the recommendation.

Alameda To Sue University

OAKLAND (AP) — Alameda County supervisors plan to sue the University of California for the cost of policing student demonstrations.

Supervisors voted unanimously yesterday to sue for the costs resulting from the Free Speech Movement uprising a year ago and the Vietnam Day Committee parades Oct. 15-16 and Nov. 20 this year.

They also wrote Gov. Edmund G. Brown asking him to include $125,000 in next year's state budget so the state can either reimburse the university if it loses the suit, or pay the county directly if the university wins. The university has turned down a bill sent by supervisors.

Crash In Canary Islands Kills 32 Aboard Airliner

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (UPI) — All 32 persons aboard were killed last night when a Spanish airliner crashed into a hillside during a rainstorm minutes after taking off from this winter resort island.

Most of the 28 passengers were vacationers from Norway, Sweden and Denmark. The four crew members were Spanish.

The twin-engine DC-3, owned by the independent Spantax Airlines, was making a 30-minute hop from Los Rodeos Airport to Las Palmas on

It suddenly lost altitude, veered out of control and crashed into a hill about six miles from the airport. Grand Canary Island.

One witness, Dr. Juan Miranda, siad he saw the plane begin to disintegrate in the air with a loud noise that sounded like an explosion.

Benefit To Developer Seen In Land Swap

San Anselmo School District trustees received reports from two appraisers last night, indicating that a proposed exchange of roadway easements with developers of Sunny Hills Shopping Center would benefit the developers by close to $13,000.

The shopping center has offered to take the district's easement to Red Hill School and give in exchange a comparable easement just to the east. The developers also offered to pave 8 per cent of the road to the school site.

Appraiser David Cohn told the trustees it would be an even trade if the road were paved all the way to the school. Appraiser Neil Brodsgar said the property the district intended to trade is worth $13,000 more than what it would get in return. Cost of paving all the road was estimated at $13,000.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said today that trustees decided to inform the developers of the appraisals and consider the matter again at their Dec. 14 meeting.

The board also agreed to award the contract for construction of Red Hill School at its Dec. 14 meeting, and heard a report on the teaching of language arts in the district.

Yule Party Planned

Bolinas Bay Post 572, American Legion, made final plans last night for a Christmas party to be held at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 18, at the community center, A. C. Pfefferkorn, adjutant, reported today.

Tax Appraiser Earnings Told

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The 151 inheritance tax appraisers appointed by State Controller Alan Cranston have reported gross earnings averaging $23,225 for 1964.

The average net income for the appraisers was $12,244, the reports showed.

However, this year, Cranston has issued a memo to the appraisers that he will accept no political contributions from them —in fact, will return any money that might be sent him by the appointees.

Courtroom Telecast May Be Tried Out

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Can a courtroom trial be carried out under radio, television and newspaper coverage without causing the principals to go into theatrical performances?

That question may be decided soon, it appeared today.

At theh conclusion of a two-day hearing by the State Assembly Interim Judiciary Subcommittee, Chairman George A. Willson, D-Huntington Park, said he would welcome a demonstration of new and "unobtrusive" news coverage techniques.

Willson said such a demonstration could be held at a hearing in San Francisco.

Subject of the assembly subcommittee hearing was a rule invoked by the State Judicial Council banning photographic and broadcasting equipment from courtrooms—even during morning and afternoon recesses.

The rule will go into effect Jan. 1 and will be binding on all California judges.

Willson said there appeared no doubt that the legislature could overrule the decision of the Judicial Council.

Tiburon Fire Chief Asks Improvement Bond Issue

About 45 Tiburon residents turned out at Reed School last night to hear Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher speak in favor of calling a bond issue election for improved fire protection.

Buscher said the district is now rated class six by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau "and we're closer to seven than five." He said to improve protection and cut insurance rates, the district needs at least 10,000 feet of new fire mains, to cost about $127,000; a snorkel truck, to cost $55,000, and 35 additional fire hydrants, to cost $21,000.

County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said a bond issue would probably be the best way to finance the improvements. He said the district is in good shape financially as the assessed valuation continues to grow.

Members of the Tiburon Property Owners Assn., sponsors of the meeting, agreed to meet with Tiburon fire district commissioners to discuss a possible bond election.

Also discussed was a proposed city zoning ordinance amendment to increase from 7,500 to 10,000 square feet the minimum lot size for a duplex. A single-family dwelling in a duplex zone would require 7,000 square feet.

S. W. Schneider, president of the property owners association, said he planned to poll members on the proposed amendment. The matter will go before the Tiburon planning commission on January 17.

THE BIG, BIG RUSH BEGINS

Looking ahead, San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams rented a warehouse to handle this year's load of Christmas packages. It paid off yesterday as the volume quickly outgrew the capacity of the regular post office loading dock. Here, postal workers use a conveyor belt to process the thousands of packages being sent to, and by, Marin residents in time to wind up under Christmas trees all over the world.

Supervisors Draw Limits On Personnel Board Role

The Marin County Personnel Commission will serve henceforth as an appeals board for aggrieved county employees, but will retain some control over policy.

The commission, according to the 4-0 decision of the County Board of Supervisors yesterday, can study policy matters on its own initiative or on request of the board. It can then recommend to the board.

This actually has been the rule of the commission since County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott was hired three years ago. Working under the administrator, Elliott handled many of the personnel details that formerly went to the commission.

Commissioners have complained over the little use made of them. Commission Chairman Julius H. Selinger charged that the commission was going to become little more than a "letterhead."

Retired state employee Burnell Van Dalsem of 1 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, suggested that Elliott should answer to the commission and carry out its directions rather than serve under County Administrator Alan Bruce.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker disagreed with this vigorously, saying Elliott should not be a "lackey" for the commission. Leydecker also said he was opposed to letting an appointive body make policy decisions.

"They are not always responsive to the people," Leydecker said. "We are."

Noting that the commission rarely meets, Supervisor Peter H. Behr declared that "it seems to have wasted away for lack of sustenance."

He said he could see little chance for efficiency in a commission that meets once a month or less.

Cliff Fall Victim Is Hospitalized

SANTA MONICA (AP) — The victim of an attempted robbery was listed in serious condition last night from injuries suffered when he was allegedly pushed over a 200-foot cliff.

Police said Stanley Kolsan, 37, was apparently pushed over the fence on Inspiration Point during a scuffle yesterday with the unsuccessful robber.

Money Collected For 'Victims'

BERKELEY (AP)—The Medical Aid Committee says it has collected $500 at the University of California and Stanford University for "victims of United States aggression in Viet Nam."

The organization, which has chapters at both universities, made the announcement yesterday and said each school produced $250.

Committeemen said money orders were mailed to the International Red Cross at Geneva, Switzerland, saying that the funds be used to buy medical supplies to be sent to "the Red Cross of the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam in Hanoi and the South Viet Nam Liberation Red Cross through its representatives in Moscow."

UNICEF Group Ready For Prize

The group was headed by Hen-ry Labouisse, director of UNICEF.

The Nobel Prize, amounting to $51,788, will be presented to Labouisse in a ceremony at Oslo University Friday.

Two Men Appointed To Group On Aging

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's office has announced the appointment of Theodore Ellsworth, Los Angeles, and Dr. Ronal C. Harrington, Stockton, as members of the citizens' advisory committee on aging.

Ellsworth replaces the late George McLain of Los Angeles, while Dr. Harrington will replace Dr. Richard L. Johnson, Sacramento, who recently resigned and was appointed to the state board of medical examiners.

PLINK, PLUNK, PLUNK EQUALS THREE

Mary Morrow, 22-year-old teacher in suburban Oakdale School outside Omaha, Neb., plunks her baritone ukelele during a session of her second grade class yesterday. She says her musical teaching aid is helping her pupils learn math and other subjects because, "it provides good motivation." (AP Wirephoto)

MAYBE THIS RIFLEMAN'S GONE TO WAR

Anyone seen a four-foot tall man, weighing 300 pounds, with a beard, faded yellow shirt, brown pants and holding a rifle, anywhere in the Novato area?

That is the description Jack Duane Kinney, 42, of 655 Canyon Road, Novato, gave of a concrete statue which was stolen Monday night from the Novato Manor convalescent home at 655 Canyon Road. He valued the statue at $70.

Antenna Taken

David K. Randolph reported to Mill Valley police yesterday that, between Nov. 14 and 26, someone stole a television antenna, mast, four guy wires and mountings from the sundeck of the roof of his home at 61 Woodside Lane. He estimated vaule at $75.

The Novato Air Force Assn. president is Lee Wise.

TARGET NOT PRESENT

Storer Draws Criticisms From Other Supervisors

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, absent from the board meeting yesterday afternoon, should have been there to defend himself.

Some of his fellow board members, particularly Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, took some sharp verbal jabs at Storer.

Leydecker, who serves with Storer on the executive salary committee, told the board that Storer said at the outset of a meeting on salaries for elected officials that he had not seen a recommendation on the salaries, but at the end of the committee session he recalled that he had seen it.

"So his discussion was limited," Laydecker said.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen thought it too bad that the supervisors had to act on a recommendation that came, in effect, from only one supervisor.

"I can't help it if one member of the board does not choose to function," Leydecker declared.

Storer's name came up again after board members agreed to allow county employees the option of either taking the Friday before Christmas or the Friday before New Year's as a day off, since both holidays fall on Saturday.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the proposal was studied because of Storer's earlier suggestion that employees get the Friday after Thanksgiving off hereafter.

Supervisor Kettenhofen said he thought Storer's suggestion was made "in order to have a popularity contest with employees."

Storer, who was in San Francisco yesterday afternoon to appear before the transportation committee of the board of supervisors there, got some further heat from Marin supervisors when the board learned that part of the increased work load among clerks for the board is due to extra chores asked by Storer.

Leydecker said he wanted to know the nature of the added work. "How many press releases?" he asked. Supervisors continued to next Tuesday their discussion of $3,875 added to the budget to increase the clerk's staff.

South State Hike Completed

OAKDALE, La. (AP) — Preston Jeffers, 58, completed a 1,550 - mile hike from California to Oakdale this week. He started his trek Oct. 19.

Jeffers, who says he can't read or write, says he memorized the number "80" and stayed on U.S. 80 until he reached Shreveport, La., and from there was guided to U.S. 165 into Oakdale in West Louisiana.

"Folks asked me if I had a sponsor, but I didn't have one," said Jeffers. "I just like to walk."

Jeffers said he shunned offers of rides.

"If I hadn't done it, I'd still be wanting to. But there isn't enough money in the world to make me walk it again," he said.

Board Approves Youth Corps Cleanup Project

Marin County supervisors yesterday approved a 12-week neighborhood Job Corps project for cleanup of the old Navy net depot property in Tiburon.

The $29,779 project, to start Jan. 17, will be financed largely through federal War on Poverty funds. It will give jobs to 30 youths.

A tenth of the cost will be paid by Lockheed Missile and Space Co. of Sunnyvale and International Minerals and Chemical Corp. of Skokie, Ill., which have research projects at the depot. County cost will be only $261, covering administrative expense.

The project was encouraged by the Federal Bureau of Mines, which operates a marine mineral technology center at the depot.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Reappointed Denny Dohnert to the county board of appeals, a building trades groups which reviews building code policy and complaints.

2. Put off discussion of appointments to the recently created airport commission. Supervisor Thomas T. Storer proposed Melville Dickson of Woodacre as an appointee, but Storer was not present when the discussion came up and other supervisors wanted more information.

3. Put off until next Tuesday the authorization for court action to force removal of piers, houseboats and arks on the water-covered streets in Richardson Bay.

4. Authorized a nuisance abatement suit against Harry Johnson to force him to remove a building at 383 Shoreline Highway near Mill Valley, gutted by fire recently. Johnson is publisher of Marin Guide.

5. Adopted a resolution to be sent to the Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington seeking a speedup in authorization of federal funds supporting the county's War on Poverty program.

6. Authorized transfer of $2,485 from the second phase development fund of Paradise Beach County Park to cover a deficit in first phase allocations. The deficit came to light two months ago and was attributed to construction change orders apparently made but not recorded by former park and recreation director Kelvin J. Nelson.

7. Agreed to discuss at budget sessions for next fiscal year a proposal of the county public works department that Ross, Corte Madera and the county split the cost of improving Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Ross. The county share would be about $23,000.

8. Split 2-2, with Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen voting "no," on a motion to deny the request of seven employees to be put under social security. The employees opted not to join when the county retirement program started. The county would have to pay $1,000 for each to get them in the program.

9. Approved a long bid period on the Hall of Justice addition Dec. 21. Base bids will be submitted at 2 p.m., but because subcontractors wait until the last minute to enter bids to avoid "bid shopping," the general contractors will have until 4:30 p.m. to submit alternate bids.

10. Continued until next Tuesday the application of Borah Lawrence for rezoning from single family residential to planned residential on steep hillside property on North San Pedro Road opposite La Brea Way. The change would allow clustering of up to seven units on a near-level corner of the parcel. Neighbors have protested.

11. Granted a use permit for a private refuse dump on the Elmer Martinelli property north of Point Reyes Station, with condition that the narrow road be widened to 18 feet.

12. Authorized an additional $1,500 for the public works department to purchase a carry-all panel truck for a survey crew rather than a $2,000 pick-up truck authorized in the budget.

13. Proclaimed January "March of Dimes Month" in Marin.

14. Hired appraisers Edward Morphy, Edwin Jordan, David Cohn and Neil Brodsgar at $5,000 each to do appraisals on property needed for the Corte Madera Creek flood control project. The fees paid by the county are to be reimbursed by the state.

15. Adjourned at 7:10 p.m.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer was absent during the afternoon session.

Vice President Amendment Moving

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Delaware has become the 13th state to ratify the proposed 25th amendment to the U.S. Constitution. A total of 38 states must approve it to put it into effect.

The amendment provides for the vice president to assume the duties of the president in case the latter is incapacitated. It also provides for selection of a new vice president if that office becomes vacant.

Swiss President Elected By Assembly

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The Swiss National Assembly today elected Hans Schaffner, 56, minister for public economy, to be president of Switzerland.

The election was a formality. The presidency rotates annually among the seven members of the country's governing body, the federal council.

Sibelius Birthday

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Finland celebrated the 100th birthday today of its greatest composer, the late Jean Sibelius, with a concert in Helsinki and a memorial ceremony at his villa at Jarvenpaa. Sibelius died on Sept. 20, 1957.

Father's Advice On Children

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—From Braulio Fierros, a retired sign painter who has provided for his 19 children without benefit of charity or welfare aid, came this advice today:

"Give kids love, make them feel wanted and don't let your wife work."

Fierros, 65, was one of 12 children and went to work to help support them after his father's death forced him to leave school after the third grade.

None of his children ever was in trouble with the law, Fierros said. His grandchildren number 56, and he has six great-grandchildren.

PLAYING WITH DEATH

Hazel Carbone, 2, and brother Mario, 5, were freed yesterday from the safe-like metal cabinet in back of them, after they had locked themselves in at their home in Nutley, N.J. Patrolman Thomas Caprio, ex-weight lifter, ripped off the door of the cabinet to let them out. Mario holds up the door. (AP Wirephoto)

Bay Minister Testifies At Murder Trial

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A California minister testified today that he was attacked last March on a Selma street by one of three white men on trial for the clubbing death of the Rev. James J. Reeb of Boston, a participant in a civil rights campaign.

"There is no doubt in my mind after having seen these men in person," said the Rev. Clark Olsen, 32, of Berkeley, who was with Reeb when he was knocked to the pavement.

But Olsen, recalled to the stand in the second day of the murder trial, said he could not deny having identified another of the defendants as his attacker when shown photograhs by the FBI two weeks after the March 9 incident.

Olsen said he was positive that he was struck by Elmer L. Cook, 42, although the witness on cross-examination said he did not remember if he had told FBI agents that another defendant, William Stanley Hoggle, 37, as the man.

Olsen was followed to the stand by the Rev. Orloff Miller of Boston, who also was with Reeb the night of the attack.

Cook, Hoggle and his brother, Namon O'Neal Hoggle, the third defendant, showed no emotion at Olsen's testimony.

Homeowners Discuss Anti-Speed Moves

Directors of the Glenwood Homeowners Assn. continued discussion last night on what to do about speeders on the neighborhood's streets and how to hasten construction of the city's promised Fire Station Five.

City councilmen Monday postponed action for two weeks on the fire station after learning seven bids came in higher than the architect's estimate.

Woman Returns Home To Find Midday Thief

A daylight burglar, caught ransacking a Novato house yesterday, escaped on foot up South Novato Boulevard.

Mrs. Marion Rowlette, 45, of 1 Lauren Avenue, returned home about noon to find a man ransacking her kitchen. He had already been through other rooms and piled his loot by the front door preparatory to taking it away, police reported.

Surprised by Mrs. Rowlette, He fled out the rear sliding glass door which he had pried open to enter, ran up the driveway and onto South Novato Boulevard where he made his escape.

Darrol James Raven of 1454 Cambridge Street, Novato, an employee of the Grant Nelson Service Station across the street at South Novato Boulevard and Center Road, saw the man running north on South Novato Boulevard.

He described his as a Caucasian between 25 and 35 years of age, about six feet tall, of medium build with brown hair. He was wearing a hat, blue jacket and dark pants.

He carried with him Mrs. Rowlette's large straw clutch purse with blue flowers on the side.

The burglar had entered the garage, taken a bayonet stored there and pried open the sliding door, police reported.

He took a transistor radio and six books of Blue Chip stamps in the straw purse, police reported. Beside the front door, presumably ready to take out, he had piled a television set, sewing machine, and electric toaster.

Marinwood Commission Ired Over Trash In Miller Creek

Members of the Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission are aroused over dumping of trash into Miller Creek.

The commission, which earlier authorized letters to all residents of Marinwood asking cooperation, last night authorized a letter to the county board of supervisors asking heavier policing.

"We somehow want to get it across that we're not just going to shrug this off," temporary chairman Walter Van Gelder said today.

The commission last night named Van Gelder temporary chairman until the end of the year, replacing William T. Lane Jr., who resigned several weeks ago.

Van Gelder told the commission he would not seek another appointment to the commission, as he is leaving early next year. The Marinwood community services district makes appointments to the commission.

Commissioners will recommend and increase for gardener and maintenance man David Williams from $375 to $400. The CSD board is expected to act on the recommendation Dec. 16.

The commission asked Recreation Director Lawrence Crawford to prepare a program for senior citizens for discussion at an early meeting.

Reverse Corps

NEW YORK (AP) — Sargent Shriver, director of the Peace Corps and the Office of Economic Opportunity, says "the time has come for our country to receive Peace Corps Volunteers from foreign countries." Shriver last night endorsed a "reverse Peace Corps," with volunteers from abroad coming to the United States. "We need these volunteers to teach us," he said.

Book Banned In Boston On Court Docket

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The U.S. Supreme Court was asked today to decide whether "Fanny Hill" should be banned, as it is in Boston, or freely circulated, as it is in New York.

A Massachusetts State Court decision against the controversial 18th century novel is the third obscenity case this week to be considered by the court.

More formally known as "John Cleland's Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure," the book is a graphic portrayal of the life and loves of a British prostitute. Massachusetts' highest court voted 4-3 in favor of banning it, while New York's highest court voted by the same margin to allow its distribution.

The New York case is not before the Supreme Court, but it has been mentioned in the pending appeal of the Massachusetts case to point out difficulties that immediate arise when the first Amendment to the Constitution's guarantee of free speech is at issue.

Youth 'Critical' With Crash Injuries

William Velasquez, 18, of Santa Rosa, remained in critical condition at Marin General Hospital today from injuries suffered in an auto accident on Highway 101 Saturday which killed two people. He received back and skull injuries in the crash a mile north of San Rafael.

Geary Goodson, 18, of Windsor, Sonoma County, one of the passengers injured in the accident, was reported to be "fair" today with a broken nose and facial cuts in San Rafael General Hospital. The Independent-Journal earlier reported in error that he had been released from the hospital.

Truck In Novato Damaged By Vandals

Vandals shot out the windshield, cut the radiator hose and stole 40 gallons of gasoline from a truck at a construction site in the Bahia development at Bugeia and Topaz streets, Novato, John H. Cole of Rio Vista reported yesterday to Novato police.

Man Balks At District Tax Payment

Dennis J. Hodgson of 410 Sausalito Avenue, Corte Madera, told the Corte Madera Sanitary District board last night he does not wish to pay any more taxes to the district, because it provides him with no sewer service. He must use a septic tank.

District Maintenance Supt. John Comes explained the district does not have a sewer line which extends to the block on Sausalito Avenues where Hodgson lives. Another eight or 10 houses in the area are in the same situation, he said.

Comes said he thinks that if Hodgson does not have to pay taxes, neither will the other property owners.

The district directors instructed their attorney, Robert M. Haight, to give them his legal opinion on the request at their next meeting.

The directors approved plans for the area of Corte Madera Town Hall which the district office will occupy in June, when remodeling of the building is complete.

The district presently has five employees in its office at 500 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera. It will occupy one-third of the downstairs portion of town hall.

Director Fred A. Nicholson was absent.

Stanley G. Bennett is president of Richardson Bay Sanitary District Board.

State Group To Hear Of Assessment Ideas

Marin County Supervisors yesterday reviewed point-by-point the 28 assessment reforms recommended by the California Assn. of County Assessors, largely under the leadership of Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel.

The suggested changes, which include study of property tax relief for the elderly on fixed income, will be presented to an Assembly interim committee on revenue and taxation meeting in San Mateo Monday.

The afternoon session of the committee will include discussion of penalty assessments on escaped taxes, such as the penalty excused by Marin supervisors on Fairchild Semiconductor several months ago.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen are to attend the afternoon session.

The recommendations include establishment of a uniform assessment ration on total evaluation throughout California, provision for assessors to appeal ratio findings to the State Board of Equalization, allowing boards of supervisors to create an assessment appeals board that would serve as the county board of equalization, permit inspection of records by public officials and rule out the possibility for assessors or their deputies to serve as private agents or advisers.

The recommendations also call for registration of private tax consultants and reimbursement by the state on tax exemption losses where a non-profit corporation is excused from county taxes. This last provision would include church schools and churches.

The recommendations also would change the tax lien date from the first Monday in March to January 1. This would give assessors more time to compile the assessment roll.

Fairfax Pavilion Closed For Work

The Fairfax pavilion was closed today to permit reconditioning of its floors, according to recreation director Nyal D. Worsham.

It will re-open Monday.

Scheduled activities in the pavilion, within the next month, include teen dances Dec. 17 and Jan. 1, and a New Year's Eve dance, sponsored by the Fairfax Lions Club and the men's club of St. Rita's Church.

The New Year's Eve dance, scheduled to run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will help raise funds to buy uniforms for Catholic Youth Organization basketball players. Some of the money also will go to a fund for repairing the pavilion, Worsham said.

TALKING TO BIRD—Youngsters who visit the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum like to talk with the whistling mynah bird who sometimes will say "Hi." The museum in San Rafael is open for group tours and to individuals.

AFFECTIONATE DEER—Kimberly McNutt, one of pupils from Bayside School, Sausalito, who toured the museum recently, bursts into laughter as a deer licks her hand. Behind her (right) is Steven Lee.

OUTDOORS INSIDE—The lifelike dioramas inside the museum depict different areas of Marin County and the wildlife most likely to be found there. Brian Hernandez looks at a crow in a replica of north central Marin.

AQUARIUM—Jodi Headley is entranced by vari colored fish swimming in a tank in the museum, which also displays natural science items from animal skulls to hornets' nests.

THEY LOOK BACK — The gibbon ape and Snorkie the harbor seal stare back at visitors. They are two of yougsters' favorites at the zoo-museum. Youngsters delight in feeding fish to the seal and to a sea lion named Alice Parsons.

RAFTSMEN HOME — Two of six crewmen who originally sailed on the raft Triton, Larry White (left) and Mel Higley, returned to Watsonville yesterday for a variety of reasons including the need to restock the trans-Pacific craft's larder. (UPI Telephoto)

RAFTSMAN'S LAMENT

Romance Cuts Short Trans-Pacific Voyage

WATSONVILLE (AP) — "I'm homesick, 22 years old and I'm in love." Those are the reasons Melvin Higley gives for temporarily abandoning an attempt to cross the Pacific Ocean on a raft.

Higley, engaged to marry Sue Esty, of Capitola, arrived in Watsonville yesterday. Two other men who started Oct. 18 from nearby Capitola for the Society Islands on the nine-ton raft Triton also have given up for the time being.

Three others still are on the raft off Mexico, expecting the trio to return with more supplies in a month.

Larry White, who returned here with Higley, explained: "We were simply eating ourselves out of a trip. We discovered we were eating twice as much as we planned.

Al Parvin came ashore with them and went to Colorado to be with his pregnant wife.

Still aboard are Fred Hameter, 36, of San Jose; Doug Otis, 26, of Aptos; and Don McGee, 18, an Australian.

Higley and Parvin, 26, live at Santa Cruz and White, 25, at Aptos. Both those cities and Watsonville are south of San Francisco, on the ocean.

Before returning to the raft they intend to buy a new ship's clock, a shortwave radio and extra food.

The raft put ashore at the tip of Baja California, Mexico, and the three who left it traveled the rest of the way by bus.

If the trio does not return, White said, the raft probably would end its journey in Panama—rather than at the islands 7,400 miles across the ocean.

Communications Firms Ask Approval Of Giant Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — American Broadcasting Companies Inc. and the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. have agreed to merge into a $1.8-billion concern operating in nearly every phase of the communications industry.

The merger, approved by the boards of directors of the two companies last night, would involve a stock transaction of between $350 and $400 million.

Harold S. Geneen, chairman and president of IT&T, and Leonard H. Goldenson, president of ABC, said in a joint statement:

"The consummation of the arrangement is subject to the approval of the shareholders of each company and to the approval of the Federal Communications Commission and other appropriate government agencies and the obtaining of a favorable tax ruling."

The Impact of the merger would also be felt strongly abroad. IT&T is a major producer of radio, television and appliances in Europe, Latin America and the Far East.

One of the conditions of the merger, said the joint statement, "will be the continued autonomous operation and management of American Broadcasting Companies Inc. by its present management as a separate subsidiary of International Telephone Corp."

Assets of I.T.&T. at the end of 1964 were in excess of $1.6 billion. ABC's assets exceeded $226.6 million.

Fremont Sends Soldiers Gifts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Accompanied by music from a Navy sound truck, a caravan of 20 cars and two trucks from Fremont Tuesday delivered 2,345 packages to the San Francisco Post Office for shipment to American soldiers in South Viet Nam.

The caravan was the result of a drive called "parcels for Patriots" co-sponsored by the Fremont yesterday delivered Fremont Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The packages weighed a total of more than 16,000 pounds, and postage costs were about $1,000. Cost of shipment was shared by the co-sponsors.

Cigarette Thought Cause Of Fire In Corte Madera

Mrs. Thelma Crause of 18 Flying Cloud Passage, Corte Madera, told firemen that she may have left a smoldering cigarette in her family room early today, thereby causing a fire which did damage estimated at $1,500.

Mrs. Crause said she had been smoking before she went to another room to set her hair at 12:30 a.m. When she returned a half hour later, she found the family room drapes ablaze.

Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson said the 22 volunteer firemen who answered the alarm quickly extinguished the blaze.

Chief Nelson said the fire started on a table next to the drapes and was confined to the family room.

Mancebo Sentence Set For January

Sentencing of Russell John Mancebo, 23, on his guilty plea in Marin Superior Court yesterday to statutory rape was scheduled by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner for Jan. 4.

Mancebo, of 1100 West California Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, had sexual relations with a 16-year-old girl in Sausalito on Oct. 31.

'Titus' Comes In Disguise

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rembrandt's $2.23 million painting "Titus," acquired in London earlier this year by the Norton Simon Foundation, will go on display in the new County Museum of Art on Dec. 26.

The famous art work—on display in the National Gallery in Washington since arriving in this country—was shipped to Los Angeles yesterday, wrapped in disguise as a Christmas gift.

Museum officials, apprehensive that attempts might be to steal the painting, shipped the package wrapped as a yuletide gift.

Supervisors Back Brazil Ranch Park

Marin County supervisors yesterday pretty well pinpointed the 2,200-acre Brazil Ranch in southern Marin as the property they would like to see become a memorial park for Adlai E. Stevenson.

In requesting Nature Conservancy to sponsor a nationwide drive for funds to purchase a park in Marin, the board said the funds would purchase property "such as the Brazil Ranch."

The Brazil Ranch which is owned by Stevenson's son, John Fell Stevenson, and others. It is on the coast between Steep Ravine and Muir Beach. It runs inland to border Muir Woods National Monument.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who suggested the Stevenson memorial last week, reported he had talked with Huey Johnson, president of Nature Conservancy, and he was "enthusiastic."

Kettenhofen said he had heard some concern from constituents over taking additional land off the tax rolls, but declared the park project should be viewed as a regional facility. "I don't think it would be excessive in relation to the entire Bay Area," he said.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr remarked that rural lands, including the Brazil Ranch, constitute only 4 per cent of the county's tax assessment roll.

Volunteers Re-Organized

After several years of inactivity, the Sausalito Volunteer Firemen's Assn. has been reorganized.

Volunteers have aided the city's regular firemen in the meanwhile, according to Fire Chief Charles E. Masten, but have not elected officers or held regular drills.

Monthly drills will resume, Masten said.

Gene Pool was elected president. Other officers are William D. McDonald, vice president; Robert G. Anderson, secretary-treasurer, and William A. Hall, sergeant at arms. Stefan Garroway was made a director.

The group is seeking insurance to cover volunteers if their income is curtailed through injury while fighting fires.

Policeman Slays Two After Booking On Bribe Charge

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)— An Oakland policeman arrested yesterday on a bribery charge went on a shooting spree a few hour later, killing two men and seriously wounding himself.

Authorities said Patrolman Frank Erwin Reed, 38, shot and killed Billy Smith, 49, in West Oakland and then drove 10 miles to East Oakland where he fatally wounded Lawrence Walker, 53. They said Reed then shot himself in the head outside Walker's home.

The shooting occurred just hours after Reed and another Oakland policeman, George K. Chamberlain, 43, were arrested and charged with two counts of bribery each.

Police Chief Edward Toothman said the two patrolmen were accused of taking payoffs of $100 a week to protect a marathon poker game in an East Oakland apartment.

The officers were released on bail at the Oakland Hall of Justice, but declined comment when questioned by reporters.

Authorities said Reed drove to West Oakland a short time later and shot down Smith within a stone's throw of where the gambling operation had been conducted. They added that the second victim, Walker, had been arrested 28 times on gambling charges.

Reed has been on the police force for 11 years, while Chamberlain has been an Oakland policeman since 1947. Toothman said they both had good records as officers.

State Employment Sets New Record

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's non - military employment total stood at 6,955,000 in November, a record for the month and 4.5 per cent higher than the same month in 1964, the state said today.

Ernest B. Webb, state director of industrial relations, said employment declined by 71,000 from October, but termed this a comparatively small seasonal reduction.

Unemployment totaled 393,000 in November or 5.6 per cent of the labor force.

Meeting Cancelled

Yesterday's scheduled meeting of the Larkspur Library Board was cancelled for lack of a quorum, according to board president Mrs. Phillip S. Haly. The board will meet Jan. 4.

Customer Influx Saves Airman's Club At Base

The off-again, on-again airmen's club at Hamilton Air Force base has received another reprieve, and will not be closed on Jan. 25 as scheduled.

The club, which has been subsidized by the non-commissioned officers club, unexpectedly showed a profit for November.

It has been a money losing operation for the NCO club, losapproximately $4,000 this year. This loss has been made up from profits of the NCO club.

A recent influx of M-16 rifle trainees to Hamilton was credited with putting the club into the black ink. Governors of the NCO club voted to give it another chance at life.

Originally the airmen's club had been scheduled for closing on Nov. 25. This was subsequently changed to Jan. 25.

Court Outlaws Curb On Voter

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A three-judge federal court declared unconstitutional today a New York State law requiring that a voter must have at least a sixth-grade education in an English-language school.

The decision affected approximately a half million Spanish-educated Puerto Ricans.

The federal court also issued a permanent injunction against enforcement of the state law.

New Elections Post Is Filled By Promotion

Marin County supervisors yesterday elevated Supervisor of Elections John F. Musser Jr. to the job of assistant county clerk for elections with an increase in pay from $790 to $829 a month.

The new position was created after the April school districts election fiasco, with hope that a high-powered man could help cure the problem.

With the new position, the board authorized changes in administration of elections, shifting responsibility for school elections from the county schools office to the election department.

County Clerk George H. Gnoss, who recommended yesterday that Musser be hired to fill the job, told the board he firmly believed it the right selection.

"I think he can do it," board chairman Peter H. Behr said.

Behr said the administrative responsibilities were not clear-cut. He asked to be informed at once if anything should arise to block the administration of elections.

State Reports Can Be Bought

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Persons interested in reading the reports on how California's major problems can be solved through aerospace technology may purchase copies of three of the reports which are completed, Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced.

Copies may be purchased on the basis of reproduction costs, plus sales tax, by writing Documents Section, P. O. Box 1612, Sacramento, 95807.

The publications include: "California Statewide Information System Study," $5.72; "California Waste Management Study," $8.32; "Prevention and Control of Crime and Delinquency," $4.94. A fourth study, "Integrated Transportation for California," will be available later.

Cyclist's Ankle Sprained In Crash

Erik K. Jarvis, 16, suffered a sprained ankle and bruises when the motorcycle he was riding hit the median barrier on Highway 101 just south of the Alto overcrossing, and flipped at 11:50 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Jarvis was northbound in the fast lane. He said a panel truck swerved into his lane. He was treated by his own doctor.

Sausalito Worries On Ferry Parking

Sausalito, once a ferry terminal for Marin, would have trouble using the same slip area if ferries return.

Sausalito City Councilmen last night passed a resolution urging studies on the feasibility of restoring ferry service between Marin and San Francisco.

At the same time, councilmen expressed concern about the possibility of ferries docking "at the old slips" in the center of town and creating a parking problem.

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said Marinship would be the best location for a ferry terminal.

There is talk of having commuter buses drive onto the ferry in Marin and then drive off in San Francisco, taking the passengers to the downtown area, Wax said. (This was proposed at a San Francisco Board of Supervisors committee meeting yesterday by Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, a Golden Gate Bridge District director. See story on page 1).

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said, "I do think Sausalito should be alert as to where the ferries would depart, and what it would do to local traffic and local parking."

The council received an application from Sausalito Communications System, a new, nonprofit television antenna cable company, for a franchise to construct a community antenna television system in the city.

Decision was postponed until city adopts a new or amended community antenna television ordinance.

Councilmen also delayed approval of plans and specifications for a new city corporation yard building at Nevada and Tomales streets.

The Community Appearances Advisory Board, which has opposed plans for a pre-fabricated building, reported that a wooden building could be constructed at less cost.

The council suggested that City Mgr. Charles A. Brown, and Norman Wohlschlaeger, superintendent of public works, confer with the advisory board about the building.

Later in the meeting the council refused to pay a bill for $500 from California Steel Building Inc. for drawing up the plans for a pre-fabricated building.

Brown said the firm drew up the plans "because we assumed that the corporation yard would have a pre-fab type of building."

The Sausalito City Council also:

1. Learned from Brown that the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Marinship Yacht Harbor and the Clipper Yacht Co. donated $400 toward purchase of a $700 portable fire pump to be used to fight boat fires.

2. Delayed decision on a request by Sausalito Artists and Merchants for an extension of the downtown parking validation program, pending a report by Brown after the Christmas holidays.

3. Set for Jan.4 hearing on an application by Malcolm Dewees for planned unit development of one and two-family residential units, totaling nine units, at 319 Sausalito Boulevard.

4. Supported a recommendation by Ronald E. Piper, Larkspur city manager, urging Marin County supervisors to extend the agreement whereby the city provides gasoline tax funds to cities for city - county urban thoroughfares past July, 1966, when it will expire. Brown was appointed to the urban thoroughfare committee.

5. Passed a resolution adopting the budget of funds allocated by the state for widening projects along Woodward Avenue and Main Street from gasoline tax monies.

6. Authorized Brown to remind the State Division of Highways about landscaping of the Spencer Avenue interchange on Highway 101.

7. Received a report from Wax that the state Division of Highways has cancelled its planned auction of surplus land along Ebbtide Avenue near Richardson Bay School.

Alameda To Gain Additional Taxes

OAKLAND (AP) — Alameda County expects to gain $100,000 in taxes because of an audit started after assessor Donald E. Feragen was indicted on bribery charges.

The assessor's office told the Board of Supervisors yesterday that 20 firms had been underassessed by $1 million in the past three years. Those firms have been billed for the $100,000.

Veteran Pilots To Get Free, Plush Vacation

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sixty battle-weary Army combat pilots will live it up for a week, starting tomorrow after spending the past year in Viet Nam.

They'll have no expenses at the Camelback Inn, a plush Phoenix area inter resort.

The Army is flying the pilots from Viet Nam to San Francisco. Continental Airlines is providing free transportation to Phoenix, where they'll be guests of Jack Stewart, the resort owner.

Some of the pilots' wives will join them at the inn.

In extending the invitation, Stewart said he was fed up with draft card burnings and other anti-war protests in the United States.

Council Asks Lower Density In Marincello

The Sausalito City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution urging the Marin County Board of Supervisors to lower the residential density of Marincello.

The resolution asks the county board to recondsider its approval of planned community zoning for Marincello and of the Marincello master plan.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk noted that the board's action permits high density residential development adjacent to Sausalito.

Councilmen urged that supervisors rezone Marincello to a lower density, or as an alternative, amend the Marincello master plan so it would conform with density in adjacent areas. Supervisors approved planned community development for Marincello with a density of 3.5 family units per acre.

After that decision, supervisors proposed that the county zoning ordinance be amended so that density in planned community developments would have to conform to master plans in adjacent area.

The council's resolution also states that Frouge Corp., developers of Marincello "have acquired no legally vested right to proceed with the residential density approved in connection with the Marincello master plan."

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said that he "heard disturbing reports" that the State Division of Beaches and Parks is reconsidering the whole Marin Headlands park project because of Marincello. (The state park commission today opened a three-day meeting in San Francisco at which the Headlands park is among those to be considered.)

The state objects to the industrial zone in the Marincello plan which would border the proposed park area, Wax said, and plans for access through the Fort Baker tunnel which would bring traffic across park land.

"The state is not about to build a park for Marincello," he said.

The council also agreed to support Novato's resolution that a county service area should be established to provide municipal services for Marincello. The Novato resolution is scheduled to come before the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen tonight.

Anti-Smog Group Begins Hearing

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A two-day hearing on air pollution by the Assembly Interim Committee on Transportation and Commerce opened here today.

Assemblyman Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, head of the committee, said "If we finally control the emissions from automobiles and we continue to have a heavy smog level, the public will have a thoroughly justifiable cause for bitter complaint."

He said the legislature had passed a comprehensive control law relating to automotive pollutants and indicated the committee was interested in other identifiable sources.

Uncle, Nephew Born Only Minutes Apart

OAKLAND (AP)—Mrs. LeRoy Southard, 44, and her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Prock, 20, each gave birth to a son yesterday.

The new uncle and his new nephew were born minutes apart—the uncle at Providence Hospital and the nephew at Kaiser Hospital. The uncle weighed eight pounds and the nephew nine.

Sole Florentine And Duck With Orange Sauce Favorites

Marking an anniversary this month is Rubini's Restaurant in Fairfax, where dinner guests are served free champagne on Mondays through Fridays and also have the opportunity to try anniversary specialties "Duckling a L'Orange" and "Filet of Sole Florentine."

Executive chef Gordon Jones offers his two prize recipes:

ROAST LONG ISLAND DUCK A L'ORANGE

Four pound duck
white pepper
salt
2 tables. flour
3 cups water
juice of two oranges
juice of one lemon
two tablespoons sugar
1 chicken bouillon cube

Trim wing portions, neck and excess fat from duck and place in roasting pan. Rub duck well with salt and pepper. Place duck in roasting pan with trimmings and cook for one hour and fifteen minutes at 400°.

Remove duck from pan and keep warm. Skim off excess fat, leaving some for roux. Make a roux of the flour and drippings. And water and bouillon cube. Simmer for 20 minutes.

Strain this portion and add orange juice, lemon juice, sugar and salt and pepper to taste.

Flame duck with your favorite brandy. Carve and serve with orange sauce.

FILET OF SOLE FLORENTINE

Allow six-ounce filet of sole per person
Mornay sauce
Creamed spinach

MORNAY SAUCE

4 cups basic white sauce
4 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese
4 tablespoons grated swiss cheese
juice of one lemon
salt
white pepper
1 tablespoon accent

Heat four cups white sauce over low flame, stirring constantly, but do not boil. Add the two kinds of cheese, lemon juice, accent, salt and pepper to taste and stir until smooth.

CREAMED SPINACH

1 pkg. frozen chopped spinach
1 cup basic white sauce

Cook spinach according to directions and drain very well. Combine white sauce with spinach and a dash of nutmeg.

Dredge filet of sole in flour and fry in butter or oil until golden brown.

Divide spinach in individual buttered baking dishes. Place filets on top of spinach.

Cover filets with mornay sauce and sprinkle grated cheese on top and bake in 350° oven until bubbly and golden brown.

A LUSCIOUS RECIPE FOR PRE-HOLIDAY FESTIVITY

Baked Chicken Breasts with Ham
Broccoli with Avanelle's Sauce
Green Salad Hot Biscuits
Filbert Crescents Beverage

AVANELLE'S SAUCE

¾ cup butter
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
3 egg yolks, well beaten
⅛ teaspoon salt and dash of cayenne
1 teaspoon minced onion
¼ teaspoon ground tarragon
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar

Into the top part of a small double boiler, put ⅓ of the butter; add lemon juice and egg yolks. Beating constantly with a wire whisk, cook over hot (not boiling) water until butter melts; add another ⅓ of the butter continuing to whisk constantly; as sauce thickens, whisk in the last ⅓ of the butter and continue cooking and whisking until thick. Remove from over water at once and stir in remaining ingredients. Serve at once. Enough sauce for 6 servings (2 pounds) cooked fresh broccoli.

Chocolate Parfait Can Be Glamorous

CHOCOLATE PARFAIT

1 package (4 ounces) dark sweet chocolate pudding-pie filling
2 cups milk
½ cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Make up the chocolate pudding with the milk according to the package directions for pudding; cool. Whip the cream until stiff adding the sugar and vanilla. Alternate the pudding and whipped cream in 4 parfait glasses making 4 layers in each. Chill until serving time.

NUT CRESCENTS

All-Time Yule Favorites

Each year as Christmas rolls around, an enterprising cook is likely to try her hand at baking that all-time holiday favorite—nut crescents.

This year a friend passed along a version of the recipe that was popular in her Ohio home when she was growing up. This is a rich cookie, and the nuts that go into the dough—and make it particularly delicious—are toasted filberts. Although these cookies are rolled in confectioners sugar, they are not overly sweet—just pleasantly so.

THE DONOR of this recipe tells us that her family always used vanilla sugar to roll the cookies in after they were baked. If this interests you, follow her suggestion: Put a pound of confectioners sugar into a canister, add a vanilla bean and allow the combination to stand until the sugar absorbs the flavor of the bean. Our friends says, "If the vanilla is fresh, usually 24 hours standing time does the trick."

FILBERT CRESCENTS

1 cup butter
½ cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 egg yolk
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ cups sifted regular flour
1¼ cups finely chopped toasted filberts
Extra sifted confectioners sugar

In a mixing bowl, cream the butter; add the ½ cup sifted confectioners sugar, egg yolk, salt and vanilla; beat to blend. With a wooden spoon, gradually stir in the flour, then the filberts, mixing well. Cover and chill until firm.

Using a prepared pastry cloth and prepared stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out one-quarter of the dough at a time so it is about ¼-inch thick. (Keep dough you are not rolling refrigerated.) Cut out cookies with a crescent-shape cookie cutter flouring it if necessary. Place cookies about 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until lightly browned—about 10 minutes. Remove with a wide spatula to wire racks; cool; roll in extra sifted confectioners sugar. Store in tightly covered container. Yield will depend on size of cookie cutter.

Note: To prepare the filberts for this recipe—turn the nuts into a shallow pan—one that is about ½-inch high is fine. (Have the nuts in one layer.) Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until they have rich toasted flavor—usually 10 to 15 minutes; shake them a couple of times while they're baking. Remove any of the brown skins that will come off by rubbing the nuts between your palms. Chop them fine in a hand-operated rotary-type nut grater or in the electric blender.

Spread Holiday Cheer With Assorted Cheese Spreads

So often homemakers ponder on what to take as a hostess gift during the holiday season. A plain or gaily decorated brandy snifter, a clear glass beer mug, a champagne glass or other attractive and unusual container filled with a flavorsome, favorite home-made cheese spread is one of those personal gifts that just naturally says "holiday greetings and best wishes." Or for a more elegant gift take along two or three different gala spreads for spreading Christmas cheer. Here are some brand new spreads developed by home economists for the Dairy Council of California.

As with most cheese spreads these should be kept tightly covered in the refrigerator and brought out about an hour before serving to soften and bring out the best flavor. These spreads are best when served with crackers or buttered toast rounds.

BRANDIED CHEESE-BUTTER SPREAD

Men really love this. Curry powder and brandy make it so tasty and different from the ordinary cheese spread. Makes about 3½ to 4 cups.

¼ pound sharp cheddar cheese
½ pound sharp processed cheddar cheese
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
½ cup (1 stick) soft butter
¼ cup brandy
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
6 drops Tabasco

Grate cheddar and processed cheese into bowl. Blend in cream cheese and butter. Work in remaining ingredients gradually, blending until smooth.

CHEESE 'N WINE SPREAD

Cheese and wine have been boon companions from time immemorial. Here we combine them in a fluffy spread with just a hint of onion instead of serving them separately. Recipe makes about 3 cups of spread.

½ pound blue or gorganzola cheese
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1 cup (½ pint) dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 tablespoons sherry wine
Dash cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper

Place cheese in bowl and mash with a fork. Gradually add dairy sour cream, blending until smooth. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. This mixture keeps well in the refrigerator and should be made several hours before serving.

Protein Beverage

A cherry-flavored beverage that's rich in protein content combines whole and instant non fat dry milk, and red maraschino cherry syrup. Combine five cups of whole milk with two cups of instant nonfat dry milk and ¾ cups of the cherry syrup. Stir before serving and garnish with maraschino cherries. Makes six servings.

"FROM OUR house to your house with love" say personalized gifts of luscious home-made cheese spreads, particularly when presented in attractive and appropriate pieces of glassware.

Board Learns Of Marincello Petition Date

Marin County Supervisors learned yesterday that they will receive petitions urging reconsideration of the Marincello Master Plan at 3 p.m. next Tuesday.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he will ask that the names be listed by supervisorial district with a notation on whether or not they are registered voters.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker took sharp issue with that demand.

"The public has a right to petition us and we don't have a right to tell them how it is to be done," Leydecker said.

Kettenhofen protested that he was only mentioning it out of courtesy so the petitioners would know in advance of his request. He said he had received complaints from residents questioning how well informed the petitioners were.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr called this a "gratuitus" remark.

After further words, it was agreed that County Administrator Alan Bruce will inform Mrs. Elizabeth H. Rodman, co-chairman of the Marincello Protest Committee, that Kettenhofen will make this request.

Supervisors Behr and Leydecker were in the minority when the Marincello Master Plan was approved by 3-2 vote Nov. 12.

Joint Closed Meeting To Discuss Planner

The Marin County Board of Supervisors and the County Planning Commission will hold a joint, closed session at the start of the board meeting at 9 a.m. Dec. 21 to discuss candidates for county planning director.

Supervisors scheduled the meeting yesterday. The new man will replace B. D. Dobbs, who has resigned as of next Jan. 1.

Most gala occasion of the year for Mill Valley Tennis Clubwomen was yesterday afternoon's pre-Christmas luncheon highlighted by installation of officers for the coming year. More than 90 members and guests attended the luncheon which was followed by a program on how to make artistic but inexpensive Christmas gifts and ornaments. From left, behind the table are incoming president Mrs. Robert Saxton, Miss Margory Hoya Smith, who presented the program, and outgoing president Mrs. James Reeve. In front of the table is Mrs. Bartlett Grimes, who was general chairman for the luncheon.

WHAT WOMAN SERIES

Doctor Advises Audience To Avoid Dangerous Props

Warning against the use of such "crutches" as alcohol, narcotics and sexual indiscretions, Dr. Patricia Hallinan urged the 60 women attending her lecture, "What Woman Are You — Psychosomatically?" at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Tiburon, yesterday to "meet everyday problems squarely."

"If a woman has not found happiness in life, no doctor can give it to her in a syringe," said Dr. Hallinan, assistant public health officer for the Marin County Health Dept., in the third lecture of the church-sponsored "What Woman Are You?" series.

Defining "psychosomatic" as the interaction of the mind and body, she spoke of the shocks which we meet throughout our lives beginning with birth.

MANY FORCES press in on us all, and we develop fears, the woman doctor said. Some fears are universal, such as fears of famine, pestilence, fire and death. Other fears are personal and result from the things which we have been taught, such as fear of not being liked, fear of failure, fear of appearing cowardly.

A defense mechanism, similar to that which the stomach employs when it rejects bad food, is used to combat extraordinary or prolonged mental stress. Sometimes the defenses get out of hand and bring harmful reactions in the gastro-intestinal tract or excessive fatigue or flight.

The speaker said a woman's life is divided into four parts: The onset of puberty, the marriage and child-bearing years, menopause and old age.

DEFINING puberty according to the Latin derivation as "capable of bearing children," she noted that while most American girls attain physical maturity from 11 to 14, it is not uncommon for the monthly cycle to begin at ten. A charitable home for unwed mothers in the Bay Area has cared for a nine-year-old mother.

Illegitimacy rates have doubled in the 15 to 19-year-old age group in the last ten years. A great increase in teen-age marriages has occurred in the United States. According to figures quoted by Dr. Hallinan, 25 per cent of high school seniors are married, and 50 per cent of these youthful marriages end in divorce. The boy who marries young and assumes family responsibilities falls to the bottom of the labor market. "Love's young dream," said Dr. Hallinan, herself the mother of five sons, "becomes a poverty-ridden nightmare."

WHEN AMERICA was an agricultural country, children were a part of nature and aware of the life cycle. Now experts are inquiring about the changes in mores. Lack of adequate sex information, early dating and lax parental supervision are blamed for the trend in teen-age behavior. Paraphrasing a popular slogan, the public health officer said, "A lot of parents would rather fight than switch."

In discussing marriage and the child-bearing years, Dr. Hallinan found that women are often rather unprepared for marriage, and the reversal of standards. Prior to marriage sex was taboo, after marriage the woman is expected to be warmly responsive. Living in a close personal relationship, a woman often feels that she must hide her shortcomings. With the birth of a child, the marriage is sealed. "The daughter of a mother becomes the mother of a daughter," the speaker said.

THE YOUNG WOMAN is confined to the traditional "children, church and kitchen" role. In our culture, she is almost totally responsible for the children. If she is too dominant, she fears her sons may be homosexuals; if she is too permissive, she worries that her children may get into trouble. As the woman grows older, she may become disillusioned. It is then that she may first seek some "crutch."

Dr. Hallinan discussed at some length the indiscriminate use of tranquilizers, which depress the central nervous system, often produce drowsiness and have some addictive propensities. She also spoke about the relatively new oral contraceptives and stated that they should be used only under strict medical supervision, so that possible adverse side-effects could be quickly spotted.

THE PERSONALITY of the individual woman plays a very

SEEING THE SOVIET

Glittering And Less Glittering Scenes On Russian Landscape

One of a series of articles on a just-completed trip through Russia and India.

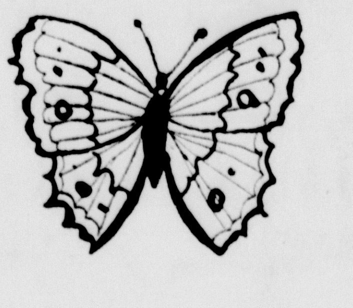
By BARBARA HOSMER



Some glittering and less glittering generalities remain on the Soviet landscape —

Middle-aged women trudge Moscow streets with string shopping bags to carry home the fresh foods for the family meals, often after a long wait in line for fish, bread or fruits. Very few have refrigerators yet and must shop daily, the older often doing the buying for the younger working wives as well. In the cold months they wear snow boots and heavy coats, some in strange "off" shades — reds, greens, purples, blues — none in true bright colors. Invariably a kerchief, usually woolen and costing about 7 rubles (about $8 at official exchange rate), covers the hair.

In the shops, lines form and each shopper selects what she wants, if they have it, then steps to the cashier to pay the bill, which is figured on an abacus. Cash registers are yet unknown in the state's economic machinery. Then it is back to the counter to pick up the purchase and to hand the "paid" tag to the shoplady, three maneuvers for one purchase.

THIS COMPLICATED system is being streamlined a little with more vending machines for papers, pens, magazines, notebooks, haberdashery items and other small things, and by the growing number of kiosks set along the wide sidewalks where there is little or no waiting to buy small items. Occasionally, the salesgirls are now being allowed to take the money, eliminating the cashier lines.

Credit buying is the latest thing in the USSR, but credit can only be extended for purchase of such things as clothes, furniture, television sets and radios, cameras or watches. Prices are the same as for cash with a small fee tacked on for services. A family pays about 20 per cent down payment and the rest is equal amounts over a year period.

Twice a year — spring and autumn—big sales are held by the stores, offering goods that are out of season, outmoded or shopworn.

ONE SPRINGTIME non-sale item that was a hot article with the younger set come May was the butterfly net, almost an oddity in this country nowadays. But nearly every young boy and girl in Moscow carried his own bright red stick with its conical red net, giving one to wonder what the state production quota was on butterflies and whether it shouldn't be increased. . . .

Furniture now has a Danish modern styling that is not unattractive and resembles what we might call a cheap line here. . . . Offices are notable for their plain wooden desks, lack of typewriters and their inkstands with blotter, something that is nearly obsolete in this country. Ballpoint pens are still much sought after items by Russians, and the young boys who greet the foreigner with the offer to trade the ever-present lapel pins for pens or chewing gum are familiar to every traveler.

And about those pins—they are very "in," especially in Moscow and Leningrad, and the adult or youngster who has a lapel full wins the one-upmanship game as it is played in the capital by tourists from the other Soviet republics and the locals. Perhaps that is what has kept the wide-lapel suit so stylish. . . . The pins are enamelled metal depicting local attractions with the city name or the various slogans, organizations and societies of the USSR.

TELEVISION SETS are more within reach of families today and regarded as an educational medium by the state, and thus desirable. But programming is not so extensive as to interfere with the sports, hobby circles, classes and the volunteer activities that are so encouraged as right conduct by the state. The "volunteer" work is somewhat different from America's. Every citizen is urged to do volunteer jobs after work, contributing whatever skills he may have to the developing society. Some teach English to children of guides, some teach technical classes at their factory, some patrol the streets to help keep order and peace. These people can be seen on Moscow and Leningrad streets in the evening, easily identified by their red armbands.

The young women are perhaps a little more stylish than a few years before, their long hair usually done in modified beehive or French twist styles, skirts knee-length and eyes slightly made up. Some, not many, wear lipstick. Hair coloring has hit the Soviet socialist society and the results are often questionable shades of orange and red.

Perhaps these are some signs of the times. Russian Americans who have returned for visits say that their beloved landscape is changing, and the verdict of other travelers is that a visitor better hurry to see the traditional—new, standardized cities are replacing it fast.

"NEXT TIME WE will take a boat trip down the Volga," we suggested to the guide at the parting in the Moscow airport. Her face brightened—"Yes, and we can camp along the banks. Yes, of course," she said hopefully.

Had we seen "only what they want you to"? Whatever the answer, the seeing can be interesting.

OLD FRIENDS met again when Mrs. Yukiko Maki of Tokyo visited Mrs. Thomas Nock in Tiburon. The two reminisced about the prints of traditional artist Un'ichi Hiratsuka. On the wall behind the women is a print of the seventh century Imperial Treasure House, and they are looking at a print showing a Japanese religious gate. These and similar prints were sold to benefit the American Women's College Club in Japan in which both women have been active members.

Japanese Fulbright Officer Visits With Tiburon Family

By BETTY FROST

Ending the five-week tour of the United States with a five-day visit in Tiburon last week, was Mrs. Yukiko Maki, American program officer for the Fulbright Commission of the United States Educational Commission in Japan.

Mrs. Maki has been the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nock, who lived in Japan for 20 years, where Mr. Nock was in the oil business. The Nocks have made their home in Hill Haven, Tiburon, for the past two years.

NO STRANGER to the United States, the charming visitor from Tokyo was graduated from Wellesley in 1924. She had completed high school in Princeton, N.J., and lived in Washington, D.C., during the time her late husband was in the diplomatic service. Now widowed, she has been active with the Fulbright Commission for seven years. She has one grown son who lives in Tokyo.

The purpose of her trip at this time was to visit the various universities in the United States in which Japanese students are enrolled in order to get an over-all picture of the Fullbright Program in operation, and to attend a meeting in Washington, held under the direction of Ralph Vogel, executive secretary of the program, which is represented on the board of foreign scholarships appointed by the President, and operated by the State Department.

SHE HAS SEEN twelve universities since she entered this country at Seattle over a month ago, and has been in the Midwest, New York and New England. During her California sojourn, she visited campuses at Stanford University, San Francisco State College and the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Emphasizing that the program is a two-way street, the petite woman said that coming to Japan are visiting lecturers, research scholars, teachers and graduate students from this country, which involve about 47 families each year, while 160 Japanese scholars are sent to America to study at various universities.

"WE ARE deeply appreciative," she said, "because all of our people are treated so well. The United States is a wonderful country and I have many good friends here."

She noted that it was her first visit to Marin County, and that she was especially pleased to be with the Nock family for a brief interlude of relaxation in a friendly home atmosphere.

The two women reminisced about their shared experiences in Japan. Mrs. Maki is one of the founders of the American College Women's Club in Tokyo. It began as a club for alumnae from the seven Eastern women's colleges, but was expanded to include alumnae of other American colleges. Mrs. Nock, a graduate of the University of California, became interested in the club, which has an office in the American Cultural Center in Tokyo. In 1955, the Tiburon woman assisted in founding an information center for the American College Women's Club in the American Cultural Center in Yokohama.

THE ALUMNAE club offers a two-way cultural exchange. Japanese and American women who had been educated in the United States work together to raise funds to send young Japanese to this country to study. One of their most successful projects was the display and sale of Japanese prints, such as those of Un'ichi Hiratsuka, which Mrs. Nock has in her Tiburon home. Hiratsuka is a traditional artist who has been among the leaders of the school of art which insists that the artist both design and print his own work.

JAPANESE women delighted in showing their American friends some of the beautiful and less accessible spots of interest in their country. Mrs. Nock recalls laughingly that Mrs. Maki took a group of American women to a Zen Buddhist temple, which had never before been visited by American women. Through Mrs. Maki's persuasiveness the party was allowed to spend the night in the temple, which has ample accommodations for wayfarers, but had never before extended this hospitality to women from this country.

WOMAN SERIES

important part in her reaction to the menopause. The change of life usually takes place in the late 40s or early 50s. "Many think it is the end, actually," said Dr. Hallinan. "It means the end to child-bearing, but that is the only function that ceases."

The autonomic system, which functions without voluntary control, may bring on hot flashes and night sweats. Psychogenic symptoms such as anxiety, depression, insomnia and frigidity may appear. There may be gradual changes in bone composition. Hormones and calcium may be indicated.

"Unfortunately, in this country we have a cult favoring youth and beauty," Dr. Hallinan said. The beautiful girl who has neglected to develop her mind and personality may find this time of life very turbulent. Those who have developed charm, wit and intelligence to supplement surface beauty will usually weather it well.

THE LIFE SPAN in the United States has been greatly increased in this country by good medical care and yet there is very little respect in the United States for the elderly, the lecturer said.

There are now over 10,000 people in this nation over 100 years old. Men, retiring at 65, may face one-third of their life with little to do. The new field of geriatrics offers new knowledge of nutrition and health care for the elderly. Elderly people who keep their minds active get along pretty well. A lack of mental stimulation often accounts for the decline of the elderly. "You can teach an old dog anything he wants to learn," she said.

DR. HALLINAN spoke hopefully of future aid for the elderly of Marin County. (BLF)

Can't erase the readership of Marin's Best-seller

Why does advertising in the I-J make a lasting impression on I-J readers? Why does it make a resounding "impression" on cash registers of hundreds of stores and dealers?

The reason is simple, yet it can mean the difference, in your business, between profit and loss. In the I-J, your ads become PART OF THE NEWS OF MARIN COUNTY. They team up news of your merchandise with LOCAL NEWS—the best-read, most wanted feature in the Independent-Journal.

Result: you gain the concentrated attention of the I-J's 40,600 families. Instead of coming in "by air," or in the vacuum of a circular, your advertising arrives in the home within Marin's best-selling news medium.

That's why the I-J is Marin's best-seller for advertisers. That's why merchants who carefully consider their costs, put THEIR stores in Marin's best-selling location — the 40,600 homes of the Independent-Journal.

NOW 73.4% COVERAGE OF THE RICHEST MARKET IN ALL 13 WESTERN STATES

When you combine the two—the I-J's coverage and readership with the responsiveness of the West's richest market, then you're aiming at full potential for your business.

Fund Hunt Starts For Aquatic Park

San Rafael Recreation Director Joseph P. Rodota will confer with state officials in Sacramento later this month to find out whether state or federal funds might be available to help the city build an aquatic park.

The San Rafael Park and Recreation Commission last week authorized Rodota to look into the matter.

Yesterday, Rodota said he has no site and no precise details worked out yet, but is following up on suggestions by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce that the city should consider such a park.

He said he envisions a site of 20 to 25 acres in an open water area of San Rafael, probably near the Canal Street apartments.

The park would probably include a bathing beach, boat launching ramps and parking facilities. It might be operated entirely by the city, but Rodota conceded he sees "a lot of potential" in having private concessionaires.

An aquatic park would serve two purposes, Rodota said.

First, it would fill a need which many citizens feel exists for public access to open water.

Too, it would fill in the present, serious gap in recreation facilities for residents of the Canal Street area.

Rodota declined to mention any cost figures until he finds out whether outside funds are available.

Should they be available—and if the city council is ready to make a serious study of an aquatic park—Rodota predicted he would draw heavily from the previous planning of engineer Daniel P. Coleman for details.

Coleman included such a park in his proposed a San Rafael Master Plan. This feature, however, was one of the parts of the plan which led councilmen not to approve it, since it involved diking which was attacked by critics as further bay filling.

Eighth Grader Wins Yule Poster Contest

Michael Mello, eighth grader at Blessed Sacrament School in Santa Venetia, was awarded grand prize in the Christmas poster contest for elementary school pupils conducted by Boyd Natural Science Museum Guild.

The county-wide contest drew 306 entries, Mrs. Bryce W. Anderson, chairman, reported today.

A special artistic award went to Lynn Mayer, sixth grader at Adaline E. Kent School in Kentfield.

Top winners in each of the three divisions were:

Sixth through eighth grades: Anna Marie Crum, St. Isabella's School, Terra Linda, first; Julianne Franz, St. Isabella's School, second; Susie Jackson, Adaline E. Kent School, third.

Fourth and fifth grades: Virginia Halverson, Alto School, first; Jeremy Fisher-Smith, Alto School, second; Candice Curry, San Clemente School, Corte Madera (Larkspur District), third.

First through third grades: Rameen Moezzi, Oliver Hartzell School, San Rafael, first; Jody Lee Travis, Don Timoteo School, San Rafael (Dixie District), second; Sally Caveny, Oliver Hartzell School, third.

Sentencing Date Set For Pickets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five demonstrators who picketed Gen. Maxwell Taylor in a protest of the Viet Nam war will be sentenced Dec. 13 for trespassing and disturbing the peace.

They changed their pleas from innocent to no contest and were convicted yesterday in Municipal Court.

Taylor, former ambassador to South Viet Nam, was at the Fairmont Hotel last August when the picketing occurred.

The five are Jerry Rubin, 27, Berkeley, a Vietnam Day Committee leader; Steve Weissman, 25, Oakland, once prominent in the Free Speech Movement at the University of California; Lawrence R. Loughlin, 32, of San Francisco; Barbara J. Gullahorn, 22, Berkeley; and Henry H. Mitchell, 20, Fresno.

'Mental Care'

Sonoma State Hospital staff psychologist Margeret J. Stanford will speak on "Recent Trends in Mental Care" tomorrow at 11 a.m. in room 26 of the Science Building at College of Marin.

Ross Schedules Slope Discussion

The Ross Town Council is scheduled to introduce an ordinance and pass a resolution tomorrow which would pave the way for a town slope policy.

Councilmen will meet at 8 p.m. at the town hall.

Also scheduled is discussion on two proposed ordinances. One would add a floor ration limitation to present lot coverage stipulations, while the other would control noise caused by loudspeakers and construction equipment.

Restrictions Face Black South African

By KAREN MICKLESON
Drake High School

PAUL HILTON
Saw apartheid close-up

Paul Hilton, a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School, spent the last two years living in Johannesburg, Republic of South Africa.

Francis B. Hilton, Paul's father, works for Bechtel Corp. and was sent to Africa in connection with opening of a new copper mine. The family moved along with him. Upon returning from Africa, the Hiltons took residence at 55 Forest Terrace, Fairfax.

Race relations and educational systems were particular points of interest during Paul's stay.

The African natives are quite restricted in their actions, according to Paul. Natives cannot go to white schools, nor can they attend movie theaters and other places of recreation.

"Even in the places where they can go, they have their own sections, such as soccer games, busses," said Paul. For example, the only time a Negro can ride a white bus is while accompanying white children to their destination.

The natives are in constant fear of the Caucasian race, he said. "They realize the power of the white man and they respect and obey him. . . .

"You have to live there to understand why they must treat the natives the way they do. The natives couldn't survive very well without the white man."

The educational system in South Africa differs greatly from ours. Paul said school "is much harder there and they are very strict. There are no discipline problems, either."

High school takes six years to complete. During each year one takes seven solid courses (no electives). Among the six-year requisites are mathematics, English and two other languages.

The same subjects are taken constantly, but they become more complicated each year. Paul suggested that perhaps this is advantageous, for students finish high school at a much more advanced level than American students do.

Five weeks were taken during his trip home, during which Paul and his family toured in Europe. Although he spent some time in France and Spain, the majority of sightseeing was in Italy. Paul liked Venice best and found it most scenic and most historically interesting.

"My understanding of the people of other nations has been broadened and through my traveling I've gained better knowledge of the geography of the world," he said of his two years abroad.

JOHN DAVID CROW

49ers' Crow Is Named NFL Player Of Week

NEW YORK (AP) — John David Crow, the Heisman Trophy winner in 1957, is coming back strong as a power runner and pass catcher with San Francisco 49ers.

Crow's running in the second half of Sunday's Detroit game has earned him recognition by The Associated Press as the offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 49ers' offense calls for many passes to the running backs and Crow fits into the picture. Paired with rookie Ken Willard at the two running back positions, Crow already has topped his 1964 yardage in total offense. The former Texas A&M star has gained 447 yards running and 430 receiving for 877 yards.

The Lions held Crow to 15 yards on five carries in the first half but he came back strong with 64 yards on nine carries in the second half as the 49ers rallied from a 14-3 deficit to a 17-14 victory. It was Crow slamming for 15 big yards on two carries who kept alive the winning touchdown drive. He gained 79 yards on 14 carries for the day.

Crow and Willard also were factors in keeping the Lions' rugged rush line off the back of quarterback John Brodie. Brodie has not been thrown for a loss while attempting to pass in the last four games.

Jim Brown, the great Cleveland fullback, tied Lenny Moore's record by scoring his 20th touchdown of the year in Cleveland's 24-16 victory over Washington. Brown carried 27 times for 141 yards for a season total of 1,450 yards.

Gary Collins of the Cleveland Browns caught five passes for 53 yards and one touchdown and averaged 50.5 yards per punt on four efforts.

Tucker Frederickson, the New York Giants' rookie fullback, had his best day, scoring three touchdowns and gaining 81 yards against Pittsburgh.

Roman Gabriel, filling in for injured Bill Munson as the Los Angeles quarterback, completed 17 of 31 for 216 yards and to touchdowns in an upset of St. Louis.

Chicago's Gale Sayers, a leading candidate for rookie of the year honors, scored the lone touchdown on a 61-yard run in the Bears' 13-0 win over Baltimore. Sayers gained 118 on 16 carries and caught one pass for 10 yards.

Bobby Hayes and Frank Clarke of Dallas each caught a TD pass from Don Meredith in a 21-19 victory over Philadelphia. Norm Snead of the Eagles continued his effective bombing with 20 of 43 for 320 yards in a losing cause.

Jim Taylor gained 89 yards on 17 carries for Green Bay, but their best gainer was a 73-yard run by defensive back Willie Wood after taking Fred Cox' 59-yard field goal attempt in the second period of the game with Minnesota.

Bowl Grid Games Getting Out Of This World; Sun-Moon Next?

I love football, but enough is enough. I mean these post-season bowl games are getting out of hand. It all started with just a few New Year's Day classics, but if you'll check the sports calendar you'll find bowl games for every vegetable, animal and mineral.

Everybody, it seems, is getting into the act, so I've decided that if you can't beat 'em, join 'em. Here are some of my contributions to the post-season madness otherwise known as Major Bowls Amateur Hour:

There is a Liberty Bowl so why not a Communist Bowl in Red Bluff?

LET'S TOP the Lettuce Bowl with a Dressing Bowl in France. A tossup.

There are bowls for flowers, like the Rose and Camellia, so I'd be happy to stage a Weed Bowl in my backyard. Come one, come all — the mower the merrier.

I'D LOVE to have a seat on the 50-yard line for a Plumbers Bowl in Flushing, N.Y. And how about a Carpenters Bowl in Woodacre between Warsaw and Great Plains?

San Quentin, I am sure, could nicely stage a Penal Bowl between Penn. and Conn. Speaking of such, there already is a Copper Bowl, so let's arrange a Robber Bowl. Or how about a Bowl Bowl between Walla Walla and Sing Sing?

VEGETABLES CERTAINLY deserve a place on our post-season grid menu, like a Sprout Bowl in Brussels. Cauliflower Bowl in Madison Square Garden and a Corn Bowl in Cobb. For Seasoning there should be a Pepper Bowl in Salt Lake.

Of course, we could start a Glow Bowl conflict, but maybe we'd better let Saigons be Saigons.

A MILK BOWL in the Cow Palace between Moo Jersey and Gurnseyville sounds udderly fascinating.

Even more ridiculous would be a Burl Hives Bowl between Redwood and the Novato Hornets.

Yes, the list goes on and on. There are bowls for Bluebonnets, Mineral Water, Pecan, Tangerine, Rice (Grantland), Gator, Sun, etc. and a long list of etceteras.

AND IT WON'T be long now before you'll be reading the following headlines: "Inter-Planetary Bowl—Astros vs. Cosmos, Opening Blastoff at 1:30." Or, "Earth Mars Venus in Space Bowl," or "Moon Tide, by Jupiter!" or "Sun Eclipses All-Stars."

So, you can see the situation is not only getting out of hand; it's liable to get out of this world. I hope they put a stop to the nonsense pretty soon because what started out with the Adam Bowl could develop into the Atom Bowl and I don't want to be around to hear the final gun.

Prothro Issues An Apology

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — UCLA football coach Tommy Prothro hasn't changed his mind about the officiating in last Saturday's Bruin-Tennessee game at Memphis, but he and fullback Paul Horgan have apologized to Volunteer star Bob Petrella for an injury suffered on the final play.

Tennessee won the game, 37-34, on a touchdown with 39 seconds remaining.

"I have written Coach (Doug) Dickey apologizing for our player's (Horgan's) over-aggressiveness on the sidelines on the final play, for which there was no excuse, and also expressed the belief it has been exaggerated," Prothro said yesterday.

Petrella required 12 stitches to close a head wound sustained in an out-of-bounds collision with Horgan, who was not in the game at the time.

Horgan, son of former FBI agent and prominsnt Los Angeles attorney Patrick D. Horgan, issued a prepared statement yesterday in which he said, "I am distressed about the incident and have written to Bob Petrella to say so."

Prothro did not indicate if any disciplinary action would be taken against Horgan and added it was a "matter for our squad alone."

Tennessee officials had charged that Horgan came off the bench and deliberately struck Petrella.

UCLA's athletic director, J.D. Morgan, said he wired Tennessee Athletic Director Bob Woodruff before viewing the game films and had apologized for any untoward behavior by any Bruin player or players.

After seeing the films he said, "when the boy as knocked out of bounds, he was knocked into Horgan. Horgan fended him off in the chest and down went everyone."

Prothro, still bitterly disappointed at the loss, said he had not changed his opinion about the officiating "except that I do not feel A. C. Williams officiated a poor game."

On his weekly television program Monday night Prothro showed several of the disputed plays.

CELTICS' HIGH LOW PLAY?

Don Nelson of the Boston Celtics rolls on his back and teamate Larry Siefried leaps over him after Nelson slipped to the floor during the Boston-St. Louis game last night in New York City. Cliff Hagen of the Hawks is more concerned with the loose ball than with the tumbling Nelson. The Celtics won the wild and woolly game, 112-96. See story on page 34. (AP Wirephoto)

SENIOR BOWL SELECTIONS

Tulsa Air Combo Named

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Tulsa's record-breaking passing battery heads up the offensive-minded North team announced today for the 17th annual Senior Bowl football game Jan. 8.

The battery is Bill Anderson throwing and Howard Twilley catching. Both set all-time NCAA marks during the regular season.

The 27-member North squad includes seven players picked in the first round of the professional football drafts, plus 11 others chosen in the first five rounds. Every man on the squad was drafted by the pro clubs.

The South squad, announced last Sunday, included six first-round choices and a total of 19 in the first five rounds.

Michigan '5' Trails Bruins By 58 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA's first place berth in this week's Associated Press poll is something less than startling. The same can't be said for South Carolina's No. 10 spot.

"It feels great," said Frank McGuire, the Gamecocks' coach. "We're two years ahead of schedule."

The 10th place berth was South Carolina's first appearance on the list of college basketball's elite and marked McGuire's return to prominence. In 14 years at St. John's, N.Y. and North Carolina, his teams were rarely out of the Top Ten.

There were few other suprises in the first weekly poll.

UCLA, as expected, dominated the voting with 35 of the 42 first place ballots cast by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters across the country. The Bruins totaled 399 points to 341 for Michigan. The Wolverines had six first place votes.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, rated one of the strongest teams in the East, got the other first place vote and had 262 points for third place.

Following the Hawks were Vanderbilt, Minnesota, Duke, Kansas, Providence, Bradley and McGuire's South Carolina.

UCLA lived up to its preseason notices with wide margin victories over Big Ten foes Ohio State and Illinois last week. Michigan whipped Tennessee, Bowling Green and Ball State in its first three outings.

Duke, which dropped a 73-71 decision to South Carolina Monday night, faces the toughest week of all the Top Ten teams with consecutive clashes against UCLA Friday and Saturday.

The balloting for the Top Ten, which covered games through Monday night, credited 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc.

The Associated Press College basketball poll as determined on the basis of 10 points for first place, 9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1, first places are in parentheses.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1.UCLA (35) | 2 | 0 | 399 |

| 8.Providence | 1 | 0 | 142 |

Other teams receiving votes, listed in alphabetical order, were: Army, Boston College, Brigham Young, Cincinnati, Colorado, Creighton, Dayton, Florida, Georgia Tech, Iowa, Kansas State, Kentucky, Louisville, Maryland, Michigan State New Mexico, North Carolina State, Oklahoma City, Penn, Penn State, San Fran- California, Tennessee, Utah, West Virgin- cisco, St. John's N.Y., Stanford, Southern ia.

Raiders Are Solid Pick Over Jets

OAKLAND (UPI)— Oakland rates as a solid favorite Sunday over the New York Jets, but it's hard to believe after hearing the Raider front office talk.

"They're a good, young club," a Raider spokesman insisted yesterday. "And that Joe Namath is simply great for a rookie quarterback."

Namath, the $400,000 bonus baby, is rolling after a slow start. He has hit 128 of 260 passes for 1701 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank third in the league.

New York lost five and tied one in its first six games. Then the Jets won four straight and lost to straight.

Namath gets a lot of help from fullback Matt Snell, who has rushed for 707 yards, and flanker Don Maynard, who has caught 51 passes.

The Raiders can get a shot at the Western title by downing New York, which is likely to happen, while San Diego falls before Houston, which is unlikely to happen. Oakland is at San Diego in the last game of the season.

My Searcher Wins Feature

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Odds-on favorite My Searcher rung on between horses yester- and captured the $3,500 Sons of Italy Purse for 3-year-olds by a head over six furlongs at Bay Meadows.

The high - weighted favorite took over in the stretch and ran the distance in 1:11 1-5.

The winner paid $3.80, $3.00 and $2.20. Ray Gold closed ground quickly for second and paid $10.20 and $3.00. Kellojet was third in the six-horse race and returned $2.40.

Marin Tars Bombed, 105-60

Contra Costa Junior College's cage team, defending champ of the Golden Gate Conference, was too much for College of Marin Tars last night in San Pablo. The Tars were bombed, 105-60.

Among the standouts for Contra Costa were Don Lyon, top prep scorer in Northern California last year when he played for California School for Deaf in Berkeley, and center Wes Russell, a big rebounder. Lyon was high scorer in the game with 31 points. Gary Lloyd hit for 22 points.

Top scorer for Marin, which trailed 52-27 at half, was Don Hanson with 12 points.

Marin coach Cal Riemcke, realizing early that the game was out of reach, played all 14 men on his team.

Marin scoring: Don Hanson, 4-4-12; Fred Arnold, 4-0-8; Rod Monti, 2-2-6; Jim Halm, 3-0-6; Bill Brody, 4-1-9; Larry Wolfe, 2-0-4; Lorry Galassi, 2-0-4; Jeff Chapman, 2-0-4; Bill Pandiani, 2-1-5; Mike Menne, 1-0-2. Totals: 26-8—60.

Contra Costa scoring: Gary Lloyd, 9-4-22; Don Lyon, 14-3-31; Wes Russell, 2-1-5; David Farr, 3-1-7; Vince Clemons, 6-0-12; Joe Dixon, 2-0-4; C. J. Farr, 2-0-4; Louis Wright, 2-0-4; Dennis Abel, 1-3-5; Frank Byias, 4-1-9; L. E Wagner, 1-0-2. Totals: 46-13—105.

Santa Clara Squeezes By Miami Quint In Close One

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Santa Clara Broncos have found that one way of winning basketball games is to stay on good terms with the clock.

Before the time finally ran out in Santa Clara's 78-74 victory over the University of Miami last night, the lead changed no less than eight occasions.

In the final minute, the game still could have gone either way.

With 17 seconds left, Miami scored and cut Santa Clara's lead to two points. It was only when Bronco sophomore Bob Heaney dropped in a clinching jump shot with two seconds remaining that Santa Clara could relax.

High scorer for the game was Bronco guard Mark Gervasoni, with 29 points. Guard Junior Gee led Miami with 18.

In other action, Don Frost scored 16 points and sparked the Cal Aggies to a 64-55 victory over an alumni team.

49er Parks Is Battling For Pass Catching Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Brown of Cleveland has virtually clinched the rushing championship and scoring crown in the National Football League but there is a lively battle for the pass catching title between Dave Parks of San Francisco and Pete Retzlaff of Philadelphia.

Brown has gained 1,450 yards in 12 games and his 20 touchdowns, tying Lenny Moore's record of last year, give him the scoring lead with 120 points.

The closest competitor in the rushing department is Timmy Brown of Philadelphia with 833 yards, or 617 yards behind Jim. Fred Cox of the Minnesota Vikings is next to Brown in scoring with 98 points on 20 field goals and 38 conversions. It is possible for him to catch the Cleveland fullback, but not likely.

Parks has caught 62 passes for 1,066 yards and Retzlaff, veteran tight end of the Eagles, has nabbed 60 for 1,119 yards. Tommy McDonald of Los Angeles in third with 53 receptions.

Although Bob Hayes, the Dallas rookie, isn't among the top 10 receivers, he has caught 40 for 806 yards and is averaging 20.2 yards per catch. He may become the first rookie receiver to gain 1,000 yards catching passes since Mike Ditka's 1,076 for Chicago in 1961.

Rudy Bukich of Chicago remains the leading passer in standings based on several different categories. Bobby Boyd of Baltimore has the most interceptions, seven, Gary Collins of Cleveland leads the punters with a 46.9-yard average; Leroy Kelly of Cleveland is the top punt return man with an average of 16. 2 yards, and Tom Watkins of Detroit is first in kickoff returns with a 34.4-yard average.

Knicks, Celtics Win Games; Red Auerbach Tossed Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick McGuire is oneup on a couple of old teammates and Red Auerbach is onedown to another referee. But Auerbach's Boston Celtics still are 8½ up on McGuire's New York Knickberbockers.

The Knicks edged Los Angeles 131-127 last night for McGuire's second coaching victory in three starts after the Celtics beat St. Louis 112-96 but lost Auerbach in the opener of a stormy National Basketball Association doubleheader.

McGuire has beaten to former Knick teammates — St. Louis Player-coach Richie Guerin and Los Angeles pilot Fred Schaus — since taking over the New York reins nine days ago. Auerbach, meanwhile, has been tossed out of a game for the second time this season.

The Celtics, however, remain on top in the Eastern Division race, 16 percentage points in front of second-place Cincinnati and 8 ½ games ahead of the last-place Knicks.

They overpowered the Hawks despite the absence of big Bill Russell, scoring ace Sam Jones...and Auerbach, who was ejected from the game in the third period after drawing his second technical foul of the evening in a tragi-comic rhubarb with official Norm Drucker.

The argument started over a team technical foul called against the Celtics for making an illegal substitution. Mike Farmer, who handles the St. Louis bench while Guerin is playing, pointed out the infraction to the officials and when Auerbach demanded equal time for rebuttal, Drucker ignored...and then banished him.

"The official was probably right on the call," Auerbach said afterward, "but I objected to Farmer stopping the game. Drucker listened to Farmer but when I tried to say something he wouldn't listen to me."

Russell, who is out with a pulled muscle, piloted the Celtics the rest of the way and, with Larry Siegfried doing the heavy gunning, they broke the game open in the final 15 minutes.

Siegfried scored 31 points while filling in for Sam Jones, who is nursing a damaged knee. Tom Sanders added 21 points for the Celts and Guerin had 22 for St. Louis.

The Knicks, paced by Dick Barnett's 38 points and 10 assists, outlasted the Western Division-leading Lakers despite a 46-point spree by Jerry West. West carried the scoring load in the absence of Elgin Baylor, who has been sidelined by a knee injury.

New York set a club record ith 41 assists — Butch Komives also chipping in with 10. Walt Bellamy contributed 24 points 24 rebounds as the Knicks erased a 10-point halftime deficit and held on in the closing minutes.

Barnett and teammate Willis Reed also were slapped with technicals and Guerin drew one in the first game. Those three and the pair incurred by Auerbach increased the league treasury by $125. An automatic $25 fine goes with each technical called.

North Grid Team For Senior Bowl

Missouri's 6-2, 207-pound halfback Johnny Roland, by the New York Jets; West Virginia's 6-2, 235-pound fullback Dick Leftridge, Pittsburgh Steelers; San Diego State's 6-1, 190-pound end Wry Garrison, San Diego Chargers; Massachusetts' 6-4, 250-pound end Milt Morin, Cleveland Browns.

Indiana's 6-5, 242-pound Randy Beisley, an interior lineman, Philadelphia Eagles; Missouri's 6-5, 245-pound Francis Peay, interior lineman, New York Giants; and Purdue's 6-3, 240-pound Karl Singer, interior lineman, Boston Patriots.

The versatile Roland, Singer and Tulsa's Twilley are North players who were chosen on the first-team All-America.

The fabulous Twilley, who is only 5-10 and 180 pounds, caught 134 passes — 55 more than anyone else in major college ranks — and led the nation in scoring with 127 points this season.

Anderson set five major college records and led major college players in total offense and passing. His passing records were 509 attempts, 296 completions and 3,464 yards gained. The Tulsa tosser was drafted by both Los Angeles and Houston as a future last year.

Anderson will share the quarterbacking duties with Missouri standout Gary Lane, a second-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bisons; and George Wilson of Xavier of Ohio, also drafted by Buffalo and Detroit.

The South squad of 27 players includes 17 from the Southeastern Conference and other top players from the Southwest and Atlantic Coast conferences.

The Southerners are led by three All-Americas — center-linebacker Paul Crane of Alabama, Florida end Charley Casey and Tennessee linebacker Frank Emanuel.

South quarterbacks are Alabama's Steve Sloan and Texas A.&I's Randy Johnson, who has signed with the new Atlanta Falcons of the NFL.

Weeb Ewbank of the New York Jets will coach the South team and Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots will direct the North.

Each member of the winning team will receive $1,000 and each loser $750. The South leads in the series 10-5-1 with the 7-7 tie last January the only draw.

Tam And San Rafael Basketballers Lose

Tamalpais High School's basketball team lost to Vallejo yesterday on the Tam court, 67-62.

In the only other varsity game played yesterday, San Rafael lost its first game of the year, falling to Santa Rosa 48-43 on the Bulldog's floor.

The Indians of Tam shot a cold 31 per cent from the floor in the first period, which is the main reason they trailed at halftime, 35-24.

In the third quarter, the Tam cagers out-scored the Apaches' 24-13, knotting the score at 48-all.

The Indians shot a sizzling 60 per cent in the second half, but it wasn't enough to overcome the 11-point first half deficit.

Steve Woodward and Pete Nelson were high scorers for Tam with 13 and 12 points respectively. John Marshall led Vallejo's offense with 16.

Tam: Steve Johnson, 2-0-4; Woodward, 5-3-13; Honor Jackson, 2-0-4; Mike Biber, 0-2-2; Ron Gilliam, 2-1-5; Nelson, 5-2 12; Mike Beaver, 3-1-7; Brian Donnan, 2-1-5; Art Center, 5-0-10. Totals: 26-10—62.

Watch Out! Here Comes Old Durant

No one ever sat on a horse better than Tim Durant—not John Wayne, Gary Cooper, Lady Godiva, Snapper Garrison, Geromino or Tom Mix. Certainly no one from Waterbury, Conn., which is where Tim was foaled. The last horse they had there was pulling a streetcar.

Tim was a Yale man, so, naturally, he went into stocks and bonds. He became a son-in-law of the original E. F. Hutton, and the nice part about that was that Tim couldn't wait to get out of his bowler hat and customer suit and down to the family stable on week-ends so he could jump fences and chase frightened furry little animals.

THE ECONOMY even co-operated to put Tim on horseback full time. Tim was what was known as a "$2 broker" (two bucks every 100 shares sold), and there were days when he computed it could cost him $200 in sales to go out to lunch. Pretty soon he was the richest guy in the country bringing peanut butter sandwiches to work in his hat.

He had set his goal at a million dollars by the time he was 30. Tim was willing, but his stomach wouldn't go along. He ended up with only a half million and a case of flaming stomach ulcers at Roosevelt Hospital. The day the stock market broke, Tim remembers carrying orders around by the basketful. Only the buyers were perched on Manhattan ledges by that time, looking for a dry spot to land.

"I REMEMBER you literally had to walk home at night squeezing yourself against the buildings so you wouldn't get hit with falling partners," Tim recalled.

Tim came to Hollywood in the early '30s, a lean, spare six-footer with an excellent tennis backhand, an excellent knowledge of horsemanship, and of finances—and not much else. He quickly became Charlie Chaplin's liaison man with the financial world. There were times when it was more fun being a seller in a market crash. But as long as he got the week-end astride a jumper chasing a scent over the Malibu hills, it was the good life for him.

It was Winston Churchill, or somebody, who described foxhunting as "the unspeakable in pursuit of the inedible," but Tim Durant so liked being on horseback that he would have been happy even in the Charge of the Light Brigade.

HE ORGANIZED "drag scent" hunts (in which the scent of a fox was captured in a bag) and enlilsted as many of the movie colony as could manage to get on a horse and not fall off, to join him. He hunted in Ireland with his good friend, the director, John Huston. He bought his own modest ranch and raised jumpers. He wore out several red coats and had to have his top hat blocked regularly. But, two years ago when he was over in England, he suddenly perceived a new challenge—the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree outside of Liverpool.

This is the Kentucky Derby of England—a 4¾-mile steeplechase over some 30 jumps, most of them privet hedges, but one of them full of water. The fatalities on this four-footed version of Indianapolis are usually, but not always, horses. The winner's fans liked to boast he "never touched a twig or wet a boot," but a more typical situation occurred the year Tim watched the race when 47 started and only 13 finished—and had prickers and water all over them. The race is 120 years old, and the number who have finished it are only a quarter of the number who have started it.

TIM IMMEDIATELY bought a jumper, Aerial III, and put his name in the entry box for 1966. The English were outraged. It's not that Tim is an American. Their objection was geriatric, not geographic. Tim will be 66 years old when the race is run. He'll be spotting his horse 56 years and the rest of the riders a couple of generations.

They made Tim ride a race on a similar course to prove his fitness and adaptability—or lack of it. He finished the race—next-to-last, to be sure, but it was the horse who was slow, not Tim. Besides, the jumps behind Tim were littered with human and animal debris anyone of whom would have been glad just to finish, period.

THE JUMPS AT Aintree are high enough to commit suicide off—as has been proven in the past. A severe conditioning program is indicated to last the grueling 10 minutes of the race on which millions are bet in sweepstakes all over the world. Tim prepped by riding a 100-mile-in-one-day race over the summit of the Sierras from Tahoe City over into Nevada—a trip made largely with flashlight and prayer on precipices just wide enough for a horse to walk squeezing against the mountain like a 1929 stockbroker edging for the subway.

You can get 1000-to-1 against Tim in the Grand National. You can get almost that against his even finishing. You probably could get a good price against his surviving.

It just might be an overlay. The horse is like a good broken-field runner — not necessarily fast, but hard to bring down. So is the rider.

First Foreign Student To Win Novato Letter

At the recent Novato High School sports award program, the crowd gave a standing ovation for a young man who had been selected by the high school's champion cross country team as the most improved player of the season.

With that, Bob Smith, the team's most valuable player, gave the young man a Novato High School letterman's jacket, which the team members had chipped in and bought as a present for the young man.

It was not that his record was so excellent — he had finished second twice against Redwood and Drake high school teams. It was because he was the first foreign student in the history of Novato High School to win a letter in athletics.

That is the record so far this year of Wilfrid van Meer, a Youth for Understanding exchange student from The Netherlands.

Wilfrid probably well deserved the credit for the most improved runner on the cross country team. His only experience in athletics was playing field hockey in a private club and not in high school back in his native Holland.

Wilfrid is staying this school year with the Grant Nelson family at 768 Kendon Lane, Novato. His American brother is Donald Nelson, a junior at Novato High School. He also has a younger brother, Richard, who goes to Hill Junior High School.

He was born in Arnheim, site of one of the famous battles of World War II, but does not remember much of that area because his family moved near Amsterdam when he was only six. His father is a stockbroker in Amsterdam.

Some of his observations on America included things that we have that they do not have. Some of these were daylight time, and Veterans Day, Halloween and Thanksgiving holidays.

He was also surprised that everybody here lives in a "bungalow." In Holland, they live in two and three-story row houses with a small front yard and a little larger back yard. He was also surprised at the number of cars.

"Everybody here has two or three cars," he said.

He took a more mature view of girls than that of most of the exchange students.

"Girls are the same here as in Holland," he observed.

Cage Tourney Set In Kentfield Gym

College of Marin's basketball pavilion will be loaded with fans from throughout Northern California this weekend when the Tars host the Golden Valley Conference cage tournament.

Four games will be played Friday, starting at 3 p.m., and seven games will be played Saturday starting at 9 a.m. Cost of the tourney is $1 per day for adults and 50 cents for student body card holders.

First game of the double elimination tourney Friday will find Shasta College going against Yuba Junior College, 3 p.m. At 5 o'clock, it will be Napa vs. guest school American River J.C. Then at 7 p.m., it's Sierra vs. Santa Rosa, followed by host Marin against Siskiyou, 9 o'clock.

Santa Rosa Junior College, victor over Foothill College already this season, and American River J.C. rate as tourney favorites.

Although the Tars have an 0-3 record so far this season, they can't be counted out of the GVC tourney because the Mariners always seem to do great against conference foes.

In last year's tournament, played at Santa Rosa, Marin beat American River 83-81, Santa Rosa 76-73 and Shasta 70-63 to win the championship trophy. The Tars will be trying to defend that trophy this weekend.

2 Yanks Advance In Net Play

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Americans Arthur Ashe and Herb FitzGibbon gained the men's singles quarter-finals of the South Australian Tennis Championships but two other U.S. players were eliminated in the third round today.

Ashe, the No. 1 foreign seed from Richmond, Va., ousted Patricio Rodriguez of Chile 7-5, 5-7, 6-2 and FitzGibbon, of Garden City, N.Y., disposed of Alan Stone of Australia 6-2, 6-3.

Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., and Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., bowed to a pair of Australians. Roy Emerson, the Wimbledon champion and the top-seeded Australian, was hard-pressed to defeat Richey 6-1, 8-10, 9-7. Owen Davidson also was extended before beating McManus 6-3, 0-6, 6-4.

Tom Okker of Holland provided the day's biggest upset as he outlasted Davis Cupper John Newcombe, the No. 3 Australian seed, 6-1, 11-9. Newcombe was the tournament's defending champion.

In other third-round matches, involving Australians, Fred Stolle, the No. 2 Aussie, sidelined Eugene Rosso 6-4, 6-3 and John Cooper knocked off Tim Addison 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. Carole Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio and Nancy Richey, Cliff's sister, posted victories in the second round of the women's singles. Mrs. Graebner swept Beryl Jenkins of Australia 6-0, 6-3 and Miss Richey turned back Helen Gourlay of Australia 6-1, 6-0.

Ashe and Cliff Richey won their quarter-final match in the men's doubles, whipping Lew Gerrard of New Zealand and Roger Taylor of Britain 9-7, 5-7, 6-3.

The top-seeded Australian pair of Emerson and Stolle were victorious over fellow countrymen John Cottrill and Ray Ruffels 6-3, 9-7.

AFL Slates All-Star Tilt Jan. 15

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The American Football League All-Stars selected from the other seven clubs, will be played in the 70,000-seat Rice Stadium NBC-TV will broadcast the game in color. Kickoff time is 1 p.m.

The league and the Houston Oilers jointly announced the game site yesterday.

In previous years the league matched the All-Stars from the Eastern Division against the All-Stars from the Western Division.

But the league owners felt the league (eight teams) was too restrictive and the All-Stars versus the champions would make a better game.

Players on the winning team will get $1,000 each and the losers $500. The remainder of the gate receipts less expenses will go to the AFL players' pension fund.

The All-Star club will be made be picked in a vote of the league players, including a place kicker and a punter.

The coach with the best won-loss record — not counting the will be the All-Star club coach. He will pick the other 14 players.

The league owners will hold their annual January meeting in Houston the week of the game.

Wes Parker Leads N.L. 1st Basemen

CINCINNATI (AP) — Wes Parker of the pennant- winning Los Angeles Dodgers tied a National League record for first basemen last season by compiling a .997 average, the official fielding averages released today disclosed.

Parker's mark equaled the one set by Walter Holke of the Boston Braves in 1921. The major league record is .9993 established by John (Stuffy) McInnis of the Boston Red Sox, also in 1921.

Parker made only five errors in 1,534 chances. Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, Ed Kranepool of New York and Bill White of St. Louis, the latter recently traded to Philadelphia, were the runners-up among the first basemen. Each fielded .992.

The other fielding leaders were second baseman Bill Mazeroski of Pittsburgh .988, shortstop Dick Schofield, who played for Pittsburgh and San Francisco, .981, third baseman Ken Boyer, St. Louis, traded last month to the New York Mets, .968, outfielder Vada Pinson, Cincinnati, .992 and catcher Tim McCarver of St. Louis .995.

Larry Jackson of the Chicago Cubs topped the pitchers for the second straight year and for the third time in his career, handling 76 chances flawlessly in 1965.

Mazeroski and Philadelphia outfielder Johnny Callison set major league records, Mazeroski by leading the second basemen in double plays for the sixth straight time and Callison for topping the outfielders in assists for the fourth straight year. Mazeroski participated in 113 double plays and Callison picked up 21 assists last season.

Cincinnati had the highest club fielding average, .981. St. Louis and Los Angeles were next with .979 each followed by Milwaukee with .978.

Sausalito Couple Buy Mendocino Inn

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Grant of Sausalito have purchased Harbor House, an inn in Elk, Mendocino County, and plan to take over its operation Jan. 1.

They bought it from two former Mill Valleyans, Bill Brewer and Bill Parker, who have owned it five years and who plan to move to Alamos, Mexico, in January.

Mrs. Grant has operated the Greyhound ticket agency and owned and operated the book store in the bus depot in Mill Valley for 11 years.

She is retaining the agency and book store but they will be managed by Margot Marker and Brunhilde Liebes, both of Mill Valley. Mrs. Liebes has worked at the depot nine years; Miss Marker, seven years.

Grant has worked for Trans World Airlines in San Francisco for 12 years, and prior to that, he and Mrs. Grant served 12 years in the Foreign Service. They reside at 112 Glen Drive.

Harbor House, overlooking Greenwood Landing, was built in 1916-17 when the landing was a busy port for lumber schooners and for lodging and entertainment of the company's guests.

The inn has accommodations for 20 people on the modified American plan. It is closed in January and February under present owners, but the Grants will keep it open year around.

Mrs. Grant, who traditionally has a Christmas party at the bus depot and book store, will not hold the party this Christmas.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Let's Look Through Changes On Returns

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

There have been only a few changes for 1965 but some of them may affect your 1965 income tax return, and some of them will affect you for 1966.

For 1965 we have a new rate scale of 14 per cent to 70 per cent which takes the place of the old higher scale.

P. J. Wikel

The dividend exclusion is now $100 per person, $200 on a joint return, but there will be no dividend received credit for 1965 and after.

The retirement income credit rate has been reduced to reflect the lower tax rates. For 1965 it will be 15 per cent.

If you will receive tips in 1966 and they amount to $20 or more in one month, then you must report these tips to your employer each month and he must withhold the social security tax and the withholding tax on these tips from your wages.

Tips are now considered wages subject to income tax and social security tax withholding.

The medical expense changes making the 3 per cent and 1 per cent limitations applicable regardless of age and removing the maximum limitations do not take effect until Jan. 1, 1967.

Stocks Slide Lower After Early Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks slipped lower today after an early gain. Trading was active.

Low-priced issues did a brisk business and generally showed gains. Aerospace defense issues and airlines were strong, and there was selective strength in recent Wall Street favorites among electronics, color television and office equipments.

Blue-chips generally marked time or fell, tugging at the popular averages.

Motors were irregularly lower. Steels were mixed. Retail stores were irregular despite reports of huge early-Christmas buying.

The market opened firmer, then weakened amid profit-taking as the day wore on.

Volume for the day was estimated at 10 million shares, compared with 9.35 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close.

Sharp gains by many issues at the opening of the market were shaved to fractions and many issues turned lower. Low-priced stocks continued active.

Aerospace defense issues advanced and airlines were higher. Steels were narrowly mixed and motors irregularly lower. Electronics were mixed.

Du Pont tugged at the averages, dropping more than 2 points. American Telephone was fractionally lower.

American Photocopy looked like the volume leader for the day, moving fractionally higher. Commercial Solvents, a big gainer Tuesday, was untraded because of an influx of orders.

American Broadcasting was down about 4 points following terms of its proposed merger with International Telephone and Telegraph. ITT was off a fraction.

Among low-priced issues, Fairchild Hiller was off a fraction while Brunswick and Babbit pushed fractionally higher.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in heavy trading.

U.S. government and corporate bonds prices were mostly unchanged.

Drake Race Relations Committee Keeps Busy

The Sir Francis Drake High School Race Relations Committee, organized this year, already has become one of the most active student groups on the San Anselmo campus.

The committee began as an off-shoot of the Drake Diplomats Club, headed by co-chairmen Pete Stone, a senior and the organization's founder, and Jared Rossman, a junior who appeared before the San Rafael City Council this week as spokesman for the Marin Viet Nam Committee.

Two subcommittees are studying the role of the Negro in United States history and the situation in Bogalusa, La., where Crown Zellerbach Corp., the principal industry, has been accused of discriminatory hiring.

Members of the committee helped obtain food and clothing for destitute migrant workers during the recent grape pickers' strike at Delano.

The committee also has participated in activities of the Marin chapter of the Congress on Racial Equality and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

Democrats, Republicans Urge Voter Registration

A California non-partisan Voter Registration Committee has been formed to launch a program aimed at the estimated 3.7 million adult Californians ineligible to vote because they have failed to register.

Both the Republican and the Democratic state central committee chairmen have been named to the committee.

Governor Brown said the idea of the bi-partisan committee grew out of discussions with officials of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., which has sponsored many programs to encourage greater citizen participation in public affairs.

We take the occasion to remind Marin voters of all political affiliations that statewide elections are coming up again next year. The majority of voters, of course, are already registered, if they voted in the last general election of 1962 and have not moved or changed their names since then.

But there are undoubtedly many who have changed addresses since they last voted and have forgotten or neglected to re-register with the county clerk. They must re-register in person; they cannot do so by writing or by telephone.

A few voters who disqualify themselves by failing to keep themselves properly registered could determine who are elected and what measures are passed next June and November.

A recent example in Marin was the Tamalpais High School District School bonds, which failed last month by a mere three percentage points of the required two-thirds majority. Voter turnout was only 29 per cent.

A slightly better registration percentage, plus a bigger turnout at the polls could have made a difference in the outcome. At least, the result would have been more nearly representative of the desires of the total voting public.

In 1960, statewide, 72 per cent of adult Californians otherwise eligible to vote were registered. Today, the registration is down to 66 per cent of the total potential.

"Our democratic process is dependent on the ballot box," the governor said. "If we are to choose our leaders and decide the issues wisely, then the maximum possible number of eligible voters must participate in the elective process."

We heartily agree.

The legal registration deadline is 54 days before election day. But don't wait until then. You might forget, and you will have lost your most effective voice in the shaping of state government for the next four years.

COMPANY OWNERSHIP GIVEN TO WORKERS

An industrialist surprised his 300 employees by making them owners of his $2.5 million electronics firm in Wetzlar, West Germany, not long ago.

Upon reaching his 70th birthday, the generous man decided to turn over the entire business to all his employees in the form of a foundation that they themselves would control.

Each worker, over and above his salary, will share in the firm's profits on the basis of seniority and position.

The example set by this employer could do much to foster better management-labor relations if imitated by numerous others in a completely voluntary manner.

The problems of sharing wealth are considerably lessened when all persons involved are motivated by a sense of Christian justice and charity.

On the other hand, bitterness, coercion and injustice hurt rather than help the beneficial relationship that should exist between employers and employees.

Should California Legislature Enact State-Wide Smog Laws?

By HENRY C. MAC ARTHUR

SACRAMENTO — Whether wide revision of state laws controlling administration of air pollution will be effected by the 1966 legislature in special session, or whether the state will continue attempts to control poisoning of the atmosphere on a regional basis, is a question causing some concern.

It is virtually a certainty that the subject will be one for discussion, due to the new laws adopted earlier this year applying to so-called smog-control devices on automobiles.

AT THE PRESENT time, nobody knows just where the state stands with relation to enforcement of the laws which contemplated requirement of such devices on used cars. New cars sold after the first of the year are required to have such devices.

Consequently, it is necessary, if the intent of the legislature is to be carried out and a move made on behalf of cleaner air for California, for the governor to call for smog control.

Some concern has been voiced by legislators to the effect that air pollution matters, instead of being administered by several area agencies, perhaps with different sets of standards and sometimes conflicting regulations, should be centralized in a state office, with a directing head and a state-wide board controlling all policy matters.

SOME BUSINESS and industry oppose this principle, on the grounds that problems are different in different parts of the state. What might be good for the Los Angeles area, for instance, might well be out of line in the San Francisco bay area.

Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, said during the recent session of the legislature that it might be necessary to go to an all-powerful administrator, who would have the final say in what could or could not be done in smog control. Senator Collier has worked with air pollution problems for some time, and as chairman of the senate transportation committee, is well versed in the subject, particularly on vehicle control devices.

Although the legislature has not dragged its feet with relation to keeping California's atmosphere clean, it is a fact that the situation becomes worse as time passes by. Many factors are involved, but the most important one appears now to be emissions of various poisons from car exhausts.

LENGTHY STUDIES from a half dozen different state agencies have dealt with this problem, but so far, no one solution has been brought forward to control such emissions.

Manufacturers of control devices have about given up, and to date, the pollution control board has approved only one device for installation on used cars.

The problem is one of far-reaching import, and for the safety of the people, the quicker it is solved the better.

Another Reader Is Commended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to commend Charles C. Whiteaker for his remarks in the Journal regarding U.S. involvement in Rhodesia. Would that we could have more such citizens striving to save their country from our present government. The time is short. The cause of the eastern black-out will never be really known. If the public would just examine the voting records of their representatives. Make sure they are constructing the kind of country in which they wish to live.

Some Persons Need Conscience

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the Dec. 1 edition, Mrs. Gerstner asks a few questions and I would appreciate the chance of answering her. She asks, "Who are these people exerting the effort toward 'social justice and fair play in housing?' "

Mrs. Gerstner, these are people whose consciences have not rotted away from years of disuse. These are the people who live their religions, not just talk about them. These are the Prophets of the Twentieth Century, sent to prod a corrupt community.

Mrs. Gerstner then asks why are they resurrecting the "dead horse" of fair housing when Proposition 14 "restored freedom" when it was overwhelmingly victorious last year.

Mrs. Gerstner, that dead horse was not buried—the rotting carcass of bigotry still stinks up the air of this country. If bigotry could not be buried by legislation, it does not follow that it cannot be buried at all. The organizations that you decry may succeed in removing some of the carcass.

Finally, you talk of free will and God. Mrs. Gerstner, really, how do you think that God would have voted on Proposition 14?

Second Deck, Second Route?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Well, I see three-fifths of our Board of Supervisors and the Golden Gate Bridge District have reached into their bag of tricks and pulled out a second deck for the bridge.

Huzzah. I'm sure those who join me in the morning and evening crushes along 101 are as pleased as I. Just think, when the second deck is finished we can crawl at our usual 25-mph pace down to the bridge, cross it at 65 mph, and then crawl from the toll plaza into the downtown area of San Francisco.

We might save a couple of minutes. That is, if the deck is completed next week. . . .

You apparently didn't consider widening 101 where it so pathetically needs it. You apparently didn't consider using some of that money for an alternate route.

For most of us, there's one way to get to the bridge. Without another way or more, a second deck will be folly.

Ferry boats? A joke! Unless you live in Sausalito or Tiburon. You can't get to them any faster than you can get to the bridge.

Why didn't you fall-guy commuters let the men you've voted into office know they are there to vote in your behalf?

Prohibition wasn't popular, so the voters did something about it. I don't think the second deck will accomplish anything.

If I'm wrong, let me know.

Fairfax Vote Discouraging

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It was most discouraging to read in the Nov. 23 edition that the "Fairfax Councilmen Vote Down Viet Resolutions, 4-1," and it brought several questions to my mind. Firstly, what right do the city fathers have to vote on an opinion in behalf of the Fairfax community? Secondly, who voted against it and what were their reasons? The reporter very ably presents Mr. Pagni's (and others in the audience) reasons for backing the resolution; however, I feel he made a very serious omission in not representing the opposing side, because the reader is led to believe that four out of five high officials in Fairfax oppose our foreign policy in Viet Nam. Can they really think Communists will cease their continuous aggression if we pull out? Or do they believe that we are the aggressors, uninvited and unwanted by the South Vietnamese people? If this is true, I would like to suggest that they read a letter from the Saigon students to the American people (Nov. 8 issue of U. S. News and World Report) which is their answer to the Anti-Viet Nam Demonstrations in U. S.

It is my fondest hope that the four councilmen who voted against the resolution did so in the belief that it was not in their jurisdiction to represent the opinions of the people of Fairfax.

Those two new traffic signals —one where Fourth Street enters the Miracle Mile—and the other one Second and Shaver—we need like a hole in the head.

May I suggest? Give them to San Anselmo for the Hub for Christmas. It would be a good deed for all the motorists.

Industry Is Out Looking Around For More Good, Qualified Workers

WASHINGTON — Get ready for a shock — a welcome one:

Conditions are ripe today for the nearly total elimination of unemployment.

I'm not talking about WPA or leaf-raking or other made-work. I'm talking about real jobs.

The key facts, which turn the unemployment problem upside down, are these:

FOR THE FIRST time since the industrial revolution there are more jobs in the U.S. looking for workers than there are workers to fill them.

Industry is so starved for qualified employees today that big firms send recruiting teams to scour the entire country for workers; they bribe and steal each other's workers and when a factory closes, the recruitment teams swarm at the gates to hire the dismissed.

This is no exaggeration. It is visible all over the nation. Automobile companies have even been scouting the poverty pockets of Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennyslvania signing up unemployed miners.

What we now have in the U.S., on the basis of the latest studies, is this:

NEARLY 3,000,000 jobs seeking and searching for qualified workers.

Nearly 3,000,000 unemployed, most of whom are not qualified — do not have the work skills — to take the jobs that are open.

All of this means:

That private industry can create and at this very moment is thirstily demanding an enlarged work force capable of wiping out almost completely the nation's unemployment.

That the problem of erasing unemployment is not how to create the jobs — industry is doing that — but how the unemployed can be trained to man the jobs which are beckoning to them.

HERE THE SITUATION cries out for a new approach to the central problem which creates present-day unemployment and which is now depriving industry of urgently needed workers.

This is not to suggest that government should do the job, but rather that government should help create the conditions to enable industry to do the job.

For this purpose Congress will have before it next month a practical and constructive bill, developed by Sen. Winston Prouty, R., Vt. and Rep. Thomas Curtis, R., Mo., and supported by 105 Republican members of Congress.

The Prouty-Curtis proposal goes to the heart of the problem: How best to provide the job skills so the unemployed can fill the jobs waiting for them. As Sen. Prouty puts it: "The most efficient and effective job training in this country is being done by the nation's greatest job trainer—private industry."

BUT MUCH MORE needs to be done to dent the number of unskilled jobless and to provide the work force industry urgently needs.

To encourage industry to mount new and expanded training programs the Prouty-Curtis bill provides that the same seven per cent tax credit for new investment in plant and equipment be extended to investment in human capital; that is, in developing the skills of present and future workers.

New Broadcast Plan Is Pushed By NASA

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is embarking on a new space project that could revolutionize world communication systems within a decade.

Known as the direct-broadcast satellite, the spectacular NASA project could directly affect every TV and radio set owner in the U.S. and abroad as well as domestic and foreign communication carriers.

IN A MEMORANDUM to leading aerospace industries, NASA authorities are asking them to submit by mid-January "feasibility studies to advance the development" of a direct-broadcast satellite system.

This communications satellite, according to NASA scientists, would use atomic power to relay broadcasts from a centrally located transmission station on the ground directly to individual TV and radio receivers.

Communications satellites now orbiting the earth, such as "Tell-Star" and "Early Bird," are only able to relay radio-TV signals to extremely sensitive and costly receiving stations with high-rise antennas. These satellites use power from solar cells and batteries.

THE DIRECT-BROADCAST satellite will weigh between 5,000 and 7,000 pounds, as compared to less than 100 pounds for the communications satellites in operation.

The nuclear reactor, similar to but much larger than SNAP 10-a used in several U.S. experimental satellites, would generate upward of 40 kilowatts of electricity, or many times the power now produced by solar cells and conventional-type batteries in the communications satellites.

This atomic power would produce sufficient current to transmit from a single transmitter more than a half dozen radio and TV broadcasts at the same time to home receivers.

Stationed at 22,330 miles above the Atlantic Ocean, near the equator, a single direct-broadcast satellite would have an estimated range of nearly one million square miles. It could beam signals from a New York or Miami TV-radio station into homes anywhere in the U.S., Western Europe, South America or Africa.

Only minor modifications in home receivers and inexpensive changes in antennas would be needed to receive pictures as clear as those now picked up from local stations, according to NASA scientists.

NASA OFFICIALS pushing the extraordinary project contend that the launching of the first direct-broadcast satellite is as important to U.S. prestige as putting a man on the moon.

Also that the communications satellite venture will be infinitely cheaper—an estimated $1 billion, as compared to nearly $40 billion for the moon project.

In their backstage discussions with congressional and space industry authorities, NASA experts are warning that if Russia achieves this space breakthrough before the U.S., the Kremlin could pepper every television and radio set in the world with its propaganda.

They firmly hold that this is no idle threat, pointing out that the Soviet already is discussing exactly such a joint project with the French. The idea was broached to Foreign Minister Couve de Murville when he was in Moscow last month.

LAST WEEK the first color TV transmission took place between Moscow and Paris, with the use of the Russian Bolnya I satellite and the French Secam system. French scientists, who favor closer space cooperation with the U.S. and not Russia, are warning this is only the start of Moscow-Paris collaboration.

They also are saying the Soviet is offering use of its closely guarded launching facilities to orbit the first joint Franco-Russian satellite.

FRANCE IS preparing to launch rockets for the exploration of the upper atmosphere from AdelieLand, in the Antarctic, in 1967. Intelligence reports that an expedition has left Paris to prepare the launching platforms. French Dragon and Centaure rockets will be used in the tests. . . . Britain's strategic nuclear bombing force has been re-equipped with new Mark II Vulcan and Victor planes with double the engine power of the older models. According to the U.S. Air Force, nuclear weapons can now be accurately delivered at any height, from tree-top level to 55,000 feet, by the new British bombers.

Short Story In The Newspaper May Hide A Drama In Family

You often have to do more than read between the lines, for there is much drama in your newspaper if you use a little imagination to get "the story behind the story."

An example of a seemingly innocuous item that might appear in your I-J under a one-line is, "Teen Dance Set.,:

"A dance for Belvedere teenagers has been scheduled for 8 p.m. today at the Community Center under the sponsorship of the Belvedere Recreation Commission."

(There is no dance tonight. The item is just an example of something you might read).

Anyway, most people probably read the story and accept it as a routine announcement. There will be a dance.

SOMEONE ELSE might pause a moment and envision a group of smiling, clean-cut youngsters gathered at the Community Center to exault in their youth, laugh and dance those dances they dance, etc., and perhaps think back to the dances of their own youth. . . but that's not using your imagination to the fullest.

Imagine a typical Belvedere family: Father home from the city after a commute across the bay by ferry boat, relaxing with a drink and reading the I-J. The mother busy in the kitchen. Two teen-age children, a boy, 17, and a girl, 15, upstairs on school assignments.

DINNER IS CALLED and the family sits down. Not much is said and about halfway through the meal, father cheerfully speaks up:

"Well, I see by the paper there's a dance tonight. I guess you kids have dates and will be going?"

Silence. And then:

"Oh, Daddy I just hate you!" The girl cries, pushing away from the table and tossing her napkin onto her plate. "You know on one will ask me!" She runs from the room in tears.

"What was THAT all about?" the father asks in amazement.

"SHE'S A CREEP," the boy replies. "Don't you know? An its."

"What do you mean calling your sister a creep?" the father demands. "And what's an 'its'? Ehe —"

"An its is what you call someone when you can't think of anything worse," the boy answers. "It's bad enough having a kid sister around at school and all, but when I have to keep roping my friends in to date her — wow!"

"NOW SEE here, son —"

"No, maybe you'd beter see here," the mother breaks in. "Perhaps if you spent a little more time with your children you'd get to know them a little better and find out what their problems are." She tosses her napkin onto her plate.

"Now see here—"

But he is too late. She has stormed from the room. Father tosses his napkin onto his plate, grabs his coat and hat and leaves the house, probably headed for the nearest bar in Tiburon. The boys places his napkin on the table, goes to the kitchen, comes back with his dessert, and sits down to eat it alone. But is it his just desserts?

WHEN YOU THINK about it, perhaps there is some news, the nature of which is so heart rending, it should be suppressed. All of that heart break just because of one little story . . . .

Secrets Of Correspondence With An Aide To The President

WASHINGTON—It has been rumored that McGeorge Bundy, the President's White House advisor on foreign affairs, has been offered the presidency of the Ford Foundation at $75,000 a year. It has also been rumored that Bundy really doesn't want to take the job, if the President would indicate what plans he has for Bundy's future. It is further rumored that Bundy wrote a letter to Mr. Johnson telling him of the Ford offer, but so far the President has not answered the letter.

This is not the first time such a correspondence has taken place between a White House aide and the president. I have in my possession a series of letters another presidential staffer wrote to President Johnson in hopes of forcing the President's hand.

The first one said:

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I have just been offered the Chancellorship of the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools at $100,000 a year. I told them, of course, it would be out of the question to take the job when my services were so badly needed by you. They asked me to write to you, knowing full well what your answer will be. Waiting to hear from you I remain.

Yours truly."

The following week another letter was sent.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I know how busy you have been lately, but I was just wondering if you ever received my letter concerning the job offer made to me by the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools. It's quite possible since Larry O'Brien took over as postmaster general, the letter may have gotten lost.

I have assured the Appalachia people that you have something very big in store for me in the next few months, something you would rather not announced at this time, and that is probably why you hesitated to put anything in writing concerning my future. If you could just hint in a letter something to this effect without the specifics, I'm sure it would satisfy the Appalachia people and they would stop bothering me.

Sincerely yours."

Two weeks later a third letter was sent.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

Things must be really hectic at the ranch. I've been kidding the mailman about losing a letter from the President of the United States sent to me, but he insists he's never seen one. To bring you up to date, the Appalachia Success Correspondence Schools want me to head up their program. My wife says I ought to take it, but I said my first loyalty was to you, and that you would be infuriated if I even considered it.

Could you have either Jack Valenti or Bill Moyers or someone call me just to confirm this, as the Appalachia people are starting to wonder if I really do work in the White House. I'd be very happy to stay right where I am. Unlike many White House staffers I have no ambitions other than to serve you to the best of my ability. The photographs of you at LBJ ranch are wonderful.

Your Faithful Servant"

The final letter was sent on November 14.

"DEAR MR. PRESIDENT,

I regret that I must submit my resignation for personal reasons. Now before you protest. . . . ."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bidding Hinged On A Finesse Is Profitable, If Played Right

It is quite reasonable to bid a slam that depends on one successful finesse.

You don't always have to take that finesse if an opponent discards obligingly.

Opening lead — ♠ 10

Declarer took his four spade tricks, discarding a club from dummy.

East discarded the deuce of hearts and then the seven of clubs.

DISCARDS FALL

South next led a club to dummy's queen and then ran the hearts.

Declarer and West each discarded a diamond on the third heart.

South threw the ten of clubs next, and West discarded the jack of clubs.

Now South went astray by trying the finesse with the jack of diamonds.

West took the queen of diamonds and the ace of clubs, defeating the contract.

SHOULD LEAD CLUB

Declarer could make sure of the contract at the end by leading a club instead of playing the diamonds.

West would have to take the ace of clubs and lead diamonds, thus giving South a free finesse.

West should make things more difficult for South by discarding a second diamond instead of the jack of clubs.

South goes down if he leads a club or tries a diamond finesse.

Declarer can make the contract if he leads out the king and ace of diamonds, relying on the queen to be unguarded after West's two discards, but this sort of play is easier to talk about than to make at the table.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ Q J 7 2
♥ Q 10
♦ A J 7 2
♣ K 10 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 13 points in high cards and one point for the doubleton, but the hand is not worth an opening bid.

The doubleton queen of hearts simply is not worth three points.

Avoid making an opening bid that depends on counting doubleton queens and jacks at full value.

LOCATED IN FAIR-ANSELM SHOPPING CENTER, FAIRFAX

SANTA WON'T FORGET FOUR-LEGGED WAIFS

Homeless animals at the Marin County Humane Society will not be forgotten this Christmas.

Members of the society's women's auxiliary, and a special committee headed by Mrs. Evelyn B. Levy, will stuff stockings with animal goodies next Tuesday. If the animals are taken to new homes between then and Christmas, the stockings go with them.

Also going wtih them, according to society executive director Mel L. Morse, will be these warnings:

1. Do not give a child a pet which is too young to survive its "adoption" and subsequent handling.
2. Be sure the pet is wanted. Find out if the family has provisions for keeping it.
3. Never give a pet to youngster whose parents have not agreed he or she should have one.

Drake Students To Elect Spring Song, Yell Leaders

Sir Francis Drake High School students will elect seven song leaders and four yell leaders for the basketball season on Friday.

Students running for the various positions will perform before the student body at a special assembly tomorrow, climaxing a week of campaign.

The Helmsmen, composed of seniors Rich Cohen, Dianne Gibbs, Brad Kritsky, and Sue Travis of San Anselmo, are the only nominees for yell leaders.

Twenty-one girls are vying for song-leader. Senior girls are Michelle Bozic, Cathy Callan, Kathi Cosgrove, Vicki Edlstein, Pat Hamm, Sally Lloyd, Patty Pearce, Lorri Renolds, Sherri Worth, of San Anselmo, and Kathy Lococo of Fairfax. Juniors are Becky Bell, Karen Fuller, Krista Martin, Marianne Mitchell, Lynee Queen, of San Anselmo, Linda Gillespie, Dolly Maloney of Fairfax, and Theresa Nielsen of Forest Knolls. Sophomores Chris Porter and Judy Tuttle of San Anselmo, and Patti Schmidt of Fairfax are also competing.

The high school's new selection procedure requires each student to register before he may vote. Rob Smith, election committee head, reported 1,270 students have registered, or 75 per cent of the student body.

Strep Leads List Again

Streptococcus infections again led the list of communicable diseases in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 24 strep infection cases reported, of which 10 were in San Rafael, six were in Novato. Mill Valley and San Anselmo had three apiece; others were in Sausalito and the rural areas.

There were 12 cases of gonorrhea, of which five were in rural areas, three in Mill Valley, two in San Rafael, and one each in Fairfax and San Anselmo.

San Rafael had the county's lone case of measles and two of the four cases of syphilis. Other syphilis cases were in San Anselmo and Novato.

One case of salmonella food poisoning was reported in Corte Madera.

Counties Called Disaster Areas

SACRAMENTO (AP) — With words of sympathy for the victims, President Johnson has declared Riverside, San Bernardino and Ventura counties as disaster areas.

The move enables them to get federal aid to clean up damage to public facilities from the recent rain storms, and flooding.

In announcing the action yesterday, Gov. Brown said Johnson authorized an initial outlay of $1 million for repairing roads and other public facilities.

Noel Dance Scheduled

"Angelique de Noel," which translates "Angels of Christmas," will be the theme of the Associated Girl Students dance at Terra Linda High School at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Merit Pay Plan Agreement Out Until Summer

Members of the San Rafael Teachers Assn. salary committee and two San Rafael Board of Education members agreed Monday it will be at least next summer before they can come up with any recommendations about a merit pay plan for San Rafael teachers.

Alan L. Hopkins, committee chairman, said his group and board members Walter J. Doll and Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. agreed that "it will be at least the end of this school year and probably into the next" before conclusions are reached.

"We are in the midst of defining what we are talking about," he added.

Hopkins said they decided to keep meeting on the subject on a regular basis. Next session will be at 8 p.m. Jan. 10 at Davidson School.

Beer Stops Aches On 103rd Birthday

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Martha Forbes celebrated her 103rd birthday today with her usual noontime beverage — a bottle of beer.

"Oh, I love my beer. It keeps me from aching," says Mrs. Forbes, who was born on a farm in Gentry County, Mo.

State Board To Look At Poverty Programs

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state board of education will have its first look at special programs from school districts to avail themselves of new federal money to aid children from low income families when it meets in San Francisco tomorrow and Friday.

California could receive up to $77.8 million under the new federal act, for the balance of the current school year. The money was not provided until late September and school districts have been hard pressed to develop programs.

The board of education has set a tentative deadline of Dec. 31 to get all the programs approved. Even then, most districts will lose a number of months in which the program could have been in effect.

Wilson C. Riles, state director of compensatory education, said the largest program he is recommending for approval totals $11 million to benefit children primarily in east and south-central Los Angeles, including Watts.

The program, submitted by the Los Angeles city unified school district, features new or stepped-up efforts in pre-school and kindergarten education, reading and other language development skills such as English for the foreign born, library resources, counseling, school-community coordination, cultural enrichment, health services and in-service training of teachers.

(The recently released report of the special commission studying the Watts riots had called for more pre-school programs and setting up certain schools in disadvantaged areas as emergency schools.)

Other programs among those totaling $20 million which have been submitted include plans from San Francisco, Long Beach, Fresno, Berkeley, Riverside and New Haven unified school districts, plus various elementary and high school districts. Of these, San Francisco's is the largest at $3.4 million.

Supervisors Delay Action On Assessment Appeal Case

Marin County Supervisors yesterday, sitting as a board of equalization, delayed action on an unusual assessment appeal to look at the land involved.

The appeal by three owners on the assessment of 16 Mill Valley lots came before the board after the owners filed suit in Marin County Superior Court seeking a rehearing.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, representing the board, stipulated that the case could be reheard.

In their suit, Sara Hilarita Boyle Silberberg, Carmelita Boyle Silberberg and Ida Boyle Gross argued that the board of supervisors never got the full information on Mill Valley zoning restrictions when it turned down the appeal last July.

The city will reportedly allow a house for every 1.25 acre while the assessor's office said the land could take two to three houses an acre.

The assessor says the total value of the land is $141,000. The property borders the Mill Valley Golf Course.

After looking at the land and getting further information from city officials, supervisors will study the matter again Jan. 4.

Frosh, French Groups Benefit

Freshman class and French Club will share profits from refreshment concessions at Terra Linda High School basketball games.

The two groups were selected because their treasuries appeared in the greatest need, according to a ruling by a student committee consisting of Cathy Calaway, Pat Bryne, Sam Osborne and Sue McGee.

The freshman class will use the money to repay a loan from the Student Council to cover cost of building a float for the Homecoming Parade. The French Club will use the money to buy foreign language movies which will be available to all language classes.

Sausalito Couple Buys Mother Lode Gallery

Mr. and Mrs. Dorner T. Schueler of Sausalito have acquired a Mother Lode country art gallery and plan to move to Murphys later this month.

Schueler, a painter and commercial artist, in addition to operating the Gallery at Murphys in Calaveras County, will also have an office with the Calaveras Press at Angels Camp, where he will continue his commercial work. He also plans a studio at his Murphys home.

Pension Hike May Actually Hurt A Few

By THOMAS S. STIMMEL
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — For 29,000 Veterans Administration pensioners, the recent increase in social security benefits is a small disaster instead of a small bonanza.

Because of technicalities and bad timing, they're getting less money than they did just before the social security increase.

Typical is the case of a 71-year-old veteran's widow in Oregon, whose VA pension was reduced $16 a month because her social security benefits were increased $4 a month.

The Veterans Administration acknowledges this, but points out that such cases are exceptions. They affect only 29,000 of more than 2.1 million non-service connected pensioners. Service-connected compensations are not affected.

A VA official explained the situation this way:

In 1964 Congress expected to approve increases in veterans pensions and social security benefits, both to become effective Jan. 1, 1965.

The veterans bill excluded 10 per cent of all retirement income from pension calculations so that pensioners would not be penalized by the increase in social security benefits, since these VA pensions are pegged to income—the higher the income, the lower, the pension.

The 10 per cent exclusion clause put many people into lower income brackets, thereby increasing their pensions. (For instance, a person with an income of $610, would have his pension calculated as if his income were $549. This would put him into a lower income bracket and increase his pension because $600 is a dividing point between pension brackets.)

However, because the VA bill passed on schedule and the social security bill did not become effective until October, a problem developed for some 29,000 people, including the Oregon widow.

All of them had been put into a lower income bracket by the exclusion clause and therefore were receiving a higher VA pension. Then the social security increase came along and pushed them back up to a higher income bracket, cutting their VA pension.

The VA says these people actually have benefitted from a "windfall" for the past nine months. The VA emphasizes that the, 29,000 people did get increases after all. The widow, for example, received $45 a month a year ago and gets $48 a month now. The trouble is that in the nine months between the VA pension raise and the social security raise, she got $64 a month.

Communist Back On Union Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Archie Brown, an avowed Communist, is back in his old job today on the executive board of Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

The longshoreman, held the same post in 1962 when he was convicted under a federal law barring Communists from union office. The U.S. Supreme Court, in a test case involving Brown, ruled last June that the law was unconstitutional.

Results of an election which placed Brown on the board bers was announced yesterday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Gout's Startling Pain Usually Strikes In Small Hours Of Night

VAN DELLEN

Most attacks of gout begin in the wee hours of morning. When the great toe is involved, the pain comes suddenly and produces maximum disability within minutes or hours. The digit feels hot and is so tender to the touch the sufferer protects it carefully. Standing hurts, and wearing a shoe is unbearable. Many slit or cut out the tip or side of the footwear in order to be on their feet.

THIS MANEUVER is a sign of gout, because it implies that distress appeared suddenly and the individual was forced to do something as an emergency measure. Involvement of the fingers, wrists, ankles, spine, and other toes can be just as uncomfortable.

The clue to the diagnosis of gout also comes from a number of precipitating factors. The disease may arise after relatively trivial trauma such as playing too much golf or mowing the lawn. The same can be said of the man who indulges in excessive sightseeing. I often wonder how many attacks of gout were triggered by the New York World's Fair. The discomfort is unlike the ordinary stiffness that follows unaccustomed exercise.

Gout sometimes develops the morning after eating or drinking too heavily. Such debauches are poison to the man so predisposed, and many have learned through experience to use discretion during the holidays and at conventions, as well as on birthdays and duck hunting or fishing trips. Overeating of meat, venison, or goose is condemned because these foods are rich in purines. Any other food or beverage that triggers an attack should be avoided. Several medicines, such as vitamin B, liver extract, bile salts, insulin, and certain diuretics are known to cause an attack.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

THERE IS NO shortage of medication for the relief of pain and the prevention of recurrences. In addition, many newcomers are about to be introduced. But, regardless of the remedy, gout victims should drink large amounts of water to lessen the chance of developing kidney stones.

GRAVEL FORMER

V.F. writes: My husband has been suffering off and on for five years with gravel; when it passes he is in severe pain. Is there any way to prevent its formation?

REPLY

Have the gravel analyzed and when the causative chemicals are determined, he should omit foods containing these substances. Meanwhile encourage him to drink large amounts of water to keep the chemicals in solution.

INFLAMED VEIN

A. D. writes: Can phlebitis develop in an arm?

REPLY

Yes. Vein inflammation is more common in the legs, but I have seen phlebitis in almost every surface vein of the body.

HARDENED ARTERIES

H. R. writes: Can a man of 40 have hardening of the brain cells?

REPLY

Yes, but it's the arteries and not the cells that become hardened.

Dixie Negro Voters Help GOP Strength

By DON BACON
Advance News Service

COLUMBIA, S.C. — The Negro's march to the ballot box is accelerating the growth of the Republican party in this Deep South State.

Almost all southern Negroes now registering to vote for the first time are Democrats. But, it is estimated, for every Negro who registers as a Democrat, a white person joins the Republicans.

He may be either a new voter or a party switcher.

"I'll show you what I think of the voting rights act," said a South Carolina white man as he whipped out his wallet to show a newly acquired Republican party membership card.

The effect of the tit-for-tat registration activity has been to confuse even more the outlook for this state's 1966 elections, which southern Republicans view as crucial.

Party-switching has been widespread in South Carolina since Sen. Strom Thurmond started it last year. Formerly a Democrat, the ultra-conservative senator found the Republican label more to his liking.

Recent Negro voter registration drives in such places as nearby Clarendon County have spurred counter-measures by segregationist whites, and have led to an effective statewide white registration campaign by the Republican organization.

Besides urging previously unregistered whites to sign up, South Carolina Republicans have been actively soliciting new members among politically experienced Democrats and independents.

Among the Deep South states, the Republican party here is perhaps the best organized. It has more than 600 precinct organizations. Aided by its new recruits, it is expected to be ready to stand up to the Democratic party in the next elections.

Although the registration campaigns have only begun, the Republican drive is showing signs of success in Clarendon and Dorchester counties, where the Negro voting issue burns hottest. These are the only two South Carolina counties to which the Justice Department has sent federal voting registrars.

The arrival this month of federal registrars, whose presence is unanimously condemned by political leaders of both parties in South Carolina, gave impetus to the white voter drives.

It also brought into the picture a third political group, the South Carolina Independents, headed by outspoken segregationist Maurice Bessinger of Columbia. Bessinger's Independents have started their own statewide white voter drive.

Contending that South Carolina is "threatened with Negro rule," Bessinger recently told a founding rally that whites "must fight for our race."

It is still too early to tell what ultimate effect the white-versus-Negro voter drives will have on the two-party system in South Carolina and elsewhere in the South. Most southern political observers believe, however, that both parties must eventually solicit Negro support.

A big test for southern Republicanism comes next year in various state and local elections. The 1966 elections are especially crucial in South Carolina, where both senate seats and the governorship are on the line.

Republican candidates in the South were aided in 1964 by Barry Goldwater's candidacy. Next year there will be no Goldwater heading the ticket, although he will campaign for some southern Republicans.

South Carolina Republicans believe they have the best chance in the Deep South to capture top statewide offices. Although short on experience and registered voters, the party does possess the state's biggest single asset — Senator Thurmond, an immensely popular figure.

Thurmond faces re-election, but so far the Democrats haven't found a candidate to run against him.

The other senate seat, vacated by the death this year of Olin D. Johnston, is filled temporarily by former Gov. Donald S. Russell, a Democrat. Likely to oppose Russell for the remainder of the term is Rep. Albert Watson of Columbia, another Democrat-turned-Republican.

In the governor's race, Republicans hope to persuade retired Army Gen. Mark Clark to run against incumbent Gov. Robert E. McNair, who moved up from lieutenant governor when Russell moved to the Senate.

NO PHONY REINDEER FOR HIM

For the benefit of youngsters confused by Santa Clauses who fly in helicopters and other modern conveyances, the jolly old fellow will fly to—or at least be at—Sabella's Restaurant, Alto, at 5:30 p.m. Monday. His team includes all eight traditional members plus that latecomer, Rudolph-the-Red-Nosed. The animals will be accompanied by "chief elf" Grady Carothers (left), who cares for a herd of more than 100 reindeer at Santa's Village near Santa Cruz.

Novato Turns City Control To Students

The Student Executive Council of Novato High School yesterday took over the reins of government from Novato City Council and city departments heads in the semi-annual student Government Day.

From 1 to 3 p.m., students learned the functioning of city departments. Last night they made reports to the student city council. The students then turned the meeting back to the regular city council.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow jokingly asked the students to make a study of the budget at budget sessions next year to see if they can find out how to meet all of their recommendations without increasing taxes out of reason.

Dave Budde acted as mayor. Other members of the student city council were Gary Miller, Steve Alexander, Barry Barringer, and Michelle Baget.

Department heads and assistants were Harold Fain, city manager; Barbara Jones, assistant city manager; Nanette Baget, planning director; Vivian Morse, public works director; Sue Yates, assistant public works director; Ronald Pugh, parks and recreation director; Diane Castaldi, assistant parks and recreation director; Ray Hill, police chief; and Karen Leech, assistant police chief.

San Francisco Grand Jury Belabors Topless, Books

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vice in San Francisco is again under fire—this time in a grand jury denunciation of six, sex and "moral decay."

But the bright lights didn't even flicker in a city whose Barbary Coast past makes "amateur topless night" a ho-hum event and where neons flash "nude model strip poker."

The San Francisco Grand Jury, which makes reports of city activities one of its traditional functions, noted yesterday what it called a market increase in pornographic literature and "open and notorious solicitation for prostitution."

Jurors also took a new swing at the city's topless waitresses and showgirls.

Dirty books, prostitutes and semi-nude showgirls — and narcotics and homosexuals—abound in the locations frequented by San Francisco's estimated 2.5 million visitors this year, according to the grand jury report.

The visitors can bypass the shady sights, and some do but the night clubs are sharing sizeably in the $149 million-plus the conventions bureau says tourists spent in San Francisco this year.

At any rate, officials debated among themselves who should be officially concerned now with the grand jury's finding of "the rising crime rate and the apparent decay of the moral standards of the community."

The mayor's office thought the jury's findings fell under the district attorney's office. The DA's office said the report was a police matter. Police said the report was addressed to the mayor.

Mayor John Shelley, who once punned "the topless bathing suit is at the bottom of it all," issued a statement promising "never to allow wantonness, vulgarity or sexual promiscuity to take over."

North Beach club owners said the report didn't or shouldn't apply to them.

The Health Department said the city's high venereal disease rate, seventh highest among major American cities with a rate of 85.7 cases per 100,000 population this year, couldn't be traced mainly to prostitutes, who have figured in 1,500 police arrests in 1965.

Jail Sentence In Narcotic Case

Gary John Gilbert, 23, alias Gary John Ammenti, was given a 90-day jail term and placed on 18 months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. He had pleaded guilty to possession of a device to smoke a narcotic.

Gilbert, of San Francisco, originally was charged jointly with Dean Howard Engle, 20, of Monterey, with possession of marijuana. Engle faces jury trial on the latter charge in Marin Superior Court Jan. 24.

The two were arrested on Beach Road near Tiburon on Sept. 20.

PARK PLAN—Edward W. Adams, head of the Novato Parks and Recreation Department, explains the neighborhood park plan to (from left) Ronald Pugh, student parks and recreation department head, Barry Barringer and Steve Alexander, members of the student city council.

Fortune In Gems Glitters At Granat Brothers Debut

Just about a fortune in gems glittered at the opening of Granat Brothers Jewelers' newest store last Friday morning opposite the Promenade Pond on the Northgate mall.

The traditional silk ribbon was replaced by a pearl necklace 39 feet long and strung with over a thousand cultured pearls. It was the same fabulous bauble that appeared recently on the NBC-TV show "Play Your Hunch" with Robert Q. Lewis and is thought to be the largest pearl necklace in the world.

As if that were not enough glamor and glitter, the shears wielded by San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini druing the ribbon cutting ceremony were studded with real diamonds and other precious gems worth more than $50,000.

Granat Brothers Jewelers were established in San Francisco in 1905. The Northgate location is the company's eighth Bay Area store. Others are located in San Francisco, Oakland, Southland, Stonestown, Hillsdale and Stevens Creek (San Jose). The firm specizalizes in fine jewelry and related items.

Granny Prints Find Favor With The Men

The midget-size floral prints that are known as "granny prints" in the women's wear field are now appearing in men's ties—and will be followed by the same patterns in sport shirts.

There's a lightweight raincoat that has a pile liner which folds up and fits into a pocket. Great coat for travel.

Gleaming Fine Silver Adds Much To Holiday Occasion

With the accent these days on elegance in entertaining, nothing adds as much to the table as the luster of fine silver, bringing a special glow to family and guests alike. Gleaming silver and festive occasions go together like love and marriage, says the Jewelry Industry Council. Silver, the "Queen of Metals," always reflects good taste and charm to family gatherings of all kinds, especially during the holidays.

A fine silver service grows more beautiful with use through the years, and makes a memorable Yuletide gift that the entire family will appreciate and enjoy. For Christmas and for use throughout the years, holloware pieces bring a "special occasion" feeling to every meal.

Beautiful silver bowls, platters, ash trays, compotes and vases are gifts of timeless value. Most popular in silver holloware gifts are silver bowls of all sizes from tiny individual ash trays to huge centerpiece bowls for flowers or fruit.

Silver rates a top place on every Christmas gift list—bringing added joy for happy holiday entertaining plus every day pleasure throughout the year.

PREMIUM QUALITY SHOE

The wardrobe of every well dressed man should include at least one long-wing brogue, such as this Florsheim Imperial. Available in brown hand-stained calf, black, weathered moss and golden harvest calf at the Florsheim Northgate store.

Snow Gear Rental Idea Offers Something New

The addition of a new rental department for snow and ski enthusiasts has been announced by Bud Landreth, manager at Northgate Sporting Goods.

Following a new concept in leasing, it means that skiers may rent any equipment for the entire winter season and return it after the snows are gone —or rent for shorter periods, as over a weekend, said Landreth. Users have the advantage of being assured a proper fit of the latest equipment whenever needed.

All equipment is new and rental or lease payments may be applied toward purchase at Northgate Sporting Goods. Fittings and trappings include skis and bindings, boots, poles, pants, parkas, ski racks, toboggans and other equipment.

Clothing Bargains Really Those With Best Qualities

"Fabulous bargains" in clothes are like fabulous bargains in anything else. You usually find out that you got exactly what you paid for.

Your best guide to quality in men's clothing is to select a reputable brand, advises William Luebke, manager of Hastings at Northgate, local Society Brand Clothes dealer.

Well - known manufacturers usually achieve that status because they consistently offer the public the most quality for the price. Such manufacturers don't concentrate solely on what the eye but build hidden quality into clothing, the kind of tailoring that doesn't sag after the first dry-cleaning or the first few months of wear.

These manufacturers know that it's what you don't see that makes what you do see look so handsome.

There are, however, some features which set apart a quality suit. Some of them:

1. A rich fabric, obvious to the touch, and a good general appearance are the first two indications.

2. If the fabric has a pattern —and this is especially important when it's a plaid or check— inspect a garment to see if the pattern is matched to blend unbrokenly at such points as pockets, back jacket seams, sleeves (in relation to the body of the jacket), etc.

3. Check, too, the quality of matching of what tailors call "trimmings" — such things as threads, buttons, button and buttonhole threads, under-collar material, linings, and the like.

4. Check the vents in the jacket. See if the overlap is deep enough to eliminate unsightly spreading apart.

5. Check trouser pocket linings. First make sure the manufacturer has not skimped on the suit fabric by letting the lining come too close to the pocket opening, thereby causing the lining to show with every movement.

Check the quality of the pocket lining itself. It should be a happy medium between the coarse fabric fitted only for work clothes and a highly luxurious lining that won't wear.

6. Check the coat front. Is it soft to the touch and especially comfortable to wear? That's a sign that fine-quality inner fabrics have been used to shape the garment. A hard and board-like feel indicates either that cheaper fabrics were used or that an artificial additive has been applied to the inner fabrics to give the garment body — until the first few dry cleanings wash it away.

7. Put on the jacket and lift your arms over your head. The jacket should rise naturally . . . but it shouldn't pull wholly out of shape. And the strain on the arms should not be excessive.

8. Check the jacket sleeve seam — inside and out. Has the fullness been evenly distributed to offer comfortable wear and a neat appearance?

9. Examine the collar to make sure it hugs the neck and does not stand away in an awkward manner.

10. Flip the lapels. Do they flip back into position easily? If so, that indicates careful shaping during tailoring and considerable handwork which is always a hallmark of quality.

Be Sure Shoes Fit

Nothing is more important than wearing shoes which fit properly—and this can apply not only to the size but also the shape of new shoes. So insist on a proper style as well as a comfortable fit, when you shop for shoes . . .

STYLE COMBINATION

A form fitting sheath paired with a mink trimmed stole completes an ensemble equal to all festivities of the holidays. Created by Claralura at Loana's, Northgate.

Plain-Colored Shirt Due New Popularity

The coming year looks like a big one for plain-colored shirts, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear. Perhaps it's because men are appreciating their practicality; or perhaps it's because the new shades are so handsome.

Take the peach tone as an example—or a blue green now being shown. Or the pinks, always favored, and now due for the big comeback. They al look like the proverbial "million" with the dark clothing in vogue.

Tinted free any color you choose, mid-heel white peau de soie pump, gently squared at throat. Save dollars on quality shoemaking, just 7.99

Intermingled dark and light threads create a rich but subdued silken look to sharkskin which has a well-deserved reputation for style, wear and quality, in this "Sharkeye" suit of Hart Schaffner and Marx. The two-button Ventura style shown here is available at Hastings, Northgate.

Right Hair Styling Can Help Men, Too

Proper hair styling can do as much for a man's looks as for a woman's. The male head, proper hair cutting and shaping, can be made to look shortened, lengthened or widened, according to need.

A slanting forehead can be made to look straight; or a thick neck made to appear slim with a properly-cut neckline.

Stribley's Has Tips For Table For Hostesses

The successful hostess is a serene hostess who preplans everything meticulously, according to Stribley's Northgate.

Before her guests arrive, she sets the table, selects the menu, arranges the centerpiece and allows time for a last-minute check.

Stribley's has some simple rules for setting a table correctly: Forks on the left; knives and spoons on the right — all from the outside in, in order of use. Place the butter knife across the tip or vertically at the side of the butter plate. All knife blades face inward.

Place the china and silver about one inch from the table edge; space settings about 15 inches apart for comfort and convenience. If wine is served, place the wine glasses on the diagonal to the right of the water goblets.

A centerpiece, low and lovely, and candlelight high above the eye, create a charming setting for entertaining table talk. Whether placed in the center or at the end of the table, a centerpiece can be marvelously effective but should not be overpowering.

Prison Job Training Stops Many From Cr ime 'Habit'

By SAMUEL SHARKEY JR.
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Can the "prison habit" be broken?

In-prison job training pilot projects have provided dramatic evidence that it can, particularly for youths.

Responding to President Lyndon B. Johnson's comment last March that the long-range solution to crime was jobs, education and hope, the Department of Labor has sponsored two projects to train and place youths from correctional institutions.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has reported that:

At Rikers Island, New York City, 82 trainees were released and 69 were placed immediately in data processing jobs.

At Lorton, Va., the re-arrest rate for the trainees is 3.4 per cent, compared to the 42 per cent for non-trainees.

Wirtz noted that idle ex-prisoners add to the unemployment rolls. More than 100,000 leave federal and state prisons every year. Few have received any in-prison training to prepare them to compete successfully for jobs on the outside. The result is that, unable to make a living, they return to crime. More than a third of all released prisoners eventually return because, for want of a better alternative, they've developed the "prison habit."

"These people need help almost more than any other group," Wirtz said. "Most of them are school dropouts, 80 per cent are from broken homes, and worst of all, most of them are young." Two-thirds are younger than 35, and 30 per cent are 15 to 24 years old. At that impressionable age, prison can, and too often does, become a habit-forming alternative to a job.

All this costs the country some $2 billion a year to maintain the entire penal system, including police, parole officers and the courts. Yet only a small portion of that huge sum is used for training programs.

"Lack of job skills and subsequent unemployment and underemployment undoubtedly lead ex-prisoners back into trouble and prison," Wirtz pointed out.

Despite all these factors, however, "the intelligence of these people is on a par with those who never land in jail," Wirtz said. That idle intelligence is an untapped resource the Labor Department hopes to put to use.

In New York City, union, management, city government and educational leaders are serving on an advisory committee to stimulate such training. Wirtz directed his manpower administrator to determine the feasibility of an even broader program that would include the help of the departments of Justice and of Health, Education and Welfare.

Despite all the optimism, however, Wirtz warned that "the greatest change must come in the attitudes of all Americans" toward former prisoners, who are hampered both by their lack of skill and by their penal record.

"We must recognize that although an investment in providing skills for inmates contains some risks," Wirtz said, "it can be a potent instrument for rehabilitation."

He called for a relaxation of rules blocking an ex-prisoner's chance for employment and for a major increase in job placement officers. There are only 12 in the entire federal correctional system.

Wirtz pointed out that under a new law, the attorney general can authorize federal prisoners to work at paid jobs or in training programs in the community, and under a new policy the labor department can approve training for prisoners released to the community.

Four days before Lent, Rio's beauteous harbor rings with gay but haunting melodies and echoes back to the streets filled with dancers, the staccato pulse of their own footbeats. Dazzling color floods the city as samba parades and costumed party-goers weave to and fro, night and day. Climax of the celebration is a gala ball.

Italian Craft Work Glitters On Gift Lists

The fine hand of Italian craftsmen has been justly celebrated from the ancient times of the Etruscans and Romans until the present day.

This Christmas season, working with such traditional materials as glass, marble, metal and wood, as well as with modern plastics and laminates, Italian craftsmen have turned out an exciting selection of gift items. Fashioned in styles ranging from the classic to the modern, these gifts are designed to please the most discriminating person on your list, and to bring elegance and warmth to any decor or setting.

Many Italian cities have been made famous by their handicrafts: Venice for its sparkling, jewel-like crystal and glass; Florence, for its intricately worked, elegantly designed metal, marble and alabaster; Bologna, for its rich, full grained woods; Deruta, Faenza and Capodimonte, for colorful, precious ceramics; and Rome for exquisite stone carvings.

Impressive examples of Italian craftsmanship include a three-stem candelabra of sparkling faceted glass, accented by polished nickel-plated brass. It lends a note of distinction to any setting.

Bubbled glass decanters and saucers in delicate frosted blue and aquamarine are extremely lovely for water and wine.

Pipe Lover Is Easily Pleased

If you are giving a gift to a pipe smoker this Christmas, additional pipes and smoking tobacco are always appreciated. Other fine gifts which add greatly to the gentlemen's pipe smoking pleasure are such accessories as humidors, pipe lighters, reamers, pouches, pipe racks, and pipe knives.

This year there is a wider choice in selecting pipes, smoking tobacco and accessories. Two-pipe sets, always a favorite with the pipe smoker, are handsomely packaged for holiday giving. Tobacco is also attractively wrapped in packaging that assures freshness and retention of flavor. A wide assortment of tins, pouches and variety packs are available to choose from.

And there are pipes in all sizes, shapes and colors, to suit every personality.

A recent survey by The Pipe and Tobacco Council indicated that a pipe enhances man's image. Women editors throughout the United States evidently agree with these findings.

Make Your Christmas Camera Work Look More Like A Pro

One of our happiest family traditions at Christmas is the taking of snapshots and home movies. If you receive a camera for Christmas, or if you are the family photographer, here are a few professional tips from William Weeden of a leading camera firm.

Establish a pattern of shots, he suggests, and carry it over the years. The children in their pajamas as they see the decorated tree for the first time . . . the dinner table in all its glory (and later) . . . the beautifully wrapped gifts (and later!) . . . and a family group shot. On this last, he urges that you do NOT ask everyone to "smile, please." That makes a hard-looking unnatural picture. Get them talking, some laughing and others serious.

It is always best to use a flash bulb for inside shots, he advises. When you photograph the tree in color, use the slowest shutter speed. This gives the garlands of lights a chance to "burn in" and show up well.

With a truly modern camera, you are free to concentrate on your duties as director of the family-and-friends cast. Some models, for example, positions film automatically. As you focus for distance, you automatically set the proper flash exposure by means of an electric eye.

An annual tradition in many homes is the showing of last year's slides and prints. But this is the moment when you should look to the future as well as the past. Take some shots with next year's Christmas card in mind. Color prints are less expensive these days, and you can inset them in standard greeting cards or make your own.

One final word of wisdom from Weeden: When you arrange slides or mount prints, put them in a "story sequence." "You can even," he says, "make a real production of it by having your youngest hold up a card marked Christmas 1965," and then having other members of the family display credits such as "Catering by Mom," "Decorations by Santa," "Gifts from Everyone."

Men Simply Don't Fit In Few Sizes

Most women like to think they can easily categorize the American male . . . usually in a half dozen or so groups.

But a leading men's clothing manufacturer says the job isn't nearly that simple when it comes to fitting men in suits.

In fact, Hart Schaffner and Marx tailors 253 specialty sizes to fit virtually any build and any posture.

At the turn of the century, manufacturers of garments sold "off the peg" gave little thought to any deviation from the few so-called "standard sizes" in which clothing was made although such specialized fit was one of the obvious advantages of custom tailoring.

In 1906, Hart Schaffner and Marx introduced an important advancement — proportioned fit. This concept recognized that men came in assorted shapes as well as sizes and that shape had to be considered just as much as size in tailoring of a garment.

Exhaustive researce revealed the fact that men could be categorized into 14 basic shapes (as distinguished from sizes). These shapes range from "extra short" (for a man from 5 feet to 5 feet 4 inches) to "extra long" (5 feet 11 inches to 6 feet 3 inches), from "slenderizer" (a term on which the firm holds a copyright) to "stout."

Hart Scaffner and Marx, whose local dealer is Hastings at Northgate, tailors these shapes in sizes ranging from 32 to 56. Stores, however, cannot stock every possible size and shape combination but instead concentrate on those which are worn by the majority of men.

Stores do order from the Chicago manufacturer specially-made individual suits cut to any size, shape, fabric and style available. And they can choose garments from a stock maintained for immediate delivery in size-shapes ranging from 37 short to 50 extra long (see photograph).

Over the years the clothing manufacturer has noted that men are getting bigger. In 1917 the average man was a size 39. Today's generation has not only thrown out its chest to an average of 41.7 but also stands some two inches taller than his counterpart of 60 years ago. Sales of "longs" used to total about 10 percent; today it's 20 per cent.

Men's Hair Spray

Stores throughout the country report a modest but growing demand for hair spray for men. Some of the major toiletry firms are now distributing it. It is reported from Paris that Picasso will design some men's wear for the post-ecole set!

TALL AND SHORT OF IT. Hart Schaffner and Marx tailor a total of 253 different size-and-shape combinations to fit men ranging in height from five feet to six feet, three inches—and in width from slender to stout. Bulk of the company's production fall within the size-shape combinations shown above—37 short to 50 extra long. Available at Hastings, Northgate.

Care Needed To Keep Skin Holiday Nice

Rough! That's what hands and skin frequently are, at holiday time, just when a woman wants to look her prettiest.

Such increased activities as cooking, dishwashing and house cleaning are particularly severe on the hands. Another enemy of beautiful skin, the cosmetics people tell us, is indoor heating. It dehydrates, robbing the skin constantly of moisture, just as much as exposure to wind or cold or too much sun in warmer climates.

Since your hands have far less natural oil supply than your face, it is even more important that they be protected indoors as well as outdoors by a good hand cosmetic that will provide them with oil and moisture and guard skin against dryness and aging.

New Home Furnishers Offer Unique Designs

Richard C. Franz and his wife Jacqueline, owners of Franz Design, 124 Pine Street, San Anselmo, have leased larger space at a new location in Northgate Shopping Center. The larger space to be occupied by Franz Design on the west side of the mall will adjoin Adrienne's Teens and Women's apparel and a beauty and wig salon, now leased and scheduled for late spring or summer openings.

The "Age of Specialization" has now reached into the home furnishings industry, declared the Franz Design owners. They are planning to have available the kind of furniture which everyone is looking for but cannot find except in the pages of home magazines.

Since they opened their store on the side street in San Anselmo a few short years ago, using the slogan "Have you found us yet?", the response to their style of country elegance has been so great that they are now planning more stores of the type which is to open at Northgate.

It will be larger than originally planned in order to allow privacy in consultation rooms, said Mrs. Franz, who is in charge of interior planning.

The owners have selected interesting and different lamps and decorative accessories which will be available only at their stores. Many manufacturers of high-styled merchandise have aligned themselves with Franz, delighted to find the type of store which will serve as the proper setting for their designs.

Doggerel, Too, Dots Records Of Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Anyone who thinks the most romantic reading in the Congressional Record is the annual report on tung nut oil production has a surprise coming.

The Record happens to be a veritable treasury of home-spun American poetry.

On the average of once a week, some member of Congress asks that a poem written by a constituent be printed in the record. Usually, it ends up in the appendix, a kind of rag bag for congressmen eager to please the folks back home.

But sometimes a poem gets into the actual Record of debate. This year, Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., was so struck with a series of lyrical tributes paid his state by the Holy Family Civics Club of the Bronx, N.Y., that he had seven poems printed in the midst of weighty speeches on the Viet Nam crisis and the fiscal problems of the Inter-American Development Bank.

McGee's offerings appear to bear out the two cardinal requirements for Congressional Record poetry: A lofty thought and a firm rhyme scheme. Beyong that, the sky is the limit.

Witness the opening stanza of Wanda Kowalski's poem on Wyoming's 75th anniversary as a state:

"In eighteen hundred and ninety
This land became a state
And nature blessed it greatly
With forest, cattle and bait."

Not all Congressional record poets get their first public mention in this way. His eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, wrote a poem after a recent spell in the hospital and Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., put in the record. It began:

"I live out in Brighton, close to B.C.
And I'm just as healthy as I can be.
I have arthritis in both my knees
And when I must speak, then I talk with a wheeze.
My pulse is weak and my blood is quite thin
But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in."

The death of a prominent person usually is followed by a shower of poetic tributes. Hundreds of poems honoring the late President John F. Kennedy have appeared in the Record, including one called "Special Delivery From Heaven" which appeared under the names of a half a dozen different 11-year-old children last year.

Sir Winston Churchill's death impelled John J. Williamson of Alameda, Calif., to write a 24 stanza work that Rep. George P. Miller, D-Calif., preserved for the Record. A stanza at random:

"As British as orange maramalade;
Tea and kippers
He was 'homespun,' liked his 'easy' chair, cigar; robe and slippers
A friend of all who shunned the 'mean' yet;
Knew the 'ing'
A loyal subject of his benevolent;
Queen and king!"

East Bay Collectors Likely To Have Your Old Numbers

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Frank and Caroline Hyde have your number.

That is, if you were listed in any of the 20,000 telephone directories the Oakland couple has collected in the past 30 years.

This unique collection of telephone books from all over the world fills floor - to - ceiling shelves — nearly 1,000 square feet—in the basement of the Hyde home.

Hyde, 71, said the collection is "irreplaceable."

"I couldn't estimate the cost," he said. "But if you gave me $100,000, I'd let you have the whole works."

Browsing through the unusual "library" is a geography lesson in itself. There are directories from Malta, Havana, Trinidad, Singapore, Hong Kong and, of course, the United States. A 1950 Paris edition weighs 8½ pounds.

Most California cities are represented. Los Angeles dominates the several dozen shelves devoted to state directories.

Where did the Hydes get the books?

They won't tell.

Zoo's Animals Make Exacting Customers For Veteran Chef

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bill Hoff runs a restaurant for animals.

Hoff runs a lot more as executive director of the Cincinnati Zoo. But the restaurant duties are important for keeping such varied creatures as monkeys and tropical birds alive and healthy.

"There was a time when zoo animals were fed horse meat and scraps," Hoff said. "They seldom lived long.

"Nowadays we feed them special diets, diets that were worked out largely through trial and error."

Without the special diets, he said, "we'd have a fortune in dead animals on our hands in no time."

Hoff and his helpers are working now on a diet for a three-toed sloth, a sleepy-looking South American animal about the size of a large cat.

The sloth's natural diet is leaves from a type of palm known as an umbrella tree. But these have to be flown in from British Guiana.

The zoo is trying to wean its sloth from the leaves.

"All we can do is put different things in her cage, together with some of the leaves and hope she'll like something," said Emanuel Ledecky-Janecek, the zoo's assistant curator.

Changing an animal's diet is standard procedure. Big cats must learn to eat horse meat instead of game—and a duckbill platypus has to learn to like hardboiled eggs instead of Australian grubs.

Eggs—both raw and boiled—are standard fare on the zoo menu. So are meat, fish, hay, skimmed milk, lettuce, shrimp meal, citrus fruits, carrots, brewer's yeast and dried flies.

Rice, oatmeal, baby food and canned fruit cocktail are in the larder, too, along with various vitamin and mineral capsules.

"People don't seem to notice vitamin and mineral shortages very much," Hoff said, "but they affect animals very quickly."

For instance, when he was with a Chicago zoo, three lions got sick, despite a regular diet of frozen fish. Analysis on one which died discovered a shortage of vitamin B-1—which is destroyed in freezing the fish.

Zoo administrators now have made a culinary art of inventing food supplements for animals, relying partly on what is known about human needs and partly on trial and error.

"Sometimes we have to trick them," Hoff said.

"Bears, for instance. They're finicky eaters. They like to go through their food and pick out only those things they like."

They don't like vitamin and mineral pills. So the zoo has adapted a sausage making machine to grind and blend minerals and meat.

"We run the horse meat through that and put in the vitamins and minerals," Hoff explained. "The food comes out a sort of thick puree, but it can be made into balls.

"The bears can't separate the ingredients and have to stay healthy whether they want to or not."

'Velour Look' Is Hot Fashion

"The Velour Look"—whether it be the genuine Swiss-knit or the made-in-America version, or the similar-to-velour plush pile velveteens and cotton suedes—is one of the most important knitwear items for the current season, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. It provides the "soft look" and the "soft feel" for casual living.

And one of the biggest hosiery features recently introduced—to go along with the velour shirt trend—is the "velour stretch sock." It's actually a fine terry-weave.

This new sock comes in all velour shirt shades, too.

One Stop Takes Care Of Men's Gifts

Attention Shoppers: Christmas buying for the men on your list means one-stop shopping this year, according to the American Institute of Men's and Moys' Wear.

You can select anything for them from handsome sport coats and shirts to leather goods, pajamas, socks and jewelry—or you can freshen-up their supply of neckties and ascots and also find a tremendously enlarged assortment of novelty gifts and toiletries—all in their favorite men's shop.

With the beginning of winter close at hand, gifts to carry the warmth of the Yuletide season through the cold days ahead include sweaters, mufflers, gloves, warm outerwear coats and jackets, ski parkas and headgear ranging from both real fur and fur-like hats to cloth and leather sport hats and knitted ski toques.

Warm wool and wool-mix or wool-like sport shirts will hit the gift target in colorful checks and plaids as well as in solid shades . . . both bright and subdued. Among the newest are the C.P.O. shirts inspired by those worn by the navy's chief petty officers. For lighter casual shirts, you may choose from authentic "natural shoulder" button-downs, Italian-type "Contemporaries" and a host of velours and corduroys that are bound to brighten Christmas morning for the men in your life.

Warmth, fashion and good taste are combined in the executive-length business socks; and the increasingly popular over-the-calf-length also makes a fine gift in the casual argyle panels and heathery mixtures.

Sweaters find a welcome spot under the Christmas Tree in burly ski-types, trim vest-like models and a host of soft knits in both pullovers and cardigans.

Fine gloves will glad-hand him in warm lined models as well as in lighterweight dress styles. There are also sports car gloves for the fellow who favors "four-on-the-floor."

The word in boutique items is "quality" with a capital "Q" this year. Handsomely designed leather goods ranging from wallets to attache cases and travel sets are but a few of the items. Others include jewelry cases, desk sets, flask sets, brushes, key cases and soft slippers. There are transistor radios that are styled to look like microphones, globes and . . well, everything but radios. There are replicas of ancient cannons, clipper ships made of horn, and hunting horns that wrap around barometers. Bar sets and bar novelties, battery operated gadgets of all kinds and coin banks are some of the other boutique beauties.

Toiletry gifts will be extremely popular this Christmas. There are attractively packaged hair lotions, for before shaving and after too, colognes, soaps, shave creams, deodorants, powders for after-bath and after-shave. Supplementing the well-known brands are a host of newcomers in the toiletries selections — many of them bearing the names of famous perfumers — and there are exotic scents, whifs of the piney woods, spicy aromatics and others carrying the sugestion of citrus or leather or mint. Most of these toiletries are offered alone or in elaborate "sets."

Neckwear — one of the most traditional holiday gifts — may be selected from sleek modern designs and fabrics for the Contemporary man, or from paisleys, reps, poplins and mogodors for the Traditional fellow.

Don't overlook ascots to dress up those sport shirt collars or mufflers to add warmth and a bit of color to the cold days.

In a dressier mood, there are business shirts — particularly those in the new colors and new stripes. Select from virtually unlimited new collar styles and both plain and french cuffs. Jewelry is keyed to both dressy and casual clothes with designs ranging from sheer elegance to rugged sporting motifs.

Bank Reports Trade Gains In New Site

Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Northgate office in San Rafael has enjoyed a substantial increase in business during the past two years, according to Samuel M. Spencer, assistant vice president and manager of the office.

It was slightly more than two years ago that the office moved from temporary quarters nearby into its present permanent location in the Northgate Shopping Center.

"Our deposits have increased about 40 per cent and our loan volume has shown a corresponding increase," Spencer said. He also noted that the office staff has increased from seven two years ago to 13 today, additional evidence of the growth of business at the office.

Spencer said the bank's Northgate office serves Marin County north of San Rafael. The bank operates nine other offices in the county and more than 250 throughout California.

Extra Clothing Care Pays Off Handsomely

Wool socks will come out of the laundry extra soft if a dash of baking soda is added to the rinse water . . .

When storing lightweight summer slacks, try not to hang them over the crossbar of a hanger, or they wil be badly creased by next summer. Use a pants hanger or store them flat.

Socks Are Healthy

Going sockless is unhealthy. In parts of the South, and even in the cool regions of the North, some college lads are still going without socks. Podiatrists point out that shoes without socks can irritate the foot, making it more susceptible to fungus, allergies, infections and warts.

FM Tuner's Enjoyment Can Outlast Record Collection

By PRESTON McGRAW

The FM (frequency modulation) tuner, with the rapid increase in the number of broadcasting stations, is the high fidelity hobbyist's most reasonable means of getting music.

The money spent on a fairly modest record collection will buy a good tuner. And a tuner will last for years, bringing in all kinds of music. It would take a fortune to get on records the variety of music available on FM.

How to get a good tuner? The specifications are a good deal of help. The reputation of the manufacturer who made it and the dealer who so'd it also are important.

Statistics, to give an accurate picture, should be carefully documented. A good frequency response for an FM tuner is 20-20,000 cycles per second, plus or minus 1 decibel.

The "plus or minus 1 decibel" is important because if a tuner's frequency response is down a great deal more than that, 20-20,000 cps do not mean what they sound like.

A decibel, incidentally, is the lowest amount of volume change that the human ear can hear. Sound gets painful around 130 decibels.

Some tuners are much more sensitive than 3 microvolts at 100 per cent modulation, etc., and some are less so.

SMART SOPHISTICATION AFTER FIVE

Black peau de soie and a strippy open silhouette are featured in this graceful new high-heeled sling by QualiCraft at Leed's, Northgate. A dash of sparkle is added with tiny jet beads on the delicate instep bow.

Special Lamps Can Extend Freshness Of Tomatoes

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — An increase in the shelf life of tomatoes when kept under special fluorescent lamps has been announced by the Lighting Products Division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc. here.

Researchers found that tomatoes retain their firmness, continue to mature and resume converting carbohydrates into soluble sugar when exposed to special fluorescent lamp (Gro-Lux).

Carbohydrates and sugar buildup in tomatoes binds free water, resulting in continued post-harvest firmness.

Free water tends to evaporate from fruit, causing surface shrinkage. Tests to determine the beneficial effect of the Gro-Lux fluorescent lamp upon shelf-life of produce, starting with tomatoes, have been conducted by Sylvania scientists,
